Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING.....MAR. 20, 1886.

SENATOR GORMAN'S MOTHER died at his residence in Washington last Sunday evening, aged 78 years.

THE Court of Appeals has rendered an adverse decision in the case of Patrick Kernan for a new trial, and "Pat" says "it is just what he expected it would be."

THE United States Senate on Tuesday passed House bill increasing from $8 to $12 a month the pension of soldiers' widows. The bill is now ready for the President's signature.

REFEREE COLE has made a report in the case of Holt against Warner, in connection with the Grant & Ward failure, in which he decides that Warner must disgorge the property which he received from Ferdinand Ward.

THE Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church South, at Staunton, Va., adjourned on Tuesday. The following are among the appointments: Kent, W. H. Sanders; Queen Anne's, T. G. Nevitt; Church Hill and Stevens, J. O. Tackett.

AN order was issued from the War Department on Tuesday retiring Major-General Pope. It is understood that the nomination of his successor and of two brigadier-generals, with the consequent promotions, will be made at an early day.

THERE is every likelihood that the Blair educational bill will never pass the House of Representatives. The House committee on education, to which it was referred, have decided to report it adversely, and it is not likely even that this report will ever be taken up and voted upon by the House.

THE President has once more reorganized the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Edgerton remains, but Mr. Trenholm becomes Controller of Currency and his place is taken by John H. Oberly, of Illinois, while Charles Lyman, at present chief examiner, succeeds Mr. Eaton as the Republican member of the commission.

JACOB SCHAEFER has again proved his right to the claim of being the champion billiard player of the world, having in a five-night game defeated M. Vignaux by the remarkable score of 3,000 to 1,855. Mr. Schaefer scored 230 points in a single inning, thereby beating all previous records. M. Vignaux's highest run was 108.

CONSIDERABLE excitement has been caused at Chambersburg, Pa., by the announcement that gold has been discovered on the farm of George Long, near Greencastle. The yellow substance has been analyzed by practical assayers, who pronounce it gold, but it has not yet been ascertained whether paying quantities of the valuable metal can be found.

DAVID R. HEATHERS, a well-known broker and real estate agent at Easton, Md., cut his throat with a small penknife Sunday morning. When discovered he was leaning over a basin in his bedroom, with the blood flowing from a gaping wound in his throat. While the unfortunate man was being laid upon his bed he grasped his jugular vein with his fingers and tore it out, death ensuing in about ten minutes. He had been afflicted with heart disease for twenty-one years.

YOUNG SENATOR KENNA, of West Virginia, made a corpse of the republican case in the United States Senate last Friday week, and laid it out decently, and it only remains now to give the corpse quiet interment. The New York Herald, which has not sided with the President in the controversy between him and the Senate on the submission of papers relating to removals, says Mr. Kenna did show clearly that the republican position is untenable, and Mr. Edmunds will have to reform his lines and plan a new and very different campaign. On the present line, continues the Herald, the President has the victory over the Senate. The gallant young West Virginian has struck the haughty and puissant Senator from Vermont between wind and water, and he has gone down.

Suicide of a Lady by Hanging.

Mrs. Wm. F. Bailey, residing about one mile and a-half from Ruthsburg, Queen Anne's county, committed suicide by hanging last Saturday morning. She had been suffering from a complication of diseases for a long time, and her mind had become impaired. She had been treated by a number of physicians, but without avail, and she determined to destroy herself. The family were aware of her determination and kept a constant guard over her. Saturday morning, during the temporary absence of the attendant, she rose from her bed and went down stairs. Securing some pieces of muslin she sewed them together and thus made a sort of rope. She then locked herself in a room, made a noose of one end of the rope and, after placing it around her neck, got on a bed, fastened the other end to a large nail which was driven into the top of the window-frame and sprang from the bed. Her absence was soon discovered, and search was instituted. When found she was hanging from the window-frame, dead. Mrs. Bailey, whose maiden name was Thomas, was a member of one of the most highly respected families in the county. She leaves a husband and several children, besides a mother, sisters and brother.

Death of Captain Waddell.

Captain James I. Waddell, commander of the Maryland fishery forces, died on Monday night at his home in Annapolis, of congestion of the brain. He was a native of North Carolina, aged sixty-two years. Captain Waddell graduated at the Naval Academy in 1840, having previously served at Vera Cruz against the Mexicans. He served in the United States Navy until the rebellion broke out, when he resigned and entered the Confederate navy, being placed in command of the famous Shenandoah, with which he waged war against vessels in the Arctic Seas, destroying much valuable commerce. He continued his depredations for nine months after the war closed, when he ran the gauntlet to Liverpool and surrendered to the Queen of England. He did not dare to return to America for some years, but was subsequently given command of one of the Pacific mail steamers, which was sunk on a voyage from Yokohama to San Francisco. Two years ago he was appointed commander of the Maryland oyster navy for two years, which would have expired in May. Capt. Waddell was a seaman of remarkable qualities, bold, daring and original. He was familiar with all the mechanical details of the profession. He was brought up under the old regime, when seamanship was considered the most indispensable prerequisite of an officer. His funeral took place on Thursday and was attended by the members of the Legislature and many of the leading citizens of Annapolis.

Something Wrong Somewhere.

"Governor Lloyd has been promised the Congressional nomination to succeed Charles H. Gibson, who is to be thrown overboard. Comptroller Turner is to defeat Gibson in Talbot county. This, it is said, explains Gibson's inability to secure any federal appointments, as Senator Gorman desires to weaken his influence. —Baltimore American.

The above extract from the American has much incensed Mr. Gibson's friends against Mr. Turner.—Easton Independent.

The above from the American is a lie manufactured out of the whole cloth for party purposes; and knowing it to be such, nobody here that we have heard of has been "incensed" by it; and if there has been any arrangement made by which the friends of Mr. Turner are to defeat Mr. Gibson in Talbot in the interest of Gov. Lloyd's nomination for Congress, Mr. Turner's friends have never heard of it; nor have they heard until told by the American that there was any antagonism here between the friends of Messrs. Gibson and Turner.—Easton Star.

Senator Wilson Again Heard From.

Senator Wilson, of Maryland, made an able speech on Wednesday in defense of the President's course in regard to official papers. When the first notes of the Senate's assault were sounded, said Mr. Wilson, we were told all along the line that the majority must have the President's reasons for removing republican officials. After a while the language was modified, and the demand was only for papers connected with removals and suspensions; and finally, after much deliberation, under the lead of crafty counsellors, it came to be a demand, not for papers connected with suspensions, but connected with the management and conduct of the office. Why this sinuous and underground method of attack, unless it be conceded that the Senate had no right to ask for reasons? Was it fair and manly to do by indirection what there was no right to do by direction? A fortress was no less attacked when sappers and miners undertook to burrow under it than when directly assailed by a storming party. Had the Senate the right to demand these papers? Mr. Wilson reviewed the history of legislation and the practice under it bearing on the question at issue, and argued that the Senate had not the right claimed. He recognized the fact that some Senators said that the demand was not for the reasons of the President's action, but only for papers. "Things that are equal to the same thing, however, are equal to one another." That rule held good in other relations than those of mathematics. It would have been more manly for the Senate to have asked at once for the President's reasons. The course of the Senate was a course characteristic of the circumlocution office. Senators had rules for preventing disclosures of what they themselves might say as to the President's nominations. If secrecy was to be abolished, the process should begin in the Senate, which had ever been the chosen seat of secret charges. No one could blame the President for doing all that the law allowed to prevent his political adversaries from thrusting bad men on him. This was a simple maneuvre for political position on the part of the Senate.

Senator Wilson spoke for exactly one hour, and his speech was logical, bright and able throughout. He was very happy in his treatment of the subject, and when he held the Republicans up to ridicule he caused the Democrats to smile broadly. The leaders on the Democratic side sat near Senator Wilson while he spoke and paid close attention to him, and when he finished they crowded around him and warmly shook his hand in congratulation.

TOLCHESTER IMPROVEMENTS.— President Taggart and Manager Eliason, of the Tolchester Steamboat Company, have made a visit of inspection to Tolchester Beach. The company have decided to erect a building over the entire end of the wharf with seats, and to have a covered passage-way from the wharf to the hotel, so that excursionists will be sheltered from the sun as well as sudden showers. It was also decided to build a novel natatorium, open on all sides and connected with the bath-houses. The bathing at Tolchester has always been good, and now that bathers are to be protected from the sun, the sport will be more enjoyable than ever. Additional improvements are contemplated, as it is determined that Tolchester shall be a first-class resort in all respects.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Miss Georgia Spear met with a painful accident at the residence of her brother, Mr. J. J. Spear, near Masseys, last Saturday evening. While heating some turpentine for treatment of her brother, who was lying sick in the room, the turpentine took fire. For fear of setting fire to the furniture Miss Spear kept hold of the cup with the burning fluid, and her hands and arms were badly burned.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.—Mr. James W. Lambert has been elected delegate and Mr. Wm. Archibald alternate, to represent Chestertown Station M. P. Church in the Annual Conference which meets in Baltimore April 7. The Church is unanimous in the desire for the return of the present pastor, Rev. W. R. Graham. The anniversary of the Home Missionary Society of this Church will be held tomorrow (Sunday) evening.

AN EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT.— Prof. S. T. Ford will give select readings and the Pomona Trombones will furnish music at an entertainment to be given in the lecture room of Bond M. E. Church next Tuesday evening. This double attraction should draw a full house.

FERTILIZERS.—Messrs. Hines & Cacy announce two brands of fertilizers for the spring trade—"The Fruit Grower" for peaches and other fruits, and "Old Kent," which has gained an enviable reputation in this county as a corn fertilizer.

A CONVENIENCE.—H. H. Barroll, Esq., has put a letter-box in his office door, which will prove a great convenience to his clients. It is quite an ornamental affair.

LIME.— Mr. B. F. Fleming offers to farmers the old and favorite Schuylkill quick and slaked lime which has given such general satisfaction—delivered by rail or boat.

THE old firm of Chapman & Lambert still mean business. If you don't believe it, read their advertisements in this issue.

BOARD COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. — Upon petitions of sundry citizens the commissioners passed an order on Tuesday to shell hill near Turner's creek, provided the petitioners have the shells hauled.

Upon application in person of John F. Becks, in behalf of the citizens of Still Pond, it was ordered that the said citizens have sufficient sand from the county lot to repair the walks in said village.

Mr. Morris was appointed by the board to supervise repairs on Morgan's creek bridge, to be made by H. M. Stuart.

The nominations of road supervisors presented by each district commissioner, were considered, and all were approved and confirmed.

Sundry transfers and abatements were made and accounts passed for levy in 1886.

ORPHANS' COURT, Tuesday, March 16.—Present, Judges Walker, Hyland and Stevens.

The last will and testament of Wilson Register was admitted to probate and ordered to be recorded and letters testamentary on the personal estate were granted unto Chas. H. Baker, who filed his bond in the penal sum of $6,000 with approved security. H. M. Thomas and John Bohland were appointed to appraise the personal estate of said deceased.

Letters testamentary on the personal estate of Abe Anderson were granted unto Chas. T. Westcott, who filed his bond in the penal sum of $1,500 with approved security.

John P. Nicholson, Robert G. Nicholson and William T. Nicholson, executors of Robt. Nicholson, filed inventory of the personal estate.

S. T. Wickes, adm'r d. b. n. c. t. a. of Benjamin Chambers, filed the inventory of personal estate of said deceased.

Chas. H. Baker, guardian to Alfred L. Baker, filed his release from said ward.

Chas. H. Baker, guardian to Jas. T. DeCorse, filed his account for year 1885.

J. Frank Wilson, executor of Jos. H. Clinton, returned first adm. acc't and first distribution.

Chas. T. Westcott, adm'r of Geo. Server, Jr., returned his second and final adm. acc't.

A LITTLE "MILL" AT CHURCH HILL. — W. R. Clough and James Cahall, of Church Hill, had an altercation last week over a wager as to which was the better singer, the referee being unable to decide which one had won the money. During the melee each cut the other with a knife, and meeting on the street after their wounds had been dressed Clough knocked Cahall down and stamped him quite severely. They had a trial before Squire Armstrong. In the first case both parties were held for court in $100 bail each. In the second case Clough was fined $5 and costs. When a singing match takes place under the inspiration of Church Hill whiskey the referee should always be a musical expert.

HENRY SCOTT, a negro, sentenced to be hanged at Wilmington, Del., for rape, has had his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. Executive clemency was exercised on the ground that guilt was technical and the prisoner considered mentally very weak.

THE Rev. Dr. Brister, the indicted clergyman of the Spring Valley Church, N. Y., was ordered out of the Methodist parsonage on Monday and given forty-eight hours to vacate the premises.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN.—Mr. James J. Spear died at his residence near Masseys on Sunday afternoon last, after a short illness, aged 55 years. On the previous Sunday, after returning from a visit to a neighbor's, he was taken with a severe chill. A physician was not summoned until the following Wednesday, when his condition was found to be very precarious. His physician pronounced his illness to be typhoid-pneumonia, affecting both lungs. Mr. Spear was a gentleman of warm impulses and of much generosity of nature, and possessed the high esteem of all who knew him. He served through the war in the Confederate army. Since the war he has been engaged in farming near Masseys. He has always taken a lively interest in politics, and was regarded as a party leader in his district. For a number of years preceding his death he had been a member of the State Central Committee for Kent county. The funeral took place on Tuesday and his remains were followed to the cemetery at Georgetown by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

DEATH OF A WELL KNOWN GENTLEMAN.— Mr. John Primrose, who has resided from almost time immemorial at Primrose's Point, one mile below Chestertown, on the Queen Anne's side of the river, died at the residence of his daughter in Baltimore—where he went last fall to spend the winter—on Monday last, of a complication of diseases, aged 71 years. From the proximity of his residence and his frequent visits to Chestertown his face was as familiar to our people as those of our own citizens. The deceased was a warm-hearted and good-natured man and noted for wit and repartee. His demise is sincerely mourned. His remains were brought over on the steamer Ford on Tuesday and interred in the family burial ground on the farm.

ALL-DAY MEETING.—The all-day meeting held in the M. E. Church of this town on Wednesday by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kenney and "Sister Nettie," of Philadelphia, was an occasion of much interest. The congregation was small in the morning, but the house was well filled in the afternoon and at night it was crowded to repletion, many being present from various sections of the county. After the ladies had spoken a number of persons related their Christian experience. One lady from the country, who had lately passed through deep family affliction, sought and obtained the evidence of her acceptance with the Saviour, and her rejoicing was so full and constant that the inspiration spread to all parts of the congregation and produced deep spiritual emotion, culminating in an old-fashioned Methodist jubilee. It was half-past ten o'clock when the meeting broke up.

NO BETTER.—Mrs. Mather, wife of Rev. A. W. Mather, who was stricken with paralysis and reported in the NEWS of last week in a critical condition, has not improved and at this writing is reported as gradually sinking.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, near Crumpton, Dec. 30, 1885, by the Rev. W. A. Crouse, WILLIAM H. BYROM, formerly of this town, and Miss SADIE M. SENNETT, of Queen Anne's county.

DIED.

At her residence in Piney Neck, on the 10th instant, Mrs. ALICE W. WOOD, wife of Chas. C. Wood, in the 43d year of her age, after a long and painful illness borne with true Christian fortitude and patience. [Cecil papers please copy.]

MRS. ELIZABETH VICKERS, relict of Dennis Vickers, departed this life at her residence near Rock Hall, March 16, 1886, in the 81st year of her age. She was for many years a member of Rock Hall Church. L.

At the residence of his daughter in Baltimore, March 15, JOHN PRIMROSE, of Queen Anne's county, aged 71 years.

At his residence near Masseys, on the 14th inst., after a short illness of typhoid and pneumonia, JAMES J. SPEAR, aged 55 years.

OBITUARY.—"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord," and thus blessed was ALICE W. Wood, the beloved wife of Chas. C. Wood, who died of Bright's disease at her residence in Piney Neck, this county, on Wednesday, March 10th, 1886, in the 43d year of her age. Surrounded by her family and friends she left "this house of her earthly tabernacle" in the confident assurance of "being clothed upon with her house from Heaven, whose builder and maker is God." About eighteen years ago, D. C. Ridgeway, then pastor of Kent circuit of the M. E. Church, and J. W. Gray, pastor of Chesapeake circuit of the M. P. Church, made an arrangement to hold a union protracted meeting in a woods near Edesville. The meeting continued several weeks and was numerously attended, being addressed by the two pastors, E. H. Nelson, C. H. Baker, Jas. Kendall and others. There were about forty converts, among them Alice W. Wood, who has so recently gone to experience the blessed truths so feelingly and tenderly set forth by Brother Gray on the first Sabbath morning of that memorable meeting: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away." Sister Wood was among the first to seek that "peace of God which passeth all understanding," but it was with a perseverance and persistent earnestness which proved that she had resolved to obtain what she sought and felt she needed; yet it was not, I think, until the last of these protracted services, and after its close, that the great truth dawned upon her mind that the salvation by Jesus, the Christ of God, is immediate and now, and not in the future in any sense whatever. That He never delays to save any who come to God by Him. The writer was present and can never forget the expression of calm serenity, rapturous joy and glad surprise that beamed from her countenance at that moment. She, at first, if I mistake not, united with the church in Piney Neck, but subsequently became connected with the congregation at Wesley Chapel.

She was a woman of few words, no tattler, no "busy body in other men's affairs," but "looked well to her household and ate not the bread of idleness;" so that her husband attributes his success in life in a great degree to her prudent counsels and judicious management.

At one time during her long illness her friends cherished a hope of her ultimate recovery; she however did not share it with them. About this time she paid her last visit to Fairlee Grange, of which she was a faithful member. A relapse occurred crushing out every vestige of hope and it was thought she was dying. Her affectionate heart clung tenaciously to her children. She had them brought to her singly and charged each to walk in the way in which she had sought to train and lead them so that they would be prepared to meet her in the world of purity and bliss.

Her funeral obsequies were celebrated on the 14th at Wesley Chapel, her pastor, Rev. R. L. Lewis, delivering a discourse replete with consolatory thought from 2d Corinthians, 5-2, and was followed by Dr. D. W. Bates in a few brief and appropriate remarks. The 90th Psalm and a part of the grange funeral service was read by the chaplain of the grange from the pulpit—the entire service not being used because of the dampness of the ground. Preceded by the brethren and sisters of the grange and attended by a large concourse of friends, who appreciated her worth and mourned her loss, her mortal remains were borne to the house appointed for all the living, and amid the sweet strains of a melody, sung by the grange choristers, were committed to the earth. H. M.

When the farmer should begin to turn "Mother Earth." The saving of labor of both man and beast is necessary to compete with the low price of agricultural products. To do this we would recommend first, the which excels all for lightness of draft. Persons purchasing the above not only save labor but expense of shares & points.

We keep constantly on hand all repairs for above Plows, and also for the Oliver, Advance, Syracuse, Roland, Concave, Minor & Horton and Wiley Plows at my shops at Galena and Chestertown.

GLENCOE, JR.

Spring Season of 1886.

I will stand my Stallion, GLENCOE, JR., at our home farm, near Still Pond, at $7.50 for the Season. I would take a few Mares from a distance and they will receive the best of attention, but they will be at the risk of the owner in case of accident. This horse (Glencoe, Jr.,) is a very pretty dark-bay with long, flowing mane, and weighs about 1200 pounds. He is from the Glencoe stock by Ben Boldt; he by Glencoe; he by Bailey Peyton, and from a Keystone Patchen mare. He is good stock on the sire's side for running and on the dam's side for trotting—having good stock on both sides. He is a good stepper.

If the owners of Mares have not the money at the end of the Season I will take note, with good security, payable in Bank three months from end of season.
