

Kent News.

SATURDAY MORNING,..... MAR. 19, 1887

General News Notes.

President Cleveland received 123 bills during the recent session of Congress. Only two were passed over the veto.

Gov. Hoadly, of Ohio, has removed to New York and formed a law partnership with Edward Lauterbach.

Mrs. Ruth H. Hammond, mother of Mr. Fulton and grandmother of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, died at Jackson, Michigan, on the morning of March 6th.

The negotiations for the transfer of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to other hands have not been completed and it looks as if the project might miscarry.

A movement is on foot among members of the G. A. R., of Brooklyn, to recognize the patriotic services of the late Henry Ward Beecher in the cause of the Union by organizing a party to bear his name.

Mr. Edson Marion Schryver, successor to Mr. George Clinton in the board of Baltimore police commissioners, took his seat at that body Tuesday morning and was elected president of the board in Mr. Clinton's place.

The Maryland Court of Appeals has ordered a new trial in the case of Blaine, convicted in Charles county of the murder of Captain Dixon; the court also decides that defaulting tax collectors may be imprisoned.

Philadelphia capitalists have a well-advanced scheme on foot to build at Broad and Walnut streets the finest hotel in the United States, at a cost of $1,500,000. It is claimed that good hotel accommodations in the city are inadequate to its needs.

Mr. Wm. H. Jones, colored, formerly a teacher of Snow Hill, graduated in medicine at the Howard University of Washington, D. C., last week. He is said to be the first colored man who ever graduated in medicine from the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Mr. Edward B. Emory, at his stock farm in Queen Anne's, lost a bay colt on Monday which he valued at $1,000. It reared and left backward, striking the fence and falling on its back, rising in the ground, receiving injuries which proved fatal.

The seventh annual commencement of the Baltimore Medical College took place Thursday at noon at the Academy of Music. Hon. Stevenson Archer, president of the board of directors, presided over the exercises and presented the degrees and diplomas to the graduates. He said his grandfather was the first man to receive a diploma in medicine in America.

All recent reports concur in promising peace in Europe during the coming summer. For all that preparations for war are going briskly forward everywhere. Austria is putting forth her best energies to be ready for campaigning at the opening of the season in Germany. It is adding rapidly to her already formidable preparations.

Mrs. Mary B. Pelton, sister of Samuel J. Tilgham, died on Saturday, of pneumonia, at her residence in her grandfather's house, No. 1017 Madison street, Baltimore. She was 72 years of age.

Dr. J. S. Conrad testified before the coroner's jury on Tuesday last that he had examined the body of the late Henry Ward Beecher and found it to be in a state of decomposition.

Miss Carrie Peliz, a young lady 22 years of age, was shot and almost instantly killed Friday night by Henry Berger, at 1027 Madison street, Baltimore. The shot was fired from a revolver.

The body of Henry Ward Beecher was carried last Saturday to its last resting place in Greenwood Cemetery—that city of the dead where nearly 300,000 persons are buried. He and Horace Greeley will be the two most distinguished citizens of the populous but silent metropolis.

A handsome monument will be erected over Mr. Beecher's grave as soon as a suitable spot is selected.

The service in the Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, Sunday night, was remarkable for the fact that clergymen from almost every denomination were present, and spoke in eulogy of the late Henry Ward Beecher. The church was crowded to excess.

The Rev. H. S. Halliday, who presided over the service, read a letter from the Rev. Dr. McIlvaine, the departed pastor of the Plymouth Church, New York, earnestly eulogizing the deceased divine.

An interesting paper on "The National Media of the United States" was read before the Maryland Historical Society on Monday evening by Richard M. McSherry. No country, he said, has ever been so chary of this sort of recognition as the United States. From the beginning of our national history to the time of the late President Lincoln, the country has been chary of this sort of recognition.

The Philadelphia Press publishes a long story, the purport of which is that Mr. A. H. Hooley, city editor of the Press of that city, has been obtaining from the gamblers of that city, since some time in January, $50 per week as the price of the silence of the Press in a proposed crusade against the gambling houses. Mr. Hooley procures the story a malicious and untrue tale.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was offered for probate on Saturday. He makes three sons and one non-law executor, and authorizes them to invest for the benefit of his wife and the proceeds of his life insurance, and to apportion among his children the remainder of his estate. The amount of the estate is not known. A careful estimate of the earnings of his brain during forty years of active professional life makes the amount not far from a million and a half of dollars, but it is not believed that he has left more than $100,000. He spent money as fast as he made it.

Mr. James Frank Morrison, president of the Baltimore Crescent Club, was presented Monday night with an emerald ring set in diamonds. The ring, which was valued at $1,000, was a gift of several members among large jewelry establishments of other cities, in recognition of his services to the Crescent Club.

The Peach-Basket Issue.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

The Fruitland Grange of Wyoming, Delaware, have resolved, in view of the determination of the judges of New York and Ohio, to make no use of peach baskets for peach baskets and crates, to withdraw all consignments of that fruit from all commission merchants in those cities who refuse to make such provision for the payment of baskets and crates, and to make no greater efforts to bring cash buyers to the peninsula at the several exchanges, and to appoint a committee to consider the feasibility of establishing salesrooms in New York and Boston, under the management of the Wyoming Exchange.

The members of the Fruitland Grange are hopeful of having their resolutions adopted by all the granges in the peach belt.

Personal Notes.

Mr. Geo. B. Westcott is reported by his physician, Dr. Hines, as becoming weaker though suffering little pain. The probabilities are against his recovery.

Mr. N. G. Westcott had so far recovered from his recent injury as to be able to go about, but on Thursday morning he made a misstep from his doorway and badly bruised his back and leg, so that he was again confined to his couch and will probably be housed for some days longer.

The funeral of Rev. W. J. O'Neil at church Hill last Saturday was very largely attended. The services were conducted by the Rev. John France, P. E., and the Rev. John D. Kemp, of Chestertown, J. A. Arter, of Centerville, and R. K. Stephenson, of Millington, were also present.

Mr. O'Neil was closing up his pastoral work at church Hill circuit, and was highly esteemed both as a minister of the gospel and as a pastor.

Rev. Lewis Wallis, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Cecil county, died at the rectory near Bartlettville on Thursday morning, and will be buried to-day at Baltimore, Va. Mr. Wallis was a brother-in-law of the late Bishop Lay.

Capt. James Lloyd, formerly in the employ of the Chester River Steamboat Company for twenty years, died at his home in Queen Anne's county last week, in the 73d year of his age.

Robert N. Boston, one of our town carpenters, has been on Tuesday for Birmingham, Ala., to work at his trade. The outlook here for mechanics is rather gloomy this spring. There are said to be five thousand buildings in course of erection at Birmingham and carpenters command from two to four dollars and fifty cents per day.

Mr. Robert Smith, of the firm of permanent job, will remove his family to Birmingham.

The Rev. Mr. Kemp being at Conference, Dr. J. A. Perkins will have charge of the M. E. pulpit to-morrow. In consequence of the inability of either Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Kemp to be present, the M. E. church will hold its service for the promotion of holiness will not be held.

POPULAR GROVE STOCK SALE.—A portion of the stock from the popular Grove stock farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, was sold at auction in Baltimore on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

Shaulder, a stallion of the name of Frederick county, was the purchaser. This sale was a great success, and the horses were sold at good prices. The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week.

The sale was held at the farm of Dr. E. W. F. Simpson, in Queen Anne's county, on Friday of last week. The prices were not as good as was expected, and the buyers got good horses very cheap. The noted bay stallion Cyclops, with a record of 2:27, was included in the sale and brought only $1,200.

BRIEF LOCALS.

After nearly two months of mud and bad traveling the roads are reported good again. Messrs. Hines & Co. advertise their peach and corn phosphate in another column.

Mr. E. W. F. Simpson has had his store front handsomely improved by new windows and enlarged doorway. Mr. E. D. Dyer did the work.

Attention is called to the card of E. B. Emory to the Maryland Life Stock Insurance Company in reference to the adjustment of a loss incurred by Mr. Emory.

The State Comptroller on Tuesday made the quarterly distribution of the public school tax. Colored schools $1,267.04 for white and $855.54 for colored schools.

The stonemason Corica resumed her work on Wednesday, leaving Baltimore at twelve o'clock midnight, which will be her last