SATURDAY MORNING.....MARCH 28, 1885.

Kent County Agricultural Association.

CLUB ROOM, March 23, 1885.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We had a very fine attendance at the club today and one of the most interesting meetings we have had for a long time. The statistical correspondent of this county for the Department at Washington asked the club several questions to assist him in making out his report. The answer in reference to wheat was that about 81 per cent. of the general average of acreage was sown last fall and the condition as compared with the growth this time last year was about 35 per cent. This is a very bad showing for a crop of wheat in Kent county, but we hope when the crop is harvested it will far exceed the present outlook. If the crop is a short one many of us farmers will feel it.

Mr. E. W. Hepbron had a very fine Clydesdale horse at the club for the inspection of those present. He is a fine animal.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That every farmer should have an agricultural library, and that this club earnestly recommend every farmer, young or old, to commence at once the establishment of such a library by preserving and arranging such agricultural papers and literature as is found in the publications of the day.

It was suggested that every farmer could have such a library at very little cost by cutting from papers on agriculture articles of interest and preserve them in such a manner as will be convenient for reference at any time.

A member spoke of the advantage and need of a daily boat from Buck Neck to Baltimore, and if such a line was established he thought farmers would turn their attention more to raising vegetables and truck for the Baltimore market, which he thought would be advisable to engage in, as the present outlook for a crop of wheat was not very flattering. After a little talk on the subject the following was adopted:

Resolved, That a daily boat between Buck Neck and Baltimore is demanded and is a necessity to the community, and if such a line is established this society promises to do what it can collectively and individually to sustain such a line.

It was asked if a man not able to do manual work, and did not like to rise early in the morning, was a suitable one to engage in farming? If so, how? It was answered that if a man was mentally qualified he could do so by hiring a competent man as overseer and cut the work out, and the overseer to have the work done.

An original essay on a few ideas relative to experimental farming was read, and considered very good. This is the way to have essays; not spend more time looking over old papers to find something to read than it would take to write out a few practical ideas and thoughts.

The regular subject, planting potatoes, &c., was discussed, and from the discussion I concluded that thorough preparation for planting and thorough cultivation was required, and that we could make better and smoother potatoes with phosphate than with manure, and plant early. Moon was discussed some little—plant potatoes in the dark of the moon. Some thought there was nothing in the moon, others thought there was.

Next Monday we will discuss the advisability of holding a Fair next fall. This is a subject in which every farmer is, or ought to be, interested. Therefore let every one be present on that occasion and give their views on the subject. We had a very fine exhibition last fall and we ought to improve every year. So come out one and all. I have been instructed to say that next Monday a farmer—but not a member of the society—will be present and give a talk on agricultural pursuits; and knowing the gentleman as I do think I can say all will hear something to their advantage if they will come out. X.

Letter from Still Pond.

Eds. Kent News:—I have often heard people after reading a newspaper editorial begin to criticise the author and say how it ought to have been written. I have heard audiences returning from an evening's entertainment repeating how much better they could have performed themselves. I have heard men criticising the leading generals of our late war, and stating that they were leaders merely by the force of circumstances, and that with like opportunities they could have done as well and better themselves. I have also heard some of my fellow-townsmen criticising your correspondent, "Jack," and what a failure his letters were, and that he only lacked longer ears to make him the image of his namesake. Dear Editors, let me ask you, for I must confess my ignorance, why do these self-appointed critics keep their wisdom bottled up within themselves? Newspapers have always vacancies for brilliant editorial writers. The stage and the public are ever ready to welcome any unusual order of talent. The war in Egypt certainly presents an inviting field for latent military prowess, and the columns of the KENT NEWS are always open for interesting correspondence. Come, my critics, either show yourselves or else acknowledge that you are the "Jack's" ears, tail, and all combined. Remember, something brilliant, anything commonplace like "Jack's" letters will not answer.

We've had another streak of winter, cold enough for January. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," and we of Still Pond are certainly sick of this kind of weather. We have been hoping and a "hopin" that spring might come, but we fail to realize it.

The concert troupe arrive at the "El Dorado" of their ambition next Thursday night (provided they have a full house). Their aim is a worthy one, and they have striven long and earnestly to present a good bill, worthy of an audience's appreciation. I overheard one of the members in speaking of the program for the evening say: "Oh, she's a stunner." Well, I am not a member of the troupe, but expect to pay my twenty-five cents to see the "stunner." Hope to see many others do likewise.

Our new pastor, Rev. E. C. Macnichol, is expected to officiate here for the first time the coming Sunday. Being comparatively a stranger to our people his coming is looked forward to with interest, and, should the day be fair, can safely prophesy a full church.

Mr. John W. Hickman delivers his lecture on agriculture, past, present and future in the hall this afternoon. After the agricultural address he intends to deliver an address to the ladies on the subject of matrimony. Mr. H. during his travels has no doubt come in contact with all manner of men, and is consequently able to advise the ladies as regards what style of man would be most likely to secure their future happiness. JACK.

Still Pond, March 26, 1885.

"COLD DAYS" FOR DUCK SHOOTERS.—Persons residing on Elk river, about four miles below this town, were surprised last Friday morning to see a small steam yacht frozen fast in the middle of the river. The yacht was about 30 feet in length and there were three persons to be seen in her. A flag of distress was flying and the steam whistle was blown almost continuously until steam was exhausted. A fog horn was then sounded as a signal for assistance. The weather was very cold and continued so all day, the wind blowing hard. The small cabin on deck appeared to be part of wood and part of canvas and afforded poor protection from the cold. The ice was of sufficient thickness to hold the boat but not thick enough to bear the weight of the men; one who tested it not venturing to walk ashore. They remained in their really perilous position until next day, Saturday, when ex-Sheriff Boulden, of Locust Point, succeeded in breaking a path through the ice and bringing them to land. They were found to be a party of duck shooters from New York. When rescued they had no provisions or fuel and had they remained much longer on the river would have been frozen to death.—Cecil News.

DR. BURCHARD STILL ALLITERATIVE.—Rev. Dr. Burchard delivered a lecture on "Men I Have Met" at the United Presbyterian Church in New York Monday night. He said that the daily papers had mistaken him for a "religious slouch, an ecclesiastical dude, an old fool, and a mule with ears like those of the mule that Balaam rode." He had been called everything but a thief and a loafer. Only last week he had been taken for a plumber. He had also been mistaken for the head waiter of a hotel in Venice. In referring to pride and riches, the speaker made use of the words "person, purse and palace," and then added: "You see I am given to alliteration." Dr. Burchard said he had been called a bigot. He denied that he was a bigot, who was one who stood on a segment of truth, and never looked around the circle.

SUICIDE OF A VIRGINIA GIRL.—Miss Ida B. Sutherland, a highly respected and popular young lady, committed suicide a few days ago at her home in Dinwiddie county, Va., by swallowing a large dose of strychnine. The cause of her rash act was despondency, occasioned by the death of her father and only sister. After swallowing the fatal drug she called her mother and the other members of the family, told them what she had done, and, after bidding them an affectionate good-bye, died. About a week ago Miss Sutherland made an attempt to kill herself by the use of laudanum, but was prevented by her mother.

FOREIGN MINISTERS.

Maryland Gets One of the Most Important

The President on Monday sent to the Senate the following nominations, all of whom were promptly confirmed:

Robert M. McLane, of Maryland, to be Minister to France.

Edward J. Phelps, of Vermont, to be Minister to Great Britain.

George H. Pendleton, of Ohio, to be Minister to Germany.

Henry R. Jackson, of Georgia, to be Minister to Mexico.

Sketches of the New Ministers.

Gov. McLane has a wide national acquaintance, and his peculiar fitness for the French mission seems to have been generally recognized. His appointment was no doubt helped by Maryland leaders, but it is said to have come along without the special recommendation of any one. It is even intimated that the whisper of Mr. Samuel J. Tilden came all the way from Greystone to the White House in behalf of Gov. McLane. The new French minister, who was partly educated in Paris, and has spent a considerable part of his life in that capital, is a good French scholar. The diplomatic career of the newly-appointed minister to France, however, is a part of Gov. McLane's record to which public interest chiefly attaches just now. President Pierce appointed him in 1853 commissioner to China, with the power of a minister plenipotentiary. At the same time he was accredited to Japan, Siam, Corea and Cochin-China, a naval force being placed by the President subject to his control. His services on this mission form a most interesting chapter in the history of our country. President Buchannan appointed him in 1859 envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the republic of Mexico, in which capacity he had power to exercise his own discretion in many important particulars. The result of this mission was the negotiation with the Juarez government and the signing of a treaty between the United States and Mexico for the protection of the lives and property of our citizens. These experiences, joined to his other well known qualifications, it is considered eminently fit Mr. McLane for the mission to France. He is as conversant with continental politics as any other living American, and is well informed in the modes of thought and tendencies of the French leaders and people. He is said to have as much familiarity with European politics as with the politics at home, and has always had more or less acquaintance with French public men, from Lafayette, in 1829, when Robert M. McLane was a lad at school in Paris, down through the reign of the Empire, and until the present time.

Edward J. Phelps, the new minister to Great Britain, is a prominent lawyer of Burlington, Vt., and about sixty years of age. His father Samuel S. Phelps, was a prominent lawyer and a whig politician of his day, having been for several years a judge of the Supreme Court of Vermont, and was twice United States Senator from that State—from 1839 to 1851, and again from January, 1853, to October, 1854. The new minister studied law with Senator Edmunds, and for many years past has occupied a leading position at the bar. He is an ex-president of the American Bar Association; has delivered lectures on law during the past two years before the graduating classes of Yale College; has frequently practiced before the Supreme Court at Washington, and is highly esteemed as a lawyer and a man of culture. He has also been prominent in the counsels of the democratic party, having several times been the candidate of his party for the governorship of Vermont, but has not, we believe, ever held a public office. He is the possessor of a moderate fortune. Mr. Phelps is a personal friend of Mr. Justice Field, of the Supreme Court, who speaks in the highest terms of his learning and ability.

George H. Pendleton was born in Cincinnati, July 19, 1825, and was partly educated at the Woodward High School and the Cincinnati College, and in 1844 he was sent to Europe, where he remained at Heidelberg University for some time, though he did more to complete and round up his education by a three years' course of travel and sojourn in the various capitals of Europe than by all other means beside. Returning, he entered upon the practice of law in Cincinnati as a partner of Hon. George E. Pugh, who a few years later was chosen United States Senator from Ohio to succeed Salmon P. Chase. In 1853 George H. Pendleton was elected to the Ohio Senate, and managed the canvass for Mr. Pugh, which resulted in his election to the Senate. In 1856 he was elected to Congress, and re-elected to three successive Congresses. Occupying a seat in Congress at the commencement of the war, he maintained a very conservative position, being given a place on the judiciary committee because of his moderate views no less than on account of his recognized ability. His record shows that while in Congress he uniformly voted for all appropriations that might be necessary to maintain the national honor and to prevent disaster to the flag. In 1862 he became the leader on the democratic side of the House. In 1864 he was nominated by the democratic national convention at Chicago for Vice-President on the ticket with Gen. George B. McClellan. In 1878 the democracy carried the State of Ohio and a large majority in both branches of the Legislature, and Mr. Pendleton was elected to the United States Senate. He entered the Senate on the 4th of March, 1879, and his term expired on the 4th of the present month. He was regarded as one of the ablest members of that body. Mr. Pendleton was a candidate for re-election, but was beaten in the democratic caucus by the Hon. Henry B. Payne. Probably the most important act of his public life was the origination of the civil-service reform bill, which was passed by both houses of Congress.

Henry Rootes Jackson, the minister to Mexico, is a native of Georgia, having been born at Athens, June 24, 1820. He graduated at Yale College in 1839 with first honors, and was shortly afterwards admitted to the bar. He was a colonel of a Georgia regiment in the Mexican war, and for the four succeeding years was a judge of the eastern circuit of Georgia. In 1853 he was sent to represent the United States at Vienna, Austria, where he remained five years. In 1854 the mission was raised to the grade of minister resident. It was when he took this position that the interesting quasi imbroglio took place between Austria and the United States, growing out of the Hungarian war and the Martin Kosta affair. In all these matters his conduct received the warmest approval of the authorities at Washington. In 1858 he resigned and resumed the practice of law in Savannah. During the civil war he was a Confederate brigadier-general and had a command on the upper Potomac. Since the war Mr. Jackson has practiced the profession of law in Georgia. He has of late years held no public office. He is a man of independent fortune and highly indorsed by the prominent men of his State. For several terms he was president of the Georgia Historical Society. As a lawyer he ranked as one of the leaders of the profession in the South.

JOSEPH E. ELLIOTT, a dry goods merchant of Centreville, has made a business assignment for the benefit of creditors, with Wm. Dever as trustee. The liabilities are estimated at $60,000, with assets of $25,000.

HENRY WARD BEECHER said to a reporter in Birmingham, Ala., the other day that he was in favor of a Southerner for President in 1888 and spoke of Secretary Lamar as the man for the honor.

SENATOR BRIDGES, democrat, of the Illinois Legislator, who was paralyzed about a month ago, died last week. This leaves the Legislature once more a tie on joint ballot.

Seed Corn!

Peter Henderson's "GOLDEN BEAUTY"

LAST MAY I bought of Henderson at a cost of over $5 per bushel, some of this Seed Corn; raised a fine crop and now offer Seed at $1.50 per bushel.

Last season Henderson offered this corn for the first time, and says "it is one of the most beautiful varieties of field corn ever cultivated—ears perfect, with 10 to 16 rows, full to the end of bright golden grain, largest size, not hard and flinty nor shriveled; vigorous grower, stalks 8 to 10 feet bearing one and two ears; matures early and unsurpassed in size, appearance and productiveness. Has produced 100 bus. shelled corn per acre under ordinary culture." Mr. Henderson now asks $2.50 per bus.

AYER'S
Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which settled on my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and could not sleep night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 67 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.

HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup. It seemed as if he would die in a struggle. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? SINCERELY YOURS.

MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
220 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.

A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. F. BRAGGIOTTI."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

WINTER is here and Christmas is coming and to be up with the times we have concluded to give a full dress parade of during the holidays, which we think is about as needful as any other present you can make to friends, for when you are cold from the winter breezes there is nothing that can keep you as warm as the Coal and Wood you buy. And the place to buy these articles is at Bacchus' Coal and Wood Yard.

I am thankful for your liberal patronage which you have given me.

Yours, resp'y,
de6. J. D. BACCHUS.

Notice to Tax-Payers of 3d District.

THE tax books for the Third District are now in my hands and the bill of each individual tax-payer is ready for settlement. I hope that payment will be made promptly, thereby saving me the disagreeable duty of resorting to legal measures.

The law explicitly requires that I shall proceed WITHIN THIRTY DAYS from the date of receiving the books to collect, so that I have no option in the matter.

I may be found at Worton Station every Tuesday afternoon and at the court-house in Chestertown on Saturdays.

Respectfully, JAMES S. GEMMILL,

SPECIAL NOTICE!
—AND—
Don't You Forget It!

That on Court Street, next to C. F. Stam's drug store, you will find a HARNESS MANUFACTORY at which the horseman can find a full stock of all goods in the harness line.

We do not keep Hoop Skirts and Calicoes but we keep a HARNESS store and nothing else. We keep the largest stock of COLLARS on this Shore, and WE KNOW HOW TO FIT A HORSE to keep the Collar from Galling.

We keep a heavy hair stuffed Collar that is good to break a colt in; it will not gall if properly fitted. Our stock of Collars, Bridles, Back-bands, Combs, Brushes, Plough Hames, Trace Lines, Cart Saddle & Breeching, Whips, Halters, Blankets, Robes, Lap Dusters, Bits of many different patterns.

We make a specialty of good Wagon Harness, and Fine Buggy Harness. We keep on hand a full line of our own make of Double Harness, Single Buggy Harness, Dearborn Harness, Lead and Breech Harness, and Plough Harness.

We GUARANTEE satisfaction. It will be to your interest to examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. We make to order everything in our line from a ten cent. hame strap to a $75 set of single harness at short notice.

All kinds of repairing promptly done and at short notice. Returning thanks for past favors, I am, respectfully, yours, &c.,
JOHN F. HOWARD,
mh15. Court Street.

TO THE FARMERS
—OF—
Kent, Queen Anne's and Cecil Counties.

IT is universally acknowledged by the most practical farmers that the

OHIO CHILLED PLOW
—IS THE—
Best Plow in the World

for NEATNESS OF WORK and lightness of draft to the team. As I have ordered a large number of these plows, both two and thrte-horse, farmers will do well to give me an early call.

We also keep on hand the old reliable Concave Nos. 9, 10 and 11. Polished Minor & Horton, Wiley Nos. 3 and 4, and Two-Furrowed Plows; Harrows, Twin Single A and Double A; Cultivators and Cultivator Teeth unsurpassed by any manufacture. Single, Double, 3 and 4-Horse Trees and Hames.

As there have been a great many Chilled Plows sold in these counties, and as farmers have been put to a great deal of trouble to get Castings for them, if they will only give the name and number of the plow we will endeavor to keep them on hand at my shops in Galena and Chestertown. I always have on hand Plain and Slip Shares for the Ohio, Oliver, Roland, Advance and Syracuse.

If any of you are in need of anything in my line please give me a call, as I intend to sell low for the cash.

Thankful for past patronage, I solicit a continuance of the same.

WM. A. HYLAND,
GALENA AND CHESTERTOWN.
