VINELAND
MAY 29
1902
TEX.

Mrs. E. B. Emory,
Centreville,
Maryland.

Geo. F. Harris
Sherman
Texas

In Camp Vineland
May 29/902

Dear Mother:—
We had a decided change in the weather last night. Got it was hot as hotter & tonight we are all shivering around in coats. I think it is what they call a "norther" down here. I slept with the tent rolled up & today I have a stiff neck. It seems to be a very undecided disposition weather we have here locating this line or not. We have slacked down work. At least all but the office force. The work needs gets done. This I am still assistant Draftsman. & I do not see be there is any chance of my become ing any thing else in the near future.

The fellow that has the job of draftsman is only about seventeen. He is a pretty smart-duck. He is going to leave in the fall & go to the