SATURDAY MORNING.....AUGUST 2, 1884.

CLEVELAND NOTIFIED.

His Reply to the Address of Chairman Vilas.

The committee appointed to notify Gov. Cleveland of his nomination for the presidency met at Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday, and performed that duty. The ceremony took place in the gubernatorial mansion. Besides the committee, prominent democrats from all sections of the country were present, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

Col. W. F. Vilas, of Wisconsin, chairman of the late democratic national convention and chairman of the notification committee, addressed the Governor, and, after formally notifying him of his nomination for the presidency, said:

"This choice carries with it profound personal respect and admiration, but it has been in no manner the fruit of these sentiments. The national democracy seek a President not in compliment for what the man is, or reward for what he has done, but in a just expectation of what he will accomplish as the true servant of a free people fit for their lofty trust, always of momentous consequence; they conceive the public exigency to be now of transcendant importance; that a laborious reform in administration as well as legislation is imperatively necessary to the prosperity and honor of the republic, and a competent Chief Magistrate must be of unusual temper and power.

"They have observed with attention your execution of the public trusts you have held, especially of that with which you are now so honorably invested. They place their reliance for the usefulness of the services they expect to exact for the benefit of the nation upon the evidence derived from the services you have performed for the State of New York.

"Invoking the benediction of the Divine Creator of men, we challenge from the sovereignty of the nation His words in commendation and ratification of our choice, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things.'"

Gov. Cleveland's Reply.

Gov. Cleveland, who had stood meanwhile as an intent listener, replied as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee: Your formal announcement does not, of course, convey to me the first information of the result of the convention lately held by the democracy of the nation, and yet when as I listen to your message I see about me representatives from all parts of the land of the great party which, claiming to be the party of the people, asks them to entrust to it the administration of their government, and when I consider under the influence of the stern reality which the present surroundings create that I have been chosen to represent the plans, purposes and [illegible] of the democratic party, I am profoundly impressed by the solemnity of the occasion and by the responsibility of my position.

"Though I gratefully appreciate it, I do not at this moment congratulate myself upon the distinguished honor which has been conferred upon me, because my mind is full of an anxious desire to perform well the part which has been assigned to me. Nor do I at this moment forget that the rights and interests of more than fifty millions of my fellow-citizens are involved in our efforts to gain democratic supremacy. This reflection presents to my mind the consideration which more than all others gives to the action of my party in convention assembled its most sober and serious aspect. The party and its representatives which ask to be entrusted at the hands of the people with the keeping of all that concerns their welfare and their safety should only ask it with the full appreciation of the sacredness of the trust and with a firm resolve to administer it faithfully and well.

"I am a democrat because I believe that this truth lies at the foundation of true democracy. I have kept the faith because I believe, if rightly and fairly administered and applied, democratic doctrines and measures will insure the happiness, contentment and prosperity of the people. If in the contest upon which we now enter we steadfastly hold to the underlying principles of our party creed, and at all times keep in view the people's good, we shall be strong, because we are true to ourselves and because the plain and independent voters of the land will seek by their suffrages to compass their release from party tyranny where there should be submission to the popular will, and their protection from party corruption where there should be devotion to the people's interests.

"These thoughts lend a consecration to our cause, and we go forth not merely to gain a partisan advantage, but pledged to give to those who trust us the utmost benefits and honest administration of national affairs. No higher purpose or motive can stimulate us to supreme effort or urge us to continuous and earnest labor and effective party organization. Let us not fail in this, and we may confidently hope to reap the full reward of patriotic services well performed. I have thus called to mind some simple truths, and trite though they are, it seems to me we do well to dwell upon them at this time. I shall soon, I hope, signify in the usual formal manner my acceptance of the nomination which has been tendered to me. In the mean time I gladly greet you all as co-workers in a noble cause."

The secretary of the committee then read the committee's formal address of notification, which was engrossed on parchment, was elegantly bound in silk, was signed by the members from all the States as witnesses, and was accompanied by an engrossed copy of the platform.

Rousing mass meetings were held at night and in spite of the drizzling rain, both Music Hall and the Leland Opera House were filled to overflowing. Addresses were made by Col. Vilas, ex-Speaker Samuel J. Rannall, ex-Gov. T. M. Waller, of Connecticut, Hon. A. V. Stevenson, of Illinois, Hon. Patrick A. Collins, of Boston; Hon. Joseph Pulitzer and Hon. John R. Fellows, New York. Mr. Randall, who is authority on the subject, spoke as follows in regard to the tariff:

I assert here tonight that the utterances of the democratic platform in reference to the tariff are the most intelligent and business-like declarations that have ever emanated from a body of the American people.

The republicans concede that the present tariff needs reforms, and the democratic party also accept that fact as conclusive, and go further, and indicate the manner in which the details of the tariff shall be fixed, so that the cost of the foreign article, which comes to the United States, in competition when here with the American products, shall have that duty levied against it which will fill up the gap between the cost of the foreign article in a foreign country to make it the equal of the American manufactured article, so that the American laborer may not have his wages reduced, but he shall have a part, if not a moiety, of the profits of production.

Talk to me about the republican party being the friend of the laboring men. My experience for twenty-two years in the House of Representatives of the United States teaches me that the declaration has no foundation in fact.

Mr. Hendricks Notified.

From Albany the committee on notification went to Saratoga on Wednesday, where Hon. Thos. A. Hendricks had been sojourning for some days, and informed him of his nomination for the second place on the presidential ticket. Chairman Vilas made the address to Mr. Hendricks, and in doing so found occasion to add that his having been once "wrongfully denied" possession of the office for which he is now again named "by the success of machinations of fraud and conspiracy," had caused it to be the "especial desire of the democracy" to see him invested with it. Mr. Hendricks replied briefly, adverting to the great responsibility of the vice-presidential office in the contingency—not unlikely to occur—that its incumbent is called upon as president of the Senate in case of a tie to give the casting vote. Referring to his exclusion from the office to which he was elected in 1876 Mr. Hendricks declared that such exclusion was in effect a denial to the people of the right of free government, and if their right to select their own rulers may be thus abridged their other rights cannot long continue to be of any practical value to them.

THE PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN.—Mr. William Daniel arrived in Baltimore Tuesday afternoon, on his return from the Pittsburg convention. "I shall accept the nomination of the prohibition party for Vice-President," Mr. Daniel said, "but I shall not write my letter of acceptance until I have seen St. John and talked the matter over. We have determined upon an active campaign and will make a fight in every State and Territory in the Union. Our largest State vote will probably be polled in Illinois. We are also very strong in Kansas, and our ticket will make a good showing there. In Maryland every inch of ground will be contested. I think the country will be astonished by the size of the prohibition vote. A large vote may not elect our ticket, but it will benefit our cause, for it will show the democratic and republican parties they must recognize us in future. I do not know whether Blaine or Cleveland will be the greatest sufferer by the votes we will receive, but it is generally thought that the defection will be principally from the republican ranks. It matters little with us how politicians may act. We have put the cause of morality above party interests."

BREVITIES FROM FAIRLEE.

The Early and the Latter Rain—Work on Salem Church—Other Improvements—The Outlook for Peaches—Crops—Sickness.

Pastures were growing short and gardens parching up when the blessed rain came to invigorate animal and vegetable life. One more "good loblolly rain" in August, as Uncle Joe was wont to say, will make the corn crop.

The renovation of Salem church is progressing satisfactorily, the plastering and fresco work being done. The painters will now begin to flourish their brushes and give it a new coat inside and outside. Meanwhile service is regularly conducted in the Grange Hall. For some reason however the attendance is extremely meagre, perhaps because the hall is not a consecrated building.

Mr. J. A. Greenwood has added to the altitude of his store-room, raising it to correspond with his dwelling. A marked improvement. Wing and Kline carpenters. Joshua Thompson plastering and painting. Capt. Rogers has also given the south side of his store and kitchen a new tin roof. Fairlee is neither moribund nor dormant, but shoemakers keep their distance, and butchers' visits are something like angels', at least made with little regard to regularity.

The peach crop in this locality is not heavy, Crawfords and yellow fruit being a failure utterly, except Smock. Prices have been remunerative for good fruit. Waterloo's bringing $1.75.

Crabs are said to be abundant; as proof of it some generous and prodigal soul left a considerable pile on the roadside in this village to diffuse their horrid odor and spread disease among us.

Adrian, the second son of Mr. J. A. Skirven, has been quite ill for several days, but is improving under the care of Drs. Cooper.

SIMON SHARP.

LETTER FROM LYNCH'S.

Messrs. Editors:—Will you indulge a subscriber to your excellent paper with a few items from this place?

In spite of the intense heat of last week our village and neighborhood had a variety of pleasant things to inspire them. First, the band from your town favored us with their presence and filled the air with their melodies. Few ears, within a mile around, but listened with delight to the sweet music of that evening. We should like to hear their performance often.

Next, the Sunday school excursion was a popular affair. For days together it was the main topic of interest and preparation, until Thursday morning saw a large and animated party, which filled several large wagons, drive off with cheers to the scene of the day's amusement—Tolchester Beach. All returned in safety before 10 P. M., glad to say their prayers and go to bed.

There are three Sunday schools in successful operation in our community, at Lynch's, Union and I. U. churches, where services are held every Sunday at 3 P. M. It speaks well for our churchgoers that these services have been so well sustained during all the hot weath.r. A letter published in one of the daily papers and hailing from Boston reflects sadly on the sparse attendance at some of the large churches in that city. 28?8, on a Sunday afternoon in summer he noted not over forty persons present in one of the largest of them. In neither of the above named churches would you find so few persons in attendance on an ordinary occasion.

I. U. is now served by Rev. J. Martin, who is endeavoring to gather his scattered and neglected flock and form them to more regular and zealous attendance on the services. The ladies of this congregation are preparing to hold a church festival to help their feeble finances. They will be ready to announce their plans in a few days. The entertainment will be held at Lynch's, in the new building of Mr. J. H. Hosinger, who has kindly put it at their disposal for this purpose. As the house is a double one the space will be ample for a large company, and it is presumed the ladies will do their best to attract and please the visitors who may attend on the occasion. The object is a worthy one, and in harmony with the views of the community generally, who have on former occasions contributed liberally to sustain similar efforts. M.

LETTER FROM BETTERTON.

Messrs. Editors:—News is generally very scarce in this neighborhood, so of course there is but little to write about; nevertheless we let you hear from us once in a while.

The base-ball club of this place was glad to hear (through the columns of the good old News) that the club of your town was so well pleased with their visit here last Saturday week. Our boys speak very highly of the Chestertown boys as being a very quiet and peaceful club to play with.

Mr. H. L. Crew, near this place, raised 405 bushels of wheat on nine acres of fallow, which averaged 62½ pounds to the bushel. He used Zell's guanophate. The Transcript reported 400 bushels on ten acres, which was a mistake.

Miss Amelia Mann and Mrs. Georgeanna Irving, of Baltimore, are visiting friends here. Mr. W. Reese Young and family, of St. Michaels, Talbot county, are visiting his father, Mr. John Young, of this place.

We have had quite a number of sports down from the city this summer, but perch have not been biting very lively, but are beginning to be more plentiful.

The Ericsson Steamboat Company put a boat on the Sassafras river route the first of this week and that helps to make it a little livelier here.

We regret to learn, Messrs. Editors, that the lady who has served us so faithfully as teacher of our public school for the last six or eight years declines to come back again. She has been an untiring worker in the Betterton Methodist Episcopal Church and Sunday School, and will be very much missed by all. We hope, however, that our future teacher may be as faithful and attentive as she was.

The M. E. Church of this place has been newly painted inside and out, which gives it a neat appearance. The old door, which was a single one, has been torn out, and double doors put in its place, which is quite an improvement also.

Mr. C. H. Sullivan has moved into Mr. J. R. Mann's house, formerly occupied by Mr. Henry Krusen. TREBOR.

TEMPERANCE.—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Kent county, held their regular meeting on July 9, 1884, when it was decided to change the day of meeting to the first Tuesday of each month at 10 o'clock A. M. A motion was also adopted to hold quarterly meetings in the several districts to further promote the cause of temperance. Will not the members of this organization come out next Tuesday and help make it a success. REC. SECRETARY.

SCRAPING FOR SOFT CRABS.

A Report on the Subject—Orders from Capt. Waddell, of the Fishery Force.

Capt. Waddell, commanding the State fishery force, received a letter on Monday from Deputy Commander Jacob W. Webster, of the fifth district, embracing the waters of Tangier sound, in which he writes:

"My attention was called to an article in the Baltimore Sun about deep water scraping for soft crabs. I made it my duty to examine the scrapers and see if they were catching oysters. Upon examination I found an instrument similar in shape to a scrape used in days gone by to catch oysters, but which are but little used in late years, but very light, the bag entirely of iron, similar to that used in crab-nets. After examination I am fully convinced that they are used strictly for catching crabs, as I saw no oysters in their boats; besides, they are instruments so light that but very few oysters could possibly be caught with them. Only a few could be taken that may lie loosely upon the bottom. Besides, the boats used are small ones, unlike the canoes and brogans and bugeyes used for catching oysters. There are probably about 200 persons engaged in the crabbing business at Crisfield, and they do well at the business. I made inquiry while at Crisfield of some of its most prominent citizens concerning the business, and they informed me that it paid as high as $35 a week; that after the oyster season many were dependent upon the crabbing business. They also stated they had no intention of violating the oyster law, and, in their opinion, were not doing it."

Capt. Waddell is of opinion that crabbing with scoops or dredges is injurious to the oyster beds. In reply to Deputy Commander Webster he states "that parties detected in having in their boats or vessels a scoop, scrape, drag or dredge, or similar instrument, are violators of section 3 and 40 of the general oyster laws," and directs him to proceed to make arrests under it, and also to inform other deputy commanders of the order. The deputy commander is referred to the Laws of 1880, chapter 57, providing for the protection of fish in Somerset county in reference to parties fishing for alewives.

THE NAVY DEPARTMENT FRAUDS.—The Washington correspondent of the Balto. Sun writes:

Mr. Hendricks, if he is so disposed, can readily find material for another speech on the frauds in the Navy Department. The President and every member of the cabinet is now out of town. The Secretary of the Navy has been away for some time, and it is understood that the investigation into the frauds which he instituted with such a flourish of trumpets has practically been suspended. This does not surprise the old birds, for they all knew that Mr. Chandler had no serious intention of voluntarily unearthing in the midst of the presidential campaign a condition of affairs at which the whole country would stand aghast. No man ever spoke truer words than Mr. Hendricks when he said the bottom of the frauds and rascalities which have been going on in the departments for twenty years would never be reached until there is a change of administration.

An Interesting Letter from the only Survivor of Lincoln's Cabinet.

James Speed, of Kentucky, who was Lincoln's Attorney General, is the only surviving member of that Cabinet. He was a Republican at a time and in a section when it cost much to be a Republican. He is one of the most esteemed men in his city and State, ranks at the head of the Kentucky bar, and, although not in active politics for some years, his influence is great with his party in the Southwest. Prior to the meeting of the National Democratic Convention the following letter from Mr. Speed received by a friend of his in the city of New York:

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 19, 1884.

MY DEAR SIR—I received your esteemed letter by due course of mail. The action of the Chicago convention has greatly distressed me. I am not at all puzzled as to voting, but grieved to be under the necessity of failing to vote for the nominee of the Republican party. No party in any country in the world has ever done so much for the good of mankind as the Republican party in this country. I have fondly hoped the good it has done in the past was an earnest of its future.

It is shocking to think such a party could put forth such a platform. No more of that.

But I cannot vote for Blaine, and could not vote for him on any platform. The foreign relations of this country are pretty much in the hands of the President. During the short time Mr. Blaine acted as Secretary of State he exhibited such a view of international law as makes me believe that should he be elected President, if he would not plunge us into needless foreign difficulties he would bring our diplomacy into disrepute and make us the laughing stock of the civilized world.

No personal magnetism or brilliant sentences can compensate for such a blunder. To vote for him would be like voting against the peace and honor of my country. I cannot do that even at the bidding of the Republican party.

Then, his letter about the surplus revenue is monstrous. It shows him to be as unsafe in his views of the framework of our government as he is in regard to international law. It is charitable to say the letter is the child of ignorance, for if not it is the child of demagogy.

Now, what can I do? May I fold my arms and let the world wag. Must I vote the Democratic ticket? Must I join a third party?

As for a third party it is too late to organize one for putting out an independent ticket. The purpose of a third party organized now would be to defeat Blaine. It would of necessity perish whether Blaine is elected or defeated, and its members be like loose cogs in a machine, able to do no good, but capable of doing great evil.

Should the Democrats give the country a statesman and a gentleman as their candidate I think we had better vote for him. I voted with the Democrats to kill off the folly and wickedness of the Know Nothings, and have never regretted it.

So you see, my dear sir, I cannot say what I may do, but am positive as to what I will not do. I am most truly your friend,

JAMES SPEED.

Political Clap-Trap.

Havre de Grace, (Md.,) Republican.

One section of the Republican platform declares:

"The public lands are a heritage of the people of the United States, and should be reserved as far as possible, for small holdings by actual settlers. We are opposed to the acquisition of large tracts of these lands by corporation or individuals, especially where such holdings are in the hands of non-resident aliens, and will endeavor to obtain such legislation as will tend to correct this evil."

For the past twenty years the Republican party has been squandering the public lands, giving them away to great corporations by millions of acres, rendering it easy for capitalists and foreign residents to acquire for a mere song, and hold thousands of acres of our public domain, thereby practically nullifying our homestead grants to actual settlers. And now, after public sentiment has been awakened to this shameful squandering of the people's patrimony, the very party guilty of the wrong, on the eve of the Presidential election, cries out for reform. But there is no danger that any of these subsidized railroads will forfeit any of their lands, whether they comply with their charters or not, so long as the Sabins, Windoms, Tellers, Blaines and other conspicuous politicians hold large tracts of these lands and stock in these subsidized roads; and all this platform talk is the veriest sham and political clap-trap.

THE STRIKE IN NEW YORK.—The strike in New York for nine hours has spread to all the building trades this week, and either the nine-hour rule will be established or a large number of men will be thrown out of work. One result of the pending disagreement in the building trade, it is believed, will be the insertion of a provision in all future contracts that the builder or contractor will not be limited to time in the execution of his engagements in the event of workingmen's strikes. There is such a provision in not a few of the contracts now in force, and in these cases employers say they feel as if they could stand the strike for nine hours as long as the men can. Where there is no such precautionary clause, of course the situation is reversed, and the contractor must choose between making the concession to the strikers and the penalties which usually attach to the non-fulfillment of a written contract at a specified time. In order to help the bricklayers and laborers to gain their point, the plasterers on jobs where the employers refuse to yield, as well as a number of framers, have quit work. The strikers are being supported by their organization and donations from other labor orders.

ANOTHER NOTABLE BOLTER.—Hon. F. O. Mason, for a long period judge of Ontario county, N. Y., and law partner of Hon. Charles J. Folger, will vote for Cleveland. Mr. Mason was a delegate to the convention which nominated Gen. Garfield, and is a man of high character and conceded ability. Mr. Mason, in a recent letter, says: "Blaine represents all that is lowest in tone, most reprehensible in methods, and most reckless in spirit in the republican party." Of the democratic nominee he says: "Cleveland has not yet had a long career, but it has been long enough to show that he possesses honesty and courage; and he regards public office as a public trust for the benefit of the people, and not merely of a party; that he is sincere in his desire to reform the civil service and remove it from the partisan control, and is in favor of honest government economically administered."

Double Spring Phætons,
Jump Seats, Rockaways and Dayton Wagons,

We deal exclusively in Carriages, Dearborn and Express Wagons, and knowing our reputation is at stake, and purposing the permanency of our business establishment here, we have something more at heart than temporary pecuniary advantage. We are determined that our work shall give satisfaction in every respect and therefore do not hesitate to give guarantees in every case.

DAYTONS.—Special attention is called to our Dayton Wagons—the very thing for farmers.

Repairs of all kinds—Smithing, Painting and Trimming—at short notice, at lowest prices.

I would be glad to have those in want of Carriages to visit my show rooms, as I know that for beauty of style—for durability of material, and perfect workmanship—these Carriages are unsurpassed. MY PRICES are LOWER than the lowest, as my large stock compels me to offer GREAT BARGAINS.

First Class Work!

GUARANTEED BY THE OLD RELIABLE FIRM:

CHAPMAN & LAMBERT

We are manufacturing some of the best work that was ever built in this State. We sell FIRST-CLASS WORK. If you want a good CARRIAGE it will be to your interest to buy of us as we are now—after Twenty years' experience—better able to suit you in every respect.

Call and see our LIGHT PHÆTONS,
BREWSTER SPR. BUGGIES,
DAYTON and
JUMP-SEAT CARRIAGES.

We do not offer this work in competition with the common shoddy work, but sell it on its merits, and our reputation.

All kinds of REPAIRING done neatly and with dispatch. We give special attention to painting up second-hand jobs. Those wanting a nice job of painting should give us a call.

CHAPMAN & LAMBERT.

Our WAGONS, CARTS,

AND

DEARBORNS,

Have a reputation throughout this Peninsula. We have sold them in New Castle Co., Delaware, and in Cecil county, Md., and as far as Salisbury, Md. We have over ONE THOUSAND of these running today, and as far as our personal knowledge extends we do not know of twelve set of tyres cut in the whole of them. This is evidence enough of what kind of lumber we use in making them.

We could give you testimonials enough to fill one side of the KENT NEWS to establish this fact if it were necessary, but the public already know of the standing of these goods.

We have justly earned the high reputation we hold as manufacturers by our manner of doing business—

We give our own personal supervision to every minutia in building;

We see that all lumber is well seasoned before it is used, and every other part is what it should be.

We do all kinds of

JOB-WORK and REPAIRS

furnish estimates for Bridge work, and repair all kinds of Machinery.

We also sell

Plow Castings and Plows,

such as Wiley's, Concaves, and Minor & Horton's. These Castings are all ground and polished and sold cheap.

We also have on hand and make to order all kinds of HARROWS, such as Twin and Double, and Single A's.

You will find a large lot of Single, Double and Three-horse TREES of the best hickory, well ironed; also, Plow Hames.

You will see by calling at our works that we have too much at stake to do mean or shoddy work.

Thankful for past patronage and hoping for a continuance of the same,

We are respectfully,
CHAPMAN & LAMBERT.

Pure A No. 1 Shell Lime

FOR SALE.

HAVING erected at my farm, Quaker Neck wharf, on Chester river,

WHARF, KILNS, SHEDS,

and everything necessary to burn a FIRST CLASS article of

SHELL LIME

For Agricultural Purposes,

Would say to the farmers of Kent and Queen Anne's counties that I am now prepared to supply them with any quantity they may want, delivered by boat on Chester river, Bay shore or Creeks, at as reasonable a price as it can possibly be handled for.

This Lime is taken direct from the kiln to a house, there slaked and kept under cover until sold.

ALSO, QUICK LIME for BUILDING PURPOSES.

For price and terms, call on or address
