Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING.........JUNE 12, 1886.

ONLY ONE FAULT.

I was riding through a bowery country town in Vermont when I chanced to notice a concourse of people in the church-yard, evidently encircling an open grave.

It was a warm day and I had driven ten miles and I drew the rein under some trees that arched the road to allow the horse to cool and rest.

Presently a villager came towards me and I said:

"There is a funeral today in your town?"

"Yes—Stephen. He was one of the largest-hearted men I ever knew. We all owed something to Stephen."

Then added in a tone of regret:

"He had only one fault."

The light fell in pencil rays through the trees. I sat in silence enjoying the refreshing coolness. The man resumed his subject:

"He had great abilities, Stephen had. We sent him to the legislature three times. They thought of nominating him for Governor."

"But," he added sadly, "Stephen had one fault."

I made no answer. I was tired and watched the people slowly disperse, leaving the sexton to his solitary work.

"A very generous men, Stephen was. Always visiting the sick—he was feeling—when any one was in trouble. The old people all liked him. Even the children used to follow him on the streets."

"A good man, indeed," I said indifferently.

"Yes; he had only one fault."

"What was it?" I asked.

"Only intemperance."

"Did it harm him?"

"Yes, somewhat. He didn't seem to have the power to resist it. He got behind-hand and had to mortgage his farm, and finally had to sell it. His wife died on account of the reverse; kind of cursed, disappointed. Then the children, not having the right bringing up, turned out badly. His intemperance seemed to mortify them and take away their spirit. He had to leave politics, 'twouldn't do, you see. Then we had to set him aside from the church, and at last his habits brought on paralysis and we had to take him to the poor-house. He died there only forty-five. There was none of his children at his funeral. Poor man, he had only one fault!"

The ship had only one leak, but it went down.

"Only one fault!"

The temple had only one decaying pillar, but it fell.

"Only one fault!" Home gone, wife lost, family ruined, honor forfeited, social and religious privileges abandoned, broken health, poverty, paralysis and the poor-house.

One fault, only.—Youth's Companion.

Some of Sam Jones' Sayings.

"God can't elect a man unless he's a candidate."

"The biggest fool in Baltimore is the woman who will act as barkeeper for her husband."

"Sow little parties and reap big ones; sow these and reap ballrooms; sow these and reap germans, and from these reap spider-legged dudes, and from these you'll reap a half thimbleful of calves-foot jelly."

"I never saw a first-class billiard player who was worth the powder and lead to kill him."

"What is a town woman but a country woman with Sunday clothes on?"

"The more bent, mashed and warped a ladies' hat is the more fashionable it is."

"Repentance is quitting your meanness."

"Infidelity is nine-tenths mouth."

"I've got as much respect for those fellows in striped clothes as I have for you, who profess Christianity, and hop around at every tap of the devil's drum."

"I'm sorry for a fellow who's got nothing but money; when that's out, he's out."

"I would rather do anything than stand up before the tongue of a mad woman."

"The biggest fool I know is the woman who marries a man knowing all the time that he's dissipated."

"I am sorry for a woman who will sit and hear gossip about her husband."

"The switch is good in its place, but its place is on the tree."

"A gentle horse works anywhere; so does a gentle Methodist or Presbyterian."

"Find a man better than yourself; if you can't find one, stay by yourself though you may be with the biggest rascal in town."

"You can't follow a creed; it's got no legs. You have got to tote it."

"When a preacher and a church haven't got much religion, they must have a creed."

"I like a man who can prove by his wife that he's got religion."

"A true gentleman never swears."

"If the devil wants to catch an ordinary sinner, he covers up his hook, but if he is trying to catch a profane sinner, he drops down the plain hook and the fool grabs it."

"God gave you six days, and one to keep hallowed, and you want to steal that one."

"I'd as soon catch my son with a sheep on his back as a lottery ticket in his pocket."

"A man who tries to run a home with a deck of cards is a fool."

A Sensible Young Wife.

Young wife—"How do you like my cooking? Come, now, give me your honest opinion. How does it compare with your mother's?"

Young husband—"If you want my honest opinion, I will say your cooking is very fair, but it is not quite equal to mother's."

Y. W.—"I did not expect it would be equal to your mother's, but I wish you to remember that your mother had many years experience before you were capable of forming a judgment of her cooking."

Y. H.—"You are right. I never would have thought of that, though I assure you I would have made no comments on your cooking if you had not asked for my honest opinion. The point you have made is a good one, but it is entirely overlooked by young married men."

Y. W.—"It is, and unfortunately, it is not thought of by young wives. The idea of any man saying to a young girl just a year or two out of school, 'You can't cook as well as mother;' or 'You don't manage as well as mother,' and never taking into consideration that mother has had an experience of forty or fifty years! Suppose the young wife should turn round and retort, 'You're not half as skillful a workman as my father?'"

Y. H.—"And I wonder she doesn't. It's a poor rule that wont work both ways."

And so it is when you come to think of it.

WHAT OTHER FOLKS THINK.—A report of the House Committee on Public Lands gives an incomplete list of the vast estates owned in this country by non-residents. Among the foreign owners of lands in the United States are the Holland Company, in New Mexico, 4,500,000 acres; an English syndicate, Texas, 3,000,000 acres; Sir Edward Reid and a syndicate, in Florida, 2,000,000 acres; an English syndicate, in Mississippi, 1,800,000 acres; Phillips, Marshall & Co., London, 1,300,000 acres; a German syndicate, 1,000,000 acres; Lord Dunmore, 120,000 acres; Dundee Land Company, 247,000 acres; and Lord Dunraven, in Colorado, 60,000 acres. The total amount of land held by twenty-nine alien companies and individuals is over 20,000,000 acres. Some of the large tracts of land owned by non-residents in Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico have been converted into sheep ranges. The owners have their shepherds, and enjoy in London and Paris the profits of sheep-raising on their vast American estates. A great deal of protectionist sympathy has been expressed in behalf of these alien sheep raisers lest they should be ruined by a repeal of the duty on wool. The interests of American woolen and worsted manufacturers and weavers appear to be a matter of minor consideration.—Philadelphia Record.

KENNEDYVILLE.—Miss Grace Martin, daughter of Rev. John Martin of this place, is critically ill, though symptoms somewhat favorable this morning. No improvement in Mr. F. Roeder. Children's Day last Sunday at the M. P. Church was a decided success; we had responsive recitations by the school and selected music by the choir; collections amounted to $17 toward sending another missionary to Japan.—The Morgan's Creek nine were over last Saturday and played the Stars of this place; score 44 to 23 in favor of the Stars.

BARNARD'S.—The Pennsylvania Railroad officials attended a meeting at Norris Barnard's on Wednesday and discussed favorably the advisability of constructing a branch road; leaving the main line at a point near Kennedyville and running through Still Pond to Barnard's and terminating on the Fishing Valley road near Mr. Jas. S. Harris' lower farm.

N. Barnard is now spraying his pear trees with solution of white hellebore to destroy slugs.

GALENA.—The Children's Day on Sunday last was a success; the church was beautifully dressed in evergreen and flowers; responsive reading by the school, music by the choir.—The Junior baseball club, of Galena, paid the Cecilton club a visit and were beaten by a score of 15 to 19.

CRUMPTON.—A sturgeon 10½ feet in length and weighing 170 pounds was killed at this place on Wednesday by Edward Walls.

OUR FORE-FATHERS SOAP

FAC-SIMILE OF THE LABEL ON THE WRAPPER.

Ask Your Grocer For It.

NO MORE A MYSTERY. WHY DOES THE CLOTHING TEAR SO EASILY? THE REASONS GIVEN.

ANSWER.—From the use of strong and impure Soap, made up in salable forms and shapes, with which the market is flooded. If you want to be right sure use ECKERS' OUR FOREFATHERS' SOAP—three connecting 4-inch cakes, making each bar one foot long; weight 22½ ounces—recommended by the Best Families, Hotels and Institutions throughout the country. It is prepared by the Grecian Purifying, Boiling and Settling Process, from fresh, clean and selected butchers' tallow. By its use you run no risk of contracting any skin disease; no stiffness of the arms or wrist. A great saving of time and labor. WASHING CLOTHES WITH OR WITHOUT BOILING OR SCALDING. You can use it as you wish, but to wash without boiling or scalding observe these directions: Take lukewarm water, rub with soap particularly on dirty spots, soak half an hour or more, gently rub on board and your clothes will be clean. Try it for one month and you will be convinced of its great advantages. VERY IMPORTANT TO KNOW.—That the best remedy for washing flannels to keep them from shrinking—wash in lukewarm water with FOREFATHERS' or ECKERS' BOARD OF HEALTH SOAP (the greatest disinfectant known), and dry in a warm room; cold water hardens flannels and drying in cold air shrinks them. Ask your grocer for it. ECKERS' SOAPS WILL WASH WITH OR WITHOUT BOILING OR SCALDING.
