SATURDAY MORNING.........Dec. 15, 1883.

Look Ahead.

We can never be too careful
What the seed our hands shall sow;
Love from love is sure to ripen,
Hate from hate is sure to grow.
Seed of good or ill we scatter
Heedlessly along our way,
But a glad or grievous fruitage
Waits us at the harvest day.

LETTER FROM GALENA.

Messrs. Editors:—To pen an item of interest occasionally will not, I trust, appear amiss; therefore, I shall contribute a note from Galena, which I hope will be acceptable to your readers.

To commence, I will take an imaginary step into the shops of our worthy friend, Judge Hyland, whose business, no doubt, is the leader of the place. Crossing the portals of his begrimed doorways we behold his employees busy hammering, drilling, boring, turning, sawing, planing, etc., in fact making a perfect pandemonium wherein we are unable to converse freely. For the last three months Mr. Hyland has been busy filling orders for his superior horse-powers and corn-shellers, and to meet the increasing demand has been compelled to run a force of workmen from 7 A. M. to 10 P. M., daily. We find his stock rooms full—undoubted the largest and best stock of hard lumber on the shore will be found in the possession of Mr. H. Thousands of feet of lumber and tons of iron stand waiting to take their place in a sheller or power, thence to go forth to laud the pluck and energy of him who gave them existence.

During the recent political campaign, in which Mr. H. was elected Judge, he never neglected his business but was ever on the push, constantly on the go and as a reward for his untiring efforts we find in his store-room nothing but sold machinery, and in his office unfilled orders which are daily increasing. With our best wishes for his future success, we curtail our epistle and hurry it to the mail. Respectfully, K.

Galena, Dec. 12, 1883.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The second meeting of the "Gospel Temperance Cause," was held in Chestertown on Tuesday evening, Dec. 4. Charles H. Baker, Esq., was introduced. Mr. Baker, in speaking of the arguments advanced by the intemperate, showed by illustration the inanity of their defence. He said all should take sides in this question as this aids in the formation of a good character. Their arguments, if the reasons they give be called such, can easily be answered, for they are always void. Some argue the temperance question by using the sumptuary laws as a defence, thereby shifting from the question. If some one should buy property within the town limits and pay a good price for it, because of the situation, and proceed to erect a building for the manufacture of powder, he would be notified, and properly so, by the town authorities, that such a thing could not be, he must respect the rights of the citizens of that place; yet a liquor shop may be opened in some places, in any part of the town and carry on a legitimate business. Thos. G. DeFord, Esq., was then introduced. He said, for 18 years he had been engaged in this work and by such an experience he had found that "In union there is strength." Every person commands some influence, and by a united effort in the proper course, this cause must exert vast influence. The benediction was pronounced by Charles H. Baker and the meeting adjourned to meet Dec. 18, 1883. J. D. BACCHUS,
W. W. CHAPMAN, Sec'y. Chairman.

HOW TO GET EGGS IN WINTER.

The farmer who leaves his poultry to roost in the apple tree at the corner of the barn, and to pick up their living at the pigs' trough and in the barnyard, may occasionally get an egg in winter. But as a matter of fact there is on most farms a great dearth of eggs from November to March. With a warm shelter and suitable feed, pullets that begin to lay in the fall will continue to lay through the winter. It is mainly a question of feed. The staple feed is Indian corn, especially in the West, because it is most plentiful and the most convenient. It furnishes plenty of fat and keeps up the heat of the fowls, but is poor in albumen and the phosphates. They want a variety of grains and vegetables. Most farmers have milk, and if this can be added it will be all they need. Butchers' scrap-cake is good, and may safely be kept in the poultry yard where the fowls can help themselves at pleasure. Boiled potatoes or turnips, mashed and mixed with Indian meal, make an excellent feed for laying hens. Fowls are particularly fond of cabbages and turnips at all stages of their growth, and eat them raw greedily every day if they can get them. We have found so good results from feeding cabbages to laying hens that we always lay in a large supply for the winter. Refuse from the butcher's and offal from the fish market also furnish good material for making eggs. These are accessible to most villages and can be had at a small cost. A hen is only a machine for producing eggs. If you want the finished product you must put the raw material into the hopper. It should not be forgotten that there is a liberal grinding going on in the gizzard, and the laying bird should have free access to gravel, with sharp grit, broken oyster and clam shells, which assist in reducing the grain and form egg shell. With a plentiful supply of egg-producing food, hens will lay well in winter, when eggs bring the highest price.—Col. Farmer.

QUINTESSENCE OF
Phosphated Iron, Quinine & Strychnia
Put up in Pills and in Liquid Form.

And is a sure cure for DEBILITY resulting from any cause, thinness or sluggishness of the blood, derangement of the Digestive Organs, Diseases of the Nervous System, Typhus, Typhoid and Intermittent Fevers, Ague and Fever, and is the very best counteracter of malarial influences and cure for malarial diseases, and as a nervine and sedative, quieting the nervous system, and inducing Refreshing Sleep, it has no equal. It is endorsed by medical practitioners here and is frequently prescribed by them in their practice, and is considered one of the very best remedial agents known for the diseases for which we recommend it. We challenge the closest scrutiny into its composition and virtues. Read the following:

EXPLANATION OF THE ABOVE MEDICINE.

PHOSPHOROUS—Means light, and medically im parts strength and vigor to the system, as the rays of the sun do to animal and vegetable life.

IRON—Is a purifier and enricher of the blood, the most important of the constituents of the human body.

QUININE—Is the Tonic of Tonics, and exercises a powerful and healthful influence upon the digestive organs, and finally STRYCHNIA—In very small proportions (as in this combination) is a most excellent nervine, acting upon and regulating the entire nervous system. Ask your physician about the above formula, and he will say it is good.

Price in large bottles $1; Trial bottles 35c.

Pills in boxes $1 per box, or six boxes for $5. Sent by mail to any point, free of charge, upon receipt of price. Prepared and sold by
DAVIS & MILLER,
No. 12 N. Howard St., Baltimore.

A pamphlet of full explanations of the above medicine, and treating of its composition and administration, and stating the diseases to which it is applicable, will be cheerfully given to any one who may call on me, it will be sent free to any address furnished by postal card, and will also hereafter accompany each bottle. o21y.
