CHESTERTOWN -- AUG. 27, 1887

Letter from Fairlee.

Death—Much Sorrow—The Woman's C. T. U.—The Fairlee—Who Cares—Who Goes, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Payne have sustained a sad loss in the death of their younger son Archie Francis. He was buried at St. Paul's on Friday afternoon, Mr. Trevelyan officiating.

Among the sick are Mrs. Sarah C. Rodgers and P. Hume. Mr. States is improving, but gaining strength very slowly.

The death of Robert H. Lord was quite a shock to this community and has awakened a great deal of sympathy for his young wife, a daughter of our neighbor Richard C. Smyth.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at Salem Church on Monday and important business transacted. The meeting was held on Friday at 4 o'clock p. m. Steps are being taken for a public mass-meeting at an early date.

All the boys I am sorry to say, are not confined to your flourishing town. True, at this place they do not do much, but they are expected to do more.

I might tell you who visits Fairlee and who of our folks go away, but it is so much of an everyday occurrence that it is not worth noting. Rev. F. Little left Sunday.

He did not officiate, but closed the service with an appropriate and solemn prayer. The congregation at Salem are growing larger as the mercury falls in the thermometer. Bro. Lindale is generally on hand whether the congregation are large or small.

Dr. W. B. Bates will preach at Worton Chapel September 4, D. V. Bro. Trevelyan filled the pulpit of St. James last Sabbath morning, leaving in the afternoon at Kennedyville in the evening. Hope Bro. Bates will soon be well and Bro. T. be relieved of too excessive labor.

Chesterville and vicinity.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—After all we have a few peaches in this neighborhood—but only a slight sprinkling.

Our public school building and premises have been undergoing slight repairs, preparatory to reopening next September.

Rev. J. G. Fennell, pastor of Salem, circuit, left on a three weeks' vacation on Monday. On Sunday next, the service will be supplied by Rev. Charles Morris, of Seaford.

Mr. Geo. E. Harrison, of Crumpton, and Mr. Wm. G. Miller, of this neighborhood, have just returned from Saratoga, where they have been on a tour of pleasure.

Our friend, W. B. Ginnell, of Philadelphia, is at present visiting his son-in-law, Mr. E. Cooper. If there is anything he can do for the poor, it is in his power to do it.

It is, in fact, a blessing for the poor, for his success may be measured by his fondness for the poor. One day last week, in company with Mr. E. Cooper and Mr. C. H. B. Spry, within a few hours captured several hundred fish of various kinds, among which were some rock fish. Mr. G. is a champion angler and, if any one doubts that he can make a good catch, let him try.

Mr. C. Wright Spry, who has been suffering from malaria for some time, has long been confined to his bed, but is now convalescent, and will, we hope, soon be out again.

The funeral of Mrs. M. Mallon at Millington was probably one of the largest that ever took place in Millington. The deceased, having known Mr. Mallon for many years, was well and extensively known and was a popular person.

Mr. E. Church, of Millington, is a large building and, although the funeral took place on a week-day, there was not sitting room for the great throng present. We have not time to go into particulars, suffice it to say that in the death of Mrs. Mallon, Millington has lost one of its best citizens and one of its best business men, and the M. E. Church one of its most content and useful members. In the church and in the community his place will be hard to fill, in the hearts of many the void can never be filled.

Items from Betterton.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—There has been quite a number of "sports" here this summer from Baltimore and Philadelphia. All three of the boarding houses have been pretty well filled up most of the time.

Perech fishing has been very good. Mrs. Alice Hedges and daughter Pearl of Baltimore, have been visiting here for the past week or two. Miss Annie R. Trot of Baltimore, is visiting her cousin Mr. Bessie B. Miss Mattie McManley, of Cambridge, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. H. Sullivan. Miss Sadie Faulkner, of Baltimore, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Messers.

Joseph H. Owens and Wm. Warren, of this place, are in Philadelphia. John C. Cozins is at West Point, Va.

John M. Smith has had a snug little house built here and is living in it himself. Mr. G. E. Owens was the boss carpenter and Mr. Smith the plasterer. Mr. Smith is plasterer by trade and is said to be a good workman.

Mr. William Owens is preparing to build himself a house on his lot here. They mean something, we don't know.

Mr. Thomas E. Brice is about to erect a new dwelling. TAZON.

Letter from Tolchester.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The season at Tolchester is heating the soil. The seasons Louise will discontinue her daily trips after August 31; she would like to give in your paper the story of her life and her travels.

The season to the company has been one of the best they have ever had, and some of the summerers have had better. The bathing has been very liberally indulged in, as many as eight hundred bathing one day.

One cause of the season ending so soon is shortage in our peach crop. They are not justifying our hopes, but they are better than last year. This year it was over two thousand per day and ran away up in September, making this a paying business.

The tournament and racing promises to be a grand success, as quite a number of knights have entered.

Willie Ann is leaving the beach and going to their home in the city. She is surprised by a visit from our old friend, Clara Lloyd; he is looking well and says he still kindly remembers the friends in Kent. The Louise and Giles brought four thousand passengers to the beach last Tuesday.

A YOUNG MAN named Tait, from Philadelphia, was drowned in Elk river on Monday afternoon, and the body was recovered on Tuesday morning. The young man was a student in the University of Pennsylvania, and was on his way to visit his parents in Kent.

The Louise and Giles brought four thousand passengers to the beach last Tuesday.
