Dear Sir:—

On Saturday night the transit party stopped at station 247.

Station 226 is on the road which runs south from West Lebanon.

So far the line is as close to the projected location as ~~we~~ can be, all from the existing lines which are here. The profile fits the projected pile well except one or two places where the 400 map ~~[illegible]~~ shows the contours as existing on the ground, and I do not think that at these points any much change will be made in the final estimates. Owing to the loss of the old stakes the alignment of the existing map, near here is only much like a preliminary, and I and we hope that it
