CHESTERTOWN - JUNE 16, 1887.

Still Pond Agricultural Club.

Misses, Editors:—The club was called to order by the president, and in the absence of the secretary Mr. W. D. Pennington was selected to act in his place. The reading of the minutes and the call of the roll was dispensed with, as the books were found to be correct.

A member asked for the appointment of a committee to estimate the number of horses, cattle, sheep and pigs running the roads within the enclosure bounded as follows: Starting at Betterton and following the road leading to Still Pond around by Wm. Water and J. Frank Wilson's, thence south to Lynch's, Wm. Parks', Mr. Cooper's road to Still Pond creek and via creek to the bay and thence by water to Betterton.

The object being to ascertain the value of the stock pasturing on the roads within the enclosure, and of the value of the farms within these limits. Some members of the club are apprehensive that the time is near at hand when such fencing will be done away with, and that it is unjust that a fence should be put at a cost of $5000 to prevent his cows from destroying his crops.

One-half the road and pays taxes on the same, that pasture his cows. Farming stock business all require some fence, and many farmers are now building fences, and are to be feared to shoulder the expense of the same.

This pasturing on the roads is in defiance of the law. The law does not require a fence against a neighbor's stock, but it does require both the owner of the stock and the owner of the land to fence their stock.

A storm of wind and rain, which was against my neighbor's stock, but it does require both the owner of the stock and the owner of the land to fence their stock.

Some fifteen years ago an old gentleman, living in this part of the county, owned a large tract of land, and he was very fond of his horses.

One day he was out riding, and he saw a horse running on the road. He called to the driver, and he told him to stop the horse.

The driver stopped the horse, and he saw that the horse was running on the road. He called to the driver, and he told him to stop the horse.

Gathering the Cream.

Misses, Editors:—Sunday last was a very pretty day for the extra services that were held in many of the churches hereabouts. The weather could not have been more suitable for the occasion. A large audience assembled at the Georgetown Presbyterian Church in the morning to witness the beautiful service rendered by the children and all seemed to be well pleased and edified. The church was thronged in a manner highly artistic and beautiful, but entirely out of style for such occasions. It was nevertheless very appropriate and suggestive. The most pleasing feature there was the pretty fountain in the midst of the decorations whose gently falling waters added its sweet music to that so nicely rendered by the school.

Rev. F. W. Tipton's address to the young people was a decided success. He held the attention of the audience both young and old for over 20 minutes, taking for his text the giving of the "Silver Plate," by four boys, in particular, who were given the honor of reading the most of those taking part in the service.

Mr. J. H. Gale, Worthy Master of the Grand, announced the opening of the exercises of the afternoon. A reading, "O God, what I have felt," by Mrs. C. H. Harlock, was very impressive and showed the devotionary capacity of the lady; she is a devoted Christian, and a devoted mother.

A reading by Mrs. T. W. Skirven, was highly appreciated by the audience. Mr. C. H. Harlock, the devoted mother, was introduced and proceeded to read a paper on "The Christian's Duty." His paper was very interesting and showed the devotionary capacity of the lady; she is a devoted Christian, and a devoted mother.

Trustee's Sale of

VALUABLE

REAL ESTATE.

THE undersigned, as trustee, will offer at PUBLIC SALE on TUESDAY, 5th day of July, 1887, AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK A. M., At the Vessel House in CHESTERTOWN, Kent County, Maryland, the THREE FARMS, of which Thomas H. Hymon, late of Kent County, Md., died, seized and possessed, and hereafter distinguished by the Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

No. 1—Is called 'Huntingfield.' Its situation is distinguished for its magnificence and its beauty. It is situated on the Chesapeake bay opposite the mouth of the Patuxent river, within a mile of the steamboat wharf on the bay, and is one of the most beautiful and desirable places in the county of Baltimore, which it enjoys the advantages of a daily communication by steamer. It contains 420 ACRES, of which about 350 are arable, the balance in WOOD, TIMBER and MARSH; the latter affords a fine early pasture, and is kept in repair for erecting new and substantial farm buildings. The soil is in good heart and well adapted to the raising of corn, wheat, and other crops. It is divided into convenient fields, Apple and Peach Orchards, and is well watered.

THE PEACH ORCHARD is six years old, and contains about 2500 thirty-bearing trees, and the Apple Orchard is in bearing.

THE IMPROVEMENTS ARE A Good Frame DWELLING, and the usual OUT-BUILDINGS, all in good repair.

No. 2—Is the 'Nichols Farm,' and lies directly on Chester river and Lankford bay, containing about 457 ACRES, about 325 acres are arable, about 50 acres in WOOD, TIMBER and MARSH; the latter affords a fine early pasture, and is kept in repair for erecting new and substantial farm buildings. The soil is in good heart and well adapted to the raising of corn, wheat, and other crops. It is divided into convenient fields, Apple and Peach Orchards, and is well watered.

THE IMPROVEMENTS ARE A Commendable Dwelling, with Kitchen attached, and the usual OUT-BUILDINGS, and fencing in fair condition.

A THRIFTY PEACH ORCHARD of about 1500 trees, about 4 years old. The arable land is divided into six fields and two tillage independent of the peach orchard.

No. 3 Is known as the John Dwyer Home Farm, and is most eligibly situated, being two or three hundred yards from Worton Station, and about half a mile from the river, and is well adapted to the raising of corn, wheat, and other crops. It is divided into convenient fields, Apple and Peach Orchards, and is well watered.
