SATURDAY.....................FEB. 14, 1880.

Let it Pass.

Be not swift to take offense;
Let it pass!
Anger is a foe to sense;
Let it pass!
Brood not darkly o'er a wrong
Which will disappear ere long;
Rather sing this cherry song—
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Strife corrodes the purest mind;
Let it pass!
As the unregarded wind,
Let it pass!
Any vulgar souls that live,
May condemn without reprieve;
'Tis the noble who forgive,
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Echo not an angry word;
Let it pass!
Think how often you have erred;
Let it pass!
Since our joys must pass away,
Like the dewdrops on the spray,
Wherefore should our sorrows stay?
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

If for good you've taken ill,
Let it pass!
Oh! be kind and gentle still;
Let it pass!
Time at last makes all things straight;
Let us not resent, but wait,
And our triumph shall be great;
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Bid your anger to depart,
Let it pass!
Lay these homely words to heart,
Let it pass!
Follow not the giddy throng;
Better to be wronged than wrong;
Therefore sing the cheery song—
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

How the Earth was First Mapped Out.

What these early maps were we do not know, but can form a reasonable conjecture. The earth at that time was believed to be a flat, circular plain, or disk, the broadest part being from east to west, which was entirely surrounded by an ocean, or great river, that washed it on all sides. In about the centre of this plain Greece was supposed to be situated. The great central sea of the inhabited region was the Mediterranean. The farthest point known at the west was the Straits of Gibralter, then called the Pillars of Hercules. The southern part comprised the north of Africa, as far as the deserts; while the region north embraced the countries bordering on the Mediterranean, and an unknown hyperborean laid further to the north, with the Euxine and the Caspian Seas to the northeast. The farthest eastern point known was about the western limit of India. This was what would then be contained in a map as a representation of the earth. The sun was supposed to pass under and around this flat plain, which was then the mode for accounting for the changes of day and night. The space beneath was supposed to be a great vault, called Tartarus, the abode of the spirits of the wicked among men, as the region corresponding to it, above the plain, was the heaven, or abode of the Gods. The unknown region beyond the Pillars of Hercules was filled up with creations of the fertile imagination of the Greeks. To the northwest and north were tha Cimmerians, a people living in perpetual darkness; and the Hyperboreans, a race supposed to be exempt from toil, disease or wars, who enjoyed life for a thousand years in a state of undisturbed serenity. To the west of Sicily were the enchanted islands of Circe and Calypso, and the floating island of Eolus. A little to the north of the Pillars of Hercules was the entrance to the infernal regions; and far out in the Western Ocean, beyond the limits of the known earth, was the happy region called Elysium, a land of perpetual summer, where a gentle zephyr constantly blew, where tempests were unknown, and where the spirits of those whose lives had been approved by the gods dwelt in perpetual felicity. Here, also, were the gardens of the Hesperides, with their golden apples guarded by the singing nymphs, who dwelt on the river Oceanus, which was in the extreme west, and the position of which was constantly shifted as geographical knowledge increased.—Chief Justice Daily, in Popular Science Monthly for Febeuary.

Rabbits Frozen Stiff.—Ever since the cold snap in Nevada the Washoe and Piute Indians have been selling jackrabbits in astonishing quantities and at figures which have ruled considerably below their usual market prices. Jackson, a noted Carson hunter, says that the Indians have not been shooting the rabbits, but that the animals have been freezing to death in several of the canyons. The Indians prog around in the snow and pick them as they do mountain berries in summer time. Jackson relates that he saw hundreds of the little fellows huddled together in King's canyon a week or so ago and was surprised that they should permit him to approach without stirring. He blazed away into the bunch, but still the rabbits didn't run. He moved up closer and then found that every one of them was frozen stiff. "I turned up the edge of the mass with my gun," says he, "and broke off a slice with a dozen in it stuck together."

By no Means a Happy Family.—Some of our Republican friends have been amusing themselves by twitting the Democrats on the dissensions in their ranks; but it does not appear that they are any better off themselves. The candidacy of Gen. Grant has proved to be a veritable apple of discord. It was asserted at first that it would have the effect of uniting all the factions and that Grant would carry the party with a rush. But, now that things have settled down, it is evident that the name of Grant inspires not harmony but the bitterest dissensions. The friends of Blaine and Sherman are up in arms. Mr. Blaine is making a brilliant fight in Pennsylvania and other important States, and Mr. Sherman is straining every nerve to defeat Grant in the South. The trouble, however, is not confined to the leaders. It is deep-seated and apparently incurable among the rank and file of the party. The Germans in Ohio and the large and influential body of independent voters all over the country have not been slow to intimate their unalterable opposition to Grant, while the "regular" vote is split up into three great factions. The Republicans are confronted, therefore, with rather an embarrassing alternative. If they nominate Grant they will certainly lose a large vote; but on the other hand they seem afraid to nominate anybody else. We do not see that their condition is any more satisfactory than the Democrats. On the contrary, we believe that when the time comes the Democratic party will be found to be united and harmonious, while the Republicans will enter the race, in any case, pretty heavily handicapped.—Baltimore Gazette.

Citizens of Warren, N. C., have erected a monument to Annie Custis Lee, the daughter of Gen. Robert E. Lee, who died while her father was facing McClellan on the peninsula.

It is said that Mr. Sankey will visit Baltimore in a few weeks.

It is said ex-Gov. Seymour has written another letter reiterating his purpose not to be a candidate for the presidency under any circumstances.

The German element in Wisconsin has served notice on Senator Matt. Carpenter that they must not be counted on seconding his third term schemes.

The Philadelphia North American calls Delaware "The Bay State." That's not bad, but how would it do to add "ard" to the bay?—Milford Times.

"Speaker Randall," says the New York Evening Post, "lives in an unfashionable quarter of Washington, on the hill, two squares from the Capitol, occupying a house that would not rent for more than $30 a month. Mr. Randall is a teetotaler and at his receptions and dinner parties his friends have to put up with cold water and temperance drinks."

Mr. Wm. H. Vanderbilt has given $25,000 to the University of Virginia, the gift being the result, says Harper's Weekly, of Gen. Geo. D. Johnson's recent call upon Mr. Vanderbilt, and a conversation with him in relation to Mr. Leander J. McCormick's gift of a telescope to the insitution. Mr. Vanderbilt's gift makes Mr. McCormick's gift available.

The colored citizens of San Francisco have left the Republican party for good. They held a meeting in that city the other day, and unanimously resolved that the negroes were but the tools to boost the white Republicans into power, and never secured any of the officers themselves. They are now looking around for another party that will take care of them and give them some of the fat places.

The importance of the public land business is attracting great attention just now, and among those to whom the honor is due of leading off in efforts to protect the rights of settlers is Senator Paddock, of Nebraska. It is not too much to say that Senator Paddock is an admirable representative of his State an section. He has four bills now before Congress on the Land subject, and he will not rest until further legislation is added in the interest of his people and the great army of emigrants.

Freeman, the Adventist, who murdered his child, has been adjudged insane. It is difficult to imagine how any other disposition could have been made of his case. No jury would have found him guilty of murder, although his crime was one of the most terrible that could be imagined. It is to be hoped that he will be kept securely for the balance of his life. If set at large he might take it into his head to offer up another sacrifice and a second time might not confine his murderous instinct to his own family.

Some people plod along through life suffering with Dyspepsia, Sick-Headache, Constipation and Bilious attacks, while a source of relief is almost within their grasp. Why is it? Because the ailments take away the energy and ambition, and, unable to fight against the attendant feelings, and refusing to take anything for relief, the sufferers go to an early grave. To such persons we would say: "Rouse yourselves from this state of feeling. Go to your druggist and ask for Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters. Try them, and our word for it you will be surprised at the magic change that will take place. Be sure to get those manufactured by W. E. Thornton, Baltimore, Md. Package, 25c.; bottle, $1.00.

The People Want Proof.

There is no medicine prescribed by physicians or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtue as Boschee's German Syrup for severe Coughs, Colds settled on the breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that is that any person afflicted can get a sample bottle for 10 cts. and try its superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cts. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are astonishing every one that use it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sold by C. F. Stam, Chestertown, F. M. Gooding, Millington, and all druggists.
