SATURDAY MORNING.....Nov. 20, 1886.

The Right to Shoot.

It is an ordinary affair in country life for a farmer to discharge a shotgun at trespassers, and he seems to be unaware of the fact that he can be convicted of murder in case the shot proves fatal. There are thousands of shop-keepers who would not scruple to shoot a person caught robbing their till, and as for a housebreaker, there is scarcely one man in a million who would not think himself justified in shooting down the scoundrel at sight. Yet a little reflection should convince any one that he has no right to shoot in any of the above cases. The law on this point is sufficiently explicit. You are not to shoot unless in peril of your life, and not then unless there is no chance of flight. You may shoot a burglar or a highwayman because you have a right to infer that the burglar or highwayman is armed and will shoot you, and because you cannot escape. But you have no right to shoot the thief whom you may detect in leaving your hall with your overcoat, nor the pickpocket whom you catch with his hand in your pocket. The principle upon which the law is founded is obvious. You have a moral and legal right to defend your life or the life of a fellow-being, but you have no right to be the judge and executioner in the case of a misdemeanor or felony. The courts exist for the purpose of punishing the crimes of housebreaking, felony, thieving and fruit-stealing, and when you presume to punish them you are rightly amenable to the law. If it were not for some such provision, society would fall into chaos.

A Dog Joins a Ball Nine.

A sagacious coach dog has for some time given amusement to spectators at games of ball that are played by boys on the lake front on fine evenings. The dog takes a stand behind the catcher and with a countenance expressive of life and intelligence and an active tail that emphasizes what he cannot speak, watches for "passed balls." Immediately the sphere slips through the catcher's hands a snap is made at it and the dog darts after the rolling ball, which on his return he without solicitation drops at the catcher's feet. Whenever the pitcher passes a ball the dog darts across "the diamond" and retrieves it for him. Almost human interest is depicted on the countenance of the animal whenever the catcher gets up under the bat for close work. Then the four-footed ball-player crouches as closely as he can behind the catcher, and by his intense alertness cuts a comical figure. Sometimes the boys have a wrangle as to which side shall have the services of the dog. The exhibition of canine intelligence more than counterbalances the lack of ball science shown by the boys.—Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

Better Breeds of Cattle.

At the last Chicago dairy show the following was the average score on butter made from the milk of several pure breeds of cattle competing. The awards were made by an expert, with the following scale of points: Flavor, 40; grain, 30; color, 15; salting, 10; style of package, 5; total 100.

The result of the competition was as follows:

Breed.	No. Ent.	Flavor.	Grain.	Color.	Salting.	Style of package.	Total.
Jersey.....	9	31	26	10	3	5	80
Holstein.....	3	33	27	11	8	3	82
Shorthorn.....	4	30	26	10	8	5	79
Hereford.....	1	32	25	10	7	5	79

It will be seen that the butter from Holstein cows made the highest score, and exceeds that made by Jersey cows by two points.

The Jersey butter was placed second by the judges, and the butter from Hereford and Shorthorn cows takes the third place.

Making a Railroad.

When the war closed one of the Georgia railroads hadn't a depot or a freight house on its line, and its rolling stock consisted of two old locomotives and four flat-cars. These couldn't roll until new ties and rails were laid, and the outlook was dubious enough. However, the president called a meeting of the board to see what could be done. When he had stated the condition of the track and equipment he added that the company hadn't a dollar in cash and no collateral to borrow money on. He then asked what should be done.

"I move we declare a dividend of ten per cent," boldly replied one of the directors.

It was a thunder-clap which knocked 'em all down; but he followed it up by offering to loan the company $35,000 to make the dividend, and a dividend was declared. The stock at once leaped from thirty-four to ninety cents, and in a year it was held at 108, paying dividends on that.—American Railroader.

Fence Advertising.

Dr. George C. Green, of Woodsburg, N. J., who has accumulated over $1,000,000 out of the manufacture of patent medicines, was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York, a few days ago. For two years past Dr. Green has not been advertising his medicines in the newspapers, but instead has been using almanacs and country fences as a means of advertising. "As a result," said the doctor, "I find that I have lost much of my business; I have tried every way, and find that the most profitable after all is newspaper advertising; so I will return to the legitimate press. This year I intend to spend $3,000,000 in advertising." This is a wise intention; he is sensible.

An elephant attached to a circus which had just concluded an engagement in San Francisco "cut up some high old shines" the other day while being conveyed across the bay. After smashing a door the animal turned its attention to a deck hand, whom it knocked into the hold of the vessel. The barroom was next visited, and after mixing drinks, bottles, furniture, etc., breaking the leg and several ribs of an assistant keeper and slightly injuring another, the infuriated beast was chained. Twelve hundred dollars will about cover the damage done.

A farmer of Delaware county, Pa., much troubled by crows, soaked a peck of corn in whiskey and scattered it near a fence much frequented by birds. They ate of it and got decidedly drunk, and the farmer was so amused by the exhibition that he forebore to shoot them, and after a time they flew unsteadily away. The result was good. The crows never came back.

Mr. Wm. C. Smith, of Talbot county, raised this year, and has on exhibition, a sweet potato thirty-seven and three-fourth inches long.

Order of Publication.

Isaac S. Rogers, plaintiff, vs.

Albert L. Corey and the unknown heirs of Samuel Reed, defendants.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of a lot of land and the improvements near Fairlee in Kent county, Maryland, containing four acres more or less and sold by Isaac S. Rogers to Samuel Reed, late of Kent county, deceased, for the payment of a balance of the purchase money of said lot still due and unpaid and amounting to two hundred and seventy-six dollars with interest from January 1st, 1870.

The Bill states: First, That the plaintiff Isaac S. Rogers sold said house and lot to the said Samuel Reed on the 9th day of November, 1866, for the sum of five hundred dollars payable as follows, namely: Fifty dollars on the signing of the agreement of purchase; one hundred dollars January 1, 1867; one hundred dollars January 1, 1868; one hundred dollars January 1, 1869, and the residue one hundred dollars January 1, 1870, with interest in the meantime annually on the amount unpaid from time to time.

Second, That the said Samuel Reed entered into possession of said house and lot in pursuance of said purchase and made the following payments on account namely: Fifty dollars November 9, 1866; one hundred dollars January 3, 1867; one hundred dollars, January 15, 1868, with all interest up to January 1, 1870, on the amount unpaid, but that there is still due and unpaid on account of the principal of said purchase money, two hundred and seventy-six dollars with interest from January 1, 1870.

Third, That the said Samuel Reed died in the year 1879 or 1880 intestate, and that letters of administration have been granted upon his personal estate to Albert L. Corey, of Kent county, Maryland, who has fully administered the same, but that no part of the amount due said Isaac S. Rogers has been paid out of said personal estate.

Fourth, That the said Samuel Reed left no descendants or heirs so far as said Isaac S. Rogers has been able to ascertain, and that if any such heirs exist their name and residences are unknown to said Isaac S. Rogers, and that since the death of said Samuel Reed, the said Albert L. Corey has received the rents and profits of said house and lot in behalf of the unknown heirs of said Samuel Reed.

Fifth, That said house and lot cannot be sold for a sum sufficient to pay the purchase money still due to said Isaac S. Rogers, and that said Rogers is entitled to an account of said rents and profits from said Albert L. Corey, and to have the same applied in aid of the payment or the residue of said purchase money.

It is thereupon this 23d day of October, 1886, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county in Equity, that the plaintiff causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent County once in each of four successive weeks before the first day of December, 1886, to give notice to the said unknown heirs of said Samuel Reed of the object of this Bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the first day of March next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.
