SATURDAY MORNING.....Jan. 8, 1887.

WHY THEY MARRIED.

Postal cards were sent out to married men of a small town in Western New York with the inquiry, "Why did you marry?" We give a few of the responses.

"That's what I have been trying for eleven years to find out. P."

"Married to get even with her mother, but never have. W."

"Because I was too lazy to work." I. V."

"Because Sarah told me that five other young men had proposed to her. C."

"The old man thought eight year's courtin' was almost long enough. B."

"I was lonesome and melancholy, and wanted some one to make me lively.

"N. B.—She makes me very lively. D."

"I was tired of buying ice-cream and candies and going to theaters and church, and wanted a rest. Have saved money. J. C."

"Please don't stir me up. J."

"Because I thought she was one among a thousand; now I sometimes think she is a thousand among one. E."

"I think it was because I was cross-eyed; now I am afflicted with two pairs of cross eyes daily. Peter."

"Because I did not have the experience I have now. G."

"The governor was going to give me his foot, so I took his daughter's hand. H."

"I thought it would be cheaper than a breach-of-promise suit. A. C."

"That's the same fool question that my friends and neighbors ask me. C. H."

"Because I had more money than I knew what to do with. Now I have more to do than I have money. B. D."

"I wanted a companion of the opposite sex.

"P. S.—She is still opposite. A."

"Don't mention it. F."

"Had difficulty unlocking the door at night and wanted somebody to let me in. Bob."

"I was embarrassed, and gave my wife the benefit of my name so that I could take the benefit of her name signed to a check. S."

"Because it is just my luck. P. J."

"I didn't intend to go do it. T."

"I yearned for company. We now have it all the time. Karl."

"Have exhausted all the figures in the arithmetic to figure out an answer to your question between multiplication and division in the family and distraction, in addition, the answer is hard to arrive at. Old Man."

"I married to get the best wife in the world. Simon."

"Because I asked her if she'd have me. She said she would. I think she's got me. Blivins."

THE GIRL OF TODAY.

If there is anything we know less about than we think we do, it is the girls; and of this the girl is glad, for there is nothing she hates to be known about her so bad as the truth.

We have been acquainted with her for a long time and watched her pranks from afar, seen her cut the "pigeon wing" and knock the "back step" in the back yard, when she thought she had no spectator, but still we don't know her.

From the time she is big enough to swing on the gate and tie a ribbon in a double bowknot she begins to locate a sweetheart, and she keeps this until he is located in the back yard exercising his talents dissecting store wood.

She may be a little dull in mathematics, but invariably solves the problem of putting a No. 5 foot in a No. 3 shoe.

She will wear out two old dresses running around to find out how to make a new one in the latest style.

She will break the point of her brother's knife making a crack to peep at strangers when they come visiting. She will greet you with the most bewitching smile and laugh at your stupidness when you are gone.

She will walk three blocks out of the way to get a peep at her beau, and then pass by without looking at him.

She will talk with you two hours without being able to repeat a word you have said, but will know how long you have worn your duds and how many buttons have lost their grip.

She will attend church, listen with absorbed interest to eloquent and pathetic sermons, then return home and expiate upon the horrible fit of Miss S.'s new basque.

She will go to table, mince over delicacies with the most fastidious taste, then slip back in the kitchen and eat a raw potato.

She will wear out her best pair of shoes dancing all day then attend a ball at night and complain of being out of practice.

She will spend all night writing a carefully-worded letter, in the most precise hand, to her Simon Suggs, then scratch off a page to her sister that old Harry couldn't read.

She will be the most devout creature on earth, and hate the earth that Sallie Grimes walks on.

She will be industrious and economical for a month, then spend her savings for a red ribbon.

She will slouch around the house for a week making preparations to look neat on Sunday.

She will flirt with all the best young men in the neighborhood, and finally marry some knotty-headed Jim Crow.

The Penny Was There.

A saloon keeper on Gration street sat at his door, the other afternoon, wondering why so many men in Detroit preferred buttermilk to beer, when two strangers came along. One of them placed a penny on the sidewalk, placed his right heel on the penny, and then bent over to see how far he could reach and mark the flagstone with a nail. As he reached out he lifted his heel off the penny and the other man picked it up, slipped it in his pocket and winked at the saloonist.

"That's a long reach," said No. 1, as he straightened up.

"Yes, but you lifted your heel off the cent."

"No, I didn't."

"Bet you a dollar."

"I'll take it!"

"Hold on shentlemeons," said the beer-seller, as he rose up; "I like to make some bets myself."

"I'll bet you two dollars my heel is on a penny," said No. 1.

"I'll take dot bet awful quick," replied the saloonist, and a couple of $2 bills were handed to.

No. 1 sat down on the walk, pulled off his shoe and handed it up so that the saloon-keeper might see a penny screwed fast to the heel. He put on his shoe after a moment, rose up, bowed courteously and the pair walked away. They were at least half a block away before the victim recovered sufficiently to say:

"Vhell! Vhell; I pays taxes in two wards and goes twice to Chicago, but yet I vhas some lunatics who ought to be led around mit a rope."

OUR FORE-FATHERS SOAP

Ask Your Grocer For It.

FAC-SIMILE OF THE LABEL ON THE WRAPPER.

NO MORE A MYSTERY. THE REASONS GIVEN.

WHY DOES THE CLOTHING TEAR SO EASILY?

Answer.—From the use of strong and impure Soap, made up in salable forms and shapes, with which the market is flooded. If you want to be right sure use Ecker's "Our Forefathers" Soap—three connecting 4-inch cakes, making each bar one foot long; weight 22½ ounces—recommended by the Best Families, Hotels and Institutions throughout the country. It is prepared by the Grecian Purifying, Boiling and Settling Process, from fresh, clean and selected butchers' tallow. By its use you run no risk of contracting any skin disease; no stiffness of the arms or wrist. A great saving of time and labor. Washing Clothes with or Without Boiling or Scalding. You can use it as you wish, but to wash without boiling or scalding observe these directions: Take lukewarm water, rub with soap particularly on dirty spots, soak half an hour or more, gently rub on board and your clothes will be clean. Try it for one month and you will be convinced of its great advantages. VERY IMPORTANT TO KNOW.—That the best remedy for washing flannels to keep them from shrinking—wash in lukewarm water with Forefathers' or Eckers' Board of Health Soap (the greatest disinfectant known), and dry in a warm room; cold water hardens flannels and drying in cold air shrinks them. Ask your grocer for it. Eckers' Soaps will wash with or without boiling or scalding.

Stations marked thus (*) have no agents. Freight for Bingham's, Flatland and Nichols son's must be prepaid.

The morning trains make close connection at Clayton with trains on Delaware Railroad going North and South.

Passengers to and from Baltimore change at Porter's.

Freight carried at low rates to all points and must be at Stations thirty minutes before starting time in order to insure despatch.

Excursion Tickets issued at reduced rates.

The above arrangements will give passengers four hours and a-half in Philadelphia, two hours and twenty minutes in Baltimore and return home the same day.
