SATURDAY..................NOV. 15, 1879.

MARYLAND ELECTION RETURNS.

Full returns of the election in Maryland on Tuesday, November 4, place the total vote of the State for Governor at 159,472, of which Hon. Wm. T. Hamilton, democrat, received 90,749, and Mr. James A. Gary 68,723. The majority for Mr. Hamilton is, therefore, 22,026.

At the election of 1867, when the present constitution was adopted by a vote of 46,483 for it to 22,350 against it, Oden Bowie, for Governor, received 63,602 votes, and Judge Hugh L. Bond 21,890, Bowie's majority being 41,712. This was before the enfranchisement of the blacks, when, as will be seen, the total white vote of this State was 85,492.

The total vote of the State for Governor in 1871, after the enfranchisement of the blacks, was 132,728, when Wm. Pinkney Whyte's (dem.) majority was 15,088 over Jacob Tome, rep.

In the State election of 1873 the total vote of Maryland was 139,370, when Levin Woolford's (dem.) majority for comptroller was 19,944.

The total vote of the State for Governor in 1874 was 157,984, of which John Lee Carroll received 85,464 and J. Morrison Harris 72,530. Carroll's majority 12,924.

For President in 1876, the total vote of Maryland was 163,761, of which Samuel J. Tilden received 91,780 and R. B. Hayes 71,981. Tilden's majority, 19,799.

The counties which give republican majorities for Gary this year are Allegany, Charles, Frederick, Garrett, Somerset and St. Mary's—6.

At the congressional election in 1870 when the blacks first voted in Maryland at a general election, the republican counties were Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Prince George's—4.

In the State election for comptroller in 1873, the counties which went republican on the general ticket were Calvert, Charles, Frederick, Prince George's, St. Mary's, Talbot—6.

In 1875, when reform and other issues entered largely into the campaign, the counties which gave republican majorities were Allegany, Baltimore, Calvert, Caroline, Carroll, Cecil, Charles, Frederick, Garrett, Prince George's, Somerset, Talbot, Washington—13.

When national issues entered into the campaign in Maryland in 1876, the republican counties were Calvert, Frederick, Garrett, St. Mary's—4.

The republicans now in 1879, elect sheriffs in Carroll, Charles, Frederick, Garrett, St. Mary's, Washington, and an independent democrat in Dorchester, Republican clerks of courts are elected in Allegany, Cecil, Charles, Garrett, and an independent democrat in Dorchester. Republican State's attorneys are elected in Allegany, St. Mary's, Frederick and Washington counties.

Howard Meeks, greenback-labor candidate for Governor, received the following vote: Alleghany 110, Harford 11, Kent 4, Carroll 17, Baltimore city 55, Baltimore county 1. Total, 198. Peter Cooper's greenback vote in Maryland for President in 1876 was: Baltimore city 40, Washington county 2, Howord county 2. Total, 51.

VOTE OF THE STATE.

Hamilton's maj. 22,026. Tilden's maj. 19,799.

THE latter part of last week was fruitful of disasters. On Friday morning the New York and Charleston steamer Champion went down in collision with the ship Lady Octavio, off the Delaware Capes. Thirty lives were lost. On the evening of the same day the New York and Liverpool steamship Arizona struck an iceberg and had to put into St. John's, N. B., for repairs. On Saturday night the Baltimore and Charleston steamer Falcon went down near Cove Point, Chesapeake bay, in collision with the schooner S. C. Tryon. Nine passengers and the crew of twenty-two officers and men were rescued and brought to Baltimore on the schooner. They lost all personal effects, and several of the passengers had to be furnished with clothing. The steamer had a large general cargo for the South, valued at $40,000. In addition to these comes the news of the loss of the Howgate polar expedition schooner Florence; also a story of shipwreck and suffering from the survivors of the lost schooner Petrel, besides a number of other disasters of less importance.

ABOUT 8.30 o'clock Saturday night as an extra train was crossing the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern railroad bridge, over the Missouri river at St. Charles, Mo., the west span of the main structure suddenly gave way, precipitating seventeen cars of live stock, a caboose and seven men into the river. The engine and one car, with the conductor, engineer and fireman, were saved by the breaking of the connection between the cars. Three dead bodies and three men badly injured have been recovered from the river.

WHAT is Dyspepsia? A state of the stomach in which its functions are disturbed, attended with loss of appetite, nausea, heart-burn, rising of food after eating, a sense of fullness in the stomach, a sinking at the pit of the stomach, palpitations, etc. What can be worse, and where is the cure? Why, Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters. All druggists sell them at 25c. a package, or $1 per bottle. W. E. Thornton, Proprietor, Baltimore, Maryland.

GEN. HOOKER is said to have left a handsome fortune, which will probably go to his sisters, Mrs. Brainard and Mrs. Wood, of Watertown, N. Y. Among his effects is a large picture of the battle of Lookout Mountain, for which he paid $25,000.

THE amount of revenue received into the Maryland State treasury in 1878 from taxes on the gross receipts of railroad companies was $120,845 68.

TILDEN AND KELLY.

The very intelligent and reliable New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, in reviewing the relations to the election in New York of Mr. Tilden and Mr. Kelly, says:

"There is nothing like misfortune for softening men's tempers. The sense of a common danger will often do more than any other influence to make mutual enemies mutual friends. The Democratic leaders of both the Tilden and Kelly factions are in this frame of mind to-day. Kelly, having made good his promise to defeat Gov. Robinson, at all hazards, says he is prepared now to take any steps, consistent with honor, to heal the breach between Tammany and anti-Tammany, and the adherents of Gov. Robinson, I hear, are throwing out similar intimations, in view of the fact that, unless the party goes into the Presidential campaign with a united front, nothing will save it from defeat. The lion in the way of this plan of reconciliation is Mr. Tilden. Kelly says he will never make a treaty of peace so long as that gentleman is a candidate for the Presidency, and Kelly's friends suggest, therefore, that the readiest and most effective way of restoring harmony would be for Tilden to give some public assurance that he has ceased to be a candidate, in which case Kelly will resign his position as the recognized leader of the Tammany forces. By this process new men would come to the front and make things harmonious. This is certainly magnanimous on the part of the Tammany chieftain, who has shown that he is able to poll 42,000 votes between the Battery and Harlem bridge; but if anybody supposes that Samuel J. Tilden will accept any such proposition he does not know the man. Whatever Kelly may do, certain it is he proposes to take no steps backward as regards the Presidency, and now that he sees he cannot annihilate Tammany at the polls, the Grammercy Park policy will be to conciliate and to make it an object for even the obstinate and implacable Kelly to come over to his support. He must have the electoral vote of New York next year, and for that he will make almost any sacrifice. He has tried the policy of Richelieu with Tammany thus far only in part; that is to say, 'all means to crush;' failing in that, he will now try the reasoning part, 'all means to save.'

"The Republicans, to do them justice, accept their victory with modesty, and make no attempt to underrate the significance of the fact that they are indebted for it solely to the divisions in the ranks of their opponents. At the custom house and postoffice it is looked upon as immensely strengthening the influence of Senator Conkling as a Republican candidate for the Presidency, but outside of the office-holders' circle that view of the case is not accepted without considerable qualification. Mr. Cornell himself is frank enough to say, if facetiously, 'he is much obliged to John Kelly.'"

SENATOR BAYARD INTERVIEWED.—The Philadelphia Record publishes what purports to be the brief interview of one its representatives with Senator Thos. F. Bayard, at his home, in Wilmington, Del., Saturday evening. Mr. Bayard gives evidence in his appearance of better health. His face is tanned, he is fleshier and his eyes are brighter. In conversation he is a rapid talker, chooses his words carefully, but hesitates every now and then, knits his brows as to call up a connecting link and then continues his narrative. "Greatly do I regret the retirement of Mr. Thurman from the Senate," said Mr. Bayard. "He is a great man and the people of the country will soon learn what a great loss they have suffered. I hope that he may soon be brought into public life again in some manner. Mr. Thurman was always a great friend of mine, but split away from me in 1872 on some measures. However, that did not alter our personal relations. I do not see why the question of the currency should enter into a contest for the governor of Ohio. I am sure the governor does not regulate the currency for that State. And this at a time when the returning of Mr. Thurman depended upon the result of the election. Gen. Ewing is a brave man and a good and gallant soldier. His nomination set at rest all questions of the infidelity of Democracy to the Union. The Republican party should be disqualified because of its sectionalism. A man who hates one part of the country is not fit to be President over all of it. And yet this qualification is the essential one for the Republican candidate. It has been settled beyond all doubt that this is to be a Union of States, indissoluable and whole." Reverting to the last session of Congress the Senator remarked smilingly: "I felt rather solitary in Washington last winter and spring. I do not think I will be so lonely at the coming session for I believe that many who secretly sympathized with the stand I took then will come out boldly now."

A LETTER from Hagerstown says that the Governor-elect of Maryland, Hon. William T. Hamilton, is at home there, and notwithstanding a recently contracted cold, from which he is, however, recovering, is daily at work on his farm, which he personally superintends. He owns 570 fat acres near Hagerstown, and his farming has nothing of the haphazard style about it, but is carried on intelligently and with marked success. His estate was formerly the manorial home of Charles Carroll of Bellevue. The farm is visited by many friends, who are always sure of a hearty welcome by the hospitable proprietor, who, while often averse to the discussion of politics, does not tire of showing what he knows about farming.

THE election being over the Baltimore American, which aims to get as near as possible to the skin of Democracy without losing its grip on the Republican organship of the State, has this to say of Governor elect Hamilton:

"His assumption of the role of a plain old-fashioned farmer, with old-time notions of thrift and economy, was perfect, and it is only fair to say that the perfection was due more to nature than to art. We have every confidence that, so far as Gov. Hamilton's responsibility extends, he will give us an honest, economical government."

It would have been more manly and decent if the American had talked in this style before the election.—Balt. Gazette.

EX-SENATOR JAMES A. BAYARD, father of the present Senator, Thomas F. Bayard, lives in Wilmington, with his children, at an advanced age, and in feeble health. He entered the Senate in 1851, and resigned in January, 1864.

WHEN they go rabbit-hunting out in Utah, they mean business. A grand hunt near Salt Lake the other day, participated in by thirty persons, resulted in the killing of 1,015 jacks.

EIGHT hundred milch cows were burned to death in a large cattle-pen in Cincinnati, Ohio, on Saturday. The cows were valued at $24,000, and were insured for that amount.

THE venerable Dr. Lovick Pierce, the father of Methodism in Georgia, died at his home in Sparta, Georgia, Monday, in the 95th year of his age.

IN no county in the State did the Republicans elect their whole ticket.

GRANT'S receptions out West have been a grand harvest for pickpockets. A gang of the light-fingered gentry carried off several thousand dollars in money and watches from Galena the other day. He has been followed from place to place by these fellows, but it is not the first time by any means that Grant has been surrounded by thieves.

THE potato crop is short in Ireland and there is a lack of peat fuel, owing to the protracted rains. Much distress must result.

THE Smyrna Times says that there was in that office on the 1st of November a twig from a tree in Thomas J. Lambdin's garden containing eight good sized peaches, but not sufficiently ripe to eat. Mr. L. has two trees that were quite full when the freezing weather of last week checked their further development, but they still have some of the fruit on them.

[The] introduction of the
En[glish] Condition Powders,
In[to the Amer]ican market, exempt from duty, &c., is proved to the thousands [of farmers] using them that they have long [fel]t [the] want.

Fo[r ha]lf century they have grown [in] favor and general use in all quar[ters of] the globe, until their name and fa[me are w]orldwide.

The[y are the] aliment (known in Veterinary [practice]) the Horse, Cow, Sheep or Pig [shou]ld [have for] their miraculous influence.

The[ir med]icinal properties are conveyed t[o all] parts of the brute creation, and imm[ediate] relief is given.

They [heal] Ulcerations, banish all derangements and give the stomach proper t[one].

No S[tock] need despair a cure, whilst t[his unf]ailing remedy can be obtained; [the rep]utation they bear from all quart[ers of the] Globe is fully borne out by the s[uccess] they have attained—corroborated [by testi]monials of all classes and coun[tries].

They have [cured t]housands of Cases considered incurable.

The man[y ill]s of each class of animals and [their va]rious forms are too extended to [mention]. But we guarantee in each case [a] remuneration for the small invest[ment] that places them within reach of th[e h]umble who often have to rely on [st]ock for support.

The maj[ority] more directly interested in Hors[es, t]o them we say one trial will convin[ce t]hat they work wonders; and no mat[ter] how doubtful the case is, you will in[deed] be benefitted, & your animals ma[de] healthy by their use.

English [Con]dition Powders
are a certain [r]eedy remedy, no matter what the dis[ease], or how complicated. They are no[t tem]porary, but have invariably prove[d a] radical cure.

They resto[re] and produce flesh, milk and butter. [The]y [aid] digestion and assimilation, and [hi]ghly renovate the system, and will [be fou]nd invaluable and remunerative to [the] stock-owner.

TO CONSU[MER]S.—They are only one-third the price [of] others, and are as superior in qual[ity as] quantity.

The following T[ESTI]MONIALS speak of their merits:

MANHOOD;
How LOST, How RESTORED.
Just published a new edition of DR CULVERWELL'S Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine,) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental & Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy & Fits, induced by Self-indulgence or Sexual extravagance.
Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cts.
The celebrated author, in this admirable essay demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain & effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.
Address the publishers,
THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO.,
41 Ann St.; New York,
