Mr Hall

Dear Sir

When in Hagerstown some time since, you will doubtless remember to have there met the writer, who was then, and is now acting, as the agent of the "National Society of Literature and Science" - the Society wishes to employ us yet longer as their agent - but their terms are so low as to make it scarcely an object. Something was said between us respecting the probable demands of your society for agents - which resulted in the expression of a desire to see, or hear from me further on the subject - and I write to say - that if you should wish to employ me in your service and we can agree upon the terms - I should have no objection to the undertaking for six months, or a year, as an agent in the Colonization cause.

I should
