The Secrets of the Spring.

Come out and hear the robin sing,
And hear the bluebirds sing of spring;
And see the swallows on the wing.

Come out and listen, listen long,
And hear the grasses as they grow,
And list the little winds that blow,
And learn to read their secret will—
The secret that they softly tell
To bird and bee in drowsy dell.

Of blossoms buds that are to be,
Of fragrant fields and lawns in bloom,
And all the summer mystery
Of buds and blossoms, flowers and fruit
That quivers now in sap and root,
And now in tender springing shoot.

Come out, come out, the days are long,
But Nature sings her secret song
In secret ways—the days are long,
But Nature sings her secret song

MORACE GREELEY'S RIDE.

AN EPISODE IN THE LIFE OF THE GREAT JOURNALIST.

The following splendid sketch by Artemus Ward affords a good example of the "Genial Showman's" racy style:

When Mr. Greeley was in California, orations awaited him in every town. He had written powerful leaders in the Tribune in favor of the Pacific Railroad, which had greatly endeared him to the citizens of the Golden State. And, therefore, they made much of him when he went to see them.

At one time the agricultural populace tore his clothes while one of his pieces, and carried the pieces
