circumstances, it is therefore absolutely necessary to defer the emigration of the servants belonging to my Fathers estate till after the 1st January next. By that time, if my life is spared, I have every reason to hope that this matter can be brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

About 3 weeks since, we afford more influential Intelligent Servants died - on whom I had formed very high expectations, in the event of his emigration - But so it seemed good in the sight of Him, who rulleth the destiny of us all -

I thank you for the Papers you so kindly send me: I shall be much pleased to receive the subsequent numbers as issued.

Very respectfully Yours
