SATURDAY MORNING.....Nov, 1, 1884.

PENAGRAPHS FROM FAIRLEE.

"The Silken Cord"—Fairlee Mill—Food for All—Visitors.

Salem Church was filled nearly to its full capacity on Tuesday evening, 28th ult., by interested spectators to witness the first marriage within its walls since its renovation. The bright light from the chandeliers reflected from the darkly polished pews and furniture, including the neat crimson carpet, presented an agreeable and tasty picture, augmented by the cheerful expression of the expectant congregation. The bridal pair were Mr. George Edward Noland, formerly of this place, and Miss Mary Bramble, one of the accomplished daughters of Mr. Henry Bramble, of Fairlee farm. Rev. E. C. Macnichol at the altar; Messrs. Diggs, of Baltimore, and T. Crew, of Lankford, acting as ushers. The party left the church, amid a shower of congratulations, for Lankford, where Mr. N. has lately fixed his residence and engaged in business. Thus, the partnership lately hinted at in a former letter, has been happily consummated.

To descend suddenly from the hymeneal to the practical, Fairlee Mill is again in motion and corn-bread is no longer the luxury it has been. The mill has undergone a thorough repair under the skillful hand of Mr. C. Stratton, proprietor, and Mr. Wm. Sappington, the miller, is now prepared to furnish "the staff of life" to all applicants. In addition to which Messrs. C. B. Lamb & Bro. have made arrangements to supply beef throughout the season, either of home raised stock or of Chicago importation. So, now, none need starve except the lazy and utterly impecunious, for at the Grange store can always be found both LAMB and beef.

Among the changes in our community Messrs. Thomas and Frazier Meeks will take the Bowman farm to be vacated by Harry Woodal. Geo. Hudson goes to Worton Point on the farm of G. W. Skirven, and Frank Leaverton will take his place on the Hinckley or Harper farm of Mr. Thos. S. Wickes, adjoining Tulip Forest. Thos. Coleman, blacksmith, and Richard Smyth, wheelwright, now with Geo. Casey at Fairlee, are expected to open business at Lankford.

Miss Maggie Rhodes, of the vicinity of Queenstown, is on a visit to Miss S. W. Copper in Quaker Neck, and other friends in Kent.

Mrs. Mary A. Thomas nee Mary A. Moore, daughter of the late John Lloyd Moore, and granddaughter of Wm. Barger, late of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. Clarke, of Still Pond, and numerous friends in this county. Her husband, who is a Baptist minister, is about to take pastoral charge of a church at Alabama in the State of New York. SIMON SHARP.

Woman's Temperance Meeting.

Messrs. Editors:—The quarterly temperance meeting held in the Still Pond M. E. Church on Thursday, Oct. 16, by the Kent County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was a very gratifying success. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mary Brown, who presided with much dignity. The opening prayer was made by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Barrett, and after appropriate music the president introduced Mrs. Emily L. McLaughlin, who made an eloquent and forcible address, holding the large audience under the spell of her eloquence and pathos for an hour or more. The speaker dwelt on the value of home, the obligation to protect it and the means employed for that purpose by the W. C. T. U., and made a strong point on the fact that the local option law of Kent county will not take care of itself. The speaker said that Gov. Dow, of Maine, had stated that "the greatest hindrance to the cause of temperance was the respectable, moderate drinkers." This may be the case in Maine, but in this county it is the indifference of temperance and Christian men and women to this momentous issue. The speaker emphasized the power and necessity of an intelligent public sentiment, but claimed that a sound public conviction was more reliable. At the close of the meeting, about 15 ladies gave their names as members of the W. C. T. U. of this county. May Heaven's richest blessing attend the organization! Its efforts and its success wonderfully brighten the dawn of Prohibition; and if there is anything in heaven above or the earth beneath capable of striking the seller of liquor with a mortal dread, it is the organized power of women. Yours, E. P. J.

BLAINE'S POLITICAL JUNKET.

What he Once Said of Like Methods—A 30 Miles an Hour Fool!—Gen. Butler's Parlor-Car Hippodrome.

A special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun says:

Gen. Winfield Scott was the first candidate for President who traveled around the country begging for votes. He paid especial attention to the Germans and Irish, as Mr. Blaine has been doing. The result of his experiment was satisfactory to the opposition, but not to his own party. Horatio Seymour, emphatically a man without fear and without reproach, upon whom the democratic nomination was forced, canvassed large sections of the country, against his own judgment, but to please his political friends. He met with disastrous defeat. Horace Greeley was the next presidential candidate to posture before the country. He traversed much of the same ground that Mr. Blaine has gone over, he made better speeches than Mr. Blaine could make to save his life, and his meetings were populous far beyond any gatherings which have assembled to listen to Mr. Blaine. Yet he was buried under an adverse majority so overwhelming that it broke his heart. Mr. Blaine, who has for more than a month rushed at railroad speed from one part of the country to the other drumming for votes, in a speech at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, October 31, 1868, expressed in this language his opinion of Gov. Seymour's example, which he is now following:

"If we needed any excuse for an additional word on our side, it may be found and furnished in the extraordinary spectacle presented at this moment before the American people, when the candidate of the democratic party, in wild despair at the result of the State elections, is traveling through the country on express trains at the rate of thirty miles an hour, with disheveled hair and wild companions, engaged in the hopeless task of reviving the impaired constitution of the democratic party. And no sooner had he started on this most extraordinary journey than you found democratic papers in tones of impudent defiance daring the republicans to send General Grant on a wild mission of the same character. No, thank you, gentlemen; one presidential candidate making a fool of himself at the rate of thirty miles an hour is quite enough; and General Grant, in the garb of a plain citizen, quietly awaits the verdict of the nation in his modest home at Galena."

A gentleman who arrived here today from Elmira, N. Y., says the Butler hippodrome is managed like a circus and by an experienced circus manager. He said dates have been arranged until the end of this month, Gen. Butler speaking two and three times each day. He travels in a special car and avoids hotels, having his cook with him. The dates were arranged by the same party who had charge of the Sullivan-Slade prize-fighting combination. There are two advance men to the hippodrome to work up the papers ahead.

WHO WERE THEY?—Levi Sommers, a colored man living on the bank of the Chesapeake, just in the rear of Wittman, Talbot county, Sunday evening week about sunset, while sitting in his door, noticed a large oyster canoe approaching under full sail. In the canoe was a man and woman, and when they came within a few yards of where he was the boat was head to the shore, and the man, a tall fine looking one, came forward, calling Levi to him. Levi obeyed the call, and when he reached the shore the man asked him if he knew where Mr. Frank Senger lived. Replying in the affirmative, he was requested to take a basket, which the man carried, to Mr. Senger. Levi taking the basket, the strange couple immediately set sail. The basket was duly deposited in the house of Mr. Senger, and upon investigation it was found to contain a live infant a week or ten days old, with a note asking Mr. Senger to take care of and treat kindly until called for. Where the parties hailed from is a matter of mere conjecture, but it is thought the canoe headed for Kent Island when it left the old colored man, Mr. and Mrs. Senger are childless.—Centreville Observer.

THE MURRAY TRIAL.—It has been agreed upon by the counsel engaged in the prosecution and defense of Steele that the case shall be called for trial on the 11th of November. Of course the consent of the court to this arrangement will be necessary, but it is not supposed the court will object to any arrangement of the kind made by the counsel. Sheriff Sudler will go to Dorchester on the 8th of November and bring the prisoner here for trial.—Centreville Observer.

THE Smyrna Record says: "The Faries Brothers in removing the deceased members of their families from the M. E. to the Odd Fellows' cemetery, were surprised to find their father, who had been buried thirteen years, in a perfect state of preservation. His face was not sunken or discolored, and the expression was the same as on the day of burial. Mr. F. was buried in a metallic casket, which showed no signs of age."

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore papers of yesterday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry 92c @ 95. Fultz 85c. @90c. for fair to good. CORN—White, prime 55@55; yellow, 56@57. OATS—Maryland, 33.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

SATURDAY, OCT. 25, 1884.

Judges Robinson, Wickes and Stump on the bench.

State vs. Alfred Jeffries, John Potts, John Fields and Norris Brown; tried for inciting and participating in a riot at a colored campmeeting near Worton Station; Tried before Court; verdict, guilty. Fined $1 and costs in each case and imprisoned in county jail 4 months from date. Smith for State, Hynson and Barroll for defence.

MONDAY, OCT. 27, 1884.

Judges Wickes and Stump on the bench.—State vs. Wm. Dary alias Wm. Brown, indicted for assault and battery upon Alexander Wilson and cutting him with a knife or other sharp instrument. Jury trial—verdict, not guilty. Smith for State; Hynson for defense.

State vs. Louis Bowser, indicted for killing Edward Saulsbury. Tried before court, verdict guilty of murder in second degree.—Judgment, confined in penitentiary for 8 years.

TUESDAY, Oct. 28.—Judges Wickes and Stump on the bench. State vs. Geo. W. Parsons, indicted for forgery. Tried by jury.

In the case of Parsons the court ordered a verdict of not guilty because of a flaw in the indictment. The note described in the indictment did not correspond with the note actually forged, creating what is termed in law a fatal variance. Parsons is held and will be tried under a new indictment. His case will probably lay over till the spring term of court. Hynson and Pearce were for the defense.

State vs. Lorenzo Davis, indicted for committing a rape upon the person of Laura Draper; tried before jury. Verdict not guilty.

The grand jury was discharged Friday of last week. The following is the report of the grand jury made to the Court:

TO THE HONORABLE THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR KENT COUNTY.—The grand inquest of the State of Maryland for the body of Kent co., beg leave respectfully to report to this honorable court that they have completed the duties devolved upon them after a session of five days, during which time they have examined 78 witnesses, made 22 presentments and found 20 true bills of indictment. In their official capacity they have visited and inspected the county jail and found its condition as good and as cleanly as could possibly be expected in such a dilapidated building. We feel that it is a cause for congratulation that it will soon be superseded by a new edifice which will be a credit to the county. We beg to return our thanks to this court and its officers for their aid and the courtesy which they have one and all shown us during our session all of which is respectfully submitted.

CORNELIUS J. SCOTT, Foreman.

COMING OUT FOR CLEVELAND.—The Catholic Telegraph, published, at Albany, N. Y., the only publication of its character between New York and Buffalo, has abandoned Blaine, and Saturday it came out fairly and squarely for Cleveland. Its previous course was pursued because of a misapprehension of the circumsteances connecting the Governor's name with the freedom of worship bill and with the Catholic Protectory item which he vetoed. An investigation of them by a committee of laymen removes the feeling of dissatisfaction with Governor Cleveland and by the direction of Vicar-General Dudden the policy of the Telegraph was completely changed. In recognition of the event a serenade was given to the Rev. Father Ludden by the Cleveland and Hendricks organizations of Albany. Blaine's friends depended so completely upon this newspaper to aid them in what they characterize as a "barter of the Catholic vote of Albany county and its vicinity" that they are grievously disappointed. The Telegraph says editorially:

"We believe that Mr. Cleveland is an excellent chief executive; that he has been industrious, painstaking, and conscientious in the discharge of the duties of his high office, and since he became a resident of the executive mansion his bearing and character demanded recognition from all. He became the Governor of the State of New York two years ago by a majority of 200,000 of its citizens, and today he stands forth as a candidate for the presidency of the republic as the representative of a party which has been justly regarded as the friend of the foreign-born and stranger who sought freedom and country on this side that were denied him at home. There is no reason why he should not be supported by every freeman from end to end of the Union who believes in the political doctrine of a Tilden, a Kernan, a Kelly, a Bayard and a Thurman."

WILD GEESE.—On last Saturday Capt. G. W. Hadaway noticed a flock of wild geese light on the bay opposite his house in Bay side. He took his domesticated geese down to the shore; and their wild brethren were soon tolled in. Mr. H. succeeded in killing three of them.

The same day Mr. John Wayman noticed a flock decoy to his wild geese which were feeding in the field. Securing his gun he started in pursuit of them, when he found out there was no covering that would allow him to get close to them. He thought he would see how near he could approach in the open and to his great surprise when he came within good range of them, he could not distinguish the new flock from his own. He started to drive them up to the house, and they went along very orderly until they came to a pond of water, and when he undertook to drive them from there the new flock took flight. Mr. W., who by no means is a wing shot allowed them to depart in peace.—St. Michael's Comet.

NEARLY BURNED TO DEATH—Distressing Details.—Last Monday morning Mrs. Quinn, wife of Mr. Lewis Quinn, of Coxe's Neck, Kent Island fell into the fire and nearly burned to death before she could be rescued. Her clothes were almost entirely consumed and the flesh of her back just below the shoulders was burned to a crisp, and, when rescued, fell off in lumps, her shoulder blades and spine being visible. Those who saw her say it was the most heart-rending sight they ever witnessed. The pain the poor woman suffered was so intense that her screams alarmed the neighborhood and when assistance came she begged to be killed and at once relieved of suffering. Dr. J. E. H. Lewis was summoned as soon as possible and rendered medical aid. Mrs. Quinn was living last Tuesday morning, but her injuries are most likely to prove fatal.—Centreville Record.

REGISTRATION in New York city closed Saturday evening. The registration for the four days aggregates 240,925, the largest ever known, being an increase of 23,925 over that of 1880, the next highest, and 58,574 over that of last year. The largest registration is in the twenty-third ward, which has 17,506 registered voters. It is calculated that 230,000 votes will be cast at the November election. The total vote polled in 1880 was 204,745.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRANDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.
