Geo. D. Wise, of this district, is in the city today, and will probably have a talk with some of his friends about the outlook for the coming congressional campaign before returning to Washington. The workingmen insist that the extensive improvements to be made to the Richmond custom-house shall be done by day labor. If this demand is not or cannot be complied with, it will cause considerable dissatisfaction among the Knights of Labor. It seems almost certain that this element will place a candidate in the field for Congress in this district. Several well-known democrats have already been approached on the subject, and manifest a willingness to accept a nomination and run in the party.

The newly-elected reform council are undecided whether to make a clean sweep of the city offices. Pressure is being brought to bear upon them by the office-seekers to get them to agree to this.

Memorial Services at Winchester.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

WINCHESTER, VA., June 5.—The Confederate memorial services were observed here this morning by a great gathering of people. The memorial procession formed on Market street, in the following order: Platoon of police; Sarah Zane Cornet Band; Clarke Guards, Capt. Moore; Union Cornet Band; Winchester Light Infantry, Capt. J. A. Nulton; Friendship Cornet Band; Confederate Camp, No. 4, with badges; Mayor Williams and others, in carriages. The procession was accompanied by an immense throng of ladies, ex-Confederates and visitors from this and neighboring counties. Many had repaired to Stonewall and Mt. Helson Cemeteries before the procession moved. The decorations were quite handsome, and numerous floral tributes were placed on the graves, shafts and around the monument to the unknown dead.

The Maryland monument was handsomely decorated. Each grave had a black-and-white banner on it.

Maxwell Convicted.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—The jury in the Maxwell case, which retired at 9.30 Friday night, returned into court yesterday shortly after noon with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. On the first ballot they stood nine in favor of conviction of murder and two in favor of manslaughter, while one juror voted a blank ballot. Mr. Barnett, the foreman of the jury, who was regarded by both sides as perhaps the most intelligent man on the jury, was one of the three who did not at first vote for the verdict of murder. He was not convinced until after breakfast yesterday morning, when Juror Cahill, who was regarded as the weakest man intellectually on the jury, said he would prove to Mr. Barnett that there was premeditation by showing him how Maxwell had cut off Preller's shirt and undershirt. Then Mr. Cahill took the little curve-bladed scissors that were found in Maxwell's trunk with the bundle of Preller's underclothing, and began to cut. The scissors would not cut more than an inch at a time, and Cahill, with the shirt on the table, proved to Mr. Barnett satisfaction that it must have taken Maxwell a long while with these little scissors to have cut both the shirt and undershirt. This so thoroughly disproved Maxwell's story that he was so frightened that he hastily ripped the garments from Preller after Preller's death that Mr. Barnett said that he was not able to escape from that proof. A ballot was at once taken, and there were twelve votes for conviction for murder in the first degree. The scissors that Maxwell had thrown into the bundle of Preller's clothing which he put in his trunk convicted him.

Maxwell's counsel will file a motion for a new trial, and if that is refused will take the case to the Supreme Court, which does not meet until October, and which will probably not reach the case for nearly a year unless it should be advanced.

[Special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., June 6.—Another break occurred in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal on the Seven-Mile level, near Hancock, Friday night. It was twenty feet long and eight feet deep. The cause is unknown. A good force was at once put to work, and the damage is expected to be repaired by Tuesday. It is thought that water will be put in, and that boats can resume running past the point by the last of this week. Canal shipments are brisk, and the delay is much regretted.

A Report Contradicted.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 6.—Master Workman Powderly, in a telegram to a friend here, denies that he is about to resign his position. He says the best of feeling exists between himself and the other members of the board; that the Knights intend to meet the trades-unions more than half way, and that it cannot be very long before all the labor organizations in the country are under one head. Mr. Powderly says that all the talk of dissension in the order is the work of the enemies of labor.

Bolt and Nut Works Destroyed by Fire.

LEBANON, PA., June 6.—The works of the Pennsylvania Bolt and Nut Company, the largest of their kind in the country, were destroyed by fire this afternoon. Four large brick buildings were consumed with all their contents, embracing a large amount of finished stock and valuable machinery. The loss is about $150,000, and is covered by insurance. About 350 hands are thrown out of work. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Other Losses by Fire.

At Scottdale, Pa., eight business houses; loss $20,000. At Mt. Carmel, Pa., the breaker of the Alaska colliery, operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co.; loss $100,000. Five hundred men thrown out of employment. At Grand Island, Neb., Schaupp's flour mill; loss $90,000. At Oshkosh, Wis., lumber of the Diamond Match Co., Stannhelber, Amos & Co. and other firms; loss $44,750. At East Saginaw, Mich., the Mann block; loss $22,000.

Sam Small in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—The Jones-Small revival meetings began here today. Mr. Small preached in the afternoon and evening. His audience numbered 3,000 to 4,000. Jones will not arrive till Tuesday.

club in New York, and had a handsome gold medal which told of his connection with the organization. He said he supposed that now he would have to return the badge. Mrs. Cleveland looked at him, and then continued handing him the telegrams one by one. The President has received by way of Washington about 160 telegrams and 100 letters congratulatory. Among the telegrams are the following:

New York, 3d.—The President, Deer Park, Md.: I send you my most cordial congratulations and good wishes.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

New York, June 2.—The President: Mrs. Grant and her family send you and your bride their compliments and congratulations upon this happy occasion. F. D. GRANT.

Albany, N. Y., June 2.—Hon. Grover Cleveland, Washington: Accept for yourself and wife our warmest congratulations. Dennis O'Brien, attorney-general; Alfred C. Chapin, State comptroller; Wm. A. Poste, deputy attorney-general; Charles F. Taber, deputy attorney-general; Thos. E. Benedict, deputy comptroller.

Montreal, Canada, June 2.—President Cleveland, White House, Washington: Our citizens, civil and military, unite with the authorities in sending their hearty congratulations to their excellencies President and Madam Cleveland, on the auspicious event. Montreal Field Battery, under Col. Stevenson, has fired a royal salute in Dominion Square in honor of the celebration.

H. BEAUGRAND, Mayor of Montreal.

From Hon. Charles J. Phelps, minister to England:

London, 2.26 P. M., June 2.—Mr. President: Hearty congratulations from us all.

PHELPS.

From Hon. George H. Pendleton, minister to Germany:

Berlin.—The President: Sincere congratulations and best wishes for you and Mrs. Cleveland. PENDLETON.

London, Eng.—To the President: The Livery Company of Cloth Workers, London, offer most hearty and respectful congratulations to the President of the United States upon his marriage, and beg to express every good wish for his continued health and happiness.

London, Eng.—His Excellency Grover Cleveland, President of the United States of America, Washington, D. C.: At a meeting of citizens of the United States of America, assembled in London, at the American Exchange in Europe, it was unanimously resolved that we respectfully tender our hearty congratulations on the auspicious occasion of your marriage, and desire to express to you our most sincere wishes for the happiness and prosperity of yourself and bride. Signed on behalf of the meeting by Henry F. Zillig, chairman.

London, 4.33 P. M., June 3.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland: Pray, sir, accept my respectful salutation. Hail to the lady and the grace of Heaven enwheel thee round.

HENRY IRVING.

Philadelphia, June 3.—The President: At a stated meeting of the Americus Club of Philadelphia, Wednesday, June 2, the following was unanimously adopted and ordered sent: Resolved, That on this the wedding night of the President of the United States the Americus Club of Philadelphia extend to him their hearty congratulations and their sincere wishes that he may be blessed with good health and continued prosperity.

GEORGE MCGOWAN, President.

Worcester, Mass., June 3.—The President: In the name of the French Canadians of New England, Le Traveilleur heartily congratulates you on your marriage, and prays you to accept their best wishes.

LE TRAVEILLEUR.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 2.—His Excellency, &c.: Jacksonville Board of Trade, convened in regular session, resolved to tender the President and bride cordial congratulations, and wishes them a long life of domestic felicity. J. J. DANIEL, President.

Cincinnati, June 2.—The President: The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce heartily congratulates you and your bride on the acquisition to the social element of our country of the new firm, Grover Cleveland and wife. EDWARD STEVENS, President.

CHARLES B. MURRAY, Secretary.

New York, June 2.—The President: Members of New York Cotton Exchange desire to send hearty congratulations to President Cleveland and wife, with wishes for life-long happiness. S. GRUNNER, President.

New York, June 2.—His Excellency President Grover Cleveland, Washington, D. C.: The board of delegates of American Israelites unite with their fellow-citizens in wishing you every happiness and continued prosperity. ADOLPH L. SANGER.

Brooklyn, June 2.—Grover Cleveland, Washington: Regret the regrets of Bachelors' Club. ROBERT H. KING, Secretary.

Buffalo, June 2.—His Excellency Grover Cleveland, President, Washington: Accept hearty congratulations upon the happy event of this day.

PHILIP BECKER, Mayor of Buffalo.

Cold Water, Mich., June 2.—His Excellency Grover Cleveland, Washington, D. C.: We, the members of the Michigan Press Association, in convention assembled in the city of Cold Water, hereby extend congratulations and greeting to his excellency Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, on this his wedding day. To be chosen as President by the people of the United States was an honor and privilege high and desirable, but to be accepted as husband and keeper of a home by one of our country's fairest daughters is a privilege more sacred and no less honorable in the little government today established. May there be no conflicting policies, no unexpected vetoes, no offensive partisans, and may the affection and esteem that prompt this union never pass into innocuous desuetude.

Aurora, N. Y., June 2.—Mr. Daniel Lamont, Executive Mansion, Washington: Please present to President and Mrs. Cleveland my hearty greetings and best wishes from home of Wells College, (where Mrs. Cleveland graduated.) Signed by the faculty and students.

New York, June 2.—Grover Cleveland, White House, Washington: Congratulations.

MR. AND MRS. W. J. FIELDS.

Escanaba, Mich., June 2.—Mr. [illegible] tinued in his office [illegible] of the hymns sung [illegible] glorious crown thy head." [illegible] President and his party left the church [illegible] a little knot of people collected to see him and his wife. The President stood up in his carriage and lifted his hat to the crowd. Something must have pleased him, as he smiled audibly. The party reached home at two o'clock this afternoon. The church where the services took place is a neat granite structure, in Gothic style, and was built by the late John W. Garrett in memory of his brother, Henry Garrett. The latter was regularly in these hills fishing, being very fond of the sport, and a cold that he caught on one of these fishing excursions caused his death. He had always been an attendant at the Oakland Presbyterian Church and had intended to endow the presbytery, but his death occurred before he was able to carry out his intention. Mr. John W. Garrett built the church fifteen years ago to carry out his brother's intention. The church seats about 250 people.

VISIT OF MR. AND MRS. LAMONT.

Col. Lamont, the President's secretary, and Mrs. Lamont arrived here this morning, and went at once to the President's cottage. After church they took dinner with the President. The President and wife and Col. and Mrs. Lamont took supper at ex-Senator Davis's house. The duration of Col. Lamont's stay here is not known. He and the President go fishing tomorrow at Fish Commissioner Delawder's pond. There is a rumor to the effect that Col. Lamont has considered the advisability of notifying the President that the newspapers have been publishing too much about his movements. It is understood in the event of such a state of affairs the secretary will find a new antagonist in Mrs. Cleveland.

THE PRESIDENT PLEASED.

In reply to a question as to when he expected to leave Deer Park, the President said he did not know, but just at present he thought he would be here three or four days of the coming week. He said he had not signed any bills since he had been here, and intended to sign none. He repeated that he was very much pleased with his visit here, and, as he came to escape official business, would certainly transact none. Mrs. Cleveland, who sat near the table in the sitting-room while she handed the President the telegrams, wore the same white wrapper that had formed her morning habit since her arrival here. She had on her black straw hat and wore patent leather slippers. A gold ring, set with two amethysts and a diamond, was upon one of the fingers of her left hand, and another, the wedding ring, encircled another finger.

MRS. CLEVELAND HANDLES THE REINS.

Mrs. Cleveland is quite a driver. During one of the trips made by the President and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Cleveland took the reins from the ex-Senator's hands and soon had the bays in a good run. She evinced no nervousness whatever over the pace the horses were going, but sat upright and handled the ribbons like a veteran. When she got ready she pulled the pair up and let them go at a slow jog. The President and Mr. Davis watched her driving closely, and the latter kept himself in readiness at any moment to take the reins at the first sign of fractiousness on the part of the horses. There was no occasion for interference, however, as the lady showed that she could manage the pair herself.

CAPTURING THE PRESIDENT'S CHICKENS.

A number of spring chickens intended for the President's table will never reach there. The enterprising landlady of the boarding-house where the newspaper men are accommodated had promised her lodgers that they should have spring chickens for breakfast. The first person who came along early in the morning with chickens was bound for the hotel, and the landlady stopped the man and soon struck a bargain for the young chickens. The President and his wife, however, did not suffer, as there are plenty more of the same kind to be had around the neighborhood.

AN AFTERNOON STROLL.

A box of cut flowers from the White House conservatory were received today at the cottage. President and Mrs. Cleveland, Colonel and Mrs. Lamont, and Major and Mrs. N. S. Hill took a long stroll this afternoon. The President escorted Mrs. Lamont, while Col. Lamont went ahead with Mrs. Cleveland. Major and Mrs. Hill walked behind. They strolled through the village, and the consequence was the little hamlet was thrown into a flutter. The walk was quite extended.

POSSIBLE TRIP TO CHEAT RIVER.

It was given out semi-officially today that before the presidential party leaves here they will take trips to Cheat river. The Cheat is one of the prettiest mountain streams to be seen. It is about 20 miles west of here, and some very fine bass fishing is to be had there. If the party conclude to go, they will do so by rail.

TIME OF THE PRESIDENT'S DEPARTURE.

The arrival this morning of the special train that brought the President here led to a report that the President's visit would terminate at midnight Monday night. This, however, is denied in so far as the issuing of orders to the railroad people to that effect is concerned. Another report has it that the party will leave here Tuesday night. The announcement is made on good authority, however, that nothing has been decided on. The President and wife and Col. Lamont and wife spent the evening at ex-Senator Davis's house.

NOTES.

The four little Elkins boys intend to call on the President during his stay here. Two of them are democrats and two are republicans. Their father, Mr. Stephen B. Elkins, is expected tomorrow. The representatives of the newspapers dined with Mr. John W. Davis today in his private car Delaware, and had an enjoyable time.

The postmaster of Deer Park, while not a presidential officer, is an appointee of the present administration. "The President didn't appoint me," he said today, "but I belong to the new concern."

Major N. S. Hill, purchasing agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, arrived here yesterday with his family. They occupy the cottage just north of that occupied by the President.

the men went to President Lyon and told him they were ready to go to work in a body in accordance with his notice.

The Third Avenue Road put on all the extra cars available and carried immense crowds. It is said that many of the old drivers applied at the stables and begged of Superintendent Robertson to be taken back. His unvarying reply, however, was: "It is too late; we don't need you now."

President Lyon, of the Third Avenue Road, today said: "This is a general surrender of the Knights that will mark the beginning of their final dissolution, and they may lay the whole blame to the incapacity and utter lack of honor and honesty in their leaders. It is a victory for the workingmen over the tyranny of ignorant and avaricious men whom they have allowed to lead them by the nose. We have beaten them at every point—at the strike, at the boycott and at the tie-up, and it has now become a fixed fact that we run our road regardless of their dictates."

Vice-President Hart denies the report that he had entered into an agreement with the committee of the strikers.

The strikers now openly denounce the executive board as a set of rascals who had led them to a strike and encouraged them to hold out for weeks when they might have returned to work. Strikers charge that the executive board was paid to declare this last tie-up off. Tomorrow the District Assembly of car men will meet, and it is believed the executive board will be deposed.

The police received intelligence of the tie-up within a short time after the order was issued, and large detachments were distributed along the various lines, and others were massed at the station-houses ready for an emergency.

Master Workman Wm. W. Boyle, of the Third Avenue Local Assembly, was arrested at a late hour, charged with conspiracy to stop the Third Avenue cars on Friday. Boyle was today held in $1,000 for trial on the charge of conspiracy, and as a "billy" was found upon him when arrested he was held in $1,500 additional for carrying a dangerous and concealed weapon. He was bailed.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS.

An Organization of Illegal Revolutionists on the Pacific Coast.

SEATTLE, W. T., June 6.—The United States grand jury has found indictments against ten leaders of the recent anti-Chinese riots in this city. The jury's report, which was submitted yesterday, is an extraordinary document. It alleges that evidence has been laid before the grand jury sufficient to convince them that there exists throughout the country a treasonable organization known as the "Red American International Workingmen's Association." The organization is described at great length.

Among other things the report says: "This association, with all its branches, is essentially anarchical in theory and practice. The main articles of its creed are arson, robbery and murder. Its proclaimed purpose is the overthrow of our government and the erection upon its ruins of a so-called socialistic commonwealth. The policy pursued by this association is to secure control of all labor organizations, and particularly of the Knights of Labor; to see to it that the officers of all labor organizations are chosen from the scientific socialists; to employ every means to produce discontent among the people, and to stir up on all occassions and at all times as much strife and agitation as possible.

"More than a year ago the Pacific coast was selected as the most favorable ground on which to start a movement for the subversion of the government. Last fall branches of this organization were established at Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia and other points on Puget Sound. The agitation of the Chinese question was to be made at once the pretext and cover for the treasonable operations of the band of scientific socialists. The labor organizations were, although unknown to the main body of the members, systematically worked to promote the treasonable objects and purposes of the scientific socialists. All the disturbances and outrages on Puget Sound for the last six months, arising nominally from the agitation of the Chinese question, were really fomented, incited, guided and produced by this infamous association, whose real aims and designs have been studiously kept from the knowledge of the real workingmen of labor organizations. The scientific socialists of the Red American International Workingman's Association are, as shown by unmistakable documentary evidence before us, secretly instructing their deluded, ignorant and brutalized followers in the means of practically applying dynamite; how to seize armories and military stores; how to prevent the departure of troops from concentrating points; how to preserve order in centres of insurrections; how to imprison and destroy men of property and influence.

"To accomplish this end this association instructs its members to be particularly active in labor organizations. This red-handed body of assassins has settled upon our portion of the Union as the first point of attack. They say in their secret circulars: 'The Pacific coast, particulary by reason of its peculiar population, its natural wealth, its position, is such that a few determined men could isolate it from the balance of the world for months of time, and the agitation already started over its whole area is peculiarly fitted to be the first to lead off in the active work when the time for that work shall have come.'"

A Missing Witness Returns.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Among the frightened witnesses referred to by the grand jury in its report Saturday was Wm. Seliger, in whose house the dynamite manufacturer Lingg lived for some time before the night of the bomb-throwing. He has been mysteriously missing for three weeks, but presented himself in company with his wife, before Capt. Black this evening, and was promptly locked up. He is very reticent regarding his mysterious absence.

Rev. E. G. Weed, of Augusta, Ga., has accepted the position of Bishop of Florida, to which he was chosen some time ago.
