SATURDAY MORNING............Nov. 24, 1883.

CHESTERVILLE AND VICINITY.

Messrs. Editors :—The fair, festival and supper held last week by the Chesterville M. E. Church South, was well attended, and the net profits were $120. This sum will be expended in furniture for the parsonage. The new parsonage, of the above church, is nearly completed, and besides being a great convenience to the circuit, adds very materially to the appearance of this forlorn-looking village. The pastor will probably occupy it next month.

The farm-house on the "Shad-in-Reach" farm, which property is now owned by Mr. R. L. Pearson, was burned down on Tuesday last. The house was tenanted by Mr. Alex. Thawley, who lost some of his household effects. The fire originated from the stove-pipe coming in contact with some of the frame-work.

Mr. James Carey, well known in this section, died about 10 o'clock on the night of the 14th instant. He had resided in this village for many years, and at one time kept a store, but later kept our village hotel. The deceased was so eccentric in his manner, and so given to odd sayings, that his company was often sought after by boon companions, and ten years since we bestowed the title of "Jeems the Original;"—having had frequent occasion to refer to him, he possibly became better known by this title than by his real name. He had been ailing for several months, but was only confined to his bed a short time before he died. Consumption did the work. "Jeems the Original" was mortal—he has passed away. May his faults be buried with him—the good that he did live after him. The interment took place at Chesterville on the 16th inst., and many friends assembled to follow his remains to their last resting place.

As the funeral procession was passing to the cemetery, Mrs. Eliza J. Lemley, quite aged and infirm, beheld from her door the remains of her son and first deceased child borne to the tomb! Though possessed of a stout heart and stern nature, this was too much for the stricken mother to bear—heart anguish, a feeble frame, and utter inattention to health, all combined to prostrate her; and at this writing, (Wednesday night,) just one week from the death of her son, Mr. James Carey, the pale messenger is claiming her too as his victim.

Thursday morning — Mrs. Lemley died last night about 10 o'clock—the same day of the week, and same hour as her son passed away one week before. The deceased had lived here for many years, and at one time was engaged in merchandising, and had accumulated property. Her long residence and former public business served to make her well known. WALTER.

A LETTER FROM GALENA.

Messrs. Editors :—I, like "Unus Eorum," had begun to wonder what had become of all the correspondents. I will suggest the idea that perhaps they have hibernated; and if this be the case, there is need for a few winter correspondents to fill the place of the summer and spring worthies. I think, however, that the reason of the silence, is due to a certain degree, to the correspondents being wrapped up in politics, and interested in the success of our candidates for Orphans' Court and Legislature, that they either did not have time, or else forgot to write; but, perhaps, as the excitement of the election is all over, you will hear from our community oftener.

At the death of the old year, we witness the birth of the new; and so it is with other things; for as the old correspondents drop off, if we should have no new ones to fill their places, we would soon be without anybody to impart their intelligence to the public; therefore, I have no doubt but that "Observer," and others, will welcome us into their ranks. Not that I claim intelligence for myself, but I write to gain intelligence. But, Messrs. Editors, I do not wish to encumber your columns with such as this, but to give a few hints on another "surprise party," given at the princely residence of our esteemed medical friend, Dr. J. L. Dulaney, on the evening of Nov. 15, 1883, in honor of Miss Purnell, of Elkton, who is visiting the doctor. Among the ladies present, were: Misses Maggie Knighton, Winnie Walls, Carrie and Sallie Meredith, Marian Benny, Elsie Gooding, Annie Hyland and Mollie Purnell. The gentlemen were: Messrs. William Brown, Wm. T. Knighton, J. Allen Hyland, J. Robert Wilson, Howard Gray and Eddie Burton. Everything was arranged by the gentlemen without the knowledge of the ladies, who knew nothing about it until the afternoon, preceding the evening of the entertainment.

The company assembled at Judge H.'s as per arrangement, and proceeded thence in couples to the doctor's; each gentleman with the lady of his choice. Upon arriving there, they were ushered into the presence of the staring Miss Mollie, who received them very cordially, despite her surprise. When the young friends had become seated, they received words of welcome from the estimable lady of the house, whom I sincerely believe, desired that the evening should be one of the happiest of their lives; and surely it was; all enjoyed themselves to the acme of their ability. After a few moments of social chattering, the playing of the parlor games began, which were occasionally interspersed with instrumental music. The fair performers were Misses Knighton, Hyland and Purnell, who played with such ease and grace, as only can be accomplished by diligent study and practice. All enjoyed themselves hugely for a few hours, when a sort of gloom was cast over the entire company by one of the young ladies being taken sick and having to return home just as we were invited out to partake of the splendid refreshments that were furnished by the committee, and which in the meantime had been elegantly prepared by the tasty Mrs. D., a lady whose delight it is to make others happy, and thus be happy herself. Having eaten heartily and with much merriment, we repaired to the parlor, and again took up our half-finished program, which had been so tastefully arranged, neatly written, and presented to our hostess on our arrival.

It seemed to be the desire of all that Miss Purnell should enjoy herself this evening as she never did before; for each one tried in every possible way to show his or her regard and esteem for her, a demeanor which she was not slow in noticing; and to show that she appreciated it, she received all the attention paid to her with the courtesy of a princess.

Only too soon did the hour of departing come; for it seemed scarcely one hour ere four had slipped swiftly by to return no more. But as the past comes not back again, we concluded that it was useless to cry over "spilt milk," and so, good naturedly, resigned ourselves to our fate, and started for home at about 15 minutes past 12 o'clock. I have since heard one of the young men speak of having sore lips; now, Messrs. Editors, does not this look a little suspicious on his part? Long live the doctor and family that they may be honored by frequent and long visits from our esteemed young friend, Miss P.

ALIUS EORUM UNUS.

GOSPEL TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The first meeting of the "Gospel Temperance Cause," under the guidance of the Young Men's Association, was held in the chapel of the M. P. Church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, 1883, Mr. J. D. Bacchus in the chair. After singing "On the Shoals," prayer was offered by Mr. J. W. Carroll. "Rescue the Perishing" was then sung, after which the Rev. Wm. M. Strayer was introduced as one of the speakers of the evening. He said, judging by experience, the result likely to follow an energetic movement of this kind would be a flattering one. He related incidents that occurred while holding meetings of this kind in other places. Having prepared a pledge he invited those present to come forward and sign it, at the same time giving reasons why all—the sober man, the inebriate, and the ladies—should sign the pledge. He said this was a small beginning, but he expected to have more room and more available power than has yet been exerted. In conclusion he said he would not be satisfied with an ordinary result; he expected great results to be accomplished. Mr. W. B. Vane was then introduced, and he, endorsing his pastor's sentiments, said the ladies should sign this pledge, as they can prevent drunkenness by withholding the social glass from the young men. A number of those present signed the pledge.—Rev. Wm. M. Strayer pronounced the benediction and the meeting adjourned to meet on Dec. 4, 1883. W. W. CHAPMAN, Secretary.

Mr. Hessy's Pear Crop.

CECILTON, MD., November 14, 1883.

Editors News :—I find a statement in the News in regard to my pear crop. There is a mistake in regard to the price. Mr. J. E. Hendrickson sold what I shipped to Philadelphia, and they brought from 70 cts to $1.60. To do justice to Mr. Hendrickson you will please make correction. Those that brought 70 cts. were mostly culls. JOHN H. HESSY.

John Smith, colored, was hanged at Oakland, Garret county, Md., on the 16th instant, for the murder of Josiah Harden. He admitted the murder, and said he had nothing against Harden, but was in liquor at the time, and was encouraged to do it, though he didn't say by whom.

THE Delaware fishermen have had an unusually rich harvest this year. It is said that more rock and perch have been caught along the Delaware shore this fall than during any fall for the last ten years.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS MAKE A NARROW ESCAPE.—A startling accident happened at Aberdeen, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, yesterday morning about 8.30 o'clock, by which the lives of Mr. George C. Wilkins, general agent Pennsylvania Railroad, Mr. L. H. Barker, assistant engineer at Baltimore of the Northern Central Railroad, and Mr. J. M. Thomas were placed in great jeopardy. The party left Baltimore on the 7.05 o'clock train, and procured a double team, with colored driver, to drive to Belair, so as to get a view of the country through which the extension of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Central Road in Harford co. is to be located. They were driving from the station when the freight train came along. The horses took fright and ran off. They ran against a telegraph pole, jumped back, and by a sharp turn hurled the vehicle down an embankment, at the bottom of which the freight train was running. Mr. Thomas and the driver, who occupied the front seat, jumped out in time to escape the fall, but Messrs. Wilkins and Barker, on the rear seat, were carried down the bank, the vehicle falling on top of them. The spectators at the station, witnessing the accident, expected to see Messrs. Wilkins and Barker ground up by the train, but the carriage stopped a few inches short of the track. The frightened horses jerked the wagon from off the prostrate travelers, and tore down the track alongside the rapidly-moving cars. Mr. Wilkins sustained an abrasion and bruise on the left temple, a cut on the left eye, and was otherwise bruised. Mr. Barker had his left ankle badly sprained, and was bruised. The Southern mail train, due in ten minutes, was telegraphed to stop to take the party to Baltimore. At Union Station, Dr. Thomas S. Latimer, the company's surgeon, was on hand to render medical assistance. Mr. Barker was conveyed to his residence, and will probably be confined there some time. Mr. Wilkins conversed very composedly about the accident last evening, and thought he would experience no bad effects from it. He said the whole thing happened in such a short time that he had hardly time to think, but when he went down the embankment he expected to go under the wheels of the moving train.—Sun, Wednesday.

THE CATLIN CASE IN THE COURT OF APPEALS—Decision of the Circuit Court of Queen Anne's County Sustained. — This case, which was argued before the Court of Appeals at the October term, has been decided in favor of Robert J. Catlin, the appellee. We find it thus reported in the Baltimore Sun :

"The case of Joseph A. Catlin vs. Robt. J. Catlin, appeal from Queen Anne's county, involves the real estate of Joseph Catlin, who had died intestate, leaving adult sons and some children who were minors, and the children of a deceased son. A commission was issued, in accordance with article 47 of the code, to five persons to value and divide the land. The commissioners reported the estate as existing in three parcels, of two farms and a house and lot. They laid off the widow's dower and valued the several parcels separately and in the aggregate, subject to certain incumbrances resting upon them respectively, and then reported that the property was indivisible between the parties entitled without loss or injury to them, and would not admit of any other division than the actual parcels in which the property was found and was accordingly valued. The report of the commissioners having been confirmed by the court, Robert J. Catlin, oldest son of the deceased, and entitled to elect, by written election duly filed, elected to take all the estate at the valuation of the commissioners. To this election the appellant, the next oldest son, filed exceptions, alleging that Robert J. Catlin's right of election was confined to one of the parcels, and that he could not take by election the whole of the estate. This the Circuit Court overruled, and passed an order declaring the election rightful, and from this order the appeal was taken. In affirming the decision of the lower court in favor of Robert J. Catlin, the appellee, Judge Irving says: "The sole question for consideration and determination may be thus stated: Is the right of election, of the person entitled to it, restricted to one of the several parts into which an estate is divided by the commissioners, or is found by them to exist, and is so certified, when the estate is not susceptible of equal division among the parties entitled thereto? After the most careful examination of all the acts of Assembly which have ever been passed in the State on the subject, we are constrained to think the Circuit Court committed no error in deciding that the right of election in such case extended to the whole estate." The effect of this decision would seem to lead to the re-establishment, indirectly, of the old law of primogeniture. The decision, however, is regarded as a proper and legal one.

BRILLIANT FUTURE OF THE SOUTH.—In a late address before the Boston Mechanics' Society, Mr. Wendell Philips, the noted orator, said:

"The handwriting is so plain on the wall that none but a fool need mistake it. New England is doomed just as sure as natural laws will produce fixed results. New England has no soil worth mentioning, and her wealth has all been derived from her manufactures. These are gradually leaving her, and eventually they will all go; some to the West, but most to the South, where the advantages for profitable manufacturing are all located. The coal and iron in the South are easily gotten at and inexhaustable in amount, and the iron mills, foundries and machine shops can go to them better than they can be carried to the shops. Then the cotton and woolen-mills must go there, for the raw materials are, and are to be produced there, more cheaply, uniformly and better. Then look at the advantages of the extra hours of daylight in a year's run. This, of itself, is no small matter. As the South grows stronger and stronger, the wealth, culture and power of the country will be centered there, until she will become, not alone the mistress of America, but the central empire of the world."

FAIRLY STATED.—The New York Sun of November 9th published the following article on the overthrow of Mahone. The facts could not be better stated.

The defeat of Mahone in Virginia is something that Democrats and decent Republicans can both be thankful for. In fact the Republicans have more reason to rejoice at it than the democrats outside of Virginia have. The more the administration truckled to his demands the grosser was his use of its patronage to sustain his power, the greater was the disgust with which decent Republicans regarded him. Every vote that he gained in Virginia cost the Republican party in the North a hundred votes. The Republican party could not afford to ally itself with a man who exploited the ignorance to compass the dishonor of Virginia. It is a good thing for the state, for the Democratic party, for the Republican party, and for honest government that this adventurer has come to grief.

A COVEY of partridges, a week or so ago, attempted to fly across the lower part of Greenwood's creek, Queen Anne's county, but before reaching the opposite shore the entire covey became exhausted and fell into the water. A couple of oystermen, on the creek in their canoes, saw the little birds in their forlorn situation and hurried to their rescue. Several of the birds were however drowned before assistance could reach them. It is a fact that everybody does not know, perhaps, that a partridge when on the wing never draws its breath. This fact accounts for the little birds being compelled to fall before reaching the opposite shore.

THE Philadelphia Ledger says there are nearly a quarter of a millon applications for pensions on file at Washington and only ten per cent. are for wounds and injuries received during the war. Nine out of ten of the applicants allege only "consequential injuries," which may mean anything or nothing. The Grand Army of the Republic could do a real service to the deserving soldiers in need of a pension by using its great influence as an organization to put a stop to the abuses of the Government's bounty represented under the head of consequential injuries. If such abuses are not checked deserving pensioners may some day be dropped from the rolls in an effort to correct the evil.

NEW YORK'S RICH WOMEN.—A list of the rich women of New York, recently published, shows that there are eighty-seven possessed of something like $1,000,000. The richest are Mrs. A. T. Stewart, $10,000,000; Mrs. Edwin A. Stephens, widow of the Commodore, $7,000,000; Mrs. Moses Taylor, 6,000,000; Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, Mrs. E. D. Morgan and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, $5,000,000 each; Mrs. Sarah Burr, $4,000,000; Mrs. James Brown, $3,000,000.—These ladies are all widows. Miss Catherine Wolffe, worth $2,000,000 is the richest spinster.

NOT CANDIDATES.—Mention was made last week of the visit to this place of Mr. Geo. E. Haddaway and Col. Thos. Hughlett, for the purpose it was supposed, of entering application for the clerkship of the circuit court for Talbot county made vacant by the election of Mr. J. Frank Turner as Comptroller. Both gentlemen have written to us in regard to the item, and both disdain being candidates, but came here on entirely different business.—Cent. Observer.

PACKERS say that canned tomatoes are now selling below cost of production. The Harford county canners are charged with causing the decline. They had heavy packs and many of them were compelled to put their goods on the market because they could not get advances from Baltimore commission merchants. It is very likely that there will be an early advance.

A MILE IN 2:08¼.—At the Prospect Park Fair Grounds, Long Island, on Thursday of last week, J. Keene's celebrated horse Frank trotted two miles, the first in 2:08¼ and the second in 2:10¼. This is the fastest time on record.

A WIFE'S PROPERTY NOT LIABLE TO DISTRAINT FOR THE HUSBAND'S DEBT.—Judge Brown decided in the Court of Common Pleas of Baltimore on Saturday in the two cases of Cunningham against Emmig and Wright against the same that a wife's property cannot be taken by distraint for rent owing by her husband. The question has not been decided by the Court of Appeals. Judge Brown held that the article in the constitution secures a wife's separate estate from her husband's debt in distraint as well as other forms of suit.

NEW STANDARD TIME.—In order to secure uniformity in the time of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Richmond the time for these cities has been fixed to agree with the 75th meridian, which advances Philadelphia time one minute and Baltimore six minutes and twenty-eight seconds. Hereafter there will be no difference in the time of those cities, and all trains on roads between these cities will be run on uniform time.

WAITING FOR THE EBB TIDE.—The Mechanicstown Clarion says there is a citizen living in the north end of Frederick county, Md., who has made himself a coffin and placed it in the garret where it awaits his death and burial. He has also wrought out a set of tombstones and placed them in the cemetery on the lot where his remains will be placed. The man is at present enjoying good health.

BAPTIZED IN WATER FROM THE JORDAN—A little son of Mr. Charles W. Linthicum, No. 105 North Carrolton avenue, was baptized on Monday night with water brought by Mr. George Colton from the river Jordan, in the Holy Land. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas B. Lemon, a Methodist minister, of Kearney, Nebraska, and an uncle of Mr. Linthicum. A number of friends were present.—Balto. Sun.

THE clergy of Brooklyn have begun a movement against the practice of courting on Sunday nights. It is said to interfere to some extent with the attendance at Sunday evening meetings. These good people will have a difficult task to perform in their efforts to break up this long established and pleasant pastime.

JUDGE FISHER of Baltimore having decided that a man is liable in damages for slanderous words uttered by his wife, Mr. Scholer of that city had to pay $105 and costs because his wife had said certain uncomplimentary things of Mrs. Anna Mache.

EX-GOV. HENDRICKS, of Indiana, who was in Chicago Friday last, expressed a preference for the Hon. S. S. Cox for the speakership. He thinks "Mr. Randall is a little extreme in one direction, and Mr. Carlisle too much so on the other."

THE fine residence on the farm of O. P. Clemson, about three miles north of Elkton, was destroyed by fire last Sunday afternoon. The fire was caused by a defective chimney. Loss $5,000; insurance about $3,000.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore papers o Friday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry $1 10@1 14; Fultz $1 08 @1 12 for fair to good. CORN—White, prime 43@55; yellow, 48@55 OATS, Maryland, 38.

ROAD NOTICE.

The undersigned, citizens of the Third District, Kent county, hereby give notice that in Thirty days from the date hereof, they intend to apply to the Hon. County Commissioners of said county, for the appointment of Examiners to enter upon, view and determine whether the public convenience requires that a should be opened in said district, to begin at the gate leading into the farm of Wm. W. Stephens, on which George R. Stephens resides, near Worton Point School House, to run thence through the lands of said Wm. Stephens and the lands of Geo. R. Reed to the lane called Stephens' Lane, between lands of said Geo. R. Reed and the lands of Isaac Parsons, and also to widen said lane.

GEO. R. REED,
WM. R. GALE,
ISAAC PARSONS,
Oct. 27-tm. and others.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.

For the accommodation of Tax-Payers of the THIRD DISTRICT I will be at O. P. Beck's Store, Worton Heights, every Saturday afternoon, Chestertown every Tuesday, and at home the balance of the week. Prompt payment is earnestly solicited. S. AMOS REED.

CORN SHELLERS

And HORSE POWERS.

I have now ready for delivery a arge supply of the Celebrated

Hyland Corn Shellers & Horse Powers

which we think are unsurpassed, and we are selling them low.

ROLLERS.—We have the best Roller on the market, and persons wanting anything in this line should send in their orders at once.

THE CELEBRATED HYLAND

FARM WAGON.

To Our Friends and the Public:

In introducing these Wagons on the Peninsula, we feel that we are doing something to benefit the public. It seems to be the nnanimous verdict of Farmers that our Wagons track better and run lighter than any others made on the Peninsula. This was the decision of the Judges of the Worton Fair, held in September, 1881. Every piece is carefully selected, and nothing but the best material is used.

Our DEARBORNS and CARTS are EXCELLED BY NONE.

Please give these implements a trial and you will find it to your interest.

The "Splendid"

FIRE PLACE HEATER

is one of the handsomest, heaviest and most complete Heaters ever offered to the trade. The Fire and Feed Pots are put together in sections and when any part wears out it can be replaced by even a child, without moving stove or taking out a bolt, thus saving considerable expense. It is altogether practical in construction, and beautiful in design and finish.

We take great pleasure in offering this Heater to our customers feeling confident of the genuine comfort it will afford them. Mr. R. J. Foard has used two of the above heaters for several years and will recommend them to any one. Call and examine them at
