THE POLITICAL WAR IN OHIO.

As Interpreted in Paris.

In a recent issue of the Paris Figaro is published the following remarkable bit of news, literally translated:

"The news from the Ohio which is one of the towns prominent of the America, are of one nature most discouraging. Under the leadership of the General John Tecumseh Sherman the last rebellion has burst out a new and threatens to engulf the country whole. The General Sherman was commandant at Georgia in the South and more recently was minister of the finances under the government national. He has been reinforced by the general of Massachusetts, town which is the capital of Boston, to wit, the Georges Frisbyhorr, a warrior of talent and to fear. The reason of the rising is for to prevent the re-establishment of the slavery in the south and thus also the reduction of the tax on the sheep and the cheese, industries occupying the rank the most high in the town of the Ohio."

The Figaro misunderstands the situation as it is, but interprets it about as Senator Sherman and his followers would have it be.

ODD-FELLOWS' MEMORIAL.—Unveiling the Statute of Ridgely.—The unveiling of the monument in Harlem Park, Baltimore, in memory of the late James L. Ridgely, secretary to the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd-Fellows, took place Tuesday afternoon in the presence of an immense throng. The monument is of granite with an altitude of forty feet, the apex being a bronze statue of Mr. Ridgely. A line of procession was formed on Gay street in front of the hall of the order and was preceded by a platoon of police under command of the chief and deputy marshals. These were followed by Chief Marshal of the Order, John T. Jakes and staff. The line was in eight divisions, consisting of uniformed patriarchs, from all jurisdictions; encampments and lodges from Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, orphan children of deceased Odd Fellows, encampments and lodges from Virginia, West Virginia, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Maryland. The seventh division consisted of subordinate lodges and encampments, and the Grand Lodge and Encampment of Maryland and aged Odd Fellows in carriages, and the last, of the mayor and city council, with the officers and members of the Sovereign Grand Lodge occupying the post of honor. The monument was unveiled by Sovereign Grand Sire Henry F. Carey, who made an appropriate address upon the late Mr. Ridgely, recounting his zealous efforts for the promotion of the order of which he had so long been a prominent and useful member.

AN INTERESTING OCCASION.—One of the most striking features of the visit of the New England veterans to the Valley of Virginia was the banquet tendered them at Winchester Saturday afternoon by the proverbially hospitable people of that city and vicinity. The occasion was honored by the presence of Associate Justice John M. Harlan, of the Supreme Court of the United States, who made a speech. Gen. Fitzhugh Lee was prevented by exacting political engagements from accepting an invitation to be present to deliver the formal welcoming address, but this disappointment was largely atoned for by the reading of a letter from Gen. Lee, in which, among other things, he bids the visitors a hearty welcome, and declares that "the South is not chanting miseries over a struggle of a quarter of a century ago, but is waving the Star-Spangled Banner, and hopes the 'bloody shirt' will be furled forever."

THE Baltimore grand jury has put itself officially on record in approval of the new law setting up the whipping-post for wife-beaters. Its report says that since "whipping has been instituted for that brutal offense there has been hardly a case before us, whereas before such cases occurred almost daily." If this record can be maintained for a few years the whipping-post will not only lose much of its unpopularity, but will be set up in many other States to mutely and efficiently protect innocent women from their brutal husbands.

EXPERT PENMANSHIP.—Capt. Seymour Cooper, formerly a recording clerk in the Superior Court of Baltimore, has engrossed President Cleveland's inaugural address, containing nearly 2,000 words, on a new postal card, and will present it in person to the President. Capt. Cooper wrote the letter of acceptance, which was not near so long as the inaugural, on a postal card, and sent it to the President, receiving an autograph letter in acknowledgment. The Captain was a law clerk in Buffalo, and knew Mr. Cleveland personally 25 years ago.—Sun.

PROF. D. P. WYATT, with a class of about seventy-five resident amateurs, will render the operatic cantata, "The Haymakers," in Centreville on Monday and Tuesday evenings next. This cantata, as the title indicates, is founded upon scenery incident to the hayfield, and is replete with choice solos, duets, trios, quartettes and full choruses. The stage will represent a hay field with the mowers, spreaders, &c., at work.

DIPHTHERIA in an aggravated form, says the Observer, has made its appearance in Centreville in the family of Mr. John L. Greaves. Two of his children were taken with it a short time since, and on Saturday his little four-year-old daughter succumbed to its power. The other child is dangerously ill and is not expected to live.

THE fall term of the Conference Academy at Dover shows the usual increase of attendance that has marked the institution for three or four years. The enrollment is now nearly 200. The pupils are chiefly from the peninsula, but an effort is now being made to broaden the field of patronage.

DR. J. D. PITTS is on trial a second time for the murder of Dr. L. T. Walter, on Tangier Island, in May, 1884. His first trial in Elizabeth City county, Va., in September, 1884, resulted in conviction, and a sentence of 18 years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

In Memoriam at Galena.

Messrs. Editors:—St. Andrew's Chapel at Galena presented a sombre appearance on Sunday evening last. The Bishop's chair, altar, chancel rail and font were heavily draped in mourning in memory of Bishop Lay, who was greatly beloved by the people of Galena. He was not only popular among his own people but with those of other denominations. He drew very large audiences whenever he preached here. The rector gave quite an interesting discourse on the life of the bishop; spoke of his having been closely associated with him in his work when he was Bishop of Arkansas, during which time he formed such a devoted attachment for him. He also referred to the fact of so many that were present having received the "laying on of hands" by the bishop. The 315th hymn—one of Bishop Lay's great favorites—was sung very feelingly, D. Boylston, a favorite tune of his. The whole of the music was solemn and subdued. St. Andrew's bell was tolled at 3 o'clock on Monday sixty-two times — the Bishop's age in years. Long will his memory be enshrined in our hearts.

EPISCOPALIAN.

Letter from Galena.

Messrs. Editors:—A grand entertainment was given at the beautiful residence of our esteemed neighbor and friend, Mr. H. J. Gray, on Friday evening, Sept. 18, in honor of his niece, Miss D., a reserved, yet very charming young lady from Delaware City. The elegant mansion was beautifully illuminated, and as we approached it from the drive in the lawn the light shining out through the large, low windows upon the porch showed to me the lovely maidens and gallant gentlemen (the larger part of the company having arrived before me) there assembled. As I neared the house I could hear the gay jests and merry laughter of the company, which betokened light hearts and good humor, thus insuring all a pleasant evening's enjoyment, which we had beyond our most sanguine expectation.

The female portion of the company did certainly merit the compliment of being "very handsome," which was passed by one of Chestertown's gents, who was one of the guests.

The refreshments were abundant and elegant and were heartily partaken of by all. The amusements of the evening consisted chiefly in playing a few of our old parlor games, such as "Thimble," "Clap in and out," etc., and was ended with the spicy game of "Silly questions and funny answers." To play this game the ladies were arranged in a row on one side of the room and the gentlemen on the other; then there are two of the company, one going down one row giving questions and the other down the opposite side giving answers; neither party knowing what the other has said. When the questions and answers are all given a lady asks the gentleman opposite the question given to her and he responds with the answer given to him. One of the ladies asked a gentleman if he would kiss her, and his answer was "If mother says so;" his mother being present made it quite laughable. Another asked the widower if he would marry her, and he promptly responded, "If you are willing." Probably when they meet again it will be with connubial intentions. If so, may Heaven's richest blessing rest upon them, is the sincere wish of their true friend, J. ——.

SIX MONTHS OF DEMOCRATIC RULE.

From the Democratic Advocate.

On the 4th of this month Mr. Cleveland had been President just six months. When he took the oath of office he made a short address, but made no other promises except to give the people an honest and economical government and to enforce the laws faithfully and impartially. He summoned around him a cabinet composed of able men. These would have been more than human had not some errors been made, but the shortcomings have been few and unimportant. The errors have been made quite prominent, while the press have spent but little space in commending the good acts of the administration. During the first six months of a Democratic Administration, with no aid from the legislative branch of government, radical and wholesome reforms have been accomplished.

The power of the Pacific Mail ring has been broken and nearly half a million dollars saved to the treasury. The Importers' ring, a combination representing large capital, has been crushed, and millions more thereby saved.

A score of rings and steals have been exposed in the Navy Department, and that builder of worthless ships at exorbitant profits, John Roach, been cast off.

Millions of acres of public lands have been rescued from railroad corporations.

The "boomers" have been forced off the lands reserved for the Indians, and costly Indian wars been averted.

The Cattle Kings, a powerful combination of capital and influence, which no preceding President dared interfere with, have been driven from the Indian Territory.

The "Whisky Ring" has been forced to pay up its taxes.

The fencing in of public lands by wealthy corporations has stopped, and the lands thrown open to settlement by bona fide settlers.

Hundreds of useless office-holders have been dismissed from the public service, and their salaries, aggregating a large amount, saved to the treasury.

The payment of fraudulent claims of various kinds have been stopped.

Naval and army officers who have been lounging around Washington and other cities for years, doing but little beyond drawing their pay, have been assigned to duty.

Government employes have been taught that they must render service commensurate with their pay.

Protection has been afforded American citizens abroad, and foreign governments given to understand that this government will tolerate no indignities to its citizens.

This is but part of the record. The saving of public money has been considerable, and the economy practiced and enforced will better appear in the estimates of the various departments for the next fiscal year.

The improvement in the public service is very apparent, and the officious interference of government employes in politics has been stopped.

Instead of the country going to wreck and ruin, as the Blaineites predicted, the change in government control has been beneficial. Instead of business being still more prostrated, there has been a steady improvement and a season of general prosperity is at hand. Mines, mills and factories are starting up, new industries, especially in the South, are being inaugurated, and new railroads are being built.

The good work, however, has just been begun yet the record so far is grand. It is only necessary for the party to uphold the Administration, and its achievements in the way of reforming the government will be apparent to the most blinded of Democratic opponents. The party should strive to put the Senate in accord with the House of Representatives. The President, to put his policy into full effect, should have a Democratic Congress to aid him.

PAY YOUR TAXES!

AS COLLECTOR of the Fourth Election District I have my tax books in hand, and bills made out against each individual tax-payer. I am prepared to receive taxes for the year.

To accommodate tax-payers I will be at the Register's office in Chestertown every SATURDAY and TUESDAY afternoon.

Prompt payments are requested, so that I may not be embarrassed and saved the unpleasant necessity of forcing collections.

GEORGE S. BIDDLE,
aug22-tf. Collector 4th District.

A Word to the Wise About Taxes!

THE MAN—or woman either—who pays his taxes most promptly, is the most happy. He has relieved himself of a burden that increases in weight the longer it is borne; costs and interest are added and the tax-payer feels justified in blaming everybody and everything for the results of his own negligence. Therefore, be wise and happy—PAY YOUR TAXES at once—out of your Wheat or Peach money and don't wait for corn or uncertain collections.

To accommodate payers I will be in Chestertown every Tuesday and Worton Station every Saturday afternoon.

I have my books now in hand and your bills are ready. Resp'y,
