SATURDAY MORNING.....Dec. 5, 1885.

OUR SHAD FISHERIES.

The Damage From "Pound Nets," Etc.

Oysters are not the only water interests the people of Kent county and indeed the whole State have, though the luscious bivalve seems in the past to have overshadowed all others in public concern and the Legislatures have not been troubled much about other fish laws. Quite a large number of people, now however, are interested in shad and perch fishing and much complaint has been made of late concerning certain privileges allowed in our water. The approaching session of the General Assembly will without a doubt have the subject up for consideration.

In a recent issue of the Baltimore Sun reference is made editorially to a paper lately read by Col. Marshall McDonald before the Biological Society at Washington, and published as a supplement to "Science," which gave some interesting statistics concerning the shad fisheries of the Atlantic coast rivers from Cape Cod to Maine, and of the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries, to show the necessity of keeping up the supply of shad by artificial propagation. In his statistics he compares the catch of shad in 1880 and 1885 within the water area above described. He shows that, in 1880, the aggregate catch of this fine fish was 3,870,136, and in 1885 4,170,124, the increase being nearly 8 per cent., or 1,650,000 pounds, and the value of the increase $73,530. At the same time he shows that while computing the entire catch, there was this important increase. The waters in which this increase was found were the Hudson river and the Delaware bay, the Chesapeake bay outside the mouths of the rivers, and the Rappahannock and James rivers, especially the James. In the Connecticut river the decrease in the catch in 1885, as compared with that of 1880, was twenty-five and a-half per cent., and in the Chesapeake bay, including its tributaries, twenty-one per cent. Running over in detail the increase and decrease in the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries, the figures indicate an increase of twenty per cent. in the salt water catch of the bay, of eighty-six per cent. in the Rappahannock river, and of a hundred and thirty per cent. in the James river. But, in the Susquehanna river there was a decrease of sixty-five and a-half per cent. and in the Potomac river a decrease of seventy-four per cent., the aggregate decrease in Maryland waters in the catch of 1885 being, as we have said, above twenty-one per cent. The reason assigned by Col. McDonald for the decrease of shad in the rivers we have named is the extensive use of pound nets in the bay. In the Hudson, the Delaware and the James river, where the catch of shad in 1885 was largely in excess of that of 1880, no pound nets are used, and in the Rappahannock, which also showed an increase, one-half of the catch was in brackish waters. The catch in the Susquehanna, says Mr. McDonald, was 614,090 in 1880. In 1885 it declined to 212,909. In the Potomac in 1880 the catch was 552,857, in 1885, 157,697. "In 1880 there were in the Chesapeake bay 180 pound nets set in the track followed by the shad along the Western Shore, and through these the shad had to run a gauntlet up to the mouths of the rivers. Now there are 1,000 pound nets occupying the western shores of the bay, and excluding the fish from the fresh water." The effect of this is to intercept the fish before they reach their spawning grounds, and to so diminish production, wherever pound nets are used, as would ultimately lead to the extinction of shad in those waters if the annual loss largely accruing from this cause were not made up by the practice of artificial propagation, which has been going on for some years past. Before 1871 the shad were entirely taken in fresh water. Now one-half are caught in salt water—all the latter and a part of the former being taken before they can reach their spawning grounds. The destruction of the supply by the use of pound nets is therefore immense, and if our shad fisheries are not to fail altogether, they can only be maintained by steadily keeping up the supply by artificial propagation, or by adopting the law of New York, which prohibits the use of pound nets. In the Hudson, the Delaware and in James river, where no pound nets are used, the catch of shad in 1885 was thirty-three per cent. in the Hudson, thirty-six per cent. in the Delaware, and a hundred and thirty per cent. in the James river greater than in 1880. These facts fully bear out the conclusions reached by Col. McDonald, that "the effect of the salt-water fishery, carried on with pound nets, is to diminish natural reproduction," (by intercepting the shad while on their way to the rivers to deposit their spawn,) "and to invoke artificial propagation as a necessary aid to the fisheries." In conclusion, he says, "if all shad were excluded from our rivers for three or four years without artificial propagation, the species would be exterminated." His explanation of the evils wrought by the one thousand pound nets set in the track followed by the shad in coming up the bay accounts for the complaints of the fishermen in the Susquehanna and the Potomac that artificial propagation has not benefitted them, and shows why it is that, so far as they are concerned, the catch of shad in those rivers is yearly getting smaller.

THE EASTON BISHOPRIC.

Rev. Dr. Smith's Declination—The Convention to Reassemble Dec. 16.

Rev. Dr. Barber, chairman of the standing committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Easton, and president of the convention which lately elected Rev. Dr. Geo. Williamson Smith, president of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., Bishop of the diocese, received the following letter of declination from Mr. Smith on Monday:

Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., Nov. 27, 1885.—To the Rev. Theo. P. Barber, D. D., president, and the Rev. James A. Mitchell, secretary of the convention of the Diocese of Easton:

Reverend and Dear Brethren: With a deep sense of the honor done me, I gratefully acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of the 18th, and your letter of the 20th, informing me that the Convention of the Diocese of Easton had, on the day first named, elected me to succeed the late Right Reverend Henry Champlin Lay, D. D., L. L. D., as Bishop of the Diocese. Although reluctant to cause any delay in filling the episcopate, the gravity of the question submitted to me, the dignity of the convention, the dignity of the office and the interests of the church in Easton appeared to justify a request for time for consideration. Accordingly, on receipt of telegram, I asked two weeks for that purpose, and I beg through you to thank the convention for granting the request. After carefully and prayerfully considering the whole subject I regret to have to announce that I cannot see my way clear to accept the high and responsible office to which I have been undeservedly elected. Believe me, brethren, that no ordinary considerations would have brought me to this reluctant conclusion.

Praying God to guide you to one more worthy than myself to fill the holy office in succession to the sainted Lay, and thanking you for the kind manner in which you have discharged your duty towards me, I am, with the highest esteem, your brother in Christ,

GEO. WILLIAMSON SMITH.

The convention will reassemble at Cambridge on Wednesday, December 16, for the purpose of another election.

Mr. Hendricks and Mr. Gorman.

From the Baltimore Sun.

The late Vice-President Hendricks was always a warm friend of Hon. A. P. Gorman, the senior Senator from Maryland, and from a very early period the latter gentleman maintained the closest confidential relations with him. The first lessons which Mr. Gorman learned in the great problem of politics were learned at the feet of the late distinguished statesman of Indiana. Senator Gorman's father, like his eminent son, was a recognized leader in the democratic party of this State, and exerted a very large influence in its management. When his son Arthur was only thirteen years of age he secured for him, through the influence of Gen. Edward Hammond, the Congressman from his district, and Hon. Wm. T. Hamilton, who was also a member of Congress at that time, the position of page in the House of Representatives.

GOLDEN WEDDING.—Mr. William S. Taylor, of the lumber firm of Taylor & Co., and his wife celebrated their "golden wedding" last night at their residence, West Lexington street, Franklin Square. There was a large gathering of the relatives and friends of the semi-centennial bride and groom, and many were the congratulations and good wishes they received. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have eight children and fifteen grandchildren, the oldest grandchild being a young miss of sixteen and the youngest an infant of thirteen months. Mr. Taylor is seventy-one, and his wife but a few months younger. Both wear their age well, and entered heartily into the festivities of the occasion. They were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate golden-wedding gifts.—Sun of Monday.

REMOVAL.

BARTLEY, the CARPET MAN, has removed to Cross Street, adjoining C. B. Rasin's Livery Stable. Plenty of Carpet and cheaper than ever. Our motto: "Good Work and Honest Measure." To my Patrons and the Public: Those intending to have Carpet made will please send in their orders early so as to avoid the rush later in the season. Thankful for past favors I am yours very resp'y, KENT CO. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Shall we Enlarge the Hall?—Can the Kent Farmer be Benefitted by Legislation at Annapolis this Winter?—The Question Under Discussion.

CLUB ROOM, Nov. 30, 1885.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The society was called to order by the president. There were very few out and but little business transacted. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance next Monday.

The most important item under the head of new business was the proposed enlargment of our hall—make it large enough and suitable for holding festivals, concerts and different kinds of entertainments. We took no definite action, but it will be considered at our next meeting; the member that introduced it will urge it then, he being anxious for it and willing to run his hand into his own pocket to that end.

The question for discussion for today, "Can the farmers of Kent county be benefitted at Annapolis this winter?" was discussed some little, and was continued until next Monday, when it is desired that we have a full meeting and discuss the question fully. It was suggested that a dog law for the protection of sheep husbandry might be beneficial and a pole tax law would lessen taxation upon the farmers of the county and, also, make every voter feel a little more independent in using the public institutions of our county, as he had contributed something to their support. The school law was also touched upon, and it was thought that a compulsory law might be of great advantage to coming generations and the whole country at large by compelling children to attend our public schools, giving them all the advantages of an education, which would make them better citizens. Last, but not least, it was thought a law regulating the manufacturing of phosphates would help the farmers. Some States have such a law, and why cannot something be done in this direction for the farmers, not only of Kent county, but of our whole State.

As this question is to be carried over until next Monday, I will stop just here and endeavor to give a full report of the discussion then. X.

Letter from Fairlee.

Messrs. Editors:—Thanksgiving day has come and gone; did any one think to be thankful for the newspaper? The good citizens of Kent have reason to be doubly thankful for they have the benefits of two good ones—a double blessing. An eminent citizen of Connecticut once delivered an eloquent lecture to prove that the railway is the great agent of civilization. It would be less difficult to show that the press and the schoolhouse are the great pillars on which civilization and all progress therein must rest. Let us slay the turkeys in honor of the press and remember our "Kent News" and "Transcript" as our double annual blessing.

There are changes of residence occurring and to occur in our vicinage. Our old friend Samuel Shuster will take the farm of the late lamented John Newell Ualiton near your town, and his son-in-law, Vincent Lee, will occupy his place on the Helmbold property (the old Frazier farm), leaving the Bordley property to be occupied by Mr. Staats, our accommodating mail carrier.

Mr. A. M. Kendall has moved into a part of Thomas B. Bordley's house, and leased his West End residence to Samuel H. Crawford, Esq., whom we welcome as an addition to our circle of neighbor. Mr. A. B. Jump having bought the place belonging to Mr. Walter Sparks, it is surmised that he will make his residence there. Both Walter and Kendall will probably build in the coming spring or summer. Walter U. Dowling has commenced to collect the material for building a dwelling a little below A. M. Kendall's lot. His father, J. C. Dowling, and family are residing in Baltimore.

James Kendall has been tapped now the fourth time and is much benefitted by the last operation. Dr. T. B. Willson of Rees' Corner was the operator. I understand that Dr. W. thought the case unprecedented in the annals of medical history. Brother Jimmie is as cheerful and happy as of old.

The grangers are waking up. On Thursday last occurred the first special or festal meeting. Mrs. A. Skirven edited and read the "Garner," making an excellent number, and highly appropriate to the occasion—thanksgiving. Among our visitors were Mr. Wellington Bunting, of the business men of Boston, and Mrs. Florence Pogie, of Elizabeth, N. J., a sister of Mrs. Skirven, to whom the members present and their visitors were indebted for quite a musical treat, as her voice is one of much sweetness and highly cultivated. The professor was as happy as usual though a little more brief. He did not count however to pay his respects to "Cheerful Polly." Mr. W. A. Cleaver was also among the visitors. Miss Lizzie Corey gave a fine recitation in excellent style and Miss Minnie Smyth read a dynamitic affair by Tabitha Grimshaw, designed to blow the "superfostcate business all to smithereens." A committee of sisters of the grange are working up a rare entertainment for the Christmas holidays, of which your adv. columns will hereafter give the details. I am at liberty now to say that one evening will be devoted to an "Old Folks Concert" and another to dramatic and rhetorical performances. The talent engaged leaves no doubt that it will be good.

A church entertainment is also in prospectu. Finances low and need replenishing.

SIMON SHARP.

A Game Present.

Messrs. Editors:—Please allow me to acknowledge and extend my thanks through the NEWS to Mr. Noble E. Pennington, of Chestertville, for the nicest and most bountiful present of game I ever became the recipient of. It consisted of eleven fat partridges, averaging within a fraction of seven ounces apiece, and a mammoth rabbit. This was the result of two or three hours' gunning by Mr. P. who prides himself on being a good shot. Such a raking in as this, in a few hours, is sufficient evidence of the fact. With my hearty thanks for such a savory dish and the wish that his future aim be true, and that his fowling-piece may never miss fire, I remain yours, saucily, WALTER.

We have just received our Annual

LETTER FROM KRIS KINGLE

and we have had it printed in order that you may know just what OLD KRIS is intending to do for you. You are well aware that our store is the place where Old Kris gets the pretty things to put in your stockings on Christmas Eve; so you must read the following letter

From Old Kris to his friend Cummings:

KRIS KINGLE CASTLE,
Nov. 24, 1885.

My Dear Old Friend Cummings:—As usual I address my annual letter to you. You know that only once a year I am enabled to write you for want of time, and I write you now because I must pay your beautiful town my Christmas visit for the purpose of distributing to all the children the many pretty things that I shall get at your store, for I know you always have them; and the fact is I have in the past been so well pleased with your selection that I shall not bring anything with me this season, but get all at your store. Please answer at his earliest convenience and tell me what you have in stock to select from. Of course I expect to have my old quarters at your store. I shall be down a few days before Christmas, so that I can have plenty of time to look over your stock.

Very truly, yours, KRIS KINGLE.

Reply from Cummings

CHESTERTOWN, MD., Nov. 28, 1885.

Keep on hand a general supply and make to order

First Class FARM IMPLEMENTS

of all kinds. We keep in store a large stock of first class well seasoned material of all kinds, therefore we can and do guarantee our work to stand. It is not like work put up and sold as first class work that rattles to pieces in less than a year from imperfect workmanship, as has been the case with many unseasoned material.

Our Dearborns, Carts,

PLOWS, HARROWS, CULTIVATORS, &c., are all well finished.

Our WAGONS,

for their neatness and lightness of build, yet strength and durability and light-running, acknowledge few their equals and NO SUPERIOR.

Carriage Repainting and Repairing
A SPECIALTY.

All other Repairing done with neatness and dispatch.

Special attention to Horse Shoeing.

OUR CHARGES to suit the times.

We cordially invite the public to call and see for themselves, get prices and examine our work of Twenty-four years' experience.

Thankful for past patronage we solicit a continuance of the same.

We are also agents for Kent county for Hench & Drumgold Riding Wheel Cultivator, the Taylor Riding Wheel Cultivator, The Taylor Iron Frame Cultivator and the celebrated Beedle & Kelly Corn Planter, and the Oliver Chilled PLOWS. Also all Repairs for same.

Correspondence solicited. All orders by mail will have prompt attention.

W. REGISTER'S
MARBLE WORKS!
[NEXT DOOR TO THE MARKET HOUSE, CHESTERTOWN.]

I Challenge the United States to produce better marble or finer finished work than I have done at my Yard. I guarantee its durability. You can see for yourselves in all your Cemeteries or in my Yard. I work no Scraps that have been thrown away by the saw-yards. I work no Pennsylvania marble; it will not stand the weather. I keep no agent out to torment. Persons know when they want and they had better look at the stone before buying—go look through your Cemeteries and see the broken and defaced stone. If you want a good and lasting Tombstone or Cottage Monument or a Shaft Monument of any size, I have the Largest Finished Stock of Marble on this Shore, and I will not be outdone in Prices. Call and examine for yourself. Respectfully, aug15-tf. W. REGISTER.

Oysters! Oysters!
—AT—
MRS. CUMMINS', ON MAIN Street.

I am prepared to cook and serve OYSTERS in the very best style at short notice at my saloon nearly opposite the Bank, in Chestertown.

Families supplied by the gallon or in smaller quantities. My oysters are fresh and the best to be had.

A HEAVY RAIN!

COOLER WEATHER EXPECTED!

There is no better time to think of one's Shoes than after a rain. Whatever impression you have this is addressed to one who thinks the SHOE STORE can't possibly be the best place to go for Shoes. Will you look at a pair? We can show you the largest selection of shoes and give you what you want and not force something on you that you do not want.

Our Hand-Made Shoes!

are the shoes for ladies who have tender feet—better for comfort and economy but not for your shoemaker. We take that back, we firmly believe what is best for you is best for us in the long run.

Our Mat and Dongola Kid Shoes are becoming very popular. Have you seen our Ladies and Misses' "SCALCHIE?" It is a Button Gaiter to wear over the shoe, made of water-proof cloth and rubber, buttoning up high—the thing for mud. The first opportunity you have call and look at them. Our Ladies and Misses' Heavy Shoes are selling very rapidly and giving entire satisfaction.

We would call your attention to our Line of Men's Boots!

Having purchased a large stock this season we can give you a better selection and save you money by buying of us. Our space will not allow us to give price, but will say we can sell you a fine boot for $1 75, a better one for $2, &c. Our Double-Upper Calf Boot takes the lead for those who do not want a heavy boot. Our stock of Men's Fine Shoes is complete.

We challenge the world to produce to equal ours for durability, style and comfort. Our Waulkenphasts which we have made are superior to all Eastern makes, will give you more wear, comfort and satisfaction and will not cost you as much money as others will charge you for those made by Eastern factories. Look at our Men's $4 Calf Shoes, they are beauties of the latest style.

A SHOE FOR $3

RUBBERS, RUBBERS, RUBBERS, of all descriptions for Men, Boys, Ladies and Children.

COAL! COAL!

TO ALL CONCERNED!

We would be pleased to call your attention to the fact that we are this season buying direct from first hands and at first cost which will enable us to sell at low figures. The buying community will find it to their interest to give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. Will be receiving monthly until further notice.

Respectfully,
ju4. J. D. BACCHUS.
