Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING..........Nov. 1, 1884.

More in the Man than in the Land.

I know a man, which he lived in Jones,
Which Jones is a county of red hills and stones,
And he lived pretty much by gettin' of loans,
And his mules were nothin' but skin and bones,
And his hogs was flat as his corn-bread pones,
And he had 'bout a thousand acres o' land.

This man—which his name it was also Jones—
He swore that he'd leave them old red hills and stones,
Fur he couldn't make nutin' but yellerish cotton,
And little o' that, and his fences were rotten,
And what little corn he had, hit was boughten,
And danged if a livin' was in the land.

And the longer he swore the madder he got,
And he riz and walked to the stable lot;
And he hollered to Tom to come thar and hitch,
For to emigrate some whar whar land was rich,
And to quit raisin' cockburs, thistles and sich
And a wastin' their time on the cussed land.

So him and Tom they hitched up the mules,
Pertestin' that folks was mighty big fools
That 'ud stay in Georgy their lifetime out,
Just scratchin' a livin' when all of 'em mought
Git places in Texas whar cotton would sprout
By the time you could plant in the land.

And he driv by a house whar a man named Brown
Was a livin' not far from the edge of town,
And he bantered Brown for to buy his place,
And said that bein' as money was skace,
And bein' as sheriff's was hard o' face,
Two dollars an acre would git the land.

They closed at a dollar and fifty cents,
And Jones he bought him a wagon and tents,
And loaded his corn and his wimmin and truck,
And moved to Texas, which it tuck
His entire pile, with the best o' luck
To git thar and git him a little land.

But Brown moved out on the old Jones farm,
And he rolled up his breeches and bared his arm,
And he picked all the rocks from off'n the groun',
And he rooted it up and plowed it down;
Then he plowed his corn and his wheat in the land.

Five years glide by, and Brown, one day
(Which he'd got so fat that he wouldn't weigh)
Was a settin' down, sorter lazily,
To the bulliest dinner you ever see,
When one o' the children jumped on his knees,
And says: "Yan's Jones, which you bought his land."

And thar was Jones, standin' out at the fence,
And he hadn't no wagin, nor mules nor tents,
For he left Texas and cum
To Georgy to see if he couldn't get sum
Employment, and he was lookin' as humble as
Ef he'd never owned any land.

But Brown he axen him in, and he sot
Him down to his vittles smokin' hot,
And when he had filled hisself and the floor
Brown looked at him sharp an' riz an' swore
That, "whether men's land was rich or poor
Thar was more in the man than thar was in the land."

Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The "Kent County Union" met the first Tuesday in October at the M. E. Church in Chestertown. Meeting was opened by prayer; fourteen members present. A letter was read from Mrs. Dr. J. C. Thomas, informing delegates to the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. that a lunch would be served in the Y. M. C. A. building N. Charles street, Baltimore. The delegates appointed by the president to attend the convention were the officers and Mrs. C. H. Baker, Mrs. H. M. Thomas, Mrs. E. P. Aldred, Mrs. T. Wilmer, Mrs. Clements and Mrs. T. R. Hubbard. Two new members reported. Miss A. E. Leaverton tendered her resignation as corresponding secretary, which was accepted with regret; Mrs. J. W. Corey was elected to fill her place. Temperance tracts were sent to the district vice-presidents for distribution in the Sabbath schools of their places of worship. Miss A. E. Leaverton and the recording secretary were appointed to try and introduce temperance text-books into our schools and college. Mrs. L. J. Davis and Mrs. Mary A. Hall were appointed to visit the jail and almshouse. Since the above meeting the W. C. T. U. of Maryland have held their annual convention in Baltimore under the wise and dignified management of Mrs. Dr. J. C. Thomas, president of the State organization, ably assisted by her subordinate officers. Very gratifying reports of the year's work in Baltimore were read and adopted; reports from the local unions in several of the counties were also adopted, showing an encouraging outlook for the future. The president's address was very instructive and calculated to inspire her hearers with more "faith in God" and to more "zealous work in our cause." Closing with an exhortation to woman "to take the place God has ordained for her." The convention was also greatly favored with addresses from two noted speakers from Boston, Mass., Mrs. Hunt, superintendent of scientific instruction, and Mrs. McLaughlin, superintendent of conference with ecclesiastical, medical and other associations. After Mrs. Hunt's very able, instructive and eloquent appeal the convention unanimously resolved to use their united efforts in petitioning our next legislature for a law reading thus: "Provision shall be made by the proper local school authorities for instructing all pupils in all schools supported by public money, or under State control, in physiology and hygiene with special reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system, and if this wise law can be secured by the efforts of woman our children will be more intelligent than their parents upon this growing evil, and we shall have great cause to rejoice that this thought has come to the W. C. T. U. of Maryland. If all who may chance to read the doings of our union, as published by the courtesy of the editors of our county papers, could have heard the soul-stirring address of the religious Mrs. McLaughlin at Still Pond on the 16th instant, they would, I think, unite with us in trying to break the hash over this long night of intemperance. That we may succeed is our earnest wish.

The Kent Co. Union meets next Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the M. E. Church in Chestertown. RECORDING SECRETARY.

Information in a Beer Saloon.

A citizen stepped into a Harlem saloon, called for a glass of beer, drank it hastily, and then said to the Teuton behind the bar:

"Will you be kind enough to tell me if the game of base ball this afternoon is to be played at Metropolitan Park or at the Polo grounds?"

"Dot beer vas no goot?"

"Yo, no. The beer is all right. Will you lease tell me w here the game of base ball is to eb played this afternoon? One paper says at the Polo grounds, and another Metropolitan Park."

"Ach!" he exclaimed, with a look of fine intelligence. "Yah, paze pall; dot's a boot'ful game. Some tays dot vas blayed by der Bolo grounds, und some udder tays mit der Medrobolidan Bark."

"Ya'as, I know all that," said the disgusted seeker after information; "but can you tell me where the game is to be played this afternoon?"

"Mrs. Winkleback!" shouted the bartender to the proprietress of the establishment in the back room, "vat vas dose names von der paze pall glubs dot blayed mit von anudder dis efdernoon?"

"Vat ist es der shentlemans vans, Bismarck?" asked the lady, squeezing herself through the doorway.

"He—wants—to—know," interposed the gentleman himself, "if—the—game—of—base—ball that—is—advertised—to—be—played—this—afternoon—for—the—championship—of—the—American—Base—Ball—Association—takes—place—at the—Polo—grounds—or—at—Metropolitan—Park."

"Der Bolo grounds peen noch von hundert-und-zhen strasse, ain'd it?" said the lady to Bismarck, inquiringly.

The citizen shot himself into the street despairingly.

"Hey! Johnny!" he shouted to a little weather-beaten specimen of humanity not much bigger than a microbe, "where's the game this afternoon?"

"Polo grounds, mister. Bet yer fi' cents de Mets'll lick der stuffin' out of dem other fellers."

A WEEPING CHERRY TREE.—In the yard of Major B. F. Wyly, of Jacksonville, Ala., there is a cherry tree from which constantly drips a fine mist, very much resembling rain. Any one standing under it and holding out the hand can feel and see the water; yet when the leaves and branches of the tree are examined they are found to be perfectly dry. No one has been able to solve this mystery as yet.

HOW IT WILL WORK.

50 Cents for Wheat the Result of Protection.

As an illustration of the wisdom of the policy of exclusion, by the operation of high protective duties, of foreign products from our markets, we call attention to the proceedings of the French Chambers on the 18th ult., where it will be seen the Protective Policy, so extravagantly extolled, is about to be applied by France to us. We, as a nation, glory in our greatness and propose to keep out French products by taxation, and they now propose to meet us at our own game and keep out our cattle and live stock, and tax our wheat and corn which have always been received into that country free of duty. A later telegram by cable from Paris, on Tuesday of last week, says that in the Chamber of Deputies, an amendment to the cattle customs bill had been proposed, which fixes a duty of five francs per hundred kilograms on foreign grain. A kilogram is a trifle more than two pounds, and five francs are a dollar, so that the duty upon two hundred pounds of wheat would be a dollar, or thirty cents per bushel.

Thirty cents from eighty would leave our farmers fifty cents a bushel for wheat imported to France, where it now enters free of duty, and if Gen. Logan's ideas of "protection" should be adopted by other nations, whose products are to be excluded by us, we would indeed have to do as that gentleman proposes—eat all our own wheat and furthermore have to use our corn for fuel. This is the beautiful result of the Protective Policy as reflected from abroad. Referring to this, the New York Herald, of Tuesday, says:

"More than two-thirds of the iron furnaces, more than half the looms and spindles in cotton mills, are shut and their operatives are out of work, with winter staring them in the face. Only a few days ago Mr. Oliver, a great Pittsburg ironmaster, reduced his men's wages to ninety-eight cents per day, and a republican candidate for Congress cried out, very justly; 'How can I talk to the workingmen about the benefits of protection when a great republican manufacturing firm of this city asks its employes to work for ninety-eight cents a day?' One cannot open a newspaper without reading of wages reduced, as in Easton, Pa., at the barbed wire works yesterday; or of men striking against starvation wages, as at the mines of the Ohio Central and Bucey Creek region on Saturday, or of the mills closed, as at Chattanooga on Saturday, where the attempt to reduce the men's wages was resisted and they were summarily turned out."

A CARD!

At the close of the Spring and Summer trade we propose to alter our store room and, in order to do so, we must get rid of our large stock of Clothing.

We propose for the NEXT SIXTY DAYS to sacrifice every dollar's worth of Clothing in our house, as we must close them out.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

CHAPTER 191.

AN ACT prohibiting the sale of spirituous or fermented liquors in the several counties in the State on the day of Election.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That it shall not be lawful for the keeper of any hotel, tavern, store, drinking establishment, or other place where liquors are sold, or for any person or persons directly or indirectly to sell, barter, give, or dispose of any spirituous or fermented liquors, ale or beer, or intoxicating drinks of any kind, on the day of election hereafter to be held in the several counties of the State.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That any person violating the provisions of this act shall be liable to indictment by the Grand Jury of the county where the offense is committed, and shall, upon conviction before any Judge of any of the Circuit Courts of this State, be fined a sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense one-half of the fine to be paid to the informer, and the other half to the County Commissioners for the use of the public roads.

CONCEALED WEAPONS ON ELECTION DAY.

The following Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed at the January Session of 1874, and approved April 6, 1874, is also published for the information of the public:

AN ACT

To prevent the carrying of guns, pistols, dirks, dirk-knives, razors, billies, or bludgeons, by any person in Kent, Queen Anne's or Montgomery counties, on the day of election in the said counties.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this Act, it shall not be lawful for any person in Kent, Queen Anne's or Montgomery counties to carry on the days of election, secretly or otherwise, any gun, pistol, dirk, dirk-knife, razor, billy, or bludgeon, and any person violating the provisions of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, before any Justice of the Peace, in either of said counties, shall be fined not less than five nor more than twenty dollars, and on refusal to pay said fine shall be committed by such justice of the peace to the jail of the county until the same is paid.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, that the fines collected under this Act shall be paid by the officer collecting same to the School Commissioners of the county where such offence shall have been committed, for school purposes.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That any constable of either of said counties, or the sheriff thereof, who shall refuse to arrest any person violating any provision of this Act, upon information of such offence, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before the Circuit Court for such county, shall be fined not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars, and shall forthwith be discharged from office. JOHN W. PARSONS.

Betting on Elections.

The attention of all persons is particularly called to the following section of Article 35, Code of Public General Laws of Maryland:

46. No person shall make any bet or wager on the result of any election to take place in this State.

47. Any person offending against the last preceding section shall be liable to indictment in the Circuit Courts, if the offence be committed in any county, or in the Criminal Court of Baltimore, if the offence be committed in Baltimore; and on conviction, shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, to be paid to the State for the use of the School Fund.

48. Every deposit of money in any part of the State as a wager or bet upon elections in this State or elsewhere shall be forfeited and paid over to the County Commissioners of the county where deposited for the use of the county, and if deposited in the city of Baltimore, to the Mayor and City Council.
