SATURDAY MORNING ..... JAN. 24, 1885.

CHESTERVILLE AND VICINITY.

Messrs. Editors :—Mrs. Sarah L., wife of Mr. E. Cooper, who resides near Chesterville, died very suddenly and unexpectedly last Tuesday morning. She was a very large, and exceedingly fleshy person, and had been for several years suffering more or less from heart affection. Her remains were carried to Philadelphia last Wednesday for interment. Deceased was a lady well known and respected throughout the neighborhood.

While on her way home from Masseys last Tuesday morning, the horse of Mrs. Annie S. Wallis, widow of the late Ludolph Wallis, near Chesterville, became frightened and upset the carriage about a half mile east of Ireland's Corner. Mrs. Wallis was thrown out and had her forehead laid open to the bone for about three inches, her chin and lip cut and otherwise bruised. Fortunately the top of the carriage came off when it upset, otherwise Mrs. Wallis might have been dragged and mangled, for the young mare at once set off in a run, and was finally taken up about three miles from the scene of the occurrence, on her way home. She was "brought to" by Mr. Thomas F. Hurlock, who was on the road with a team. When taken up she was travelling as best she could with harness out of shape and a shaft between her forelegs.

Among the removals mentioned last week we forgot to mention that Mr. W. H. West has moved to the farm lately vacated by Mr. Jervis Spencer, and Mr. Samuel J. Coppage now occupies the Pennington farm, lately vacated by Mr. West.

When Mr. H. C. Pennington lived in these parts, it was said of him "he knew how to keep a hotel," and his excellent table was a matter of remark with the public. At Seaford, Del., Harry keeps up the same reputation. He has a brother Noble living here, who prides himself on being somewhat of an epicure, and he but lately returned from a ten days' visit to the Colbourn House, kept by H. C. P. Now, in proof of the fact that the proprietor of said house still sets a sumptuous board, we will state that immediately upon coming home Mr. Noble E. Pennington took sick and has been confined to his room for days, as the result, no doubt, of his over-feasting on Sussex delicacies. WALTER.

Kent County Agricultural Association.

CLUB ROOM, January 19, 1885.

Meeting called to order by President John Gale, who presided with becoming dignity. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The use of the hall for the purpose of giving suppers on the evenings of January 28 and 29 was granted to the ladies of Worton Presbyterian Church.

Mr. J. W. Corey gave written notice that two weeks hence he would offer an amendment to the constitution of the society providing for a monthly meeting of the same to be held on the first Monday of each month, to take the place of the weekly meeting.

Subject for discussion at next meeting, "Is it practicable or possible for the farmer to do his business on a cash basis?"

Mr. R. G. Nicholson was appointed to produce an essay at the next meeting.

On motion it was decided to meet promptly at 2 o'clock. W. P. N.

Edesville and Vicinity.

MESSRS. EDITORS :—Edesville is a thriving little village and getting more like New York every day. Dame Rumor says there is to be a boarding house opened shortly within the village limits for the accommodation of commercial tourists and travellers from remote parts of the county, such as Galena, Still Pond and Lynch's, and we are sure it will pay the proprietor, who is thoroughly fitted for the business, as well as an accommodation to the travellers themselves, as there is a great deal of travelling done by persons from Still Pond and Lynch's to Rock Hall, Piney Neck and Edesville, who would be glad to know where they could get good bed and board for themselves as well as their steeds.

Balls and parties seem to be the order of the day all over the county, especially so in the upper part, and such grand ones, too.

There have been a number of removals in this vicinity within the last few weeks—some going as far south as Florida, and others, as far north as Philadelphia. David Sutton, of Galena, has settled in the village and talks of opening a shop here, with turning lathe and all the accoutrements of a regular machine shop. We wish him success.

There have been a great many deaths in this usually healthy section lately. Mr. Jas. Blackiston, our young undertaker's business seems to be on the increase—more so since he has had his "new rib adjusted." We suppose it is because he can pay closer attention to business now than formerly, not being away from home so much. JOE.

How the Time was Passed.

Messrs. Editors "Kent News" :—Allow me thro' your paper in behalf of numerous persons who took passage on the Emma A. Ford last Friday for Baltimore, to thank the Captain, we got along finely until we reached Spaniard's Point, when a dense fog set in, and in the wisdom of our gallant Captain McConnor he deemed it best to make fast to the wharf at the farm of Captain Emory, there we staid until sunrise Saturday morning when we let loose and run the 45 miles to Baltimore in three hours by the Captain's watch. As the sombre shades of night came on it would have been very dull had it not been for the attention of such polite officers. We gathered around as a happy family and were entertained by songs and hymns from Mr. York, and Mr. Harrison recited to us Hamlet's Soliloquy. We also had recitations from different authors by another gentleman present, which aided in driving away dull care and relieved the monotony that was about to settle down upon us. We commended the prudence of our Captain in landing us safely in Baltimore when he did with the ladies we had on board. S. S. W.

THE largest transaction in canned goods for many a day took place recently, when Messrs. T. J. Meehan & Co. purchased the entire block of three-pound standard tomatoes held by the Northern Harford Association, amounting to between 60,000 and 70,000 cases. The price realized was seventy-five cents a dozen, cash, free on board in Harford county. The same firm also bought some 10,000 cases of sugar corn at eighty cents a dozen. This transaction is unprecedented in proportion. The lifting of this immense stock from the market has been followed by a large buying movement, and yesterday the market was excited, with strong indications of a permanent improvement.

PIERRE LORILLARD PAYS $5 FOR HIS LIFE.—Pierre Lorillard, the millionaire, had a narrow escape last Tuesday night from death on the line of the Alabama Great Southern Railroad. He has been traveling through the South with his family and friends in the beautiful boudoir car the "Adelina Patti," which he has chartered. Last night, as the train to which the car was attached neared this city going at the rate of forty miles an hour, two boys were seen on the track near a sharp curve waving the train down. It was discovered that a bridge just beyond the curve had washed away and had the train gone further every car would have dashed into the deep chasm. The boys had stood in the bitter cold four hours to warn the train. A purse was taken up for them and Lorillard contributed just five dollars.

A NEW CURE FOR INTEMPERANCE.—Dr. Fleischl, of Vienna, is reported to have made the discovery that cocaine chloride in doses of from one-twelfth to one-fourth of a grain, dissolved in water and hypodermically administered, will cure morphinism, alcoholism and similar habits within ten days. If this be true, the advocates of prohibition have a powerful weapon with which to prosecute their crusade against intemperance.

LETTER FROM ROCK HALL.

Fertilizers vs. Oysters—Swan Point Bar Depleted of Oysters by Gas Tar from the Fertilizer Works—Shall the Fish and Crabs Go Too?—Local Jottings.

ROCK HALL, January 21, 1885.

Messrs. Editors Kent News :—For many years this has been a good point for oystering—Swan Point bar being near at hand and famous for oysters. It is a well known fact that for some time the oysters have been dying, and at this time few live or healthy oysters can be found, and the question is, "What can be the cause of this wholesale destruction? During the past season many dead crabs have floated ashore and some of them covered with a sticky, offensive tar. During the present ducking season swan and ducks have been killed, being unable to fly, the same tar sticking their wings together; and coal tar is to animal life—whether this tar is not the cause of the oysters being killed? Often the river and bay is covered with it, the source of which has been traced to a large fertilizer manufactory. In the manufacture and purifying of coal oil immense quantities of oil of vitriol is used, which extracts from the coal about an equal bulk of this offensive tar. Being of no further use it is sold for the purpose of securing the vitriol by washing out the tar and to use the vitriol in making fertilizer—the tar being sent adrift down the river and bay. As the same tar and vitriol is sent to Baltimore from the coal oil works of Philadelphia by the vessel load, there is no telling how many tons of this tar is sent over towards the Eastern Shore by every west wind that blows. This oil of vitriol may be just as good as any other for the purpose it is used for, provided all the tar is taken out; but surely some other means ought to be adopted for getting rid of the obnoxious tar than sending it down the bay. We hear there are about 150 carboys of vitriol used daily at the Canton Oil Works, which extracts about an equal bulk of tar, and that as much, if not more, comes from Philadelphia; hence it will be seen how much of this obnoxious stuff is turned loose in the waters of our river and bay. If it is the true cause of our oysters dying we think it time some means should be adopted to stop the nuisance. Our boats trading to Baltimore often sail for miles through it floating on the river and bay.

Our little village is still improving and new houses can be seen in every direction. Among the latest additions a doctor has located here in the person of Doctor Taylor, son of J. Clarke Taylor. He has hung out his shingle, and so far has been well received by our citizens and is meeting with some success.

Chicago beef has been on sale for some time and now the new avenue is completed and in good order to Deep Landing, the nearest point to Baltimore on the Eastern Shore, we hope yet to have a steamboat connection with Baltimore, which will bring us within two hours of that city. A connection here would be of great convenience to many farmers living on the bay shore and in the lower end of the county.

We notice that one of the Baltimore papers is giving the daily quotations of fresh fish. So, hereafter, our fishermen will know how the market rules there; heretofore the only means they had of knowing was through their returns. As your paper gives the market reports of the county products it might interest many of your readers around here, who are engaged in fishing, to know the state of the market, as the fishing season will soon be here, and the boys are getting their seines and other tackle in order.

The usual supply of ducks, swans and geese have given the sportsmen some fun this season, and many have been killed. Our friend "Bob" sends his usual number to the city, which are counted by the hundreds if not thousands.

As this tar business may in time keep the fish away it becomes an important question to our people, so many of whom are depending upon the fish and oyster business for a living. It is said there is but one fertilizer company in Baltimore that use tar acid for making acid phosphate, all others using the pure acid direct from the chamber. J. Y.

Annual Meeting of Homeopaths.

The regular annual meeting of the Homeopathic Medical Society of Delaware and Peninsula was held on Saturday in the rooms of the Young Men's Republican Club. The attendance was unusually large, prominent physicians being present from all parts of the State and Peninsula. The society agreed to endow a bed in the new Homeopathic Hospital of Philadelphia for the use of the indigent sick of Delaware and the Peninsula. The afternoon session was called to order at 3 o'clock, L. A. Kittinger of Wilmington, and W. P. Kennedy of Middletown, were elected delegates to the American Institute of Homeopathy which meets June, 1885, at St. Louis, and L. W. Flinn of Wilmington, and T. H. Cooper of Chestertown, Md., were named as alternates.

The different bureaus made elaborate reports, the papers read being unusually fine and of a high order. They were thoroughly and ably discussed. The newly-elected president announced the members of the different bureaus for the ensuing year as follows:

Materia Medica, C. H. Lawton, I. Lukens, Peter Cooper; Clinical Medicine, L. W. Flinn, L. Kittenger, T. H. Cooper; Surgery, J. G. Dawson, W. F. Kennedy, J. P. Lukens; Pathology, L. A. Littenger, J. H. Rile, A. E. Frantz; Obstetrics, J. M. Curtis, C. H. Lawton, C. O. Sainney; Gynecology, T. M. Whistler, S. Chadwick, J. P. Lukens.

TESTING A LOCAL OPTION LAW.—Three Exceedingly Fine Legal Points Before the Court of Appeals.—The argument in the case of the Chesapeake Club, of Annapolis, vs. the State, last week in the Court of Appeals received considerable attention from citizens of Annapolis. Chief Judge Alvey and Associate Justices Bryan, Irving, Robinson, Stone and Yelcott were on the local option law, and presents the following points of law:

First—Can a corporation vitiate a law?

Second—Can a club be punished with imprisonment, and, if so, how?

Third—Can a member be made to testify against the acts of the club of which he is a member; and, if so, can he or not, criminate himself?

John Ireland opened for the defense, State's Attorney Munroe, and Attorney-General Roberts followed for the state, and S. Thomas McCullough closed for the defense.

THE first water-works in the United States were constructed at Bethlehem, Pa., in 1762. In 1886 leaden pipes were instituted. In 1813 these were changed to iron.

The Best Medium—A Hint to Advertisers.

The following very sensible suggestions to business men is taken from the New York Tribune. It says, it is well understood among business men that money can be wasted more rapidly in advertising than in any other way. Advertising is a sound mercantile investment, if the methods and agencies employed are carefully selected. But more good money is squandered in bad advertising methods and catch-penny expedients than in almost any other form of "pushing business" to which enterprising men have recourse. Poster advertising, rock and fence painting, flooding the mails with circulars and postal cards are forms of a common nuisance which disgusts more people than it attracts; and these methods, even when they prove effective, are still in most cases a very wasteful mode of reaching the public.

An advertisement cannot reach the general public so surely and ineffectually in any other way as through the columns of a newspaper that is widely read and trusted. Newspapers which are not respected and faithfully read are not good mediums for advertisers. Newspapers that are purchased only for a half-hour's amusement on street-car or elevated railway, and are not carried home, do not help to sell anybody's wares. Such advertising mediums are no better than the circular nuisance, and almost as wasteful. The experience of enterprising and sagacious business men proves that the best results attend advertising in the best newspapers—those which go to families and are read by one and another in the home circle—those that are not trivial and sensational, but command influence and inspire respect.

Rapid Justice and Detective Ability.

The Baltimore Sun of Wednesday reports the following remarkable instance of swift justice and detective efficiency:

John Gilbert, alias W. Galbraith, James Cregan, alias Russo, and John Fiannigan, the men arrested on Saturday last, charged with uttering false checks on the Merchants' National and Howard Banks, of Baltimore, were brought before Judge Duffy, in the Court of Common Pleas, on a writ of habeas Corpus. Deputy State's Attorney Gans, by working most of the previous night, had drawn the indictments and had the case in shape for immediate action by the grand jury, who had indicted the prisoners yesterday before the time set for the hearing of the habeas corpus. Mr. Gans presented the indictments to the court, and the habeas corpus proceeding came to an end. Mr. W. H. Whyte, counsel for the prisoners, asked for an early trial and they were taken immediately to the Criminal Court and arranged. They all pleaded not guilty. Gilbert's trial was fixed for Monday next. He is indicted as principal, and the others as accessories before the fact.

The case is a remarkable one for the rapidity with which the accused were arrested and brought to trial, and as showing the slight indication that detective ability can seize upon to work up a case. It was about 11 o'clock Saturday when a teller of the Merchants' National Bank brought a forged check to Deputy Marshal Frey, at police headquarters. The deputy marshal at once conferred with Captain Cadwallader, of the detective force, whose men were sent out to cover the hotels, railroad depots and other points where the forgers might possibly be found. Detective Droste was in a blue-line car on his way to the Union Depot, when he noticed a fellow-passenger whom his detective instinct singled out as a crook. The man gave a wary scrutiny to the passengers that was significant to the detective. When the man got out, instead of going his way in a natural manner he looked carefully about him before going into a little hotel on Calvert street. The detective went on to Union Depot, looked over the outgoing travelers, and then came back to the place on Calvert street that he had spotted. A casual chat with the barkeeper developed the fact that three strangers were stopping at the place, and brought out enough about them to cause the detective to report to head-quarters that he had nested some crooked people. Accompanied by another detective he went back, kept the place under surveillance, and before long had all three. In less than two hours from the time the case was first reported the three men were in custody at police headquarters. At the hearing Monday, Deputy Marshal Frey presented a case against them that caused them all to be committed, and then brought evidence before the grand jury on which indictments were found at once. The accused will probably carry away with them a lively appreciation of the efficiency of the Baltimore police force and the promptness with which justice is meted out here.

Notice to Tax-Payers of 3d District.

THE tax books for the Third District are now in my hands and the bill of each individual tax-payer is ready for settlement. I hope that payment will be made promptly, thereby saving me the disagreeable duty of resorting to legal measures.

The law explicitly requires that I shall proceed WITHIN THIRTY DAYS from the date of receiving the books to collect, so that I have no option in the matter.

I may be found at Worton Station every Tuesday afternoon and at the court-house in Chestertown on Saturdays.

Respectfully, JAMES S. GEMMILL,

a16-tf. Coll. 3d Dist.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.

HORACE FAIRBROTHER."

Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,

MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."

159 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE."

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 15, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."

Dyhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. T. BRADDOX."

Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.
