My dear Sir:

I think that you have been written to, in regard to my colt, Happy Lad. If you have not you will be seen in regard to him at Pimlico.

Robt Chestem would like to buy him, but will not do so on his own judgment.

He is fond of the colt in a great many respects - his physical conformation, his temper, and bonding, and promise of speed.

I think the main question that he would ask you are these: "What do you think of the chances of a return of the curb?" and "What do you think of his gait?" (often he describes it to you)
