their side. We had a very elaborate lunch at the Companies club and another conference in the afternoon. The car brought me back last night.

Mr. Rambke is very anxious to get a sample of dolomite & a sample of granite & a chunk of Bruciite which were among those samples in the apartment that I brought back from Nevada. I hope they were not thrown out. Bob can identify them when he moves the furniture. Will you pack them up if they can be found & mail them to the S.G.F. care of Mr. Rambke.

I am leaving for Berlin this morning to meet Mr Buck. Lots of love
