Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING,.....Dec. 13, 1884.

MARYLAND is too near the National capitol for the comfort of her representatives. They are shadowed day and night by office seekers.

CECIL COURT commenced last Monday. The most important criminal cases are one for murder, two for burglary and one for assault with intent to kill.

REV. A. D. DAVIS, of Denton, in a recent sermon, gave as a reason for small congregations: "Skepticism, caused by the loose way in which many professed christians live." Correct!

MR. PETER STEVENS has resigned his $1200 clerkship in the comptroller's office, and is reported to be in the field as an independent candidate for clerk of the circuit court for Talbot.

THE "Faith Healers" are creating some excitement in Baltimore. Numbers of persons profess to have been cured of various diseases. The "Salvation Army" must take a back seat for a while at least.

MISS JENNIE BRYAN, daughter of Dr. James L. Bryan, school examiner of Dorchester county, has been appointed assistant examiner at a salary of $300 a year. This is a new departure, and is generally regarded with favor.

SENATOR BLAIR has made a proposition to the Senate to appropriate $500,000 in aid of a "Colored People's World Fair Exposition" at Chicago. A cotemporary suggests that a Canadian exposition in Brazil would be an equally intelligible proceeding.

A STATEMENT that coolness exists between Senators Gorman and Bayard has found its way into print. The fact that Senator Bayard accepted an invitation to the Gorman dinner in Baltimore last Thursday evening would seem to be sufficient proof that the statement is erroneous.

THE table of the popular vote published last week contained one error—in the vote of Illinois. The correct figures are: Cleveland 312,355; Blaine 337,481; St. John 12,074; Butler 10,910. The totals for the whole country were correct.

GEN. GRANT declines a pension from the government, and in view of the fact that his income from the fund raised for his benefit some years ago is over $15,000 per annum, he does what the public had a right to expect of him in declining it. Even an ex-President can get on very comfortably with $15,000 a year.

"THE DAY."—We welcome the Baltimore Day again to our table after its short temporary suspension. Editor Cruikshank is a sterling Democrat, enterprising citizen and liberal newspaper man, and the people of the Monumental City and the State will certainly support his Day if he makes it what he is fully competent to do—a necessity to the business community and the political party it upholds.

THE COMING ADMINISTRATION.

Senator Bayard's Position and His Visit to Governor Cleveland — What Senator Gorman Prefers.

Senator Bayard returned to Washington from a short visit to Gov. Cleveland last Wednesday, and was much sought after by those anxious to learn the particulars of his interview with the President-elect. It is believed by Mr. Bayard's friends that it rests with him entirely whether he shall be a member of the cabinet. His name has invariably been associated with the portfolio of the State Department, but it is understood that his own preferences lie in the direction of the Treasury Department. He has been a member of the finance committee from his first entrance into the Senate, and was chairman of the committee while the Senate was under democratic control. Mr. Randall has been most frequently spoken of for the Treasury Department, and it seems to be thought that this is the only position which he would be likely to accept. Although the Secretary of State is the premier of the administration, those who go into cabinets, almost without exception, prefer the Treasury Department to any other. It is the greatest organization under any government in the world, reaching in its ramifications into almost every hamlet, and controlling vast power and patronage. Neither Mr. Bayard nor Mr. Randall belong to the class who would press their own wishes, although Mr. Bayard no doubt gave his views to Mr. Cleveland when requested by the latter. Either Mr. Bayard or Mr. Randall would be acceptable to the great money interests, and Mr. Bayard is held in the highest personal regard by many of the eminent bankers of the country. Mr. Bayard, Mr. Randall, Mr. Lamar and Mr. Garland are among the few whose names have been mentioned for cabinet positions who seem to meet popular approval in all sections.

A special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun from New York on Tuesday last says: B. B. Smalley, of Vermont, arrived in the city today, having spent Monday with President-elect Cleveland at Albany. To the correspondent of the Sun Mr. Smalley said, regarding the prospects of Senator Bayard entering President Cleveland's cabinet: "It would seem to me highly probable that Mr. Bayard should enter the cabinet. Gov. Cleveland mentioned no names to me. I speak for myself when I say, therefore, that Mr. Bayard is to go into the cabinet, but I would regard it as about settled that Bayard and Whitney will both have the refusal of a cabinet position. Senator Gorman, who has been mentioned in this connection, I do not think has the least intention of accepting any such position. His career in the Senate promises to be a long and brilliant one, and I do not think he has ever thought of giving it up for any position under the administration.

The Southern Plague.

A dispatch from Louisville, Ky., says: "Dr. J. O. Carson, who was sent by the State board of health to investigate the cause of mortality in the plague-stricken district of Kentucky, returned home today. He says a thorough canvass of the infected counties persuades him that the reports from that section have been greatly exaggerated. The total number of deaths, he thinks, will not reach above five hundred. The plague has been much more disastrous in Wise county, Va., than in any of the Kentucky counties, but is now rapidly abating all over the infected district. Dr. Carson further says that he thinks the cause of the plague will be found in the malaria arising from decayed vegetable matter, rather than in the water, which he tested and drank without noting the slightest unusual effect. He will make a scientific report of his investigation before a special meeting of the national board of health."

Profitable Stock Raising.

Our attention was called on Friday last to a car load of 48 cattle, which was being shipped from this place to Bexar county, Texas. It consisted of a lot of young bulls and heifers, of the breed known as Herefords, all uniformly marked with white faces, and the other distinctive marks of that breed.—Easton Star.

A HORSE PAINTER'S DANGEROUS PLIGHT.—Mr. W. W. Sible, a painter in the employ of Mr. Geo. Lisa, was on a swinging scaffold at the roof of Trinity Lutheran Church while the stay rope was held below by Geo. Calvert, and the latter accidentally allowed the rope to slip, thereby dropping the scaffold. Mr. Sible's only hope was to grasp at the cornice of the roof. This he did, and there remained suspended 55 feet above the ground for seven minutes, until the scaffold was brought to his relief.—Hagerstown News.

IMPROVING.—Mr. J. J. Hall, cashier of the Centreville National Bank, who has been confined to his house for several weeks past, we are glad to announce is gradually improving, and if nothing happens to prevent will soon be about again—probably this week.—Cent. Observer.

A CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.—The establishment of a great Catholic University in this country is now an assured fact. Miss Mary G. Caldwell, a young lady of New York city, who has been stopping at Barnum's Hotel three or four weeks, during the sessions of the Plenary Council, has contributed $300,000 to start the fund for its endowment, and the Council, which accepted the gift with many thanks, has assurances from other wealthy Catholics in America and Europe that the $3,000,000 requisite for its complete establishment will be forthcoming.

The Council appointed a committee, consisting of Archbishops Gibbons, of Baltimore; Corrigan, of New York; Williams, of Boston; Heiss, of Milwaukee; Ryan, of Philadelphia; Spalding, of Peoria, and Bishop Ireland, to have charge of the matter. Four laymen will be associated with them, one of whom will be Reuben Springer, of Cincinnati, and another, Eugene Kelley, of New York.

The seat of the institution has not yet been chosen, but it will be either New York, Baltimore or Cincinnati. It is proposed that the scope of the university shall be very broad. The committee will meet very soon to decide upon the site.

A Splendid Compliment.

A well-deserved compliment was that paid Hon. ARTHUR P. GORMAN in the banquet given him by the business men of Baltimore last Thursday evening. The dinner was set for three hundred plates, and it is said to have cost $20 per plate. A grand affair surely! It was held at the Academy of Music and distinguished guests were present from various sections of the country.

Senator Gorman richly deserves the honors heaped upon him. By his consummate ability in the management of the Democratic National campaign was the great victory achieved, and too much praise cannot be bestowed in return therefor.

"THE SUN."—On our first page will be found a notice of the Baltimore Daily and Weekly Sun for 1885. Those who desire a daily paper cannot do better than take the Sun. It is not surpassed by any of the great dailies of the country in its excellence. The Weekly Sun is filled with choice matter and is one of the cheapest weeklies published.

MR. DODD'S WHEAT CROP.—Some doubt having been expressed about the large crop of wheat raised by Mr. John Dodd in Queen Anne's this year the Observer obtained from that gentleman the detailed statement of his crop, showing that it netted by weight 4566½ bushels, which is 40⅔ bushels per acre for the whole 112 acres of fallow and corn land. This crop is big enough to brag about, but is far below Kent's champion grower. Mr. Bonwill's yield was 52 bushels per acre by weight, and we have not heard any doubts expressed concerning it either.

IN A PRISON OF FIRE — Six Persons Burned to Death.—During a fire at Taunton, a little mining village on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about half a mile from Delano, about 4 o'clock last Tuesday morning, Frank Barton, his wife, three children and a man who boarded with them, perished in the flames which consumed their home. The fire was first discovered by a crew on a passing railroad locomotive, who stopped and gave the alarm. The lower part of the little house was then a mass of fire. The people in the neighboring houses rushed out in their night clothes, but it seemed impossible to arouse the occupants of the burning building who soon slept the sleep of the dead.

OYSTER POLICE ASSIGNMENTS.—Commander Waddell has assigned vessels of the oyster navy to stations as follows: Steamer Gov. McLane, to the Pocomoke and Potomac rivers and tributaries, headquarters at Crisfield; steamer Gov. Thomas, Chester river and tributaries, headquarters at Annapolis. There are eleven sailing vessels in the fleet, all in active service except the sloop E. B. Groome, which has been laid up for repairs and has no commander. There are two sloops each in the third, sixth and seventh districts, the other four districts having one each. The new schooners Frolic and Folly are located in the second and sixth districts, the latter embracing Anne Arundel county. The assignment of the other boats is the same as formerly. The steamer Hamilton will remain at Annapolis in case of an emergency as a sort of dispatch boat. Richard Stanton, of Baltimore, has been appointed engineer on the Hamilton.

ROAD AGENTS COLLECT $6,000.—A dispatch dated Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 7, says: The road agents stopped a train on the Little Rock and Texas railway last night three miles below here and side-tracked it. The express safe was opened and robbed of $2,000. The passengers in the coaches, 70 in number, were relieved of their valuables, but the ladies were not molested. The heaviest loser was H. B. Daw, of Little Rock, who gave up $500. About $6,000 in all were secured. The robbers, five in number, were young men and wore muslin masks. A posse is in pursuit of them.

MARYLAND STATE GRANGE.

The Maryland State Grange held its annual meeting in Baltimore last Tuesday and Wednesday. The body is composed of the masters of the various local granges throughout the State, and also their wives, when they are matrons of the order. There were about 100 delegates and visitors from the subordinate granges present. Mr. Henry O. Devries presided. Mr. John W. Corey, of Kent, was overseer. The opening session was mainly given to the reports of the officers, which showed the organization in a healthy condition, both as to membership and activity. There are now 69 granges in the State, with 2,172 members.

In his report Mr. H. O. Devries, State master, said the "novelty of the grange had passed, so also the experimental period, and we now find it as clear as demonstration itself that the educational and productive features of the grange have not only accomplished much good, but form the groundwork of the American farmer." The report speaks of the injurious effect to the farmer of the greediness of corporations and of the fictitious values of cereals caused by speculators. Further on it says:

"Then there is another class of middlemen, more dangerous than the rest, if possible, known as commercial travelers or agents, who, if their statistics be reliable as published, are quietly extracting from consumers daily about two millions of dollars. If the above statements be correct, and I think they are, the farmers as producers have no voice in fixing the values of their products, and in their disorganized form it is impossible for them to stand the exactions levied upon them to meet the wants of such extraordinary demands. These condition are not only unwholesome, but dangerous to the body politic, if not subversive of the ends of free government. We should not forget that the responsibility is upon the class who have the power to correct these innovations; failing to do our duty is but to invite retribution."

The object of the grange, the report says, is to bring the producer and consumer in closer contact, and thus distribute the immunities of labor more equally where they properly belong. The cereal production of the world is put down at 3,500,000,000 bushels.

From the Easton Ledger.

BENJAMIN CYLOAR, a well-digger of Hillsborough, was killed by the fall of a bucket upon him while at the bottom of a well recently.

A SON of Rev. T. J. Slaughter had four fingers so fearfully lacerated in a corn sheller one day last week that they had to be amputated.

REV. THOS. A. KING, pastor of the New Jerusalem Church, Baltimore, preached last Sunday on the "Religion of the Feet."

COMPTROLLER TURNER has appointed Barry J. Hopkins to a clerkship in his office, vice Peter Stevens resigned.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

HE USED A PISTOL.—Thomas Saunkins, col'd, was arrested in Galena and sent to Chestertown by the train on Thursday and lodged in jail charged with shooting with intent to kill another colored man named George Bordley. It seems that a dance or "cake walk" was being held near Galena on Saturday night, when Saunkins brought his pistol into play and drawing a bead on Bordley, fired. The ball missed the man but struck Alfred Carroll in the hip, making a flesh wound. Saunkins had a hearing before Esquire Miller who held him in $200 bail.

AGAIN IN LIMBO.—Wm. alias "Budd" Lloyd, colored, was arrested last Monday by Officer Simpson, charged with entering the dwelling of Mr. Jos. T. Palmer, on the corner of Princess and Cannon sts. It was about ten o'clock on Saturday night when Mrs. Palmer found him in her parlor, and she was greatly frightened. After a hearing before Justice Wheatley he was sent to the House of Correction for six months. Deputy Sheriff Dugan deposited him at that institution last Tuesday. Lloyd is a worthless fellow, and this is his second visit to the House of Correction. He is the same man that was tried for murder in Harford county some years since and acquitted under the plea of insanity.

UNDER FALSE PRETENSE.—Sam'l Boyer, col'd, was arrested in Worton by Constable T. J. Parsons last week charged with obtaining money from Mr. L. J. Handy under false pretenses. He was committed to jail for court by Justice Cohee.

SALE OF A QUEEN ANNE'S FARM.—A. R. Weedon and Thomas J. Keating, Esqrs., trustees, sold last Tuesday, at the court-house in Centreville the James Frank Hall farm, situate in "Rich Neck" and containing about one hundred and seventy acres, including a wood lot, to George H. Snitcher, Esq., for $79.02 per acre, aggregating the sum of $13,140.52. The farm, exclusive of the wood lot, contains about 150 acres, which, it is estimated, after putting a fair value on the wood lot, brought $80 an acre. It is considered a good sale depressed as the grain market now is. The sale attracted a large number of land owners in "Rich Neck," among them Dr. S. T. Ford, John H. Evans, R. S. Hurlock, W. H. Newnam, Esqrs., and others.

THE STREETS.—There having been much complaint by the citizens of the town about the careless manner in which the trenches where the water pipes were laid have been filled, the commissioners have passed the following ordinance with a view to having the streets and sidewalks restored to their former condition after pipes are laid—

"ORDERED, That no person shall dig up the streets or sidewalks of the town for the purpose of laying water pipes, unless a permit therefor be first obtained from the Chestertown Water Company, and in all cases such person shall restore said streets and sidewalks to their former solid and smooth condition, to the satisfaction of the commissioners of Chestertown within a reasonable time, under a penalty of five dollars for every breach of this ordinance."

The necessary permits can be obtained from Mr. Wilbur Thomas, the secretary of the Water Company.

DEATH OF AN AGED CITIZEN.—Josias Ringgold, one of Kent's oldest citizens and a well-known farmer living within three miles of Chestertown, died yesterday morning at six o'clock. Mr. Ringgold has been in feeble health for several years, having some chronic trouble about the lungs, and died of a complication of diseases. He leaves one son, Josias Ringgold, Jr., and four daughters.

GUNNERS FINED FOR TRESPASS.—E. T. Jacobs, W. H. Cooper and W. A. Burke, three Chestertown sportsmen, were summoned before Esquire Johnson last Monday on the charge of trespassing upon the premises of Israel Walbert with dog and gun. The parties submitted the case and the justice fined each of them five dollars and costs.

PERSONAL.—C. H. Baker, Esq., has been confined to his bed by sickness during the past week, and has been unable to attend to his business until yesterday, when he was at his office for a short time.

Mrs. Margaret Crouse, the grandmother of Rev. T. O. Crouse, of Chesapeake circuit, died recently in Westminster, aged 90 years.

CENTENNIAL AT STILL POND.—At Still Pond Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday, Nov. 30, Rev. Louis E. Barrett, the talented pastor, delivered an appropriate sermon, after which he read a paper sketching Methodism in Kent. On the first page of today's NEWS will be found a full synopsis.

WHO WILL GO?—Quite a number of persons are talking of making the trip to New Orleans during the great Exposition this winter. Would it not be desirable to make up a party and all go in company? The cost, all told, would not be over one hundred dollars. Who will go, and when? The middle of January would be a good time.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.—The travelling community will commend the action of the Chester River Steamboat Company in refusing to longer make bar-rooms of their steamers. The sale of liquor on all the boats of the line has been prohibited by the company.

JAMES' M. E. CHURCH, (colored) Chestertown, J. Hudson Riddick, pastor, will celebrate the Methodist centennial jubilee by appropriate exercises on the 21st and 224.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING!—Read the Christmas advertisements in this issue. Do not send to the city for goods that you can get as cheap and as nice at home.

REV. GEO. S. BRADFORD has moved into the new parochial residence in Galena, and is once more a citizen of Kent.

TO BE SOLD.—The Enterprise Transportation Line is advertised to be sold at public auction in Baltimore on the 18th of December.

GALE & HUTCHISON.—We are sorry to learn that the gentleman who recently engaged in partnership with Mr. John T. Gale at 254 N. Water st., Philada., was obliged to withdraw owing to ill-health. Mr. Gale, however, is so well known that he is never at a loss for a good partner, and the firm is now known as Gale & Hutchison. Mr. S. Hutchison, the new partner, is a gentleman well-known, of undoubted integrity and excellent business qualifications. They will continue the produce commission business at the old stand 254 N. Water st., Philada.

THE traveller, visiting Baltimore, makes a grand mistake if he does not stop at the "Malt-by House," located in the business centre of the city, convenient to railroad depots and steamboat wharves, and is conducted on both the American and European plans.

PREACHERS' APPOINTMENTS.—The Wilmington M. E. Conference does not meet until March 11, next, at Snow Hill, but the guessing has already begun to get in his work as to the probable appointments then to be made. Here they are as printed in the Fredericksburg Courier: Bridgeville, T. G. Ayars, G. F. Smith; Camden, Edward Davis; Church Creek, J. Dare; Denton, W. E. Tompkinson; East New Market, W. Underwood; Federalsburg, A. J. Brindle; Felton, Jonathan Willis; Galestown, George Hardesty; Georgetown, T. S. Williams; Milford, W. S. Robinson; Magnolia, J. Warfhman; Milton, P. Rowlins; Preston Circuit, J. W. Poole; Seaford, I. Jewell; Lincoln, D. F. McPaul; Frankford, A. D. Davis; Port Deposit, L. Barrett; Chestertown, N. M. Browne; St. George's, G. R. Brister; New Castle, J. B. Mann; St. Michael's, R. C. Jones; Newark, T. Haynes.

SIX CHILDREN IN ONE YEAR.—Less than twelve months ago, Mrs. Hugh Blair, of Chattanooga, Tenn., gave birth to three children, all of which are living and in good health. Saturday evening the same lady gave birth to two boys and a girl, making six children born to the lady in less than a year.

Ball at the Armory.

Young gentlemen of Chestertown and vicinity gave a fine ball at the Armory in Chestertown last Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. M. Brooks, who were married in November last. It was one of the finest affairs that has ever come off in Chestertown. The Armory was gaily trimmed with flags, evergreens and Chinese lanterns and brilliantly lighted with wax candles. A stand was erected at the upper end of the hall to accommodate the musicians, which comprised five pieces of the Middletown string band. There was a fine supper spread in the gallery, provided by caterer Cummings, which was served from mid night until one o'clock. The reception committee were Messrs. A. E. Twiford, Hope H. Barroll, J. W. Hines, H. C. Brown, E. W. Emory and Wilbur W. Hubbard, and the floor directors Dr. C. P. Gilpin, E. F. C. Perkins and W. B. Stephens. The ball was opened with the grand march, at nine o'clock, and it was near five in the morning when it closed with a plain quadrille. The scene when the reporter of the NEWS visited the armory at about eleven o'clock was such as, perhaps, was never before seen in a ball-room in Kent. Nearly two hundred were present, though the evening was forbidding without, and some of the loveliest belles of Delaware and the adjacent counties were waited upon by gallant beaux whose faces were in many instances unfamiliar to those who are always seen on such occasions. The ladies looked beautiful, their dresses were charming and the married folks who surrounded the room said that never before had the loveliness of the scene been surpassed in the old armory.

Among those gathered to honor the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Pearce, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Kennard, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Dodd, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Stephens, and the following young ladies: Madge and Mamie Wethered, Eunice Gemmill, Hallie Beck, Alice Hurtt, Florence Hurtt, Daisy Welch, Lucie Robinson, May Carville, Carrie Carville, Stella Stephens, Blanche Constable, Judie Gilpin, Anna Cacy, Alice Stephens, Carrie Jacobs, Grace Martin, Bertie Hines, Bessie Hines, Emily Massey and sister, of Kent; Carrie Manlove of Greensboro', Miss Long of Talbot, Bessie Ringgold and sister of Baltimore, Rachel Wilmer, Caddie Wilson, and a number of other ladies the names of whom your reporter was unable to ascertain. Among the gentlemen were Messrs. H. C. Chase, W. H. Cacy, J. Herman Ireland, Will Ireland, George C. Howard, Will B. Biggs, C. Watkins, Jr., John P. Cochran, Jr., Dr. John C. Hackett, Frank Roe, Sydney Gadd, Dr. J. H. K. Jacobs, William Janvier, John Sutton, Richard Diehl.

Entertainment at Kennedyville.

The entertainment at the town hall in Kennedyville last Thursday evening was a success. It was for the benefit of the M. P. Church, and notwithstanding the rainy evening the hall was well filled, and a handsome sum realized. Rev. J. L Elderdice, the pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Tilghman Shafer, and others, who had the management of the affair, deserve much credit for the perfect manner in which it was conducted.

The program was as follows: 1. Instrumental duet, by Willie and Maggie McKnett. 2. Reading—a Love Story—by J. L. Elderdice. 3. Dressing the Doll, by Beulah Hayes. 4. Bob's Examination, by John Medders and Willie McKnett. 5. Quartet—"Come where the Lillies Bloom"—W. Melvin, tenor; W. A. Biscoe, bass; Minnie Usilton, soprano, and Mollie Parks, alto. 6. Reading—Jerry, the Newsboy—by Mrs. Shafer. 7. Music, the Drunkard's Dream, by Ida Willis and Mary McKnett. 8. Marrying a Poetess, John Medders. 9. How she made him propose—Willie McKnett, Sallie Meredith. 10. Reading—Mary Meredith. 11. Quartette by four little girls. 12. Instrumental duet—Willie McKnett, violin; Maggie McKnett, organ. 13. "Music on the Waves"—duet by Mollie Parks and Minnie Usilton. 14. Reading by Mrs. T. Shafer. 15. His time for Fiddling—dialogue—Medders and Elderdice. 16. "When the leaves begin to fall"—Bessie Digga. 17. Reading, "Charge of the Light Brigade," J. L. Elderdice. 18. Duet by the Misses Bennett. 19. Aunt Betsy's Beaux—a drama with six characters. 20. Instrumental duet, by Willie and Maggie McKnett. 21. Quartette—"Good Night, Gentle Folks"—by same as No. 5.

The pieces were all rendered splendidly and the audience was highly appreciative.

Public School Entertainment.

On Friday evening of last week an entertainment was given by the public school of Chestertown in the main room of the school building, for the purpose of raising funds to procure matting for the floors. The patronage was all that could have been expected—the room was crowded, and about $50 was the net sum realized. The entertainment was creditable in every respect. Prof. Orem, of Baltimore, performed the instrumental music. His piano solos were as usual brilliant and beautiful, and admired by all.

The program included a number of tableaux, some of the prettiest being in the piece called "Earth-Child in Fairy Land." In this piece twenty pretty little girls served as fairies, Effie Taylor performed the part of queen; Gracie Turner, Mamie Catlin, Stella Jacobs and Georgia DeFord interceding fairies; Katie Benjamin the earth-child, and Ida DeFord, Fidelia; Herman Perkins was the "genius" to relieve the prisoners, after which followed waltz movements by all the fairies.

"Washington's Vision," a tableau, represented Washington asleep surrounded by the thirteen colonies in coains—each of these being young ladies bearing the names of the colonies in circlets about the foreheads. Julia Gilpin represented "Hope" and Mettie Loud "Faith;" they appeared before the sleeping hero, and as they vanish the Goddess of Liberty — Mary Chapman—enters bearing the stars and stripes, and then the chains fell off and all the "colonies" joined in singing the patriotic anthem.

"Saved," a play and tableau, was very well rendered. Hines Thomas was the bar-keeper and Will Russell the drunkard, while Annie Russell acted the drunkard's child and sang her solos beautifully. George Perkins was the policeman and Webster Strayer the jailer, and Faith, Hope and Charity were represented by Lillie Hynson, Laura Thomas, Elsie Stephens.

The "Broom Drill" consisted of a company of nine girls in uniform, with Effie Gardner captain, and the execution of the manual and marching.

"The Base Ball Song" was one of the best pieces of the evening. The play was natural and easy—all the actors apparently had "been there"—and the song was splendidly rendered. The characters in this piece were as follows: Jas. W. Chapman, captain; Will Beck, catch; Eben Perkins, pitch; Herman Perkins, 2 s; Chas. Howard, Jas. Boston, Hydie Thompson, Will Fowler, at the bat; Fred Usilton, umpire, and Johnny Roberts scorer.

The other tableaux were "The Muse," "The Crowning of Florence Nightingale," and the "Vesta and the Vestal Virgins."

Miss Ella Thompson sang very nicely the solo "Kiss me Good-night, Mamma."

BRONZE GOBBLERS FOR SALE CHEAP if taken now. R. A. WALLIS, d6-3t* Chestertown.

STOLEN on last Sunday night from my front porch, ONE GOODS BOX. A REWARD OF FIVE DOLLARS will be paid for information that will lead to the capture of the thieves. N. H. RASH, Nov. 29, 1884—3t. Chesterville.

I Must Settle!

If YOU Do Not then Where Am I?

ON the FIRST day of January all the levies in my hands are due and I must pay them. It will not suffice for me to say that Farmers have not sold their wheat, or that corn is too low to sell, and taxes have not been paid in consequence. The money will be expected—apologies will not relieve me, but I will be held accountable for any default.

Therefore, take notice, tax-payers MUST PAY ME on or before the FIRST OF JANUARY, or I must proceed by law to enforce payment. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Respectfully, GEO. S. BIDDLE, d13-3t. Coll. 4th Dist.
