PUT DOWN THE BRAKES.

No matter how well the track is laid,
No matter how strong the engine is made,
When you find it running on the downward grade,
Put down the brakes!

If the demon of drink has entered the soul,
And his power is beyond your control,
And is dragging you on to a terrible goal,
Put down the brakes!

Remember the adage, "Don't trifle with fire,"
Temptation you know is always a liar;
If you want to crush out the burning desire,
Put down the brakes!

Are you running in debt by living too fast?
Do you look back with shame on a profitless past?
Put down the brakes!

Whether the knowledge, for honor or gain,
You are fast wearing out your body and brain,
Till nature no longer can bear the strain;
Put down the brakes!

The human is weak since old Adam's fall,
Beware how you yield to appetite's call,
"Be temperate in all things," was practiced by Paul;
Put down the brakes!

Ah! a terrible thing is human life;
Its track with many a danger is rife;
Do you seek for the victor's crown in the strife?
Put down the brakes!

HALF COTTON.

A woman of thirty who had been crying, was ushered in by the door boy, and as she sat down and slowly untied a bundle her tears flowed afresh.

"Any one of the family sick?" asked Bijah kindly.

"Wuss nor that, sir?" she answered.

"Lost your husband?"

"No, sir; but it's something almost as bad. Here, see this table-cloth."

Bijah received it for inspection. It was a fair looking table-cloth, and he so observed.

"But it's half cotton!" she almost screamed.

"Madam, did you buy this for an all wool table-spread?"

"I bought it for a linen spread, sir.—The storekeeper assured me in the most solemn manner that if it wasn't all linen he would eat it. I've washed it only once, and behold what it looks like! If it isn't half cotton then I'll eat it."

"So'll I," replied the janitor, as he spread out the cloth and chewed away at a corner."

"And what a shame, sir, when I'm a poor woman, and this is the only cloth I have for company."

"It's a mean trick, madam, but I don't know as I can help you any. It has got so now that they will cheat a dead man by palming off a stained coffin on him for walnut, and I expect next to discover that mutton-chops are made of leather, and beef-steak of compressed saw dust. However, you have one consolation."

"What is that, sir?"

"The man who lied to you will sooner or later come to some bad end."

"But I can't wait for no bad end, sir," she protested, and she seized the spread and started out to consult a justice and begin a lawsuit.

Conduct of Young Girls.

An exchange pertinently remarks:—Many young girls like nothing so well as what they call "an adventure," or, in other words, attracting the attention of some male specimen of the baser sort whose expressed admiration is an insult. The repression of this spirit in young girls is important, for it is almost disreputable for a woman to be insulted. Sober people are inclined to believe that there must have been some impudence, perhaps unconsciously, on the lady's part, which encouraged the bold step on the part of the insulter. If a lady is quiet and not inclined to make herself conspicuous in public conveyances or elsewhere by talking and laughing, we do not think she need fear any rude familiarity at all approaching an insult. She might travel in safety from one end of the continent to the other, as free from molestation or annoyance as in her father's house. But we have noticed with pain, very often, the boisterous unlady-like manners young girls, or young ladies, as they doubtless term themselves, indulge in when traveling. If they take occasion to entertain each other with jests and recitals quite too near coarseness in public places, it is not strange that persons of the baser sort should feel that they were safe in taking liberties of speech and look that they would not dream of were their deportment quiet and lady-like. Insults can be guarded against, if not entirely avoided. Let mothers warn their daughters against courting rudeness by bold, noisy and unlady-like behaviour, both at home and abroad, but most particularly when going to school, shopping, riding or going to places of public worship, and they will escape all molestation. When a woman forgets her native delicacy and modesty of deportment, she challenges insult.

AN OLD STAGER'S GOLDEN WEDDING.—John R. Reed, the veteran captain of the supers at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, with which he has been connected for the past fifty-four years and never missed a performance, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage on Thursday night. Among the presents received, which were valued at $500, was a gold medal from John S. Clarke, the comedian. Among the supers Reed had in his service in his early days were John E. Owens and W. J. Florence. The old stager has embodied in his will the following curious provision: "My head shall be severed from my body, and my body shall be placed in a vault, but the head shall be brought to the Walnut Street Theatre, there to be used as the skull in 'Hamlet,' and I do bequeath my head to the said Walnut Street Theatre for that purpose." Old John being asked his reason for making such a bequest, says: "Well, I love the theatre, and when the bad Hamlets come 'round I'll prompt them in the grave scene. But, seriously, I want my head to stay on this stage, where it has, with my hands, done service for over half a century."

ONE of the lions of Kent county is Leary's labratory, and this lion labratory has its lion preparation, Leary's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar, for the cure of coughs, colds, croup, influenza and bronchitis. No medical agent introduced during the present century has created a more profound sensation among all classes of the community than this absolute specific for all ordinary affections of the organs of respiration. Sold by all druggists through the union. 35 cents per bottle. feb 15-2t.

The People Want Proof.

There is no medicine prescribed by physicians, or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtue as Boschee's German Syrup for severe Coughs, Colds settled on the breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that is that any person afflicted can get a sample bottle for 10 cts. and try its superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cts. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are astonishing every one that use it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sold by C. F. STAM, Chestertown, F. M. Goodwin, Millington, and all druggists.

ABOUT WOMEN.

"The evil that men do lives after them"—but how about the evil that women do?

Mrs. Paran Stevens has sixty law suits on hand, and yet she is not suited.

Mrs. Bullock, at Hartford, Connecticut, is said to be a dentist and a fine artist in her profession.

A Pennsylvania girl waited a whole year before bringing a suit for damages against a man who had kissed her without warning, and the crushing verdict of one cent damages took her breath away.

Mrs. Myra Clark Gaines has won another suit at New Orleans, which gives her possession of a large tract of land on the Mississippi river, in Louisiana.

The first female clerks ever employed in the national treasury were appointed by Secretary Chase in 1862, and now there are more than 1,300 women employed in the departments at Washington. We have not heard that the public service has suffered any damage from this use of female labor.

Every girl who passes through the Boston schools now receives three years' instruction in various kinds of needlework, and is capable of being an expert seamstress. It is said that the benefits resulting from this instruction are seen in the improved appearance of the children's clothing in the schools, and are felt in thousands of homes.

A lady in Franklin county, Maine, in providing for the twenty-first anniversary supper of her son, an only child, set out a dish of preserves that were put up in August, 1857. They were first tested on the eventful day of his birth, again when seven years of age, and also at 14, and on December, 24, 1878, a final touch was put upon them and they were found to be in an excellent condition.

THE RAPID GROWTH OF TEXAS.—The vote of Texas at the recent State election aggregated 240,312, an increase of 39,643 over the presidential election of 1876, or 44 per cent., which, the Galveston News thinks, indicates a population in November last of at least 1,685,000. When it is remembered that a very full vote was polled at the presidential election, whilst at the recen State election there was but little organized opposition to the democratic ticket, it is safe to conclude that the vote of Texas has increased 50,000 in two years, which indicates an increase of population in that time of between 300,000 and 400,000.

THE TREATMENT OF SPRAINS.—Mr. Dacre Fox, an English surgeon to a large railway company, who has had considerable experience of this form of injury, says that in the more severe cases he finds that after a few days of fomentation the best treatment is regulated pressure by means of carefully adjusted pads and large plasters of a special shape, varying according to the particular joint involved. By this plan he feels sure that it is possible to control the effusions into the sheaths of the tendons and adjacent structures, to lessen the pain and to shorten the duration of treatment.

THE PARAGON OF HER SEX.—Miss Susan B. Anthony is the one only person who answers to Epes Sergeant's problem of "The Woman who Dared." She is the one woman extant who is not afraid. She told the New York Legislature, in a speech at Albany the other night, that marriage was simply a woman's binding herself out to a man for board, lodging and clothes. She also told them that she had made her first appearance before that body more than thirty years ago, when most of those who now heard her were at school. Can female heroism go one step further than this?

YOU WILL NOT BE SORRY.—For hearing before judging. For thinking before speaking. For holding an angry tongue. For stopping the ear to a tattler. For refusing to kick a fallen man. For being kind to the distressed. For being patient to all. For doing good to all men. For walking uprightly before God. For lending to the Lord. For laying up treasures in Heaven. For asking pardons for wrongs. For speaking evil of no man. For being courteous to all.

A SINE QUA NON.—It would be a relief, in the view of the Cincinnati Sun, "if the President could find some place in a foreign country for Dr. Mary Walker." Unfortunately, however, Dr. Mary cannot show that she had any hand in the noble and patriotic work of stealing the Presidency for Mr. Hayes.—Philadelphia Times.

TWO WOMEN are training in San Francisco for a prize fight. They will wear thin gloves, in order not to violate California laws, but otherwise the rules of the ring will be observed. Let us hope this is not the result of a respectful consideration of the Woman's rights petitions by Congress. It looks something like it though.

PROBABLY the happiest combination in all the wide world, during these merry winter days, is half a mince pie with a boy around it.—Burlington Hawkeye.

THE Rev. Mr. Talmage says a country village is the heaven of gossips, and that large cities are the moral plague spots of a country.

Oliver Cromwell, one of England's most illustrious sons, died from Intermittent Fever, and this distressing disease was at that time the means by which some of the greatest persons perished.

Since the discovery of Quinine and its employment in the treatment of Fever and Ague the fatality has been reduced to a very low point.

Arsenic was also employed with some success, but these remedies are injurious to the constitution of the patient, so much so that scientific men have been for years endeavoring to discover a remedy that did not possess the injurious qualities of Quinine or Arsenic. Many remedies have been put forth claiming to possess no injurious materials, but have only proved to be impositions and frauds. This useful and humane discovery has at last been made in the form of BRITTON'S AGUE PILLS. These pills do not contain Quinine or Arsenic in any form, yet are capable of neutralizing the malarial poison in the system, and effect a cure without subjecting the patient to the unpleasant and hurtful effects of Quinine and Arsenic. BRITTON'S PILLS may be taken under any circumstances without the slightest danger to the patient. Where the directions are followed a cure is certain. Price 25c. For sale by all dealers. F. M. GOODING Prop'r., ‡ Millington Md.

JOHN N. DODD,
UNDERTAKER.
NOTICE.
REDUCTION IN PRICES.
I AM still at the old stand established by my father, the late John. T. Dodd, over 40 years ago as the leading Undertaker of this community, which reputation I intend to keep so far as quality, design, price, polite attention, &c., on my part is concerned. I want it distinctly understood that I make a SPECIALTY of Undertaking, keeping a large stock of Coffins, Caskets, and Burial Cases of all kinds always on hand, and I am prepared to furnish them upon the shortest notice possible, at prices much below ANY ONE ELSE engaged in the business in this vicinity. I can do this because I am at less expense than others, and I guarantee full satisfaction in every case, both as regards quality and price.
☞ When away on other business, orders may be left with my mother, who resides next door to the shop, and they will receive equal attention as if left with me in person, as she thoroughly understands the business in every particular. I will allow nothing else to interfere with the prompt and efficient execution of all orders with which I am favored.
JOHN N. DODD,
