Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING.....Nov. 14, 1885.

FORTY-EIGHT LIVES were lost in the wreck of the steamer Algoma, on Lake Superior, last Saturday morning.

JOHN MCCULLOUGH, the tragedian, died in Philadelphia on Sunday, after about a year's illness.

SEVERAL arrests have been made on the charge of kidnapping men in Baltimore for oyster-dredging vessels.

THE Surgeon-General of the Army gives warning that the cholera is likely to break out in this country next year.

THE Annapolis and Elkridge Railroad was sold at public auction on Tuesday and bought in by the bondholders for $100,000.

MAYOR HODGES, of Baltimore, has appointed ex-Judge Gilmor city counselor, vice James L. McLane, resigned.

THE Protestant Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Easton, meets in Easton on Wednesday, the 18th of November, inst., to elect a Bishop.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S advocacy of the disfranchisement of colored voters unless their votes are all credited to the republican party is said to have caused a serious defection in the colored republican vote in Virginia.

THE President has thoroughly reorganized the civil-service commission by the appointment of Alfred P. Edgerton, of Indiana, William L. Trenholm, of South Carolina, and the reappointment of Dorman B. Eaton.

THE democrats of Talbot county celebrated their great victory by a grand torchlight procession, cavalcade and illumination in Easton last Tuesday evening. Every part of Talbot county was represented in the procession and amongst the spectators.

"BIG FRANK" MCCOY, a notorious burglar, who was convicted of robbing the National Bank of Delaware, at Wilmington, several years ago, and who escaped from the New Castle jail, has been returned there from New York, where he had served out a sentence.

WORK was resumed at Roach's shipyard, Chester, Pa., on Monday. The men greeted the shriek of the whistle at 6.45 with three lusty cheers, which the engineer answered by three sharp toots. It will take about three hundred men to complete the work on hand now.

FULL RETURNS from the Maryland election show that for comptroller, Turner's plurality over Miller is 30,608, and his majority over Miller, rep., and Taylor, pro., is 28,705. For clerk of Court of Appeals, Jones' plurality over Marine is 30,942, and his majority over Marine, rep., and Sappington, pro., is 29,015.

THE fight for the democratic nomination for Governor in Delaware has commenced. The contest is between Dr. Black as the Bayard candidate, and Hon. B. T. Biggs, the candidate of the Salisbury-Lore faction. The nomination is conceded to New Castle county, where both of these gentlemen reside.

GEN. BOND, the superintendent of the House of Correction, has resigned. His resignation was requested by the directors, because of alleged irregularities in the management of the institution. It does not appear, however, that there was any misappropriation of the funds. He has written to Governor Lloyd asking to be heard with witnesses on the charges made against him by the directors.

SENATOR MAHONE'S term of six years in the United States Senate began March 4, 1881, and will expire March 3, 1887. The sessions of the Virginia Legislature are biennial, and hence that body, which meets the first Monday of December next, will elect Mr. Mahone's successor. Senator Riddleberger's term began March, 1883, and will expire March, 1889. His successor will be chosen by the Legislature to be elected in November, 1887.

J. GUEST KING, publisher of the Maryland Gazette (rep.) at Annapolis, is the lowest bidder for the legislative printing for 1886. His bid is $7,500. It occurs to us that Mr. King made his bid simply for the purpose of ascertaining whether the contract could be awarded to a republican! We predict that his curiosity will be more than gratified should he enter into bonds to do the work for the amount specified. Mr. Young, of Baltimore, who was the successful bidder at the last session at $12,400, made a bid of $18,700 and said it allowed him very little margin to do the work.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS.—The Danville, Va., Register states that not a single white man in the town voted the Mahone ticket. The vote of some of the districts of Craig county also furnishes interesting data to those fond of perusing election returns. The vote of Marshall's store precinct, 75, was unanimous for Lee, and McGuire's store precinct also cast its 96 votes solidly for Lee, whilst the vote of Walker's store precinct stood 195 for Lee and 4 for Wise. The mountaineers of little Craig evidently have no use for a political boss.

QUEEN ANNE'S.—The following items are from the Centreville Observer:

Col. Wm. McKenney lost at Wilmington on Sunday one of the pair of black horses he drove on his trip north. The animal was very valuable. The cause of its death has not been ascertained.

The pacing horse Belton, owned by Mr. Sam'l Jester, was sold last week to Mr. John F. Godwin, of this county, for $1,300. Belton paced a mile at Herring Run course a few days ago in 2.32.

Messrs. J. Hersey Hall and Wrightson L. Lowe have purchased the Centreville mill property, through Chas. H. Baker, Esq., attorney for Everett M. Eveleth, mortgagee, the consideration being $4,500.

The four thousand dollars' worth of Queen Anne's county bonds, which were issued to raise money to shell the streets of Centreville, were sold by the county commissioners on Wednesday last and were purchased by W. J. Price, of this county, at 106½, or six dollars and twenty-five cents on the hundred above par.

A very pretty church wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's P. E. church, Church Hill, on Wednesday last at two o'clock. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion; the bridal party passing through a floral gate in the aisle and standing just beyond a second portal to take the marriage vows. The contracting parties were Mr. William Straughn, of Baltimore, and Miss Bessie Q. Mitchell, daughter of Richard Mitchell, a resident of Church Hill district. The church was filled with the friends of the happy couple, who wish them a long and joyous voyage on the sea of matrimony.

In the circuit court, Henry Baynard, colored, charged with assault upon Edward B. Emory with intent to kill, trial before the court; verdict guilty and sentenced to one year in the House of Correction. George Taggart, charged with horse-stealing, trial before court; verdict guilty and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. Jas. Miller, for violation of local option law, 4 cases; guilty, and fined $300 and costs, 3 cases stetted. To be confined in county jail until fine and costs are paid. Geo. e T. Faithful, charged with assault upon Benjamin Tilden, colored, with a shotgun, was found guilty, and a sentence of nine months in the county jail was imposed. James Starkey, colored, was fined $20 and costs for cruelly beating a horse. Charles Shaefer, a white boy about 14 years old, pleaded guilty to the larceny of money and watches from Rev. S. T. Dewing, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years. Joseph Chamberlain, for assault with intent to kill Henry Nichols, was found guilty and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

THE report of the Agricultural Department is that the corn crop is above the average of the past ten years, and the cotton crop better than in the past ten years.

PERSONS buying carpets, oil cloths, matting, etc., in the city, can not do better than purchase of the reliable house of Crane Bros., 67 W. Baltimore street.

THE NEGRO OUTRAGE.

Further investigation seems to demonstrate conclusively the correctness of all the particulars stated last week with reference to the burning of Lem. Pearce's stable near Fairlee. He presumed to vote as he pleased, and cast his ballot openly for the Democratic ticket. For this the negro cabal burned his stable the same night. This outrage will not damage Pearce a particle, as the white people of the county will surely see that he does not lose by the act, but it is a degrading reflection upon the colored race and only demonstrates more conclusively the fact heretofore charged, that the colored people of Kent are compelled by race prejudice to vote at the dictation of their bosses. They must vote all one way or be ostracised or suffer personal injury. A few only are brave enough to break the shackles that bind them.

If any of Lem. Pearce's colored neighbors of the fifth district manifested any sympathy for him in his affliction or a desire to bring to justice the villains who committed the outrage, the reflection would not lie so general upon the race; but as it stands, none but white people are concerned for him or for the arrest of the guilty parties, and therefore the presumption follows that political proscription in its direst form is justifiable in the estimation of the colored man.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Agnes R. Johnson, wife of Col. Richard C. Johnson, near Masseys in this county, met with a fatal accident on Tuesday morning last. She arose early and had been engaged in some domestic duty down stairs, when she went up stairs again. As she was returning by a back stairway she must have made a misstep, when she fell down the whole flight and struck upon her head. Drs. T. H. Crane and E. G. Clark were quickly summoned and an examination proved her injuries to be of a most serious character; the back part of the skull was fractured, and she was unconscious and did not speak afterwards. She lingered until eight o'clock Thursday evening, when she passed away.

Col. Johnson is one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of this county, and he and his family have the sincerest condolence of all in their sudden and deep bereavement.

STORE GOODS AT AUCTION.—Hope H. Barroll, Esq., as trustee, advertises the stock of store goods of Bottomly & Johnson, in Millington, at public auction; the sale commences next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and continues from day to day till disposed of.

Wm. M. Slay and Wm. Stevens, Esqs., as trustees, will sell the stock of goods of Adkinson & Boulter below cost. The store at Edesville opened today (Saturday) for the purpose.

THE KENT FAIR.—In another column will be found the letter of our correspondent concerning the Kent County Agricultural Association, which will be of interest to all our readers and especially the farmer. We are glad to learn that though the expenses of the late fair were greater than the receipts the society is not bankrupt and all premiums will be promptly paid, and the members are not disposed to discontinue their meetings, but will take a fresh hold and put new life into the whole affair.

MR. WILLARD H. NEAL was buried from his late residence near Sudlersville on Sunday last. The largest concourse of people that ever attended a funeral in that section of the county was present. The remains were interred at Locust Hill about one mile from Millington, in this county. Mr. Neal had long been active in the politics of Queen Anne's county, and was one of the recognized leaders of the local democracy.

A MISTAKE AFTER ALL.—That fourteen hundred dollars which the P. E. Church of this town was unexpectedly coming in possession of by an unknown deposit in a Baltimore Savings bank, turns out to be a mistake. The church officials were notified that the amount was there to their credit as published, but a subsequent investigation proved that the bank officials had erred.

REMOVED TO ANNE ARUNDEL.—Mr. H. H. Frost, who has been operating a steam saw-mill in the lower part of this county for several years, has purchased a tract of ten acres of woodland on Magothy river, in Anne Arundel county, and removed thither on Wednesday. His place is near the proposed Baltimore and Annapolis Short Line Railroad.

WATCHES AND JEWELRY.—In visiting the cities to purchase jewelry of any kind or watches, no more reliable house can be found than J. S. MacDonald, No. 4 North Charles street, Baltimore. He is a practical and experienced jeweler and keeps on hand a full stock of the finest and most reliable goods. Give him a call. *

FIRE.— The tenant house on Mr. F. H. Harper's "Pond Farm," on Sassafras river, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning. Loss about $350—insured in the Kent Mutual Co. for $200. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A SPECIAL free train will be run this afternoon, leaving Chestertown at 5.30, to the festival and supper at Worton Station.

ORPHANS' COURT, Tuesday, Nov. 15.—Present, Judges Walker, Hyland and Stevens.

Rev. A. W. Mather was appointed guardian to Ada C. Mather, who filed bond in the penal sum of $800.

Samuel C. Brannock filed the last will and testament of Samuel Black.

Letters of adm. on the personal estate of Mary Wright were granted unto Isaac Holly, who filed bond in the penal sum of $300.

S. W. Aldridge, guardian to Sallie V. Pennington, returned his guardian acc't for 1884.

J. Frank Wilson, trustee for the sale of real estate of Jos. H. Clinton, filed bond in the penal sum of $10,000.

G. W. T. Perkins, adm'r of Caroline C. Perkins, filed a list of debts due said deceased.

The report of sale of real estate of Josias Ringgold, Sr., dec'd, made and reported by Jas. A. Pearce, was ratified and confirmed.

THE Anti-bribery managers of Caroline county offered a reward of $25 for the detection and conviction of a single case of bribery at the election, or $500 for the conviction of 20 such cases.

[There ought to be little difficulty in "scaring up" a few cases if the statement be correct that more than $15,000 were spent for votes in that county and that one man who "got left" spent more than one-half of the amount.—EDS.]

COLLISION.—The schooner William H. Jillard, Capt. Wm. Newnam, was in collision with the steamer Gaston in Baltimore harbor on Tuesday. The port side of the schooner was crushed in to about three inches below water, and the Gaston's stem was slightly damaged. The tug Oriole towed the Jillard to the wharf and her cargo was at once discharged, bringing the leak above water. At the time of the accident the schooner was making sail. She had a general cargo for Crumpton, Md., where she is owned by Mr. Geo. E. Harrison.

IN a pack of cards with which two Chinamen had been playing poker at Stockton, recently, were found five aces, eight kings, six sixes, and a card size photograph of Gen. Schenck. The Richmond State adds that there was also a photograph of Gen Mahone in the pack, but this is doubtless a campaign slander.

BURGLARY AND ARRESTS.—The store of Mr. Geo. W. Harper, at Still Pond, was entered by burglars on Wednesday night and some ten dollars in small change, a lot of pistols, watches, jewelry, etc., carried off. Entrance was effected by sawing a panel out of the front door. Constable T. I. Parsons at Worton Station was notified by telephone and started in search of the robbers. At Kennedyville he struck the trail and in the stackyard of Mr. W. F. Roeder two men were found—Alex. Corse and Ben. Scott, two Chestertown colored men—and in their possession seven watches, two pistols and other articles. The two men were taken to Still Pond and given a hearing before Justice I. R. Starkey, who committed them to jail, where they are now safely secured. Both Corse and Scott deny having anything to do with robbing the store. They live in "Lynchburg," and say they started to go from Chestertown to Butlertown on Wednesday, and when out of town a piece were met by three other colored men—Dick Johnson, Chas. Nelson and a stranger—who were well supplied with whiskey; after drinking freely all round Johnson proposed to go to Still Pond to collect a bill a man owed him there; Corse and Scott consented to go provided they should receive a part of the money to be collected. Reached Still Pond soon after dark and the two latter were left eating cakes while the other three went to collect the bill; Corse and Scott say they went to sleep and were aroused by Johnson and his companions and supplied with boots, watches, &c. They thought it strange but consented to receive the articles after being assured it was all right, and that Johnson should go to Chestertown next day and dispose of the goods for them; walked to Kennedyville to wait for the train; went to the stackyard to sleep and were aroused by the constable. The other three parties "made tracks." Officers are in search of them, but up to this writing no other arrests have been made.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE.—The jury of inquest in the case of the traveling photographer, William McCarter, who was found dead on the porch of Mrs. Crossley's boarding-house in Still Pond on Friday of last week, as published in the NEWS of last Saturday, returned a verdict of suicide after hearing the evidence of Dr. W. S. Maxwell, who, assisted by Drs. Jacobs and Kelley, performed the post-mortem. Their examination revealed the fact that death had resulted from poison, either prussic acid or cyannide of potassium. McCarter had exhibited great grief at the disappearance of his recently married wife, who went away during his temporary absence, declaring, it is said, that she did not intend to live with him again. McCarter's remains were buried in the churchyard at Still Pond.

PROPERTY SOLD.—The building on Court st., Chestertown, occupied by Mr. J. F. Howard as a harness factory, was sold at public auction last Tuesday by Mr. J. W. Corey and Mrs. S. M. Usilton, adm'rs of J. N. Usilton, subject to a ground rent of $31 per annum. It was purchased by Mr. John F. Howard and Hope H. Barroll, Esq., for $1,500. The property is to be divided into two parts, that next to Stam's drug store will be fitted up by Mr. Barroll for a law office, and the other by Mr. Howard for his harness business, substantial improvements being made in the building for this purpose.

COMMENDABLE PROMPTNESS.—The Washington Life Insurance Company has manifested a commendable promptness in the settlement of a recent claim in this county. Mr. Charles W. Warren, of Kennedyville, who had his life insured to the amount of $5,000 in the Washington Life Insurance Company of New York, died on Saturday, Oct. 24. Proofs of his death were received at the office of the company in New York on Thursday, Nov. 5, and on Saturday, Nov. 7, Mr. D. G. Emory, the general agent of the company for Maryland, paid the claim in full. Such promptness speaks well for them.

PERSONAL.—Hon. P. L. Wickes, of York, Pa., has been spending a week or two in Kent enjoying the partridge-shooting sport.

Ex-Senator Hepburn has recovered from his recent attack of illness and was in town last Tuesday.

Mrs. J. A. Pearce has returned home from a six weeks' visit to relatives in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. J. W. Lambert, who has been in Baltimore ten days under the treatment of physicians, returned home on Thursday somewhat improved. His disease is not considered dangerous.

Mr. Tylden Brice, of Eastern Neck, has lost two children recently from diphtheria. No other cases are reported in that vicinity.

A citizen of Chestertown has received a letter from Mr. Thomas G. DeFord since the incarceration of the latter in the State penitentiary. The prisoner writes in a cheerful tone, and takes his fate submissively. He has been put in the shoe department. His family have friends in Baltimore who are caring for their necessities.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. T. V. Simpson is having erected on Kent street, next to his residence, a snug two-story frame dwelling. It contains three rooms and hall on first floor and four rooms on second, and will be about the handsomest dwelling on the street. The builders are Messrs. Frank and Jesse Duyer. It is to be tenanted next year by the latter.

The Sunday-school room connected with the P. E. Church in Chestertown, is undergoing repairs. The flat tin roof has been removed, and a roof with more slope is being substituted. The bell, which is of very little use as now hung in the church belfry, is to be changed to a temporary belfry on the school-room. When the church is improved by the proposed tower the bell will be permanently located therein.

Aldridge—Hartley.

Chesterville M. E. Church South on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, was filled to overflowing to witness the nuptials of Samuel W. Aldridge, Esq., a prominent agriculturist and florist of the first district, in this county, and Miss Nannie L., daughter of John Hartley, Esq., of Cave Spring, Roanoke county, Va. The bride, a cultured and charming young lady, is also a sister of Mrs. Margaret, wife of Rev. Wm. H. Sanders, pastor of above church. Long before the hour announced the church was filled with people who were eager to behold the spectacle of transforming Miss Nannie Hartley and into Mrs. Samuel W. Aldridge. True to announcement the wedding party appeared at the church and presented themselves before the altar for union promptly at 8 o'clock, accompanied by Mr. Arthur B. Hammond, a nephew of the groom, of Coatesville, Pa., and Mr. Charles Lewis, of Elkton, as groomsmen, and Miss Sallie Pennington, of Chesterville, and Miss Clara Benson, of Willmington, Del., both nieces of the groom, as bridesmaids. Immediately upon their entrance the wedding party were greeted with Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered upon the organ by Mrs. Henry C. Layman. The pastor, Rev. William H. Sanders, brother-in-law of the bride, performed the marriage ceremony promptly, quickly and effectively, and she who had just walked up the western aisle Miss Nannie Hartley marched down the eastern aisle Mrs. Samuel W. Aldridge! The young ladies of the church spent much time in floral decoration and the charming result did much credit to their taste and skill, but space fails us to even attempt a description. The wedding ceremony over the guests repaired to the residence of the groom, where a reception was held—his sister, Mrs. Dr. H. N. Hammond, presiding. The parlors were crowded, the guests probably numbering 75 or 100, who had come from the four quarters of the compass. The refreshment table groaned beneath its weight of ice-cream, cake of many varieties, foreign fruit, etc., etc., and fully sustained itself in adding to the enjoyment of the occasion. The presents were numerous and both attractive and useful. After a very pleasant stem was slightly damaged. The tug Oriole towed the Jillard to the wharf and her cargo was at once discharged, bringing the leak above water. At the time of the accident the schooner was making sail. She had a general cargo for Crumpton, Md., where she is owned by Mr. Geo. E. Harrison.

Death of J. Osborne Rasin.

From the Centreville Record of Thursday.

The above-named gentleman died at his residence in Centreville last Tuesday morning in the 55th year of his age, having reached his 54th year last October. He was a native of Kent county and came to Centreville about the year 1865 and began business in the shoe trade, which he continued in successfully for several years. The deceased by strict attention to business acquired considerable capital which he began to invest in real estate in Centreville, buying lots and building upon them. At his death he owned in Centreville from 25 to 30 dwelling houses, two or three store-houses, offices and other real estate, the whole being valued at from $25,000 to $30,000. His other real estate, personal property and private securities, including his town property, is valued at $50,000 to $60,000.

For the last five or six years Mr. Rasin has not been engaged in active business outside of looking after and improving his real estate. He invested his capital in the locality where he acquired it, and has been of great advantage to the town, owning more dwellings, possibly, than any other resident. During the past year Mr. Rasin's health has been rapidly failing. Six months ago his sight began to fail him and he went to Baltimore to consult an oculist, who traced the cause of the trouble to Bright's Disease. Since that time he has been out one day and in bed the next, and was a great sufferer.

The deceased had been a devout and liberal member of the M. P. Church for the past four or five years, always ready and willing to contribute largely of his means in support of church purposes.

He was one of the kindest of husbands and fathers. He leaves a widow and five children, one son and four daughters. His remains will be buried today in the Centreville Cemetery, after services in the M. P. Church at 2:30 P. M.

The 8th day of Decemb'r, 1885
