My dear Sir. Balt 22 Novem 1828

I wrote you on Wednesday by the Rock Hall mail which letter I hope you have received. I now enclose you account sales of your Wheat by which you will discover that I have succeeded beyond my expectations when I wrote by Mr Pace. This transaction has afforded me real pleasure, because I took upon myself the responsibility of storing your Wheat to avoid a sacrifice. It was fortunate enough to strike at the right moment, one days delay would have changed the result equal to 40 cts ⅌ bus I cannot quote such Wheat higher than 130 cts —

Henry Price

I have deposited 531. 56 the rem[ainder] 20 I will deposit on Sunday without fail
