Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING..... April 19, 1884.

A Striking Episode.—One of the most striking episodes of the Sharon-Hill divorce case, with which the people of San Francisco are now being regaled, was the production, a few days since, of a charm which had been used by the lady in the case to win the love of the defendant. Miss Hill claims to have been secretly married to Senator Sharon, of Nevada. As a matter of fact, her relations with the gentleman were intimate, and the defense endeavor to prove that the plaintiff, instead of being his wedded wife, was seeking to entrap him by various devices, among which was sorcery. There was produced in court a dark silk stocking, a shirt-collar and a portion of a shirt, all of which were unmistakably taken from a man's wearing apparel. These were exhumed from under the coffin of a newly-buried and well-known citizen of San Francisco in the presence of nine witnesses. The grave-digger under whose eyes these curious articles were buried says that Miss Hill put them there, with his consent, in order that she might "win a rich man's love."

So now we hear that Secor Robeson has come out for Blaine, and that he hopes to lead a Blaine delegation from New Jersey. We hear also that the almost equally notorious Dick Harrington having failed to buy or bully President Arthur into appointing George P. Fisher as United States District Judge for Delaware, has transferred his compromising affections to Blaine, and hopes to lead a small Blaine delegation from Delaware. If these old cronies of Grant desired to wreak vengeance upon Mr. Blaine for giving the death blow to Grantism in 1880, they could take no more effective course. Is the Maine statesman to be cursed in his third canvass for the Republican nomination by the damaging support of Secor Robeson and Dick Harrington? Will Belknap and Babcock and Creswell and Williams and Bill Kemble and Honest John Patterson, and a great cloud of other ghosts of Grantism, rise from the graveyard of the third term and declare themselves for James G. Blaine? —N. Y. Sun.

This is a story of George D. Prentice which I never saw in print, and which is a better illustration of his ready wit than anything else he said, I think. The old Journal office used to be the stamping ground of many Southern men, more or less known, who liked to hear the veteran journalist tell a story or warm up a presumptuous young man for lunch. Among those who frequented the Journal office was Will S. Hays, the song writer. Coming into Mr. Prentice's office one day in that free and easy way of his, he sat down in one chair, with his feet on another, and jamming his hat on the back of his head, said, without consulting Mr. Prentice's leisure: "Seen my last song, George?" Mr. Prentice ceased writing, sighed heavily, and, looking up sadly and reproachfully at the young man, said: "I hope so, Billy."—Bill Nye, in Detroit Free Press.

Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, while in Chicago, a few days ago, submitted to an interview on the tariff question. He expressed the opinion that the democratic national convention will adopt substantially the platform of St. Louis and Cincinnati, "with some explanations to prevent misconstruction." He thinks the campaign should be fought on the tariff issue, and whilst the Morrison bill is not just such a bill as he would frame, it is right in its aim to reduce the revenue. He believes it will be passed substantially in its present form. Mr. McDonald says the internal revenue system should be continued until all the extraordinary expenses growing out of the war are canceled.

From the edition of Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s American Newspaper Directory, now in press, it appears that the newspapers and periodicals of all kinds at present issued in the United States and Canada reach a grand total of 13,402. This is a net gain of precisely 1,600 during the last twelve months, and exhibits an increase of 5,618 over the total number published just ten years since. The increase in 1874 over the total for 1873 was 493. During the past year the dailies have increased from 1,138 to 1,254; the weeklies from 9,062 to 10,028 and the monthlies from 1,081 to 1,499. The greatest increase is in the Western States.

The Electric Light and Gas.—When the electric light was introduced the city of Boston was paying $2 per 1,000 feet for gas, and private consumers were paying $2.86. Now the city pays $1.60, and private consumers $1.80. Boston has been a liberal patron of the electric light. Its streets have probably been lighted more brilliantly, for the past two or three years, than those of any other large city. And the police department of Boston has borne testimony to the value of this extra lighting as tending to prevent crime.

The Chester, Pa., Daily Herald has the following: "P. T. Barnum says he expects to make a million dollars this coming season." A committee of merchants called upon him and asked him to reduce his business experience to writing for the benefit of posterity. Mr. Barnum agreed to do so and it will be printed in book form. "One thing," however he said he would tell them. "You do not, any of you, advertise enough. You ought to invest in printer's ink every day. You are asleep and want your business to run itself."

An axious swain who had but lately come to Caroline, applied for a marriage license the other day. It was jocularly suggested to him that he should postpone the wedding ceremony a while, as he would be in pocket about four dollars. He readily agreed, and said he would be in again, as he could very well afford to wait a week or so. His disappointment was all the greater when he reappeared to find that he hadn't the necessary funds with him to purchase the license at the old rate.—Denton Journal.

A Montana belle, says the Bismarck Tribune, being asked by a Bismarck man if they possessed any culture out her way, replied: "Culture! You bet your variegated socks we do! We can sling more culture to the square foot in Helena than they kin in any camp in America. Culture! O, loosen my corsets till I smile!"

A boy found a woman's switch in the opera house and returned it to her. "Thank you, my little man," said the lady; "you are an honest boy." "Oh! no, I'm not so very honest; but I know what I am." "What are you, then?" "A hair restorer."

Which, while acting as a stimulant of the kidneys, neither excites nor irritates them, was long since supplied by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.
