SATURDAY MORNING.....FEB. 12, 1887.

Edesville and Vicinity.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Much interest is being manifested by the superstitious and otherwise, and will be during the remainder of this month and half of March, so as to know of their personal knowledge whether or not there is any virtue in the predictions of the ground hog. Perhaps about the expiration of the time the "otherwise" will see their way clear in submitting and paying homage to the prognosticator(?).

The wheatfields along the roadsides are all clear now and the plant is looking green, but we fear it is too soon to anticipate good results. If there should come an unusual amount of freezing and thawing, together with the ground thoroughly wet, there is danger of it being left standing on tip-toe as it were, when the ground shall have fully settled. It is all right that farmers should be careful and take such precautions as will aid them in getting rid of peach crops and that at remunerative prices, but then can they afford to forego all practical relation to other crops, which may eventually prove to be the more reliable while adapting all their faculties to the one interest?

A change of ministers was expected upon the part of St. James and Wesley Chapel congregations last Sunday, but for circumstances that were unavoidable the matter was not effected. Rev. Mr. Lewis was junior pastor at the first named place several years ago and no doubt would have greatly enjoyed the opportunity to meet his old friends. Try again, brethren, and we hope the effort will be fully successful.

Due notice will be given in the columns of the NEWS of an entertainment to be given here under the supervision of the ball company. They have secured the services of Prof. A.W.Hawkes, the "monologist and nosologist" of Baltimore. A grand treat will be thus offered to the public, and doubtless many will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing and hearing Prof. Hawkes, of whom it may be said—

Thou who makest sham to hide,
And with thy keenest wit compellest
False oratory, bombast, vain conceit
Seek refuge where thou canst not reach.

Our smiles are yours; our tears
From out their fountain-bed gush at thy bidding;
And now stretch forth thine hand— [ding,
Grasp, and possess our hearts forever.

The death of Mr. Wm. F. Baker is greatly regretted by all who knew him. He was a good citizen, and had been judge of the election at our polls quite a number of years; was ever clear and fearless in all his decisions. He was buried at St. Paul's Cemetery by the side of his wife, who had preceded him about ten years.

Wm. S. Stevens, Esq., we are informed will be at home on the 12th inst. He is greatly improved, but will probably return to Baltimore on Monday for further treatment.

Miss Ava Greenwood, of Chestertown, is visiting relatives here. The young gentlemen say send some more; they will give Miss Greenwood as security that they shall have a pleasant time.

The insurance business has become very brisk with us since the recent fire. A goodly number of dwellings and other buildings in town have been surveyed and promptly insured. There is an old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, but the cautious are not willing to take the risk in a pecuniary sense.

Your Galena man should give his candidates more name. We might guess all the year or until after the primaries and then not hit him—a sad too-late and he'll be sorry. OBSERVER.

Tin Wedding at Worton Manor.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Last Tuesday was a very gloomy day for the "tin wedding" of our young friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Gale, but things were not very gloomy at their residence, Worton Manor. This is a fine estate, having a fine view of Chesapeake bay, the homestead of our highly respected friend and father of the groom, the late John Gale, who died several years ago, leaving a widow and three sons; all were present upon this occasion. Among the company you could see the cheerful faces of the following:

Richard Keyser and wife, Mrs. Harvey Cole, Mrs. Lydie Davis, Mrs. Mansfield, Miss Nellie Haye, Misses Jennie and Mary Francis, Miss Bertie Hurst, and Robert Francis, of Baltimore; Rev. A. W. Mather and sister, J. W. Corey and wife, Thomas Gale and wife, Will. Gale and wife, Wm. T. Anderson and wife, Elias Wallraven and wife, G. R. Beck and family, Walter Skirven and wife, Mrs. Jas. Beck, Mrs. Harriet Usilton, John E. Morris and wife, Purnell Jefferson and wife, R. G. Nicholson, Miss Mollie Lusby, Miss Gertie Lusby, Miss Maria Parsons, Chas. Stephens and wife, Mrs. Wm. T. Nicholson, W. B. Stephens and wife, Chas. H. Hurlock and wife, Samuel Vannort and wife, Thos. J. Willis and wife, Misses Willis, Geo. R. Stephens and wife, Lucas Alrich and wife, Jas. W. Skirven and wife, Jos. R. Usilton and wife, Dr. Merritt and wife, Fred. Rasin and wife, A. Diehl, Theodore Diehl and family, Miss Sadie Morris, Miss Pennington, Miss Mary Parsons, Miss Mollie Alrich, Miss Hallie Usilton, Miss Susie Stephens, Wash. Skirven, Jeff Usilton, Jesse Usilton, Ella Morris, Rosie Skirven, Geo. T. Moore, Frank Walraven, Miss Ida Stephens, Miss Mollie Taylor, and also Miss Pope, of Balto.

The presents were varied and numerous; among them could be seen things of usefulness from small tincups to great big dishpans with partitions in the middle. If you were to look over the table and see the many (?) spice-boxes you might think Mrs. Gale was a very spicy lady. One of the "appropriate" presents was a remarkably fine husk foot mat; in the centre of this mat was a bright tin plate upon which was inscribed the following: "Mag, make John wipe his feet." I cannot begin to name the articles, but suffice it to say they all were pretty and useful. The evening was spent very pleasantly in (eating the supper was grand) chatting with each other. Music on the piano by Mrs. W. B. Stephens, and Miss Bertie Hurst, of Baltimore, and singing. I don't know how long the company remained as I left early. B.

Large Company at Little Grove.

Messrs. Editors:—I availed myself of the pleasure of being present yesterday at a company given by Mr. Robert G. Nicholson, a young, energetic farmer and nurseryman about three miles from Chestertown. During last year Mr. N. remoddled and fitted up his residence, I may say not very gorgeously, but as far as convenience goes, it can't be beat—it is neat, nice, comfortable, convenient and well-arranged—it is heated throughout by furnace, and has a bath-room with hot and cold water, and all other appurtenances to make a home pleasant. There were many of his friends present, but not all that were invited. He is a genial, good fellow, always ready to do all in his power to help others and make them happy, and his good wife is not behind. If you had been there (don't you feel sorry?) and seen his bountiful supply, and the manner in which it was gotten up and the attention of both to their guests you certainly would have agreed with me. The table looked elegant laden with roast turkey (the most prominent of all), baked duck, fried oysters, scalloped oysters, chicken salad, and many other good things to eat with a bouquet of natural flowers at each end, and after all had eaten there was enough left for as many more. All was done that could be by our host and hostess to make us happy. I tell you it is a good place to go if you want to be entertained well. It was remarked "Bob must be electioneering." I guess that can't be so, I don't believe he has aspirations in that direction, for he was offered a place on the democratic ticket two years ago, but declined.

The guests began to arrive about half-past three and continued until about seven and when they were all there the house was—must I say full—yes, full and packed, numbering about one hundred and thirty. Music, both instrumental and vocal, by several. Friend Charlie was on hand and rendered many fine pieces.

Time nor space will not allow me to give a full description of this entertainment, but suffice it to say it was a grand affair and all were well cared for and happy. DOT.

Items from Worton.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Worton Gun Club met at Dr. J. B. Merritt's Thursday, Jan. 27, where new officers were elected for the present year as follows: Jos. R. Usilton, president; John Gale, vice-president; W. R. Gale, treasurer, and W. B. Stephens secretary. After the meeting they shot the regular score, twenty birds each at twenty yards rise from two traps. Next in order was a delicious dinner consisting of all the delicacies of the season, to which both members and wives did justice. Let me add that the Worton Gun Club can boast of the fine dinners given by the wives at each meeting. The following is the score:

J. R. Usilton	18	John Gale	16
W. R. Gale	17	Dr. J. B. Merritt	16
Thomas Gale	17	M. M. Rasin	16
Dr. W. B. Turner	16	W. B. Stephens	16

The next match was shot Thursday at Mr. J. R. Usilton's. The following is the score:

Thomas Gale	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1—20
J. R. Usilton	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 1 1—18

W. B. S.

NUISANCES.

Messrs. Editors:—Ordinance third of the Ordinances of Chestertown reads as follows:

"That no persons shall congregate upon the sidewalks, nor in the streets, or at the corners of the streets, in such manner as may impede, obstruct, or annoy any person or persons who may be passing on the same, or that may annoy or disturb persons whose residences, lodgings or places of business may be near such assemblages; that the bailiff or bailiffs shall disperse such assemblages; and that each and every person who shall refuse to disperse upon the request of the bailiff, or the person or persons who may be annoyed, disturbed or impeded shall be fined the sum of one dollar."

Daily and all day long there is a crowd assembled in the street between the Market House and the old M. E. Church building, whooping and hallooing to the great annoyance of the whole neighborhood, and every one passing in that part of the town. The nuisance has become intolerable, and why the bailiff has not taken the matter in hand is most surprising. Has he been in office so long that he has forgotten the ordinances and needs to be told of his duty? Or is he growing blind and deaf that he does not see and hear what is daily going on?

It is well to retain efficient officers, but a bailiff who is blind and deaf, and who forgets the ordinances can scarcely be classed among efficient officers. Is there no one whose duty it is to see that the bailiff discharges his duty? or has the bailiff's duty been reduced to dress parade?

While on the subject of nuisances it will be as well to refer to the mud which covers the crossing from Stam's Hall to Masonic Hall. During the erection of Stam's Hall part of this crossing was used to mix mortar on or was covered with sand and lime, and is yet very disagreeable to walk over during the damp, wet weather of the past few weeks. The commissioners have had the crossings generally cleaned, and we don't know that under the circumstances they ought to have this crossing cleaned, but it is somebody's duty to put it in the condition it was before the building there was begun.

Our commissioners are very clever gentlemen, and they get no pay for their time and trouble but abuse, and although they have done much for the town, we expect them to be upon the alert and keep others up to their duty. CITIZEN.

Galena Items.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—On Friday evening the 4th instant about fifty ladies and gentlemen of the M. E. Church assembled at the parsonage for the purpose of giving the parson a surprise donation. Many useful presents were received. After refreshments were served several hymns were sung, a prayer was offered and all went home at about half-past ten.

Mr. Thomas Sallaway, the well-known builder and contractor, was home from Wilmington on a brief visit last week.

Miss Lizzie Scott and Mrs. Bertie Knighton are still sick.

George Sallaway has gone to Wilmington as a clerk in a hardware store.

The young folks intend to hold a festival about the middle of the present month for general benevolent purposes for the M. E. Church.

Miss Grace Miller, who was quite sick last week, has recovered.

Dr. W. G. Phelps gave a very interesting address on "Missionary Work" last Sunday afternoon in the M. E. Church. ALLE.

AN APPALLING RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Many Passengers Burned to Death.

The most terrible railroad accident in the history of Northern New England occurred between 2 and 3 o'clock last Saturday morning near Woodstock, Vt., on the Central Vermont Railroad. The road begins at Bellows Falls, with through connections from Boston. At Woodstock, an abandoned station, about four miles from White River Junction, it crosses the White river. It was at this point that the accident, which resulted in the loss of a large number of lives, occurred. The river here is wide but shallow, there being seldom more than five feet of water in the bed of the stream. The country is a rugged and hilly one, which makes it necessary for the railroad to cross the river and the numerous ravines which branch out from it at a high elevation.

The ill-fated train left Boston at 7 o'clock on Friday evening. At White River Junction a was an hour and a half late. The bridge crossing the river at the old Woodstock Station is a wooden truss structure about fifty feet above the water and about 650 feet long. Just before reaching the bridge a broken rail was struck, the extremely low temperature being probably the cause of the breaking of the rail, the mercury being twelve degrees below zero. The engine, baggage and postal cars passed over all right and crossed the bridge. Two passenger cars and two sleepers jumped the track and ran along on the ties, finally plunging over the stone abutment to the frozen river far beneath. The ice was very thick and did not break. The cars were smashed, pinning many of the passengers under heavy timbers and debris. Some of them were killed outright. Others were consumed by the flames, which rapidly spread among the broken cars.

The scene which followed was terrible in all its phases. Help was slow in reaching the wild spot, and the severity of the weather added to the suffering of the injured. The number of persons killed or burned to death was 32, and 36 more or less injured.

THE Commission Business heretofore conducted under the name of Crew & Jerome, at No. 20 Camden Street, (old No. 3,) Baltimore city, will hereafter be carried on at the same place, in the firm name of J. W. Jerome & Co. Settlement of the business of the old firm of Crew & Jerome made by James W. Jerome & Co.

Thanking our friends and patrons for past favors we hope, by strict personal attention to business, to merit a continuance of the same.

Respectfully,
JAMES W. JEROME & CO.

A WORD TO OWNERS OF HORSES!

SAMUEL HICKS

Devotes his ENTIRE ATTENTION to the HORSE-SHOEING BUSINESS, and is therefore able to execute this work in the very best manner and at lowest prices.

I have made this business a study and profess to understand thoroughly the best methods and improvements in handling horses' feet and the character of shoes worn. The importance of shoeing a horse RIGHT is not as well understood as it should be by the owners of these noble animals.

Under my system of shoeing CUTTING and FORGING is prevented. I only ask a trial, feeling assured of my ability to give entire satisfaction to my customers.
