A NEW YORK TRAGEDY.

Tom Davis, the Swindler, Shot Dead by His Dupe.

James T. Holland, of Abilene, Texas, shot and killed "Tom" Davis in New York on Monday. The papers of that city give interesting particulars of the tragedy. Davis had lured the Texan to his den on the pretense of selling $10,000 in counterfeit notes for $500. He showed him $10,000 in good notes, which he put into a satchel, after receiving the Texan's $500. The satchel was then placed near a false door in a partition, behind which the swindler's brother was concealed. While Davis attempted to engage the Texan's attention the brother slipped the satchel through the false door and substituted worthless paper for the genuine notes. But the Texan was on the alert. He saw the game that was being played, and, whipping out a pistol, demanded the notes he had purchased. Davis hesitated, and the next minute a bullet went crashing through his body. He had simply mistaken his man, as he found too late to his cost. The interesting question arises as to what should be done with his murderer. The Texan had bought the money. It was clearly his property, and, as he claims, in attempting to deprive him of it, Davis and his brother were committing a theft. He shot Davis, in other words, while the other was perpetrating a robbery, and after he had been warned to desist. The Texan's defense would not seem to be vitiated by the fact that he was nominally purchasing counterfeit money, for he may assert that he knew he was buying good money and was justified in outwitting a swindler at his own game. Altogether the case is a very curious one, and the crime of which the Texan stands accused is palliated by the fact that it put an end to the existence of a particularly skillful and desperate rogue.

The Bloody Shirt Again—The Administration Popular in Ohio.

Gov. Hoadly, of Ohio, recently nominated by the democrats for re-election, said in New York one day last week that the chief issue of the republicans in the canvass would probably be the "bloody shirt." "That," said he, "seems to be the burden of Senator Sherman's speech. His is the first gun, and their other speakers will fall into line. In this they are simply following Mr. Blaine, whose August speech of last year was the keynote. If they propose to make their fight on that issue, we are ready for them. In our platform are Grant's last words, 'Harmony and good-will among the sections.'"

Being asked the question whether there was much feeling among the democrats of Ohio against the present federal administration, he replied:

"No; there is no feeling of any consequence. Mr. Cleveland is very popular in Ohio, and his administration is well supported by the people, as our platform shows. We see plainly that already he has destroyed the idea that the rebel debt and rebel pensions would be paid and the rights of the freedmen be imperiled by democratic success. His administration is exploding abuses and gaining praise in every direction. The people of Ohio believe that when a man like John Roach makes a contract with the government he ought to be compelled to perform it, and not be allowed to anticipate payments or escape obligations. They believe that President Cleveland and Secretary Whitney, with the aid of Congress, will give us a navy, and are sure that it is already settled that when any contract is let under this government the contractor will be expected to perform it at the price stated. An end has come to the era of nominally low prices expected to be made good by bills of extras or by poor work. In other words, the people of Ohio believe that the spirit of reform and economy has invaded all the departments of the government, and will stay there at least until March 4, 1889, and they are thankful to Grover Cleveland for it."

MANUFACTURES BRIGHTENING UP.—It must be rather trying to the protectionists, who have been accusing the tariff-reform democrats and the present administration with having brought about the widespread depression in business, to learn that in Philadelphia, the home of protection, the manufacturing interest are beginning to "look up" in a decidedly unequivocal manner. Such at least is the opinion of the Philadelphia Press, one of the most consistent of the newspaper advocates of protectionist ideas. "There is," says the Press, "a bright outlook for the textile trade in Philadelphia. In nearly every branch there has been a revival; in a number there has been a positive boom. Coming as it does at this time, just when the season is opening, the improvement bids fair to be permanent." Mills that have been idle are starting up again all over the city and its busy suburbs, and, as the Press expresses it, there seems to be a general good feeling all around."

THE Young Women's Christian Association of New York will erect a building five stories high, 75x100, at a cost of $100,000.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore papers of yesterday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry $92@$96; Fultz, $ 90@93 for fair to good. CORN—White, prime, 46@49; yellow, 52@53. OATS—31.

HIGH GRADE BONE FERTILIZERS.

We take pleasure in again calling the attention of farmers to our High Grade Fertilizers. It being eight years ago this spring since they were first offered to consumers under their present form; and from that time until now there has been an increasing demand for them, which is a far better testimonial to us than any letters of praise could be, although we do not want for these latter, as we are in receipt of many. It has been our aim to put up the best fertilizers we know how, and the results in the field clearly show that we have hit the mark right in the bull's eye, and we believe if consumers will take our target (American Brand, bull's head) they will strike a good result every time—the bull's eye, if their aim is good.

THEIR CHARACTER.

The main characteristic of our fertilizers is that they are prepared with particular reference to the crop, and not to a chemical analysis; the latter does very well in its place, and we believe in chemistry thoroughly, but consumers are too often deceived with the idea that a chemical analysis is the main thing, and if they get a good analysis and high commercial valuation as figured out with arbitrary prices by the chemist, they must have a fine fertilizer. Now it may happen that a fertilizer, with a commercial valuation of $25 00 per ton, will give a better result on the crop than one with a valuation of $40 00 as based on a chemical analysis. And why should this be? Only because the material used in the one valued at $25 00 was better adapted to the crop than the other.

THEY ARE UNIFORM.

The goods we manufacture are uniform in composition, and are only varied in proportions, year after year, as we believe it to be an advantage to the crop. We have such large supplies of Bone, Blood, etc., from the slaughter establishments of New York, that our fertilizers are largely composed of these, and there is not that inducement for us to use cheaper material, that there might be, if we did not have this material.

BONE FERTILIZERS.

Our products are of a bone base, because we believe that is the most satisfactory source of phosphoric acid, and the large amount of animal matter our fertilizers contain makes them especially valuable in what may be considered the off or poor seasons. Some years it is noticed that almost any fertilizer will give fairly good results, but we find themost favorable comparisons for our products are in the poor years.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 67 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me.
HORACE FAIRBROTHER."
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
MRS. EMMA GEDNEY."
150 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried.
A. J. CRANE."
Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN."
Byhalia, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRADDON."
Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

SECTION 35. And be it enacted, That if any person shall fraudulently register, or attempt to register, in any election district, or election precinct, in this State, in the name of any other person, living or dead, or under any fictitious name, or shall fraudulently cause himself to be registered, or attempt to cause himself to be fraudulently registered in any election district, or election precinct in this State, knowing that he has not the right to be registered in such election district, or election precinct, or shall, by force, threats, menace, intimidation, or other unlawful means, prevent or hinder any person having a lawful right to register, from duly exercising such right, or who shall compel, or endeavor to compel, by any such means, any officer of registration to admit to registration any person not legally entitled thereto, or who shall unlawfully interfere with any officer of registration in the discharge of his duties under this Act, or who shall make any assault and battery, or incite or create any riot or any breach of the peace, at or near to any place of registration in this State during the sittings of any officer of registration provided for by this Act, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof by a competent Court, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding three years, or by both fine and imprisonment as aforesaid.
