SATURDAY MORNING.....Oct. 11, 1884.

Who Mulligan Is.

James Mulligan has lived in this city for more than thirty years, and always occupied positions of trust and responsibility. In all of them he has shown himself an exemplary citizen, and no man's word stands higher than his. With a stubborn idea of integrity, he is everywhere known as a man whose word is as good as his bond. No one in this city or elsewhere could charge him with an untruth or with bad faith and be believed. Ever since he landed in this country he has occupied the highest confidential positions with business men. For a time he handled the cash of one of the best theatres in Boston. Afterward he was the confidential bookkeeper of the Stanwoods, relatives of the Blaines, and is now and has been for many years the trustee of what is known as the Fisher estate. He has handled millions of money without mistake in his accounts, and still is a trusted expert in financial affairs. In the capacity of court manager of the Fisher estate the letters of Mr. Blaine came into his possession. They were a part of the assets of Warren Fisher when he passed through bankruptcy.—Boston Letter to Philadelphia Times.

AMERICAN OYSTERS.—American oysters are for sale all over England. The price is high, three shillings a dozen. I saw a wholesale oyster-man at the Billingsgate fish-market, London, who told me how they managed them. He waited a few moments, while a dozen bareboted women swore and wrangled about a box of spoiled blosters, and then said: "We ship little oysters from America and plant them in English water. We select the mouth of a river. After staying there——" Here the Billingsgate women swore so loud that the conversation was interrupted. "After staying there a year, as I was saying, we take them up and sell them. See," he said, opening one, "they are a little salter than your oysters, but very good, and——" Here the market women swore so loud that my friend had to stop, and, walking up to the nearest, he said: "Women, I want you to talk louder and swear harder." "What for, ye bloggart?" they asked. "Why, this man here is going back to America to participate in the political campaign and he wants to get familiar with the Billingsgate slang, and——"—Buffalo Express.

A STATISTICIAN, Dr. Farr, we believe it was, recently stated that if one could watch the march of 1,000,000 people through life, the following would be observed: Nearly 150,000 would die the first year, 53,000 the second year, 28,000 the third year, and less than 4,000 in the thirteenth. At the end of forty-five years 500,000 have died. At the end of sixty years 370,000 would be still living; at the end of eighty years, 97,000; at eighty-five, 31,000; and at ninety-five years there would be 223; at the end of 108 years there will be one survivor.

A NEW CURE FOR HOG CHOLERA.—An Easton (Pa.) dispatch says: "The hog cholera is playing havoc with the porkers in this section. Daily large numbers of them die. All remedies thus far have proved useless. One man by rather an original method of treatment managed to save all his sick hogs. He buried them up to their necks in the ground and fed them for two weeks, at the end of which time he dug them up perfectly cured."

CANDIDATE ST. JOHN is so conscientious and consistent in his temperance convictions that, though he possesses a model dairy, he will not allow any of his cows to have a born, and so cultivates the muley breed exclusively. When in the city he always walks instead of taking the street cars, being reluctant to encourage the use of that soul-destroying beverage, the bell-punch.

IT is said that no watch will keep the same time with two people. This is owing to the temperature of the wearer, and it is claimed that even the mere physical difference in gait and movement between different people will affect the time-keeping of a watch, which is probably also affected in some degree by the magnetism of the wearer.

THE other day a man went into a country drug store where a lady ran the soda-water fountain. Two minutes after he gave her the "brandy wink," which she didn't understand, he was rolling around in the middle of the road with the woman's husband, who seemed to be getting the better of it.—Puck.

WHAT is a woman? For a painter, a model; for a doctor, a subject; for a peasant, a housekeeper; for a Parisian, a dowry; for a naturalist, a female; for an Albanian, a beast of burden; for a Roman, a citizeness; a schoolboy, an angel; for an honest man a companion.

HAPPINESS has no abiding place, but often is very near at hand: like the old woman's spectacles. After hunting for them hi and lo she found them at last safe on her nose.—Josh Billings.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have often had to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA." Glover, Vt., Oct. 31, 1882. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

TO THE FARMERS

—OF—

Kent, Queen Anne's and Cecil Counties.

IT is universally acknowledged by the most practical farmers that the

OHIO CHILLED PLOW

—IS THE—

Best Plow in the World

for NEATNESS OF WORK and lightness of draft to the team. As I have ordered a large number of these plows, both two and three-horse, farmers will do well to give me an early call.

We also keep on hand, the old reliable Concave Nos. 9, 10 and 11. Polished Minor & Horton, Wiley Nos. 3 and 4, and Two-Furrowed Plows, Harrows, Twin, Single A, and Double A, Cultivators and Cultivator Teeth unsurpassed by any manufacture. Single, Double, 3 and 4 Horse-Trees and Hames.

As there have been a great many Chilled Plows sold in these counties, and as farmers have been put to a great deal of trouble to get Castings for them, if they will only give the name and number of the plow we will endeavor to keep them on hand at my shops in Galena and Chestertown. I always have on hand Plain and Slip Shares for the Ohio, Oliver, Roland, Advance and Syracuse.

If any of you are in need of anything in my line, please give me a call as I intend to sell low for the cash.

Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

Compound Wine

—OF—

Peruvian Bark.

An efficient and agreeable preparation for the cure of chills. Especially recommended as a tonic during the bilious season. We have prepared this with great care, and believe it will do all that is claimed for it.
