Dear Sir I last evening received your letter respecting McGill from which I inferred that you might soon wish to make arrangements for the transmission of funds for the defraying of his expenses — As this matter is at present attended with some difficulty & expense, it occurred to me that I might relieve you from both — I shall accordingly have funds here sufficient for defraying his current expenses to be drawn for that purpose when you shall desire —

As I shall probably be detained some time in my way to Balto I judged it proper to advise yourself this on you should take other measures —

Yr truly
