SATURDAY MORNING..... JULY 19, 1884.

AN UNGRATEFUL ORPHAN.—A singular case has lately been before the Orphans' Court in Philadelphia. A lady of that city adopted a child in his infancy. Under her care he grew to manhood, and on her deathbed she asked her sisters to give him five or ten thousand dollars from her estate, provided they were satisfied that he was a "good boy." The sisters took the preliminary steps toward carrying out this verbal request, but before this intention had been put into complete execution they discovered that the young man whom they had taken into their household and cherished from infancy as if he had been of their own flesh and blood, instead of being, as they believed, good and deserving, was, had been and continued to be unprincipled, false, dissipated, treacherous and dishonest. A robbery was committed at their house under circumstances pointing with almost certainty to him as the perpetrator of it, and almost immediately afterward, while they were in a state of great agitation and distress, he left them under pretext of visiting a friend in New York. All these facts, with other information confirmatory of his evil conduct, were laid before the Orphans' Court. In annulling the verbal bequest, Judge Penrose, after reciting the circumstances, declared that "if clean hands are essential to the suitor in equity, the court ought not to go out of the way to aid one whose foulness covered him from head to foot." Exceptions were taken to the decision of Judge Penrose, and the case was argued before the court in banc. On Saturday last President Judge Hanna delivered the opinion of the majority of the court, reversing Judge Penrose's decision. In his opinion President Hanna held that the court could not determine the existence of the parole trust in the proceeding before it, nor had the court any jurisdiction in the matter. The case now goes to a higher court.

THE OYSTER'S ENEMIES.—The oyster, although protected by a very hard shell that can be closed almost hermetically, is on the whole rather poorly defended, for there he lies right out on the ocean bottom, exposed to everything that may come along, having no power to move away and hide in some crevice, but destined to remain motionless while attacked. Two animals do the most of the ravages—one the common starfish, the other a univalve shell fish with a spire, called by oystermen the "drill." A starfish approaches its victim, slowly crawls upon it and thumbends its five arms around the shell. The mouth of the starfish is very small. So what does it do when its arms are encircled around a large oyster but begin to project its stomach out of its mouth and surround the oyster with the stomach entirely outside of the body. Then the oyster gradually opens its shell leaving the starfish to do as it pleases. After some time the starfish moves off, and we see that the soft part of the oyster is entirely gone—nothing left but the two wide open shells. When the stomach is first protruded a liquid is secreted which seems to have the power of either killing or weakening the oyster. Just as soon as the shells are open digestion is begun by the starfish, and after a time the oyster is entirely digested and absorbed. Before long another is attacked in the same way and in the same manner is destroyed, and so it goes on day after day, thousands operating in the same silent, mysterious manner.—Anne Arundel Advertiser.

THE LIFE OF TREES.—How vast are the periods of life allotted to the longeval trees may be judged, says Mr. L. H. Grindon, from the following lists of ages known to have been reached by patriarchs of the respective kinds: Elm, 300 years; ivy 335 years; maple, 513 years; larch, 576 years; orange, 630 years; cypress, 800 years; olive, 800 years; walnut, 900 years; Oriental plane, 1,000 years; lime, 1,100 years; spruce, 1,200 years; oak, 1,500 years; cedar, 2,000 years; yew, 3,200 years.

THE Cecil News of Wednesday says that telephone communication between the different sections of that county is being rapidly pushed forward. The wires are in good working order to Chesapeake City. Connection will be made with North East today. The poles for the Cecilton connection are up to beyond Cayott's Corner. The News has had a telephone put in its office at Elkton.

"Whitelock's Vegetator"

AMMONIATED SUPER PHOSPHATE
W. WHITELOCK & CO'S MARK
TRADE VEGETATOR BALTIMORE 1867
THE CROP PRODUCER

FOR WHEAT AND GRASS.

Farmers, if you wish to obtain large yields of the above crops and get the worth of your money, use the best Fertilizer in the market—

"WHITELOCK'S VEGETATOR."
Price, $36.00 per Ton of 2,000 pounds. New Bags, 167 Pounds Each.

If you desire a lower-price manure, which is the cheapest and best for the money, purchase our

"SUNNYSIDE" PURE BONE AND DISSOLVED PHOSPHATE
Price $30.00 per Ton of 2,000 Pounds. New Bags, 167 Pounds Each.

To those desiring a Dissolved Bone Phosphate, without Ammonia, the action of which is superior to most articles sold as Acid Phosphate or South Carolina Bone, we offer our

"SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE & POTASH FERTILIZER."
Price $20.00 per Ton of 2,000 Pounds. New Bags, 167 Pounds Each.

The above brands are sold and delivered, 12 bags to the ton, and in fine and dry condition for drilling. EXTRA MOISTURE IN A FERTILIZER ADDS TO THE COST.

You should count the cost of the Fertilizer by the cost per acre. As the soil requires more of a lower grade Fertilizer to the acre than one of a higher grade, the consequence is that the extra quantity required, the extra labor in applying it, and the poor results obtained, make the lower grade of goods more costly.

With perfect confidence we refer buyers to all who have applied our Fertilizers.

We have over ONE THOUSAND of these running today, and as far as our personal knowledge extends we do not know of twelve sets of tyres cut in the whole of them. This is evidence enough of what kind of lumber we use in making them.

We could give you testimonials enough to fill one side of the KENT NEWS to establish this fact if it were necessary, but the public already know of the standing of these goods.

We have justly earned the high reputation we hold as manufacturers by our manner of doing business—

We are respectfully,
