Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING..........Nov. 21, 1885.

Letter from Betterton.

Messrs. Editors: — News is comparatively scarce around here at present nevertheless, I feel it my duty to let you hear from us once in awhile, as Betterton is fast becoming a place of note. We are connected by telephone with the greater part of Kent county, enabling us to get all the important news in a short time. We also have a postoffice here, which of course is a great convenience to a number of our citizens. Besides this we have a private mail route, which has been established expressly to break up the one established by the government. Persons who will promise not to patronize the office established by the government will have their mail delivered at their door. City style, is it not? That beats your town, Messrs. Editors, though ever so much larger than ours. I tell you we are getting up in the world.

Capt. Harvey Brice has built himself quite a snug little house at this place. Messrs. Lipscomb and Cozzin have just put the finishing touch on it, in the way of paint, which gives it a bright, cheerful appearance. They have been painting in the neighborhood for sometime and are considered neat workmen.

Miss Lily Duer, of Pocomoke City, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jas. T. Crew, of this place. Mr. George R. Mann, of Baltimore, formerly of this place, was over on a visit a few days last week. Mrs. Matilda Clark, of Baltimore, has been visiting friends here for the past few weeks.

The most of our neighbors are killing hogs this week; fear of the cholera has prompted the most of them to do so. CITIZEN.

The Colored Vote.

Hagerstown Mail.

There was one thing manifested in this State at the late election—that the colored people are gradually beginning to think and act for themselves. Republican leaders are not to have entire control of them in the future as in the past, and to handle them at the polls as if chattels. There is an awakening among these people that under a Democratic administration they are as safe in their rights and freer in the use of them than under any Republican administration. Thousands upon thousands of them voted for Fitzhugh Lee in Virginia and were most efficient in giving him his large majority. We have no doubt but that in this State thousands voted the Democratic ticket or part of it at the late election. The spell and the bond are broken, and it is now for these people to progress and improve in their spirit of independence. Already Senator Sherman has threatened, in view of the loss of a large colored vote to the Republican party, to disfranchise them and the white people of the South by depriving them of their representation in Congress. Sherman may threaten in vain as long as they have the Democracy a bulwark against all such Radical schemes. His threats have already given alarm to the intelligent colored people everywhere, and everywhere there are noted signs of discontent.

Our cotemporary might have made an exception of Kent county. Here they can hardly be said to be gradually beginning to think for themselves. They go in a mass—and woe be to the exceptions!

An Interview with Gen. Fitzhugh Lee.

In an interesting conversation with a representative of the Baltimore Sun, published in that paper of Tuesday, Gen. Fitzhugh Lee declares that he has no aspirations for the United States senatorship, but means to discharge his duties as Governor of Virginia for the full extent of his term. Between Messrs. Barbour and Daniel, the prominent candidates for the senatorship, he intends to pursue an absolute neutrality. Gen. Lee, who has been the recipient of earnest congratulations from men of both parties at the North, reiterate his declarations heretofore published from time to time as to the utter falsity of the campaign stories about him, and adds that these libels were the more unjustifiable because he had been one of the foremost to recognize the results of the war and to plant his back to the past and his face to the future. Gen. Lee expresses himself in favor of an unostentatious democratic inauguration at Richmond, but defers to the wish of the ladies that there shall be an inauguration ball. With reference to the debt question he thinks that issue settled, but hopes that a judicious and conservative administration of affairs may attract immigration and capital to Virginia. He talks in a friendly tone of the public schools, expresses a rather poor opinion of Gen. Mahone's abilities as a political manager, and indulges the hope that the victory just won by the democrats will prove to be the complete and permanent disenthrallment of the State from the clutches which had been fastened upon it.

THE GUBERNATORIAL SUCCESSION.—Hon. Isaac D. Jones, ex-attorney-general of Maryland, writing to the Baltimore Sun concerning the gubernatorial succession, says:

"Section 6 of article 2 of the State constitution provides for filling a vacancy in the office of governor occurring during the session of the General Assembly. If not then in session, at their next session they shall elect some other qualified person to be governor for the residue of the term for which the Governor who had resigned, &c., had been elected. By the seventh section, if a vacancy in the office of Governor occurs during the recess of the Legislature the President of the Senate shall discharge the duties of said office until a Governor is elected, as provided for in the sixth section. No one can discharge the duties of the office of Governor but a 'Governor' who has the qualifications and has taken the oath of office prescribed for that officer. The language of the constitution might have been 'the President of the Senate shall be Governor until a Governor is elected.' The constitution, like every law and instrument of writing, must be construed in accordance with its true intent and meaning—and one of the best possible rules of construction is the universal law of common sense. Where a testator, by his will, gives his entire estate to a legatee, who is expressly charged with the payment of his debts, without naming him as executor, common sense and the law say his duties make it necessary that he be clothed with all the legal qualifications of an executor, and he shall be so called and qualified. By accepting the office and qualifying as Governor, Gov. Lloyd virtually resigned his office of President of the Senate, because he could not discharge the duties of both offices at the same time. From the day he took the oath of Governor he ceased to be President of the Senate. I think this unquestionably the true state of the case, and, in the hope of satisfying any doubt upon this subject in the public mind, I respectfully submit these hurried remarks."

SWEET POTATOES WITHOUT LIMIT.—The sweet potato crop has been very prolific this fall, and that succulent and popular vegetable has in consequence ruled at a reasonable price. The principal source of supply has been from the Eastern Shore of Virginia, particularly the old county of Accomac, the home of the late Henry A. Wise. From this section the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad has carried 200,000 barrels of potatoes this fall, and before the season has ended about 25,000 more barrels will have been shipped North. It is estimated that more than half of these shipments have found a market in this city. The railroad company furnishes the barrels at the cost of their manufacture in this city.—Phila. Record.

THE ELECTION IN CAROLINE—No Tie.—The Denton Journal says:—John Y. Graham is elected, though the official count indicates a tie. There were several scratched tickets voted, bearing the name of Green, simply, and these were credited by the judges to James Green. The law expressly directs that the full name of the candidate must be given, and the ballots having simply Green should not have been credited to James Green.

A PUBLIC SALE of the surplus and young trotting, thoroughbred and Arabian stock of the Montebello stud, belonging to the estate of the late Mr. John W. Garrett, took place in Baltimore on Monday. There was a large attendance on the sale, including home and out-of-town horse buyers. The printed catalogues had been sent to horsemen in different sections of the country. In all 52 animals were sold, and the aggregate sum realized approximated $10,000.

THE Westminster Advocate says: Democracy is marching on to grand achievements everywhere. It is the party of the people, the party of the constitution and coeval with it. Divorced from power for a while, it has regained the ascendancy, and has come to stay. The good results of Democratic supremacy will shortly be apparent in national affairs, and a further lease of power will be granted at the ballot-box in the year 1888.

J. GRATTAN HAGNER, professor of mathematics at St. John's College, Annapolis, died at the college Tuesday morning, of consumption. He had been ill some time, and was compelled to relinquish his duties several months ago. For the past fifteen years he has been connected with the college as tutor and professor.

JAS. FITZ GIBBONS, a brakeman on a through freight train on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, fell from the top of a car at Wilmington, Del., at an early hour Tuesday morning and was crushed beneath its wheels. He was dragged for some distance and frightfully mangled. Death resulted instantly.

AN UNFORTUNATE AFFAIR.—The Union (W. Va.) Watchman says: "On Saturday evening, Nov. 7, Rufus Huffman, who lives about three miles below the Salt Sulphur Springs, Monroe county, was returning home from Pence's mill. About 7 o'clock, when a few hundred yards beyond the residence of M. M. Pine, his horse became frightened, and upon close observation he discovered a dark object in a corner of the fence surrounding an orchard, which he took to be a bear. Turning his horse he rode back to Mr. Pine's and told him there was a bear in the road just ahead. Jacob Pine produced two shotguns, added three buckshot to the usual charge, and the two men went back together. When within about thirty paces they saw the supposed bear, and taking aim, fired very nearly at the same time. Upon investigation they found what they supposed was a bear to be a man, John Rains by name. His flesh was torn with small shot, and three buckshot had pierced his body, inflicting mortal injuries. He died a few hours later. It has been ascertained that Rains was intoxicated. An investigation was held, and Messrs. Pine and Huffman were both acquitted of any criminal intention."

THE Boston Traveller says: "A gentleman who recently met Hon. James G. Blaine found that gentleman in the enjoyment of excellent health, in good spirits, and happy in his literary work. He is engaged at his task three or four hours a day, takes long walks daily, and shows no signs of disappointment over his defeat last year. Indeed, in talking of that event, he says that he thinks he is happier than he could be in the presidential chair."

WASHINGTON real estate is booming. Gen. Logan was lately offered $40,000 for the property which cost him $20,000 only last summer. Senator Don Cameron made $40,000 in the sale of his handsome mansion, and it is reported that Secretary Whitney has refused $50,000 for the property which cost him $30,000 only a few months ago. Senator Sherman made a large fortune in Washington real estate.

DAVID SCOTT, school commissioner for Cecil county, died at his residence on his farm, in the fourth election district of Cecil county, a few miles from Elkton, at two o'clock Sunday morning, from the effects of a paralytic stroke. He was in his seventieth year. He served a term in the Maryland House of Delegates and was a member of the constitutional convention of 1864.

LOGAN gives it up. He is persuaded that the war is over and that the bloody shirt must be put away. He might have acquired this information long ago had he chosen to inquire, but some people need to be hit with a club to bring them to a knowledge of passing events.—Balto. Sunday Times.

A FIRE at Galveston, Texas, which started at 1.40 Friday morning of last week in a foundry and car-repairing shop, raged fiercely until 9.30 A. M., burning over a district including 52 blocks, 7 of which were not swept entirely clean. The loss on the houses burned is estimated at $1,500,000, and the insurance at from $600,000 to $800,000.

GOVERNOR-ELECT LEE and Major Courtland H. Smith, of Virginia, have been invited to meet Governor Hill, of New York, at a dinner to be given at the Union Club. The invitation has been accepted, and the governors will meet the last week in this month or first week in December.

TWO RESIDENTS of Maryland have been arrested by the Virginia authorities, and are in Accomac jail. The charge is unlawful oystering in Pocomoke Sound. It is proposed to make it a test case, and to decide whether or not Marylanders have the right to oyster on the Virginia side of the line.

THE New York papers record that Mr. Schelling, who achieved a sudden fame a short time ago by running away with his employer's daughter, has obtained a situation as conductor of a horse-car and that his wife, who was Miss Morosini, has a place in the chorus of a comic opera company.

REFERRING to the placing of Mahone's organ, the Richmond Whig, in the hands of a receiver, the Philadelphia Times observes that "the Senator no doubt would be also if enough of him were left for this purpose."

JOSH BILLINGS panned out better than most literary men do. His life was good, his wit good and his bank account good. He never harmed anything but the King's English, and then only in fun.

MR. HORACE B. CLAFLIN, the wealthy dry-goods merchant, of New York, died on Saturday at his summer home at Fordham, aged 74 years. His death removes a prominent figure from the world of commerce.

SALISBURY has now the finest postoffice below Wilmington. It has just been completed, is roomy and possesses all the modern conveniences. The entire front of the building is plate glass.

THE Chinese Minister at Washington is soon to give a ball, which, as it is the first of the kind, is looked forward to as a novelty.

THE "Maltby House," Baltimore, is not run on the "Vanderbilt Plan," as a visit to that popular hotel will demonstrate.

HIGH GRADE BONE FERTILIZERS.

We take pleasure in again calling the attention of farmers to our High Grade Fertilizers. It being eight years ago this spring since they were first offered to consumers under their present form; and from that time until now there has been an increasing demand for them, which is a far better testimonial to us than any letters of praise could be, although we do not want for these latter, as we are in receipt of many. It has been our aim to put up the best fertilizers we know how, and the results in the field clearly show that we have hit the mark right in the bull's eye, and we believe if consumers will take our target (American Brand, bull's head) they will in a good result every time—the bull's eye, if their aim is good.

THEIR CHARACTER.

The main characteristic of our fertilizers is that they are prepared with particular reference to the crop, and not to a chemical analysis; the latter does very well in its place, and we believe in chemistry thoroughly, but consumers are too often deceived with the idea that a chemical analysis is the main thing, and if they get a good analysis and high commerical valuation as figured out with arbitrary prices by the chemist, they must have a fine fertilizer. Now it may happen that a fertilizer, with a commercial valuation of $25 00 per ton, will give a better result on the crop than one with a valuation of $40 00 as based on a chemical analysis. And why should this be? Only because the material used in the one valued at $25 00 was better adapted to the crop than the other.

THEY ARE UNIFORM.

The goods we manufacture are uniform in composition, and are only varied in proportions, year after year, as we believe it to be an advantage to the crop. We have such large supplies of Bone, Blood, etc., from the slaughter establishments of New York, that our fertilizers are largely composed of these, and there is not that inducement for us to use cheaper material, that there might be, if we did not have this material.

BONE FERTILIZERS.

Our products are of a bone base, because we believe that is the most satisfactory source of phosphoric acid, and the large amount of animal matter our fertilizers contain makes them especially valuable in what may be considered the off or poor seasons. Some years it is noticed that almost any fertilizer will give fairly good results, but we find themost favorable comparisons for our products are in the poor years.
