has sold Belton and the two colts he had at Baltimore during the races, they must be driving him in a corner aint they, a stock breeder such as Pike Lucas makes out he is to sell his stallion and trotters dont leave much of a stock breeding establishment does it, who is to do the serving for him, his Russell Colt? I want you to send me several of your pedigree's of Happy Russell for 1892 as soon as they are issued My Russell is doing finely I had him broken this summer and driven some he is beautifully gated and is going to be a trotter sure he is full of trot and level headed, and the exact living image of his great sire he has no notion to pace, a clean open-gated trot and he dont want any weights I know as well as I know that I am living he will go away below 30 he is as fat as a hog and running on grass at the Fair grounds on the orchard grass on the inside of the track, I feed him grain twice a day and stable him at night, he is 15 hands high in front and he is at least two inches higher behind than he is in front I ~~will~~ can make a big season with him next year if I want to, I dont want to tax him too much as I shall put him in some competent hands to train after the season I saw that you had sold a yearling for $1500 at Balt.
