1 Large Powder Horn, 1 large Spike Gimblet, & some other small articles too tedious to mention.

There are also some things belonging to Elson Parker that he requested me to send for, which, if you have them, he will be obliged to you to forward with mine. As you are fully acquainted with our situation here, it will be needless to apologize for our having thus troubled you. Should they not be sent by the first opportunity please to let us know the reason. Mr. Parker has been very ill for more than six months, and consequently has not been able to do much on his farm; but he is now fast recovering, and, taking the advantage of the rains, a great deal of which we have had this season, has been endeavoring to put vegetable enough in the ground on which to feed his family.

I have the honour to be
Your humble servt.
David Wilson.
