Dr Bro Easter

Agreeably to appointment, on Monday evening last in the Rev Mr Harkey's Church last night. The house was not only filled, but crowded. I made an address. With what success I cannot judge. Jackson also submitted his statement, entering into a detail of the origin, progress, and present condition of Colony. To day I have conversed with several persons who were present at the meeting last night, and they all concur in the opinion that much was done to increase confidence in the ultimate success of our enterprise. The people of color, of whom there were several hundred in attendance, paid marked attention and observed my orders; and we hope that upon their minds a favorable impression was made. In a day or two we can determine with greater accuracy.

It is not now certain whether we go to Hagerstown. There are but few blacks in Washington County, and as our business is going pretty well with them, I incline to think we had better go through Frederick and
