Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING............Oct. 31, 1885.

CIVIL-SERVICE COMMISSIONER THOMAN has tendered his resignation, and it has been accepted by the President, to take effect November first.

MRS. LOUISA HOLLINGSWORTH WHYTE, wife of ex-Senator William Pinkney Whyte, died at 10 A. M. on Wednesday. She had been an invalid since 1871.

THE result of the Baltimore election proves that we have a Democratic party in Maryland yet. But no thanks to Keyser, or Wallis, or Findlay, or Marshall.

WHEN Mr. J. V. L. Findlay is again honored with Democratic support in Baltimore—or anywhere else—political treason and traitors will be at a premium. Not before.

THE Keyser and Wallis crowd could neither rule nor ruin the Democratic party of Baltimore. Let them stay now where they have gone and play their part in the Radical ranks.

A HURRICANE raged on the Labrador coast from the 11th to the 15th instant which was unprecedented even in that inclement region. Over seventy vessels and probably three hundred lives were lost.

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL, who has been studying the New York political situation, announces the conclusion that Gov. Hill will have in New York and Kings counties a plurality of 60,000, which will elect him.

WM. CAMPBELL HAMILTON died in Baltimore on the 22d instant after an illness of two days. He was a lawyer and was elected to the House of Delegates in 1878 and again in 1880. He was about 36 years of age and unmarried.

THE Republican meeting set by the State Central Committee for Chestertown was allowed to go by default. Why was this thus? Did anybody fear the gathering clouds? Or is the prospect too discouraging to justify the effort? Yea, verily, and either cause was sufficient!

Sold, but Not Delivered!

In solemn conclave Messrs. Keyser, Wallis, Findlay and Brown, sold the Democracy of Baltimore outright to the Republican party, but they couldn't deliver!—thanks to the sterling worth of the RANK AND FILE.

Death of Gen. Geo. B. McClellan.

Gen. Geo. B. McClellan died suddenly at his residence, at St. Cloud, Orange Mountain, shortly after midnight Thursday night, from neuralgia of the heart. He returned home about six weeks ago from his trip West with his family, and had been under the care of a physician for about two weeks.

What They Hope For.

It is now a foregone conclusion even with the Republican managers in Kent that the principal candidates on the Democratic ticket will be elected. The serious work of our opponents is to secure two or three of their own men by inducing Democrats to cut. Why should any name be scratched? Let Democrats seriously consider the result before doing such a thing.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND formally notifies applicants for office that after November 1 he will decline to grant interviews to them or their advocates. He says that the public welfare and a due regard for the claims of those whose interests in the government are entirely disconnected with office-holding imperatively demand that in the future the time of the President should be differently occupied.

THE trial of Ferdinand Ward, of the late banking firm of Grant & Ward, for grand larceny by procuring $71,000 from the Marine Bank of New York, in May, 1884, on an uncertified check on the First National Bank, has been in progress in New York this week before Judge Barrett and a jury. Ex-President Jas. D. Fish, of the Marine Bank, was the principal witness against Ward. A verdict of guilty was rendered on Wednesday.

GEN. E. C. WALTHALL, Secretary Lamar's successor in the United States Senate, addressed a large democratic meeting at Coffeeville, Miss., last Saturday. He expressed his warm approval of the national administration, and referred to the immense task which was before it, and said it was a matter of surprise that the President and his cabinet had made such rapid and satisfactory progress in their difficult work. He said he had the fullest faith in the President in his ability, his courage, his directness and steadiness of purpose, and in his power to make good his high resolves to elevate and purify the administration.

Why the Legislature Elects a Governor.

As some people may not know why the next Legislature will have to elect a Governor, we will explain: In 1883 Hon. Robert McLane was chosen Governor by the people for a term of four years. Last spring he resigned to become Minister to France by appointment of President Cleveland. The constitution, section 7, article 2, provides that in the event of a vacancy in the office of Governor during the recess of the Legislature, the President of the Sentae shall discharge the duties of said office until a Governor is elected; and the preceding section provides that when a vacancy occurs by the resignation, death or removal of the Governor, the General Assembly, if in session, or if not, at their next session, shall elect some qualified person to be Governor for the residue of the term for which the said Governor had been elected. Hon. Henry Lloyd, as President of the Senate, thus succeeded to the office of Governor, and will continue to discharge the duties of the office until the meeting of the Legislature, when that body will elect a Governor, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution.

Mr. Randall Indorses Cleveland.

The Randall Club of Pittsburg celebrated the first anniversary of its organization with a banquet at Old City Hall Wednesday night. Addresses were made by Samuel J. Randall, W. U. Hensel and others. About 1,000 persons were present. In the course of his remarks Mr. Randall said: "A year ago we were told that the success of the Democratic party would result disastrously to the country; that if the Democratic party got into power it would be a tearing down, instead of a building up. But now we have a Democratic President and where is all the disaster to business that was prophesied? We have a stronger administration than we think. Grover Cleveland may facetiously be called slow, but he is building up the party in a strong and firm manner, and if we only have a little patience he will accomplish work that the Republican party promised for years, but could never do."

LARGEST SAILING VESSEL EVER IN THE PORT OF BALTIMORE.—The new ship Willie Rosenfeld, the largest sailing vessel ever in the port of Baltimore, arrived at Henderson's wharf on the 23d inst. from Bath, Me., in tow of the tugboat Kate Jones, which picked her up near the capes. The Rosenfeld is a magnificent specimen of American marine architecture of 2,455.03 tons gross register, 266 feet five inches long, 44 feet 3 inches beam, and about 28 feet depth of hold. She carries skysails and the main truck is 176 feet from the deck. To copper her to the loading line 4,300 sheets of copper metal were required, and 7,000 yards of canvas were used in her suit of sails. Her main hatch is 12 feet square, and her immense hold is expected to carry 4,000 tons of golden wheat from San Francisco to Europe. She will load coal here for the former port.—Sun.

THE Genesta, which was defeated in the recent international yacht races for the America cup by the American yacht Puritan in New York harbor, arrived at Portsmouth, Eng., at nine o'clock Wednesday morning after a voyage across the Atlantic of twenty days and ten hours, which it is believed beats the best yacht record. She came into port flying three first-prize flags won in her contests with American yachts. Great enthusiasm was manifested by the crowds on board of men-of-war and yachts in the harbor and cheer after cheer greeted her as she sailed into port.

Victory! Victory!

THE DEMOCRACY STILL ON TOP IN BALTIMORE!

The Republicans, The Reformers, The Independents, The Mugwumps, All Combined

FAIL TO OVERCOME THE DEMOCRACY!

The Syndicate of Bitter Tongues—One Academical Pharisee, the little Bonaparte, the Imperial Peacock of Park Avenue—Overwhelmed!

A Native of Kent the Elected Mayor!

The municipal election in Baltimore on Wednesday resulted in the success of the regular Democratic ticket. Mr. James Hodges was elected mayor over Judge Brown, fusionist, by a majority of 2,230 in a total vote of 59,567—the largest ever polled at a municipal election in that city—against 63,335 in the presidential election last year. The city council stands—first branch, 13 democrats and 7 fusionists; second branch, 6 democrats and 4 fusionists. While the interest in the contest was intense, says the Sun, it was one of the quietest election days ever seen. The whole police force was on duty, but there was little or no disorder about the polls, and the arrests for disturbing the peace were very few. Both sides in the contest put forward their best efforts. The democrats, it is alleged, were not only confronted with the fusion party, including the independent democrats and the republican organization, but they also had to meet the defection of the so-called Slater faction in East Baltimore, or of that portion of this faction which could be influenced to combine with the fusionists. This defection in the wards from the first to the eighth decreased Mr. Hodges' vote and correspondingly added to the vote for Judge Brown. The extent to which this effort to defeat Mr. Hodges by a democratic faction would extend was one of the uncertain elements in the contest.

The onslaught was the most terrific that the democracy of the Monumental City has ever sustained. Democratic soreheads, led by such desperate and determined men as Teackle Wallis, Charles Marshal, Wm. Keyser, J. V. L. Findlay and others, together with the republican party and all the incongruous elements that could be brought together, combined to overthrow the regular democracy, but the result clearly demonstrates that the old Gibraltar is unalterably true to her traditions and that nothing can move her from her ancient moorings. It is believed that Judge Brown received a much larger vote than will be cast for the fusion candidates next Tuesday and that all the democratic candidates for the Legislature will be elected by an increased majority.

Mr. Hodges on the Result.

Mr. James Hodges was warmly congratulated on his election as mayor of Baltimore, and in reply made a speech Wednesday night, in which, among other good things, he said:

"It is a great triumph, plucked from the flames of a red-hot campaign, the like of which has not been witnessed in Baltimore for more than the fourth of a century. The dead and wounded are laying around you in a confused and helpless mass, and I doubt if the demoralized forces of the enemy can be reorganized in time to meet the democratic cohorts in the struggle assigned for next Tuesday. The God of battles has smiled upon the right, and let us return to Him our heartfelt thanks for victory.

"We have achieved a brilliant victory today over two armies—the soreheads of the democratic party and their republican supporters, and the triumph is all the more remarkable from the fact that the ablest body of political speakers in any local canvass in this country appeared upon the hustings to overthrow the democratic party of Baltimore. It was a syndicate of bitter tongues, representing the most advanced legal intelligence of this city, with one academical Pharisee, the little Bonaparte, the imperial peacock of Park avenue. This is the combination without any sympathies with the people, who entered into the political arena to slander and overthrow the democratic party. But the god of battles was looking on and refused to smile upon their desperate work, and defeat has overwhelmed them today in perhaps the fairest election that has ever occurred in any city or State in the Union."

GEN. JOHNSON'S EASTON SPEECH.

The Circumstances Attending Hon. Chas. H. Gibson's Reply.

The Easton correspondent of the Baltimore Sun sends to that paper the following as the "exact fact" of the matter to which reference is made:

General Johnson began his speech about 2 o'clock P. M., after having dined at the same table with Mr. Gibson at Norris' Hotel. Mr. Gibson was in the audience on the courthouse square while Gen. Johnson was speaking, and applauded in concert with the whole audience of a thousand people Gen. Johnson's speech, until he made his arraignment of Senator Gorman. At this part of his speech there was no applause. Mr. Gibson, whose estimate of Senator Gorman's character is very different from that of Gen. Johnson, and who did not think that Senator Gorman should be attacked at a campaign meeting of the Talbot democracy, determined, as soon as he heard Gen. Johnson's criticism of Mr. Gorman, to reply to it to the same audience and in Gen. Johnson's presence, and sought to do so, but was prevented by the adjournment of the meeting to the courthouse to 7½ o'clock P. M. by the chairman, after Mr. Prettyman, who followed Gen. Johnson on the programme, had finished speaking. It was not until Mr. Gibson had started to the courthouse, at 7.30 o'clock, to address the evening meeting and reply to Gen. Johnson, that he had any telegram from any source. When on his way to the courthouse to speak he was handed a telegram from a friend in Baltimore, stating that Gen. Johnson would attack Mr. Gorman, and suggesting that he reply to the general's speech.

It is considered here that Mr. Gibson's defense of Senator Gorman on this occasion sprung from the purest political chivalry on his part in his indignation at the attack of Gen. Johnson on one of the Maryland Senators. It is a fact well known to the Talbot democracy, and to the whole of the first congressional district, that Mr. Gorman did not prefer Mr. Gibson as a candidate for Congress last year in the congressional convention, and did not give him the slightest assistance in the canvass for the nomination. If it had been known that Gen. Johnson would have made the attack he did on Senator Gorman his presence at the Talbot county mass-meeting would not have been desired, either by the friends or the opponents of Mr. Gorman. The democratic sentiment in Talbot is to elect the democratic ticket and to trust the judgment of the representatives of the county in the General Assembly on the senatorial question.

Gen. Johnson's interjection of this matter into the campaign meets with universal disapprobation on the part of the democrats, nor is it believed here that previous to Gen. Johnson's arrival in Talbot on Tuesday morning did any democrat know that in his speech he would attack one of the Maryland Senators. However much may be said of his speech by the Baltimore fusionists, it is of no political importance here, and will not affect a single vote. Republican politicians, of course, try to make the most of it in the way of political capital, but some of the leading republicans say on the street that the General's attack on the Senator was unwarranted and in bad taste.

THE PRELLER MURDER CASE.—A dramatic scene occurred in the jail at St. Louis, Friday night, when Saml. N. Brooks, of Hyde, England, met his son Hugh, charged with the Preller murder. The young man succeeded in controlling his emotions, but the elder gave vent to his grief, and had to be supported during the interview. When the prisoner was brought before him he scanned him for a minute and said: "Hugh, it is you." Maxwell turned pale and replied: "It is, father." When the son spoke the old man staggered forward and fell heavily against the bars of the iron cage in which the interview took place. He recovered himself by a supreme effort and again gazed intently at his son. "It would have been better for you to be dead than here," he continued, "and I did not believe the report until now. Your poor mother is nearly dead, and the family is all but ruined." Maxwell sat with downcast eyes and an expression of annoyance on his face. He asked no questions and volunteered no information. The pair were then left alone together, and an hour later the old man came out, with the marks of pain and agitation plainly discernable.

A GRAND VICTORY

awaits the Democracy of Maryland next Tuesday! There is now no doubt of the result. Baltimore has spoken in thunder tones. The sounds reverberate throughout the length and breadth of the State. But let us not relax our efforts; make the majority overwhelming, and thereby show our indorsement of the National Democratic Administration!

The Conviction of Mr. DeFord.

As will be seen by the court proceedings in another column, Thomas G. DeFord, of the late firm of Connelly & DeFord, has been convicted and sentenced to the State penitentiary. All of our readers probably are conversant with the principal facts leading to this result, and the closing scenes will long be remembered by those who were present in court to witness them. Mr. DeFord's active business life has given him a very extensive acquaintance; he has been prominent in Chestertown in connection with various associations and enterprises, and has always been noted for his intelligence and apparent business capacity. He had many warm personal friends, some of whom stood by him to the last and were sorely grieved over his sad misfortune. Since his incarceration in jail his family and a number of friends have visited him daily. He has a wife and five children, who have already removed to Baltimore, where they have relatives.

Eighteen hundred blacks we are told will march up to the polls next Tuesday, solidly as usual, and cast their ballot as one man for the Republican ticket. Why not save them that trouble by allowing them that number of votes to commence with without the formality of voting? Give the Sparks ticket 1800 votes as the contribution of the darky element and then the judges and clerks will be saved the trouble of hunting up names and counting that many ballots! But it may be objected that some of the more intelligent colored voters are disposed to exercise their right of choice; they are no longer under a reign of terror; their security and happiness under a Democratic administration have obliterated their fears; their sense of gratitude to white friends is beginning to be manifested, and they will vote the Democratic ticket entire, or at least certain portions thereof. Very doubtful! very doubtful! However, we have no power to make the change suggested, and so it will be seen next Tuesday whether the prediction is not correct, that the 1800 will march to the ballot box in solid phalanx, with tickets placed in their hands and deposit them as one man.

What is Your Duty?

DEMOCRATS, this question is addressed to you. What is your duty at the approaching election —NEXT TUESDAY? The ticket presented for your suffrage is not entirely to your liking, you may say. Well, is it possible to present a ticket in its entirety perfect and satisfactory to all the members of the party? Is it not unjust and unfair to look at duty from so selfish a standpoint? You will admit that good men are on the ticket —men that are in every way qualified for the positions for which they are named — and if all of them do not come up to your ideal of fitness, may not these very exceptions be the ideal of some other Democrat, and this other Democrat may be as true a party man as you are, and will expect of you the same consideration for his favorites that you expect and exact for yours.

Every Democrat in Kent county should make sure of his presence at the polls next Tuesday, and, like true party men, should vote the ticket without a scratch.

Next Tuesday.

NEXT TUESDAY is election day. Don't forget it. Don't neglect it. This is the only danger the Democrats will have to fear. The white voters of the county, many of them, are not so appreciative of the privilege of voting as the colored man. They take it for granted that there will be plenty of white ballots on the side of the Democracy to hold our good old county safely to her moorings. But will there be? Certainly not if many indulge such indifference. With a solid colored vote of eighteen hundred— sure to be at the polls—and sure to vote, every one of them, every time, for the Republican ticket, it requires every Democrat to cast his ballot in order to make sure the success of all our candidates.

We have a certain majority of two hundred in Kent if the Democratic voters turn out, and we have faith to believe they will do it on Tuesday.

A Republican Ticket in Queen Anne's.

The democrats of Queen Anne's county had thought prior to Tuesday that there would be no republican opposition this fall. This belief was strengthened by the result of the convention of October 20th, which met and adjourned without making a ticket. On Tuesday the convention reconvened and made a straight-out ticket as follows: For the Legislature, Wm. J. Hand, ex-postmaster at Centreville, Wm. D. Goodman, an oysterman, of Kent Island, and B. E. Cook, late postmaster at Church Hill; for sheriff, James E. Watters, ex-mail agent on the Queen Anne's and Kent Railroad; for county commissioners, Thos. E. Bryan, Charles F. Rich and J. Frank Barwick; for surveyor, George A. Barton. The nomination of this ticket will be an advantage to the democratic ticket, in that it will have the effect of bringing out the voters.

REPAIRS TO THE NELLY WHITE.—The Nelly White is on the dry dock at W. E. Woodall & Co.'s shipyard, Baltimore, having new timbers and planking put on her hull all the way along amidships on both sides. Local inspectors Valentine, Saville and Burch made a thorough examination of her and gave some orders in regard to the work. They said they were well pleased with the way the work was being done. It will take about ten days to finish the work, after which she will be nearly as good as new. The cost of the repairs will be about $4,000. The steamer will be in splendid condition when she comes out.

CHARLES ROBINSON, colored, who on Oct. 17 committed a brutal outrage on Mrs. Gardner, a respectable white lady living near Clayton, Del., has been captured in Queen Anne's county and lodged in Centreville jail, where he is held for the action of the Delaware authorities. When interviewed by a Record reporter he denied his guilt, stating that he was drunk during all the day on which the crime was perpetrated, and that if he did do it he remembers nothing of it. His manner during the interview betrayed a great deal of nervousness, and it was evident that he was badly scared.

AN ORATOR KNOCKED OUT.—At the winding up of the republican speaking Saturday night at St. Michaels, James Valliant was called for. He appeared on the platform and said: "Fellow-citizens, fellow-oystermen, what shall I say? The feast is over; Marine has eat the turkey, Miller has devoured the stuffin and Mullikin has lapped up the gravy. What is left for me?" An oysterman in the crowd called out: "Eat the bones and vote for Joe Seth. Hurrah for Seth." The orator fainted.—Easton Star.

A DEER recently dashed through the streets of Hancock, Washington county, and escaped into the country.

QUEEN ANNE'S court begins at Centreville next Monday. The appearance docket contains from 70 to 80 cases, the largest number for several years.

SOMEBODY ought to tell John Sherman that among the rights guaranteed to the negro is the privilege of voting for a democrat if he chooses. —Phila. Times.

WILLIAM T. WARBURTON, SR., a prominent farmer, residing near Bayview, Cecil county, died Wednesday after a protracted illness of typhoid fever. He was in his 77th year.

OBITUARY.—The paralytic attack sustained by Mr. S. Hepburn Blackiston, deputy-clerk of our circuit court, resulted fatally at three o'clock, last Saturday morning. The deceased was born in the upper part of the county, where he lived until about twenty-one, when he went to New York city and entered the employ of an importing house, where he remained until after the breaking out of the war, when he joined the first Maryland cavalry of the Confederate army. He remained in service until the close of the war, and was not captured nor seriously wounded. He bore a high reputation for gallantry and bravery in the army, and was very popular among his comrades. He returned to Kent at the close of the war, and began farming in the upper part of the county. In 1868 he married Mrs. P. A. M. Brooks, by whom he leaves five children, three boys and two girls. D. C. Blackiston became clerk to the county in 1873, and about two years later the deceased entered the office as recording clerk. When Dr. Beck succeeded Mr. D. C. Blackiston in 1879, Mr. Blackiston was retained as deputy, which position he filled until his death. He was quiet in his manners and genial in his social intercourse, and was held in high esteem in Chestertown and throughout the county. His sudden affliction called forth many expressions of sympathy and regret. The funeral services were held in the P. E. Church of this town on Monday afternoon, Rev. S. C. Roberts officiating, and the interment was made at I. U. Among those present from a distance were Capt. Wm. I. Rasin, of Baltimore, and Henry A. Nowland, Esq., of New Castle county, Delaware.

Mr. Charles W. Warren died at Kennedyville last Saturday morning after a lingering illness. The deceased was a native of Queen Anne's and removed to this county about twenty years ago. He was a gentleman of fine social qualities and had made many warm friends. He leaves a widow and several children. A more extended mention is made in our obituary column.

Personal.

Mrs. Matilda Canby, of Wilmington, Del., has been spending a week or two with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Maxwell, in Still Pond. This lady is distinguished for her bright intellectual gifts, as her numerous contributions in verse to the columns of the NEWS in past years show, and now at the advanced age of seventy-five she looks you in the face with the clear eye and beaming expression of youth, while her mind is apparently as active and as strong as ever. May she live to celebrate her centennial year. Mrs. Maxwell, her sister, also retains much of her usual strength and vigor, thought, as might be supposed, the shadow of her recent great affliction hides much of the sunshine from her life.

A "VARIETY WEDDING."—Mr. J. W. Ivens and wife at Worton Station on Monday evening last celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of their marriage with a "variety wedding." The residence of the "bride and groom" was filled with guests who gathered bearing presents to do honor to the occasion. Wm. E. Beck, Esq., delivered a short congratulatory address, and the social enjoyments were kept up till a late hour.

THE Grey's Inn Democratic meeting last Saturday was well attended and the very best feeling prevailed. The utmost confedence of a glorious victory next Tuesday was expressed and the Old Fifth pledged to do her whole duty. Mr. George E. Leary was called to preside and in a few well-chosen remarks introduced as the first speaker Mr. L. C. Justis, Jr., candidate for the Legislature, who spoke earnestly for the cause he represents. He was followed by J. A. Pearce, Esq., who was received with hearty applause and delivered a stirring address.

FARM SOLD.—R. Hynson, Esq, sold last Tuesday the W. H. Davis farm in Broad Neck, containing about 62 acres, to Mr. Thomas B. Hadaway for $1930. The lots at Worton Station advertised for sale on same day were not sold.

SALE OF A DWELLING.—Capt. Chas. H. Wickes has purchased of Mr. Joseph Turner the new dwelling recently built by Milton Baker for him on Queen street. The price paid was $1,800.

BETTERTON P. O.—A new postoffice has been established at Betterton with Mr. Rob't C. Young postmaster. The office will be a great accommodation to many in that neighborhood.

THE net proceeds of the "Young People's" recent festival at town hall amounted to $207.

RELIGIOUS.—An all-day-meeting will be held in Double Creek M. E. Church, Queen Anne's county, tomorrow, Nov. 1st. Rev. V. Smith, of Wilmington, Del., will be present and assist the pastor in the services. Preaching at 10½ A. M. and 7 P. M.

DIED.

At Kennedyville on the 24th inst, after a lingering illness, CHARLES W. WARREN, aged 50 years.

In Chestertown, October 24, of paralysis, SAMUEL HEPBURN BLACKISTON, aged 49 yrs.

In Millington, Oct. 22, Rev. D. A. PRICE, in the 64th year of her age.

In Chestertown October 28th, of brain fever, MARY OLIVIA, infant daughter of Charles E. and Olivia W. Roland, aged 11 months.

In Walnut Neck, Oct. 25, SARAH E., infant daughter of James A. and Eliza Ann Kelley, aged 9 months and 23 days.

Why should our tears in sorrow flow
When God recalls his own,
And bids them leave a world of care
For an immortal crown?

Is not e'n death a gain to those Whose life to God was given?
Gladly to earth these eyes they close
To open them in Heaven.

Then let our sorrows cease to flow:
God has recalled his own:
But let our hearts in every woe
Still say "Thy will be done!"

FATHER AND MOTHER.

In Memory of C. W. Warren.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Having been intimately associated in the family of Charles W. Warren for quite a length of time, we would offer a short tribute to his memory. We can truly say he was a devoted husband, affectionate father and a kind brother, a disinterested friend and a kind man to the poor, irrespective of color. Many were the charities he dispensed, always carrying out the scripture injunction "let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth." In his demise the community has sustained a great loss and to the family an irrepairable one. But we mourn not as those without hope, for with all he was a true and consistant christian, trying to direct those under his charge in the ways of wisdom and truth. Cheerful and genial in manner, always ready and willing to help in time of need. And we doubt not he is reaping his reward in the mansions above. A FRIEND.
