Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING.........Nov. 27, 1886.

A Compliment to the Eastern Shore.

It is reported that Jos. K. Roberts, of Prince George's county, is appointed collector of internal revenue, and Philip W. Downes, of Caroline county, a general appraiser of merchandise. Mr. Baughman's 17,000 democratic voters of the sixth congressional district have still no recognition. The Eastern Shore stands thus upon the office-holding list: Governor, comptroller, tax commissioner, secretary of State, insurance commissioner, sub-treasurer at Baltimore, general appraiser at Baltimore, collector of customs at Baltimore. Besides, there are a great number of subordinate appointments under these and otherwise. This is a favored part of the State if office-holding is to be regarded in a favorable light. It makes up but one congressional district, with a county over, and has a United States Senator besides, leaving the other five congressional districts to get what they can. For ourselves, going upon the presumption that it is the favored section, where men are better fitted to hold office, we do not propose to complain, for our democratic doctrine is that where the fittest and best are, there we should go for our public servants. The public good should always be first, and the personal interests and ambitions of men last. The great preponderance in officeholding must be ascribed to the great dearth of good men on the Western Shore, for when we consider a Senator and four democratic Representatives in Congress for the Western Shore, whose influence should certainly be sufficient to command some recognition, both State and national, and with the great city of Baltimore and all those counties behind them with their "workers," as against a single Senator and only one member of Congress from the Eastern Shore, it does so appear. — Hagerstown Mail.

Jefferson Davis Church.

THE CONFEDERATE LEADER PRESENT AT ITS DEDICATION.

A dispatch dated Louisville, Nov. 21, says: Today at Fairview, on the line between Christian and Todd counties, Ky., there was dedicated a Baptist church erected on the site of the building where Jefferson Davis was born. The ground was purchased and given by a party of gentlemen to Mr. Davis, who in turn gave it for the location of a church.

Rev. Dr. Strickland, of Nashville, delivered the dedication sermon, and Mr. Jefferson Davis was present, and there was an immense crowd, many of whom could not get into the church, and were forced to leave, as it was raining hard.

After the sermon Mr. Davis was invited to the pulpit, and, bent with age, he made a few appropriate remarks, closing as follows:

"May He who rules in Heaven bless, individually and collectively, this whole community, and may His benediction rest on this house forever. More than this it would be improper for me to say."

Mr. Davis then presented the church with a service of solid silver. The church is a brick structure, costing about $10,000. A finely polished slab of violet-hued Tennessee marble set in the wall of the vestibule, opposite the memorial window, has this inscription in Roman capitals:

JEFFERSON DAVIS,
of Mississippi,
Was born June 3, 1808,
on the
Plat of this Church.
He made a gift of this Lot March 10, 1886,
to Bethel Baptist Church,
as a
Thank offering to the Lord.

After the church service the crowd adjourned to a munificent dinner, spread in a big building near at hand, where all were bountifully fed.

MILLIONS FOR A CHILD UNBORN.—The will of Juan Petro Terry, who died recently in Paris, was received at the surrogate's office in New York Monday. By its terms four-fifths of an estate valued at $6,000,000 are left to a child yet unborn. The will is dated September 16 last. One-fifth of the property is bequeathed to the testator's wife, Kate L. Terry. The clause giving the residue to the expected child is said to be in strict accordance with the Spanish law, which insists that the children must get four-fifths of their father's estate. The testator is not obliged to bequeath the other fifth to the widow. Her rights include only one-half of the property that accrues after the marriage. It is provided in this will that if the child dies the entire estate shall go to the widow. The will also directs that the will of the testator's father shall not be disputed, and declares that if the testator's wife impugns any of the will she is to have nothing. The testator inherited his millions from his father Thomas Terry, of Cuba and New York, whose estate when he died last spring was valued at $50,000,000. It consisted of vast sugar plantations about Cienfuegos, and several millions in cash.—New York Sun.

DIPHTHERIA RAGING IN INDIANA.—A special dispatch to the New York World dated Wabash, Ind., Nov. 22, says: For several weeks a malignant and fatal type of diphtheria has been raging in Logansport, and the mortality has been fearful. Fully one hundred children—many of prominent families—have died. The authorities are cleaning up and the mortality is decreasing. The disease has also broken out in Rochester, Fulton county, and the epidemic is traveling up the valley, having just entered this county. The schools at Rich Valley, five miles west of Wabash, have been closed, owing to the appearance of the disease. There is considerable alarm over the spread of the malady, and active preparations are being made to check it.

A SINGULAR CLAIM ALLOWED. — A claim was put up by a voter of Watertown, N. Y., at the recent election. E. E. Carter, a prominent citizen, who voted early in the morning, appeared at the poll later in the day and desired to cast a ballot for a candidate for an office whom he had omitted voting for. Several put in an objection, and Attorney-General O'Brien, who was standing near, was appealed to. Mr. O'Brien stated that a person had a right to cast his ballot at any time from sunrise to sunset on election day, and, if he wished, might cast a judiciary ticket at one time, and a county ticket at another. Mr. Carter was allowed to vote on the ticket which he had omitted on his first visit to the polls.

"NO DIAMONDS, NO WIFE."—A wedding that was to have taken place in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Thursday of last week did not occur for the reason that the bride learned on the previous Wednesday evening that the groom was not going to make her a wedding gift of diamonds that he had promised. She summoned him and said: "No diamonds, no wife." He tried to explain that the jewels would come right after marriage but the thoroughbred Brooklyn young woman is not to be put off on such empty pretenses as that, and there was a quarrel, a bridegroom, who in high dudgeon whisked out of town, and a crowd of friends given texts for gossip.

A GREAT COMBINATION.—There is undoubted authority for the statement that within ten days all the details of the plan for the use of Pennsylvania railroad facilities in Philadelphia and Baltimore by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company will be completed and the agreement for that purpose entered into. The Baltimore and Ohio will use the Pennsylvania tracks through Baltimore.

CORN IN THE WEST.—The latest crop reports says that the averages of corn vary but slightly from former reports. Very complete reports make the average yield per acre as follows: Illinois, 76½ bushels; Iowa, 27¾; Kansas, 21¼; Wisconsin, 27; Missouri, 25½; Indiana, 32¾; Ohio, 37; Minnesota, 34½; Michigan, 47½; Nebraska, 28. The reports from Michigan are not as complete as from the other States, and the average cannot be taken nearly as accurately as those of the other States.

THE report of the postmaster-general shows that the net increase of revenue in the department for the last fiscal year was 3.2 per cent, and that the volume of business by which it was gained increased over 7 per cent. This is but another proof of the fact which commercial and other statistics establish, that there has been a steady and gratifying return of business prosperity during the past year and a-half. The way in which this country has refused to go to ruin under Democratic rule would be very depressing to prophets of evil less brassy than are those of the Republican party.—N. Y. World.

AN exchange in the West tells its readers how to mind their "P's" in the following paragraph: Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press possess a peculiar power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocket-book kept plethoric by promptpaying patrons, he puts his pen to his paper in peace; his paragraphs are more pointed; he paints his pictures of passing events in more pleasing colors, and the perusal of his paper is a pleasure to the people. Paste this bit of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can perceive it.

A PROMINENT CITIZEN of Talbot intended coming home from Baltimore on the steamer Oliver last Friday. He took his wife aboard and then went to the wharf to buy a newspaper. While there he was engaged in conversation by a commission merchant and when he turned to go aboard the steamboat she was well on her way down the harbor. He had to wait until the afternoon and come home by rail.—Ledger.

An Overflowing Treasury.

A dispatch dated Washington, Nov. 21, says: The treasury is being flooded with money. Over $1,000,000 a day in receipts are now pouring in. There are between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 more received this month thus far than during a corresponding period of last year. Last year there was a surplus above expenditures of, in round numbers, $93,000,000. Of this amount $45,000,000 was expended for the purchase of bonds for the sinking fund. The remaining $48,000,000 has been employed for the purchase of bonds under the recent call of the three per cents. The only way that the treasury can get rid of its surplus at the present time is in the payment of the national debt. The only bonds which are subject to calls are the threes, and that resource of cutting down the surplus will be exhausted during the present fiscal year. After that there will be no bonds that can be called until 1891. Meanwhile the receipts of the Government are increasing, and the prospect is that the surplus this year will be much larger than last year. The receipts for the fiscal year can be indicated to a certain extent. Those for the first quarter ending Sept. 30 amount now in round numbers to $95,000,000. The expenditures are $86,000,000 odd, making an increase of over $9,000,000 for that quarter. This quarter's receipts show a sympathy with the recent revival in business. The $8,000,000 increase of this month over the same period last year is a great surprise to the Treasury officials.

Insulted in the House of Death.

A PAINFUL SCENE.

Senator George F. Edmunds, of Vermont, and Mr. Blaine met, for the first time since the last Presidential contest, at the funeral of ex-President Arthur, and according to the New York papers Mr. Blaine's treatment of the great Republican leader in the Senate was very uncivil and indeed uncalled for. The account of the incident is as follows:

In the library was the sage of the Senate, Mr. George F. Edmunds, with a sash of white bunting and an edging of black drawn over his left shoulder. Mr. Blaine, on his way up to the second story front, where the body lay, paused for a moment at the library door.

"There is hardly any use to introduce you two gentlemen," exclaimed Col. McMichael.

The Vermont Senator advanced in his genial way with extended hand.

"O, no," he said.

"O, no; not at all," remarked Mr. Blaine, turning his back and walking rapidly away. Those who saw the incident were greatly surprised.

Mr. Blaine looked for a moment at the dead face and left the house as he came, unattended.

Virginia's Electoral Vote.

From the Richmond State.

Several papers, in estimating the result of the recent elections, had it been a Presidential year, put Virginia's twelve electoral votes down as republican. This is absurd. The day is far off when those electoral votes can be cast for any other than a Democrat. A few years since, with three electoral tickets in the field, this State was true to the Democratic nominees, and that, too, after a local campaign in which the Democrats had sustained a crushing defeat. As has been published, only 68 per cent of the Democratic vote was cast at the recent election in Virginia, while the Republicans polled 90 per cent of their vote. The Democrats were simply over-confident, and by staying at home learned a lesson that will hereafter be useful to them.

Problems.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23, 1886.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In the problem I sent to your paper I gave the width of the brick (4½ inches), and it was the fault of the typesetter that it did not appear in the paper. The subscriber who answered my problem made a mistake, which cannot be prevented while the right numbers are unknown, in calculating my age, which is 14 years, although he got my father's age right. The height of his tree, which is an uncommonly large one, is 165 feet. P. STRAYER.

ANOTHER MAN DROWNED.—Thomas Meads, a dredger employed on the Genesta, a river scrape boat commanded by Capt. Lincoln Parks, of Cambridge, was drowned off Hambrooks on Monday morning. He was employed at the time in attending to the jib, and in going to leeward to make the sheet-line fast after the boat had 'gone about" fell overboard unobserved and was drowned. He was intoxicated at the time with some of the bad whiskey or hard cider to be had somewhere in Cambridge, otherwise the accident would not have occurred. Only a month and a-half of the oyster season has passed and already more than half a dozen oystermen have found watery graves within the limits of Dorchester alone. Doubtless numbers of these people are drowned and no account ever given of it by the captains of the vessels upon which they sailed, and today the bottom of the Chesapeake and its tributaries, from Baltimore to Cape Henry, is strewn with dead bodies, whilst the army, in which they were soldiers, still moves on recklessly to its destruction. — Cambridge News.
