Mr. Edward B. Emory,

Dear Sir:—

I was somewhat surprised in receiving yours of Oct. 26th ult., as it is not in keeping with the terms we talked of when you called on me; and you also stated the same terms in a correspondence to my brother James. You also told my brother Aaron what terms [illegible] fered me; and after I had a talk with both of them about it, I concluded to let the mare go, inasmuch as brother James would take her and have charge of her on her return. The terms were as follows:— I could pay for the services in installments, in amounts to suit myself; and as to the beef, you suggested yourself, that my pasture was short, and if I saw fit to breed to Happy Russell, the pasture should cost me nothing. I should be pleased to hear from you at once, as I
