Reg:- David E. Headley

When I arrived in Dutch Guiana in Jan 1916 Headley was the Paramaribo representative of the Pan American Products Co. So far as I know the P.A.P.Co was organized to take away some of the A.P.Co's money

Keast a New York promoter and Webb a " " realestate man were the New York end.

A mulato chocal named Fairweather seems to have been the "go between".

They made a contract with Neilson by which he was to pay them 4¢ per [illegible] option money on their holdings [illegible] parties in the field to prospect.

As fast as Neilson paid in option [illegible] in New York Headley took up [illegible] land in Dutch Guiana. 95% [illegible] proved worthless and if Potter [illegible] had not arrived about that time [illegible] one body would have lost a road.

The New York crowd seem to have [illegible] away with the money and [illegible]adley with a rest hill.
