SATURDAY MORNING.....APRIL 12, 1884.

FERTILIZERS DISCUSSED.

KENT CO. AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION. }
CLUB ROOM, April 7, 1884. }

Messrs. Editors:—Today being a pleasant day there was a large turnout at the club. The question relative to fertilizers being noted in your last issue, and the time for its application to spring crops near at hand, seemed to draw a full house anxious to hear from one another the results of former applications.

Mr. Hickman, of Pennsylvania, addressed the meeting, and was listened to with interest. He claimed phosphoric acid, potash and ammonia to be the essential parts to make a good standard manure for all crops, and also claimed that phosphate had paid handsomely on both wheat and corn; cited one instance where he had furnished phosphate, taking for compensation the excess of crop, which paid $90 per ton, and other cases always paying well for phosphate, if not in first; in the second crop; recommended using it liberally, not less than 400 lbs. for corn and the same for wheat; advocated flushing it under for corn rather than sowing after plowing and cultivating or harrowing in. Messrs. Hubbard, Kennard and DeFord also addressed the meeting, agreeing with Mr. Hickman as to the value of phosphate as a crop producer. All seemed disposed to impart whatever information would give light upon the subject, with no manifested disposition to advertise any particular brand, all agreeing that a good article would pay. Mr. DeFord recommended drilling rather than applying in the hill for corn. Others who spoke advocated using a good phosphate for corn—all claiming that it paid as well on corn as on wheat—seeming to favor drilling or sowing broadcast; some recommending a light application in the hill, also spreading it well in the hill. The assertion was made that with the liberal use of fertilizers upon land lime was almost useless, claiming that it would not pay four cents on the dollar. Some disagreeing claimed that it had given good results, increasing the crops from twelve to twenty-five bushels of corn on second application, tilled thirdly in corn, wheat and grass; others claiming that there was a very perceptible difference in the yield of wheat, producing more perfect grain, brighter and an increased quantity where lime had been used.

The first report of the executive committee was read, but owing to limited time was postponed for consideration until April 14. Regular question for April 14: "Which will be the most beneficial to agriculturists a protective tariff, or a tariff with revenue for its object?" X.

THE TARIFF ON WOOL.

Mr. Converse's Bill to Restore the Wool Tariff of 1867.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun wrote on Monday:

The battle on Mr. Converse's bill to restore the wool tariff of 1867 in the House this afternoon was sharp, strong, but short. There was but thirty minutes allowed for debate. It was to all intents and purposes an Ohio fight. Mr. Morrison in opposing the bill said the tariff now on wool was placed there by a republican tariff commission and a republican Congress. Mr. Converse, of Ohio, advocated the bill. He was followed by Mr. McKinley and Mr. Wilkins, of the same State. Mr. Hurd, of Ohio, in one of those sharp but eloquently persuasive speeches for which he is famous, upset the arguments made for the bill and turned the vote against it. He contended that if it was proposed to pay a bounty to the wool-grower, it should be taken out of the overflowing treasury, and not out of the suffering poor, which would be the effect of increasing the tariff. The vote for the passage of the bill was 118, and there was opposed to it 127, not even a majority being for it, though it required two-thirds to pass the bill under the suspension of the rules, which was tried. All the Ohio members except Mr. Hurd voted for the bill, democrats as well as republicans. Messrs. Covington, Hoblitzell and Talbott voted against the bill, while Messrs. Findlay and Holton voted for it. Mr. McComas was absent. The Louisiana and Virginia delegations mostly stood on the fence and declined to vote. The entire Texas delegation, although they have seven million sheep in that State, voted against the bill, on the ground that wool is now protected enough, and that it would be better for wool-growers if all the duty on wool was removed. The Pennsylvania delegation, on the principle that all protectionists shall stand together, voted with Mr. Converse, while the Massachusetts delegation, in the interests of the manufacturing classes, and the New York delegation voted against the bill. The Connecticut delegation also voted against it. What weakened the bill very much was the fact that several wool-growing States did not want it, notably the case of Texas. Mr. Tom Ochiltree, of Texas, was absent. During the talk on the matter Mr. Morrison gave notice that he would call up the tariff bill on Tuesday next, one week from tomorrow. It was noticeable that quite a number of the members purposely failed to hear the clerk's voice when their names were called.

A NEW YORK LADY MARRIES A PRINCE.—The marriage of Miss Ely-Goddard to Prince Poniatowski took place in Paris at the American church in the Rue Bayard last Saturday and at the St. Pierre Church afterward. On Friday the civil marriage took place at the mairie of Passy. Minister Morton and Col. Ritchie were the witnesses for the bride and Count Fezensac and Count Walewski for the bridegroom. There was a large attendance of spectators, including many of the best French families.

[Miss Ely-Goddard is the daughter of the late A. F. Goddard, of New York, who made a fortune some years ago from a copper mine in Vermont. They live in Forty-second street, where Miss Goddard made her debut five years ago.]

A SAVAGE ATTACK ON BLAINE.—The New York Evening Post of Monday devoted more than a column to a savage personal attack upon Mr. Blaine, and practically gives notice that if he is nominated it will bolt the ticket and support the democratic candidate. It divides its indictment of him into six parts. Two of the counts charge him with prostituting the speakership to forward Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad schemes; the third with suspicious Northern Pacific Railroad transactions; the fourth with breaking his word regarding the Mulligan letters; the fifth with sensational, unsound and unsafe administration of the office of Secretary of State, and the sixth with packing the convention and organizing literary bureaus.

INSTEAD of securing an almost solid delegation from New York to the Chicago convention, as a few weeks ago predicted, the indications now are that President Arthur will not have more than one-half of the delegates from that great State. The New York Times has reopened batteries against President Arthur as the "rarest machine politician," and declares that, "say nothing of the fact "that he was in sympathy with those who harassed the brief presidential career of Gen. Garfield," it is "out of the question to suppose he can obtain the electoral vote of New York."

SENATOR-ELECT PAYNE, of Ohio, positively refused to be interviewed at Cleveland Sunday last on the question of the presidential nomination. His attention being called to the utterances attributed to Col. Payne, his son, Mr. Payne said: "My son and I are two different persons, and I do not hold myself responsible for his actions." It will be recollected that Col. Payne is recently declaring that his father was not a candidate for the democratic nomination for President, and would not accept if nominated.

THE Princess Anne Marylander says: The democratic party of Wicomico county is about decided to send a delegation to the next congressional convention in favor of Ex-Senator J. Augustus Parsons. There was a diversity of opinion, expressed during court, as to whether Wicomico will ask that Thomas F. J. Rider, Thomas Humphreys or Charles F. Holland shall succeed Judge Wilson when he leaves the Bench to take his seat in the United State Senate.

MRS. WASHINGTON'S SWORD.—Upon motion of Senator Groome the Senate has adopted a resolution directing the committee on the library to inquire into the expediency of purchasing from Mrs. Lewis family, of Baltimore, for the United States, the sword worn by Gen. Washington on the occasion of his resigning his commission to Congress at Annapolis, Md., Dec. 23, 1783.

TRIAL IN THE WILLIAMS CASE.—An appeal was entered on Tuesday in the Circuit Court of Baltimore by S. Teackle Wallis and Orville Horwitz, counsel for George Hawkins Williams, in the case of Ernault H. Williams vs. George Hawkins Williams, in which a deed of trust by Williams to his father was set aside by Judge Bond.

Rev. Dr. John C. Backus, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Park avenue and Madison street, Baltimore, died at 11.40 o'clock on Tuesday night, in the 78th year of his age.

MILL BURNED.—The steam saw mill of George T. Faithful, at Ashland Station, on the St. Mary's railroad, together with the mill and tools, &c., was burned to the ground on Wednesday morning last. Loss about $600; no insurance.

It is said that 6,000 sheep were killed in Kent county by worthless dogs during the year 1883.

Messrs. Buckler, Joseph E. Elliott and Walter Wilmer have been elected commissioners of Centreville for the ensuing year.

A TALK WITH MR. FLOWER.—Ex-Congressman Roswell P. Flower, of New York, who is credited with aspiring to the democratic presidential nomination, has been talking to an interviewer on the tariff question. He says there is "entirely too much dogma and doctrine about congressional management of the tariff." He regards the horizontal theory as clearly impossible, "because if strictly followed it would work injustice. The present protective tariff is a monstrosity, of which the country ought to be ashamed, because it has long since been outgrown. Free trade for the present is an equal monstrosity, because we are not ready for it. Now, if a merchant has a certain thing to do, he takes the quickest and most feasible way. Nine-tenths of the people today want this surplus and taxation reduced. Take first the duties that are levied without rhyme or reason, that furnish no protection, create a needless revenue and only hamper domestic enterprise—and lop them off entirely. That done, begin to scale on the others, not by any inflexible horizontal rule, which bars out the very idea of sensible business discriminations, but strictly on a system that will bring the greatest relief to the greatest number without inflicting needless damage on invested capital. That's not theory, it's practice—of the most practical kind. Protection and free trade are theories, but there can't be any unbending theory about revenue reform."

WHAT SIX LITTLE GIRLS DID.—Six little girls in the neighborhood of Madison avenue and Lanvale street, Baltimore, recently put their six little heads together and determined to have a fair, the proceeds to be given to the poor. They made up a lot of little fancy articles themselves, which, with presents from parents and others, filled two tables very fully and very prettily, invited their friends to attend, and last Saturday between 10 A. M. and 2 P. M. they cleared forty-eight dollars and forty-two cents, which they handed over to Marshal of Police John T. Gray. —Baltimore Sun.

THE Pen-Mar Hotel, on the Western Maryland Railroad, is to have an addition built to it containing 76 rooms. The estimated cost of the improvement is about $4,000.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore papers of Thursday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry $1 14@1 17; Fultz $1 13@1 15 for fair to good. CORN—White, prime 58@62; yellow, 59@60. OATS, Maryland, 42.
