Called Home.

She has passed away.
The gentle breath,
And her eyes are closed with the sleep of death.
The leaves on the trees will wither and fall,
And the drifting snows will cover all,
But she will peacefully, calmly rest,
Forever happy,
By angel's bid.

Just in the spring
Of womanhood,
Tender and loving, and wise and good,
Ah! too good for the sinful earth!
Only the angels knew her worth.

With a dream,
Better to smile
When such a life
Gives up the gentle and the true,
Better to know that her tasks are done,
Trials ended and glory won.

Wings it way
To the gates of light,
She has passed away,
But her sweet good-will,
Like a fragrant odor, lingers still.

The tender lesson that she taught,
The good she did, and the love she brought,
We learn to follow the path she trod,
And to love the good that she loved.

Who has gone to God,
The gentle breath,
And her eyes are closed with the sleep of death.
The leaves on the trees will wither and fall,
And the drifting snows will cover all,
But she will peacefully, calmly rest,
Forever happy,
By angel's bid.

Forever happy,
By angel's bid.

Who has gone to God,
The gentle breath,
And her eyes are closed with the sleep of death.
The leaves on the trees will wither and fall,
And the drifting snows will cover all,
But she will peacefully, calmly rest,
