

Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 19, 1887.

Kent County Agricultural Society.

Chairman, Feb. 14, 1887.

Moving called to order by President. Hoisting. More than an average of the active membership were out. After transacting routine business the advisability of holding a fair this fall came up on motion. The discussion was entered into by many of the members, all of whom favored the fair being held. It was stated by the auditing committee that the accounts of the secretary and treasurer had been examined, which the management found to be in a flourishing condition. Our indebtedness wiped out and a surplus in the treasury was the best argument in favor of a fair next fall.

A vote of thanks was tendered the president and executive committee for the able and successful management of the association.

On motion it was decided to send delegates to meet delegates from all the prominent agricultural associations at Elkton, March 15, 1887. The chair appointed as delegates W. J. Vannort, W. B. Stephens and W. P. Norris, as alternates W. W. Stephens, J. E. Gilpin and E. W. Hepburn.

The question for debate, "Is it to the farmer's interest to hire for ten months or by the year?" was ably and thoughtfully discussed. One member thought it best to get through with this work when the days were long, others were for ten months, as the majority of laborers were more willing to work during the winter than formerly, because they were more provided and had had up something where to reside the winter over, while he had his share of the winter, fire, finding the fact that he had not been called upon to furnish provisions in like quantities as heretofore; another thought that it was better to work during the cold weather, but thought he had been called upon to furnish provisions at night more than heretofore. All the members agreed it was more profitable to hire for ten months by the year.

After an enjoyable and instructive meeting the club adjourned to meet on Monday next.

BRIEF NOTES FROM FAIRLEE.

The Grangers Meet—The Aid Society—Why the Ladies Failed—The Next Grange—A Sad Death—Storm and Results.

Memoirs, Editors:—The first monthly or festive meeting of Fairlee Grange took place in their hall on the 10th, the feast being prepared by the ladies of Salem Church. The festive season of the grange usually begins much earlier, or as soon as the pressure of farm work is over, and this was the reason for the delay in the meeting of the addition to the building. The attendance was not as large as on former occasions of like character, owing no doubt to the cold weather of the roads. "The Granger" was an excellent one, and the music under the direction of Prof. Stratton, chairman of the musical committee, gave much satisfaction. One thing was wanting and easily made. There had no lecture from the genial, ever-funny lecturer, Brother Billy. The grange, no doubt, felt the more disposed to excuse the omission on the ground of the cold weather and the fact that the ladies had been so late in coming. He promises to make ample amends for this failure at the next meeting in March, when it is understood that Sister Anna Vannort will take charge of the "Granger."

The Aid Society failed their promise in the letter. The sisters certainly did not get good and abundant supper and were very pleasantly surprised by members of the grange and others. The next proceeds were, I learn, in the neighborhood of fifty dollars.

A sad death occurred in this vicinity on the 9th instant. Harriet, a highly respected and useful negro woman, employed as a nurse for Mrs. John P. Nicholson, fell to the floor, and expired from an attack of heart disease or paralysis, or both combined. She was taken up and carried to her home for burial the next day.

Several coal barges, loaded with coal, were driven ashore at Tolchester during the storm on Friday night, the 11th inst. Two were wrecked, and it is reported, that fourteen lives were lost. It is said that the coal was going to Baltimore, and that the lives were those of the crew.

The report of the death of Capt. Bacon, at Turner's creek, was received here on Saturday with profound sorrow, he being well known and highly esteemed.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

Memoirs, Editors:—The supper given by the ladies of the M. P. Church on Feb. 2 to 5 was quite successful, and netted them quite a handsome amount. Had the weather been favorable the attendance would have been larger. Much credit is due those who assisted in making it a success.

Rev. A. W. Mather, of St. James', and Rev. C. R. Blades, of Kennedyville, will exchange pulpits next Sunday, Feb. 20, Mr. Mather preaching at Kennedyville morning and evening and Mr. Blades preaching at St. James' the morning and evening at Lynch's in the afternoon.

We understand that Mr. James Weir and Frank Sylvester have opened a shop for the purpose of manufacturing and repairing wagons, etc., and of carrying on blacksmithing in its proper forms.

We are pained to chronicle the death of Capt. George Bacon, a resident of Turner's creek neighborhood; the particulars of his death we have not heard. He died while visiting friends in his native town in New Jersey. Capt. Bacon had made many friends during his short stay among us. He was genial and easy to be acquainted with. Those who knew him only regret in pride of him now that he is gone.

Miss Roberts, of Centerville, is visiting Miss Carrie Jacobs of this place.

The singing school, which was discontinued last fall, was reorganized this week. About thirty so far have joined. Prof. Quincy is the teacher.

GOOD TIME IN BROAD BECK.

Memoirs, Editors:—A party was given at the residence of Mr. Benj. F. Beck in Broad Beck on the 11th inst. by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beck, assisted by Miss Ida Beck. It was in every respect a most enjoyable affair. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were present. In the upper-room everything was under the supervision of Mrs. Jester, which in itself was a sufficient guarantee of its excellence. Dancing was continued until 2 o'clock A. M. The music was rendered by Messrs. James and Geo. Beck, Eugene Wilson and John Holaday. Mrs. John Price presided at the piano. One of the features of the evening was dancing the "Buzzer" by the son and daughter of Mr. Geo. Beck, aged respectively 3 years and 18 months old, and the manner in which Mr. Beck Jr., executed the "dancing buzz" fairly rivaled that of a celebrated pianist of your town. Some very fine selections on the piano were rendered by Miss Hurl, of Millington. Among those present may be mentioned Mrs. Hurl, Mrs. Camp, Mrs. and Miss Constable, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph, Miss Lela Jensen, Mrs. and Mrs. Brice, Mr. and Mrs. Hulse, Mr. Wilmer, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Tylan, Mr. and Mrs. Deputis, Miss Gussie Cartmill, Miss Alrich and brothers, Mr. Adam Hill, Mr. Constable, Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin, Miss Gilpin, Miss Brice, Stella Brice and Miss Ford, Mr. Julian and Miss Lucy Wall, Mr. and Mrs. George Bell, Messrs. Stivers, Mr. and Mrs. Strong, Mr. Francis, Mr. Price, and many others.

CHESTERTOWN AND VICINITY.

Memoirs, Editors:—A donation party held at Rev. W. H. Stans, pastor of the M. E. Church South, Chestertown, on Thursday night, 10th inst. After a pleasant evening of social intercourse and partaking of ice-cream, cake, etc., the company departed, leaving abundant supplies for future needs of pastor and family.

Rev. T. L. Tomkinson, pastor of the Methodist Church, preached an excellent missionary sermon to his Chestertown congregation last Sabbath. It is to be regretted that more of his membership were not out to hear. It—the congregation was quite small. The collections from church and Sabbath school amounted to twenty-five dollars.

We have reason to expect that Rev. Jas. B. Merrill, a member of the Wilmington Conference, will shortly become a resident of Chestertown. He has not been in the effective ranks for the past year, at least, and so far as we know, does not propose to enter into active work again. We are sure he will have a hearty welcome.

We are also sure that there is ample room in the village and vicinity for all the pious and wholesome influence that he is brought to bear.

A short time since a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alay Clements forced a button up her nose. She became quite nervous, and our physician failed to extract it. She was taken to Philadelphia, but the physician there did not succeed in finding it, and said he supposed the obstacle had passed down the child's throat. From what we can hear, the little one is none the worse for the mishap.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lewis, tenants of Mr. David Clements, on the 10th inst. were sadly afflicted recently by the death of their infant a few months old. Upon rising in the morning the mother left the child well wrapped up in bed. When an hour or so afterward she went to bring the baby down, found it dead. It had doubtless smothered.

Henry Stevens, of this village, who was severely injured by the cars in Philadelphia several weeks since, has come back home apparently but little worse for the accident. He says, however, that he was only unconscious for a week after the occurrence.

Mr. Harry C. Pennington, after an illness of ten or more weeks, was able to come down stairs this week.

Postmistress Carey has been ill for two weeks. No signs of improvement at this writing.

Mr. R. W. Pearson has been, and still is, quite ill.

Mrs. Harriet and Miss Carrie Ford, of Lamberton, have been spending the winter in Baltimore. Their return is looked for with the opening of spring.

Messrs. J. B. Puffer and James Giron, of this village, have gone to the city to reside. The former's family will follow shortly; the latter's family will doubtless go around him, as he is the city's long enough.

Mr. James W. Thompson, long a resident of Chestertown, has moved to Galena.

Twenty-two combmakers were at work in one field on the S. W. Aldridge farm on Monday last. The field is large, but they busked nearly half of it in one day.

Mr. James A. Spry must have grown an enormous crop of corn this year. He shed the balance of it this week. He has shed the balance of it this week. He has shed the balance of it this week.

Mr. Peter took the springy little nag to Philadelphia last week and sold her for a round $100 to his brother—a little more than the pound price. And now she will grace and caper around the city of Chestertown, to the delight of present owner and admirers of lovers of horseflesh full of electricity.

ITEMS FROM BETTERTON.

Memoirs, Editors:—Drift ice from the Susquehanna filled the head of the bay last Saturday night, which prevented the steamer Trumpeter from making a landing here Monday morning. At this writing the bay is again clear.

The Betterton M. E. Sunday school will hold their missionary anniversary Sunday evening, Feb. 27, weather permitting.

Mr. Perry Vandegraft, of Wilmington, Del., has rented the "Coburn" property at this place and it is said that he expects to do some business there. Mr. Vandegraft is said to be an experienced builder. We wish him success and instruction.

Our fishermen are pretty nearly fixed up for fishing season, which they think will be early this year.

LETTER FROM STILL POND.

Memoirs, Editors:—The "profound how" of your series "Observer" from Galena is most graciously acknowledged and appreciated. The kindness and tone of his compliments shall ever be remembered. Please don't call the cake I referred to in a former epistle imaginary, as that young man has not come to terms yet. When he does, look for the cake. I have but one crow to pick with you, and that is, doubling my sex. Do you think a lady cannot "talk learnedly of fruit exchanges, agricultural matters and hog cholera"? Why, my dear sir, two of the most honored persons of our fruit exchange are ladies, not including myself, and shall we not talk, shall we not venture our views and discuss matters pertaining to our interests? Are we to let the sterner sex do all the thinking as well as all the voting? Surely, my friend, you do not wish to curtail our rights still more. No, sir, I take you to be a gentleman of great consideration, large-hearted, true to justice and an advocate of advancement and reform. Your allusion to "that million sinner, when the votes of our fair sex shall rescue our ballistics from its degrading position and make supreme its influence on the side of temperance and good order," tells me at once what manner of man you are. I am rejoiced to find one advocate of justice to woman. Had we the right of franchise interwoven with that of man, we would have the right of an eye. We are the greater sufferers, we bear the brunt of our fruit exchange, we are usually kept in a first-class harness shop. We know its horrors and its damning influence, both on its victims and society at large; we are classed as the sterner sex, and we are to let the sterner sex do all the thinking as well as all the voting? Surely, my friend, you do not wish to curtail our rights still more. No, sir, I take you to be a gentleman of great consideration, large-hearted, true to justice and an advocate of advancement and reform. I am rejoiced to find one advocate of justice to woman. Had we the right of franchise interwoven with that of man, we would have the right of an eye. We are the greater sufferers, we bear the brunt of our fruit exchange, we are usually kept in a first-class harness shop. We know its horrors and its damning influence, both on its victims and society at large; we are classed as the sterner sex, and we are to let the sterner sex do all the thinking as well as all the voting? Surely, my friend, you do not wish to curtail our rights still more. No, sir, I take you to be a gentleman of great consideration, large-hearted, true to justice and an advocate of advancement and reform. Your allusion to "that million sinner, when the votes of our fair sex shall rescue our ballistics from its degrading position and make supreme its influence on the side of temperance and good order," tells me at once what manner of man you are.
