you said emphatically that I knew the rules of the association and it was my duty to apply them and you voted no. Now our rules are very explicit about the entries in the colt stakes. A member may name and describe any number of colts but can only start one that has been named. And if the privilege was granted a member to substitute another each on final payment it would be violating one of our rules and establishing a bad precedent. Members who have made three or four ~~colts~~ entries in a stake would say it was not fair to let another member make one entry and then name a colt that had not been entered It would cause a hurl. & I should get letters asking why Mr Emery who was on the Board of Directors had been allowed to violate our
