SATURDAY MORNING.....Dec. 22, 1883.

KENT CO. AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.

CLUB ROOM, Dec. 17, 1883.

Messrs. Editors :—Seeing in your last issue a communication from the Kent Co. Agricultural Association by one of its most earnest members, (Particeps), that the interest of the last club meeting centered upon a revision of the constitution, but from the fact of there not being many members present the club thought best to defer the adoption until today. So, considering myself one of its members, and feeling at the same time that I ought to consider it obligatory on myself, as any other true member should, to attend today's meeting and hear the constitution as revised read, and judge of the advantages or disadvantages that the club might receive through such revision. Therefore I repaired to the club room and found a goodly number assembled.—Meeting was called to order by the president. But there was a great deal of disappointment among the members when the fact was ascertained that the secretary was absent, and the papers referring to the constitution were in his possession, consequently the adoption had to be again deferred. The club then appointed the first Monday in January, 1884, for its next meeting, at which time the matter will again be considered. It is hoped that all the officers and members will be present, as it is a very important matter and demands the attention of all interested. SECRETARY PRO TEM.

LETTER FROM GALENA.

Messrs. Editors :—It being the age of steel pens, (the use of the goose quill having become obsolete) it behooves "Observer" to imitate friend "Walter," at Chestertville, and prevent the pen from rusting by recording for your readers a few items picked up here and there.

The tragic shriek of his departing swineship has about ceased in our village, the very last having been "removed," as Guiteau would have it, on Saturday last. Hence we may presume from the sleek looks and pleasant "oily words" of most every one we meet, that he or she has been feasting on "fat things," or else——Christmas is surely coming. What a genial influence by the by the advent of this season seems to throw over all. Thrice blessed day !—blessed to the buyers and donors, blessed to the sellers and blessed to the children who neither buy nor sell; "toil not (to make ready) neither do they spin" (yarns about olden times, as do their elders). Christmas holidays will be celebrated in good earnest heresbouts. The Sabbath school of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, which by the way seems to be growing considerably both in numbers and influence, leads off on Wednesday evening, Dec. 26, with a Sunday school celebration and Christmas tree, to be held in the chapel at Galena.

The M. E. School here is preparing quite an elaborate Christmas entertainment, which will be publicly rendered on Friday evening of the same week at the Odd Fellows Hall. There will be little doubt of its being a success.

The Christmas exercises of the Presbyterian Sunday School, at Georgetown, comes off on Thursday evening, Dec. 26, of the same week, in their church, and gives promise of being very entertaining. We are glad to see the friendly spirit of accommodation as regards the appointment of different evenings of the same week for the various entertainments, all of which our citizens are anxious to attend.

I close this letter by "short stop" allusions to several more items of greater or less interest, such as the fact of a certain man, near Galena, planting his early potatoes this fall with some probability of success,

There is a rumor current that Mr. Hyland, our enterprising foundryman and machinist, is actually getting rich by his pressing and increasing business.

Four of our citizens have shown a commendable spirit in keeping up at private expense our once neglected street lamps.

Lastly of some remarkably fine looking and genuine Vermont Early Rose potatoes sent by R. H. Phelps, of Connecticut, and exhibited by his son, living in this place. They are intended solely for seed next spring. OBSERVER.

MISERABLE MAILS.

STILL POND, December 19, 1883.

Messrs. Editors :—It becomes every citizen to complain of the late change in the railroad time, by which the mails are detained about three hours or more at Clayton. Tonight the mail did not reach our village until about 5 o'clock, entirely too late for many persons to wait for their mail. The citizens are indignant, and remonstrances are being signed and will be sent; and if they are generally prepared, signed and sent to R. C. Jackson, Superintendent Railway Mail Service, New York, no doubt the complaint will be remedied. The interests are too large to admit of such delay. The mail can be carried by carriage from Massey's in less time, and the time has come when the community has some rights. CITIZEN.

CORRECTION.

ST. PAUL'S RECTORY, Kent co., Md.

Editors of the Kent News :—DEAR SIRS :—Will you allow me to correct a misstatement in your last issue to the effect that I was hindered from attending the recent meeting in your town of the Northern Convocation by feebleness. I am thankful to say I am in my usual health and strength, and the rector of Chester parish will tell you that quite other reasons than feebleness, and, in fact, incompatible therewith, caused my absence. Respectfully, HENRY WALL, Rector of St. Paul's.

WM. H. COULBOURN, of Salisbury, killed two hogs which weighed 1152 pounds, and Gillis Russels of the same place three that weighed 108 pounds.
