Dear Sir

Permit me respectfully to ask your attention to my last letter, especially that part of it which relates to the period named by me for the sailing of the Emigrants.

The first of December is now only nineteen days a head. The Emigrants on the E. Shore expect to sail on that day. It will require eight or ten days at least to furnish them with the necessary outfits. If it may take, even if a vessel were ~~already~~ advertised for now, some eight or ten days before a suitable one could be had. —

In my letter of the 31st October I suggested that, Cook, the owner of the Jacob & Priscilla would in all likelihood be glad to take the Emigrants at 35$ per head if I find them. — I now am led to believe that he might be induced to take all over 12 years of age at 30 — & all under at 20$.
